

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE

In this highly competitive age improved methods must be quickly adopted in government as well as in industry to keep in the lead. States which do not study their neighbors' methods of government are as sure to lag behind as is the manufacturer who does not study his competitors' methods of production. This bulletin prepared by the sociology librarian Robert H. Whitten, Ph. D. is an attempt to digest and organize the enormous annual output of legislation so as to enable legislators with a minimum of labor to make use of the most recent experience of other states.

As fast as advance copies of the session laws of each state can be secured, the separate laws are summarized on cards and classified by subject. This enables the library to answer promptly frequent inquiries regarding legislation in other states. At the end of the year the summary thus prepared is printed as part of this bulletin. The aim is to summarize the laws sufficiently to give a concise comparative view of current state legislation. It is of course impracticable to give many details of long general laws, and laws of purely local interest are not included.

As a decision of the supreme court of a state or of the United States declaring a statute unconstitutional is in effect equivalent to its repeal by the legislature, a digest of such decisions is included with the laws. Constitutional amendments submitted to future action of the legislature or people, as well as those voted on since the last bulletin, are placed in the summary under their proper subject-heads, and on page 353 there is a separate table arranged by states, showing the result of votes, and referring to the marginal numbers. Besides the detailed summary of legislation, the bulletin includes a review of legislation covering the calendar year, the aim of which is to present briefly the most important and distinctive legislation and to indicate the general trend of legislation.

The references in this bulletin cover 42 states. The summary of legislation includes all legislative sessions held from Sep. 30, 1898, to Oct. 1, 1899. As Georgia has held its regular session during the last quarter of the year and the Virginia legislature is still in session at the close of the year, it is impossible to include their laws in the detailed summary and have the bulletin out in time to be of the greatest value to legislators. All the most important and distinctive measures are, however, included in the review of legislation, which is complete to Jan. 1, 1900.

EXPLANATIONS

These must be carefully read to understand the bulletin

The summary is classified under the general heads shown in the table of contents on the cover and in greater detail on page 6. More comprehensive laws are regularly put first under the headings, and in ascertaining what legislation has been passed concerning subordinate matters under the general subject. It is necessary to refer also to the more inclusive entries. Cross references must also be observed.

The index is an alphabetic list of all the specific topics contained in the summary, and refers to each entry by its marginal number. It is necessarily very condensed.

Only legislation only is included and when this is in the form of amendments only those clauses which add to, or materially change old enactments are cited. In case some part of the former law, still retained, is necessary for clearness, it is printed in ordinary type and new matter in italics.

The citations at the end of each entry are, as a rule, made by state, number and date of approval. In Delaware and Rhode Island, where the governor's approval is not necessary, the date of final passage by the legislature is given. In the case of bills which are passed over the governor's veto or become laws without his signature by expiration of time, the date of such passage or expiration is given. The laws of several states are without chapter numbers and references are to pages. In references to laws amended or repealed '97, 350 means laws of 1897, chapter 350.

LEGISLATION BY STATES IN 1899

REVIEW OF LEGISLATION

1 Jan.—31 Dec. 1899

Marriage. A measure making the passing of a medical examination a prerequisite to obtaining a marriage license passed the North Dakota senate but failed of enactment. Similar measures have recently been introduced in a number of legislatures. A Michigan act provides that no "person who has been afflicted with syphilis or gonorrhea and has not been cured of the same shall be capable of contracting marriage." The penalty for violation is a fine of from $500 to $1000 or imprisonment not more than five years or both; and in prosecutions husband and wife may be examined against each other and the attending physician may be compelled to testify.

Liquor dispensaries. The sale of liquor through public agents was first established at Athens, Ga. in 1889 and was adopted by South Carolina in 1892. South Dakota repealed its prohibitory law in 1896 and in 1898 adopted a constitutional amendment for the manufacture and sale of liquors exclusively under state control by salaried agents; but the legislature of 1899 refused to enact legislation to put the system in operation, and submitted to vote in November 1900 the repeal of the dispensary amendment. Alabama has authorized counties, cities and towns to establish dispensaries.

Libraries. To promote the establishment and efficiency of free public libraries, special library commissions or authorities with similar duties have now been provided in 14 states. During 1899 commissions have been established in Colorado, Indiana, Maine, Michigan and Minnesota. The movement in the direction of library extension through the establishment of state traveling libraries, first undertaken by the New York state library in 1892, has since spread to Iowa, Michigan, Ohio and New Jersey and during the present year to Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota and Pennsylvania.

Art. State institute. Illinois has authorized cities to create art commissions without the approval of which no work of art may become the property of the city. Utah has established a state institute of art having a governing board of seven members appointed by the governor. The object of the institute is declared to be "to advance the interests of the fine arts, develop the influence of art in education and to foster the introduction of art in manufactures." It is the duty of the institute to make art collections, hold annual exhibits and provide annual lecture courses.

State biologist. In Oregon the office of the state biologist has been created to investigate the animal resources of the state and the development of such as have economic value. He will make a study of the fauna of the state and will give special attention to food fish.

Central control of elections. The plan adopted in Kentucky in 1898 of placing elections in the hands of a state board elected by the legislature has during the present year been followed in North Carolina. This law creates a state board of elections consisting of seven members elected biennially by the general assembly. The state board appoints and has power to remove county boards of three members who in turn appoint and may remove the registration and election officers. The two judges of election for each precinct must be of different political parties. The general election day has been changed from November to August and the first election under the new law will be held on the first Thursday in August 1900 when the constitutional amendment restricting the franchise will also be voted on.

Suffrage. North Carolina has submitted to vote in 1900 a constitutional amendment to disfranchise the illiterate negro. The proposed plan is similar to that adopted by Louisiana in 1898 and makes ability to read and write a section of the constitution a qualification for voting. But white illiterates are practically exempted from this educational qualification by a proviso that it shall not apply to any person entitled to vote in any state prior to Jan. 1, 1867, or to a lineal descendant of such a person who registers before Nov. 1, 1908. A similar plan was considered at the recent session of the Georgia legislature but met a decisive defeat.

Biennial sessions. In New York and Georgia bills for submitting the question of biennial sessions to popular vote were defeated. Though but six states still have annual sessions they cling to the plan with great persistency.

Lobbying. Wisconsin has adopted an act regulating lobbying. A public register is to be kept containing the names of all lobbyists, the various bills to oppose or promote which they are employed and the names of the individuals or corporations by whom they are employed. Lobbyists are classified as legislative counsel before committees and legislative agents. Within 30 days after the adjournment of the legislature, persons or corporations employing lobbyists must make a detailed statement of expenditures to the secretary of state.

Illegal passage of acts. A decision of the Idaho supreme court in 1897 by implication rendered void all but a few of the laws passed at the four previous sessions of the legislature, and the legislature of 1899 has therefore had the task of reenacting most of the acts passed since Idaho became a state. The court decides that the provisions of the constitution requiring three several readings, the printing of bills and an aye and no vote are mandatory and that the court may go back of the enrolled bill to see if the journals show that these requirements have been complied with.

Special legislation. Vermont has followed the plan of requiring the publication of certain classes of local bills for three weeks in a newspaper of the county to which the bill applies at least three weeks previous to the session of the legislature. It has now added to the list requiring such publication that most fruitful source of special legislation, the amendment of city and village charters. Such a safeguard would doubtless prevent much hasty local legislation in the interest of private individuals which is often put through during the closing hours of the session without the knowledge of the localities concerned.

Distribution of documents. In order to secure systematic distribution of its publications to the various state and other public libraries, Indiana has enacted that the distribution be made by the state librarian and that he be furnished for this purpose 150 copies of every state publication.

Labor bureaus. In 1869 Massachusetts established a labor bureau. Its example has since been followed by most of the states, by the national government and by many foreign countries. During 1899 Idaho has established a bureau of immigration, labor and statistics and Kansas has created a state society of labor, the secretary of which succeeds to the powers and duties of the state commissioner of the bureau of labor and of the state factory inspector.

Public employment agencies. A number of states have provided for the regulation and licensing of private employment agencies, but only a few have as yet entered the field in competition with private enterprise. During 1899 Illinois has established free employment agencies in cities of 50,000 to be conducted by officers appointed by the governor. Missouri has directed the commissioner of labor statistics to establish free employment bureaus in cities of 100,000.

Factory inspection. Instead of leaving the enforcement of factory laws to individual initiative or to the local police, many states have created departments of factory inspection, others have inspectors appointed by the labor bureau or commissioner, and in Massachusetts the chief of the district police has under his direction a force of factory inspectors. During 1899 inspection departments have been created in Indiana and Tennessee.

Eight hour day. During 1899 California, Washington and West Virginia have enacted that eight hours is a day's work on all public work, and Massachusetts that eight hours is a day's work for city and town employees. Colorado has established an eight hour day in mines, smelters and reduction works, except in cases of emergency¹, and Missouri in mines at a depth of 200 feet or over, other than coal mines.

Employers' liability. The liability of employers for injuries to their employees has recently been greatly extended in many states. Under the common law employers are not liable for an injury resulting from the negligence of a coemployee. It is in the railroad business that the injustice of the common law rule has been most evident, and consequently several states have passed laws modifying it as to railroad employees while leaving it in force as to others. During 1899 North Dakota has made railroad companies liable for injuries to employees by reason of negligence of other employees and this liability may not be impaired by contract.

Corporations. Delaware has adopted a general corporation law designed to offer special inducements to corporations to organize under its laws. It has reduced its incorporation fee to 15c for each $1000 of capital while that of New Jersey is 20c and that of New York $1.25, and hopes to attract many corporations that would otherwise incorporate in New Jersey and other states.

Trusts. Combinations. Industrial combination which has attended the recent industrial prosperity has brought about numerous renewed attempts to cope with the assumed evil. Arkansas, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, North Carolina, South Carolina and Texas have again taken up the solution of the problem. The laws of Arkansas, Michigan, Missouri and Texas are particularly drastic. Besides the national anti-trust act, 29 states and territories have laws specially constructed to prohibit trusts.

Special tax commissions. Statistics and information. The Wisconsin tax commission appointed in 1897 submitted its report previous to the meeting of the 1899 legislature. It contains much information relative to taxation in Wisconsin and other states and a good bibliography and seems to have called attention to the need of a much more thorough and systematic investigation of the subject, for an act was passed providing for a commissioner of taxation to be appointed by the governor at a salary of $5000 to serve for 10 years from May 1, 1899.

The commissioner shall have a general supervision of the system of taxation throughout this state, shall have power to make a thorough investigation thereof, and shall report to the legislature the first day of each regular session the results of his supervision and investigation, and shall formulate and recommend legislation for the improvement of the system and for the equalization of the taxation of the state. He shall keep in his office a public record of his acts and orders, and print from time to time for general circulation, such information as he may deem proper. In making any investigation, he shall have power to require local officers whose duties pertain to the assessment and collection of taxes, or to the disbursement of public funds, to report to him in form as prescribed by him and to call upon individuals and corporations for information bearing upon the subject of taxation.

For the purpose of systematically securing statistics essential to well considered legislation an act was passed requiring town, village, city and county clerks to make annually to the secretary of state detailed statements of taxes levied. Many tax reforms recognized as beneficial fall of adoption because with the present deficient knowledge of tax conditions it is impossible to make the readjustment without great injustice and loss. The practical legislator recognizes the advantages of a proposed reform but as soon as he tries to formulate it definitely he runs against numerous obstacles that can not be overcome except by a detailed scientific knowledge of all the conditions involved. Without such knowledge any radical change is necessarily blind and haphazard. Wisconsin's efforts to secure systematic information is therefore most interesting and noteworthy.

In Michigan also the permanent tax commission created during the present year, besides being given power to gather statistical information is instructed "to make diligent investigation and inquiry concerning the revenue laws and systems of other states and countries . . . and with the aid of information thus obtained, together with experience and observation of our own laws" to annually recommend changes to the legislature. Texas has created a tax commission consisting of the governor, controller, state revenue agent and "a competent expert in matters pertaining to taxation and revenue" appointed by the governor. It is the duty of the commission to frame a complete tax system and submit it to the legislature of 1901. In New York a joint committee was appointed to investigate taxation and report to the legislature of 1900.

The special joint committee created by the Georgia legislature of 1898 made its report to the session just closed. The committee recommends the adoption of collateral inheritance and income taxes and imposition of a special state tax on the franchises of all quasi public corporations. The committee also recommends the creation of a state board of tax commissioners with large powers of control over the local assessors and exclusive authority to assess railroad, telegraph, telephone and express companies. The general tax bill submitted by the committee was referred to the governor for transmission to the next legislature.

Tax equalization. State supervision. Michigan has established a board of three tax commissioners, appointed by the governor for 6 years at a salary of $2500. The board is given general supervision over local assessing officers, is to visit each county annually, hear and decide complaints and may review and revise the assessment rolls. It is also required to report annually to the legislature the true valuation of corporation and other property.

Inheritance tax. In Michigan a direct inheritance tax of 1% on personal property exceeding $5000 and a collateral inheritance tax of 5% on all property over $500, has been established. Wisconsin has provided a direct inheritance tax of 1% and a collateral tax of 5% on personal property over $10,000 and Missouri a collateral inheritance tax of 5% on all property, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the support of the state university and to other educational purposes. The direct inheritance tax of 2% on personal property above $5000 established by Pennsylvania in 1897 has been declared unconstitutional, as the $5000 exemption violates the provision that all taxes shall be uniform on the same class of subjects. The inheritance tax now exists in some form in 20 states.

Taxation of public franchises. In New York previous to the present year corporations holding franchises in the streets and public grounds were assessed by the local assessors on the total value of their property including franchises and excluding debts. Franchises were assessed as personalty; but as the companies were permitted to deduct their bonded and floating indebtedness from the total value of their personalty and as indebtedness usually exceeded personalty the result was that the companies paid taxes on their real estate only and franchises were practically exempt. The 1899 act provides that franchises shall be considered real estate for purposes of taxation. The value of the franchise, which is to include the value of all tangible property in any street or public place, is to be determined annually by the state board of tax commissioners, and the other real estate of the corporation is to be assessed as formerly by the local assessors. Many companies were already paying various special local taxes, and in order to make taxation uniform these special taxes are to be deducted from the franchise tax.

Michigan passed an act creating a state board of assessors to tax railroad, express, telegraph and telephone companies on the total value of their property including franchises, at the average rate of state, county and municipal taxes. The act was by implication declared unconstitutional by the decision of the supreme court declaring void a similar act of 1881 applying to telegraph and telephone companies, on the ground that taxation at the average rate is not within the uniform rule prescribed for other property. In consequence of this decision a new act was passed taxing express, telegraph and telephone companies 3% on their gross receipts in lieu of all other taxes and railroads continue to pay on their gross receipts as formerly. A resolution to submit to popular vote a constitutional amendment authorizing assessment of railroad, express, telegraph and telephone property by a state board was defeated at the regular session and Governor Pingree summoned an extra session which met December 18 specially for this purpose but the resolution was again defeated.

North Dakota has submitted a constitutional amendment to vote in 1900 providing for the assessment by the state board of equalization of the franchises and property of all companies carrying persons, property or messages. Wisconsin has provided for an assessment of express, sleeping car, freight line and equipment companies based on the cash value of their capital stock.

There is a strong tendency to change from gross receipts as a basis of taxation to the total value of property and franchises as determined by a state board; but the gross receipts tax is so much simpler that it continues to be adopted most frequently as may be readily seen by consulting the entries under corporation taxes in the summary of legislation.¹

The Torrens system. This system of land registration was first adopted in the United States by Illinois in 1895. This law was declared unconstitutional in the following year and in 1897 a new law was passed, the constitutionality of which has been upheld by the supreme court. The law is operative in such counties as by popular vote accept it, and as yet has been accepted by Cook county only. In Ohio the Torrens system was adopted in 1896. The law was declared unconstitutional in 1897 and was repealed in 1898. California adopted the system in 1897 and Massachusetts in 1898. Montana has during the present year created a commission to consider the system and report to the legislature in 1901.

Uniform negotiable instruments law. In 1896 the national conference of state commissioners on uniform legislation recommended for adoption by the various states a general act relating to negotiable instruments. This act was adopted by New York, Connecticut, Florida and Colorado in 1897, by Virginia, Maryland and Massachusetts in 1898 and by North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Utah, Washington and Wisconsin in 1899. It was also adopted by the United States congress in 1899 for the District of Columbia. When this law is adopted by the rest of the states a reform of the greatest value will have been accomplished. Commercial relations are not bounded by state lines but are national and even world wide. By a uniform codification throughout the United States of this branch of commercial law business will be greatly facilitated.

Interest. Usury. The gradual decline in the market rate of interest is being followed by a gradual lowering of the legal and maximum rates prescribed by law. Every year the rates are lowered in a number of states but raised in none. During the past year the legal or maximum rates have been lowered in Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Oregon and Washington. In Michigan the legal rate has been reduced from 6% to 5% and the contract rate 8% to 7%. Michigan, Illinois and Louisiana are the only states that now have a legal rate as low as 5%. Except in the new states of the west the rate is usually 6%.

Practice of law. Maine, Vermont and Wyoming have passed general laws regulating the admission of attorneys. In Indiana a constitutional amendment will be submitted in November 1900 authorizing the legislature to prescribe qualifications for admission to the bar. The legislature of Illinois attempted to exempt certain persons from the rules of the supreme court regulating admission to the bar but the supreme court declared the act unconstitutional on the ground that admission to the bar is a judicial act and can not be exercised by the legislature.

Supreme court. The number of states that have recently taken steps to increase the number of judges of the supreme court of the state or to establish an intermediate court between the supreme court and the district courts indicates the overcrowding of the supreme court to be quite general. California, Indiana, Kansas, New York and Oregon have during the present year taken steps in this direction.

Jury verdict. Colorado has enacted that three fourths of a jury may render a verdict in civil cases and Missouri has submitted a constitutional amendment to vote in 1900 providing that two thirds in courts not of record and three fourths in courts of record may render a verdict in civil cases.

Slander. Caricatures. California has made it unlawful to publish caricatures of residents of the state which "in any way reflect upon the honor, integrity, manhood, virtue, reputation, or business or political motives" of the person caricatured or tend to expose him to "public hatred, ridicule or contempt." Not stopping with this, however, it is also made a misdemeanor to publish portraits of residents of the state except public officers and criminals without the written consent of the person concerned. California has also enacted that published articles impeaching the reputation or exposing the natural defects of any person shall be signed by the author under penalty of $1000, and Florida has followed with a law requiring the signature of the author to articles charging immorality.

Lynching. Indiana has adopted a strong law to prevent lynching. The penalty for actively aiding or abetting is fixed at life imprisonment or death and the attorney general may conduct the prosecution. If any person is taken from the custody of an officer and lynched it is made prima facie evidence of failure on the part of the officer to perform his duty and it thereupon becomes the duty of the prosecuting attorney and attorney general to institute impeachment proceedings.

State architect. In New York and Illinois the office of state architect has been created to prepare plans and specifications for all buildings constructed or altered at state expense. The salary of the architect is $7500 in New York and $5000 in Illinois.

Municipalities, general. In New Jersey the governor has been empowered to appoint a commission to report to the legislature of 1900 a revision and codification of the laws relating to cities and incorporated towns.

In 1898 the Ohio legislature provided for the appointment of a municipal code commission of two persons to revise the laws relating to the organization of cities and villages and to prepare a bill for a plan of organization which should be uniform in its operation throughout the state, and in which there should be a separation of the legislative and executive powers. Edward Kibler, one of the members of the commission in Munic- ipal affairs for September 1899, states that the commission will report as its conclusion that the principal reforms needed in Ohio are: 1) the abolition of the classification of cities, and the government of municipal corporations by local councils and not by the state legislature; 2) the limiting of the functions of city councils strictly to legislative matters, the confining of administrative functions strictly to the executive department with the mayor as the responsible head and the filling of all subordinate offices and places by the compulsory system of selection known as the merit system of appointment; 3) the nomination and election of all municipal officers including members of the board of education on a nonpartizan ballot. The commission will report its findings, with a bill, to the governor and the report will be submitted to the legislature of 1900.

Municipal home rule. In North Dakota city councils have been authorized "to adopt such ordinances, not repugnant to the constitution and laws of the state, as the general welfare of the city may demand" and the New Jersey law for the government of cities under 12,000 provides that the council may make such ordinances not contrary to the laws of the state or of the United States as it may deem necessary "for the good government, order, protection of persons and property, and for the preservation of the public health and prosperity of said city and its inhabitants." Cities and towns in South Carolina have been authorized to adopt any amendment to their charters not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state on petition of a majority of the freeholders and a majority vote of the electors.

Franchises. A Florida law limits municipal franchises to 30 years and provides for the reservation of the right to buy at the expiration of the franchise, and in Tennessee an act has been passed requiring the submission of franchises to popular vote in cities of 36,000. Indiana has provided that the referendum may be demanded by 40% of the voters in incorporated towns within 30 days after the passage of any ordinance buying a water or light plant or granting any franchise. An 1899 law in Colorado provides that water, gas and electric light franchises hereafter granted or extended may be bought after 20 years by the city or town.

Police, state control. In 1894 a law was passed in South Carolina authorizing the governor, secretary of state and controller general whenever they might deem it necessary, to appoint a board of three police commissioners for any city or incorporated town. This law has been repealed by the legislature of 1899.

Street sprinkling. Street sprinkling is rapidly becoming a municipal function. Formerly property owners contracted with individuals who undertook to keep the street sprinkled in front of their property. The method which is now being rapidly adopted is for the city to sprinkle as it already paves and cleans the street, and to assess the expense on the abutting owners or pay it from the general fund. Connecticut, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Wisconsin have during the present year made provisions for municipal sprinkling.

Sewerage. Pollution of water. Sewage disposal and water supply in densely populated states is fast becoming a problem that can not be left to the separate municipalities. Many districts have become so thickly dotted with populous cities and towns that a common system of water supply and sewerage is just as necessary for all the municipalities of the group as it is when a large number of individuals come together and form a city. In New Jersey a state sewerage commission consisting of five members appointed by the governor has been established. It is the duty of the commission to investigate methods of sewage disposal and to prevent the farther pollution of streams. On the petition of the municipalities concerned sewerage districts may be formed. District sewerage boards are to consist of two members from each municipality and one member appointed by the state commission. They are to construct sewerage systems under the supervision and control of the state commission.

Roads. A commission has been appointed in Pennsylvania to investigate the subject of good roads and report to the legislature of 1901. In Vermont the office of state highway commissioner has been created to superintend the expenditure of the state road tax by the town commissioners and to give aid and advice to local officials; while in Rhode Island the office of state commissioner of highways has been abolished and the act granting state aid to towns repealed. Wisconsin has referred to the next legislature a constitutional amendment authorizing state taxation to improve highways.

Bicycles. To obviate the inconvenience caused by the dissimilar bicycle regulations of the various municipalities of the state, New York has prescribed a set of ordinances and regulations for the use of bicycles that must be adopted by the cities, towns and villages wishing to adopt any regulations whatever. New York and Oregon have passed general laws for the construction of sidepaths by counties. The New York law provides that the county judge may on petition of 50 wheelmen appoint sidepath commissioners to construct and maintain sidepaths on public roads, the expense of which is paid by an annual license tax on bicycles using the paths. A Pennsylvania law provides for the construction of sidepaths by townships, and in Washington cities have been authorized to construct paths. Florida, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota and Pennsylvania have passed laws to protect sidepaths from injury.

Beginning with New York in 1896, 13 states (Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Virginia and Washington) have passed laws requiring bicycles to be carried as other baggage. The Washington law was passed during the present year.

Toll roads, public purchase. Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Tennessee have made provision for the acquisition of toll roads by the local authorities.

Militia. National guard. Alabama, Florida, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin have adopted general revisions of their military codes. A naval reserve has been established in Maine and Minnesota; Illinois, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New Jersey authorized additional pay to their volunteers in the Spanish war and New York paid state employees who served in the war their salary during the period of service. 10 states (Arizona, California, Connecticut, Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New York and Vermont) have made it unlawful to deface the national flag or use it for advertising purposes.

Veterans. The states have rapidly been extending to veterans of the Spanish war the special exemptions, privileges and provisions for relief enacted for veterans of the civil war. Alabama and Texas passed laws granting state pensions to confederate veterans.

Charities and corrections, general. An Indiana law requires the circuit court on petition of 15 citizens to appoint a board of charities and corrections to visit and inspect all charitable and correctional institutions and report to the county commissioners and state board of charities. In New Hampshire the governor and council have been authorized to appoint three commissioners to consider and investigate the subjects of "state support and control of the dependent insane and feeble-minded and methods for moral improvement in the penal institutions of the state." The state controller and president of the state board of charities in New York have been empowered to classify officers and employees of charitable and reformatory institutions and fix salaries in each class. It has been made the duty of the Wisconsin state board of control to inspect semiannually fire equipment, water supply, drainage, heating and ventilating systems in county asylums, poorhouses and jails. A state purchasing agent for eleemosynary institutions has been created in Texas.

Poor relief. "To the end that the unnecessary duplication of relief may be avoided and the creation of new families of paupers through misguided and useless alms may cease" Indiana has enacted that overseers of the poor shall cooperate with private organizations and keep informed concerning their work. An Arkansas act authorizes the inhumane practice of letting out paupers to the lowest bidder, who gives bond to house, clothe, feed and furnish medical attendance. Often the best results can be obtained by consolidation of county poorhouses, as a better classification of inmates can thus be maintained and superior facilities provided at a lower per capita cost. With this in view Arizona has enacted that supervisors may contract with other counties for the care of county poor, and Minnesota that district poorhouses may be established in two or more counties of 25,000 joint population.

Dependent and neglected children. The duty of the state to interfere in the case of children neglected or growing up under evil influences has been practically recognized during the present year by general laws in Illinois, West Virginia, Washington and Wyoming. The increased consideration now given to the problem of caring for dependent children is evidenced by the creation of a state board of children's guardians in New Jersey to have general supervision of all dependent children. Numerous regulations have also been passed relative to the placing out of children.

Epileptics. The movement of the segregation of epileptics from other classes of dependents continues to make progress. Illinois and Missouri have established epileptic colonies, Texas an asylum for epileptics and North Dakota has referred to the next legislature a constitutional amendment for the establishment of an institution for the feeble-minded.

Penal institutions. Consolidation and division of labor are scarcely less noticeable in the case of public institutions than in industry. The economy of organization on a large scale and the benefits of classification are causing the abandonment of township and county institutions and bringing about the adoption of state systems. A state system of penal and reformatory institutions makes possible the segregation of each class of criminals in institutions specially adapted to their treatment, and such a segregation is gradually taking place. New institutions for every class and grade of offenders are being established. The more advanced position of prison legislation is indicated in the names of the new institutions established; they are no longer jails, prisons or penitentiaries but reformatories and reform or industrial schools.

Criminals, probation. Just as dosing a healthy person with medicine may make a permanent invalid so the indiscriminate imprisonment of all kinds of offenders whether they show serious pathologic symptoms or not, is responsible for making many confirmed criminals. Massachusetts authorized the appointment of probation officers in 1891, and Vermont has now followed her example. The act provides for the appointment in each county by the county court of a probation officer who may recommend that persons convicted be released on probation, may expend money for temporary support and transportation and must report monthly to the prison commission. Illinois and Minnesota have provided for probation officers for juvenile offenders.

Indeterminate sentences. No state has as yet had sufficient confidence in the criminologists to adopt a real indeterminate sentence law. Crime is the result of a diseased or defective social nature, and the only scientific way to deal with it is to keep the criminal under treatment till cured. At present it is evident that the trend is in this direction: many states are adopting maximum and minimum sentence, parole and "good time" laws. Within the present year maximum and minimum sentence laws have been adopted in Colorado and Vermont, and the provisions of the Indiana law have been greatly extended.

Convict labor. The governor of Illinois has been authorized to appoint six commissioners to inspect the convict labor systems of other states and report to the legislature in 1901. Kansas has established twine and brick plants at the state penitentiary, authorized the use of convict labor in the repair of certain roads and provided that coal mined at the state penitentiary shall be limited in amount to the needs of state institutions. North Dakota has authorized the establishment of a twine and cordage plant.

Insurance. The New Hampshire insurance commissioner before had authority to recommend rates of insurance, but an 1899 law gives him power on petition to determine reasonable rates and companies must insure at the rate fixed under penalty of $200 for each refusal. Mutual insurance is at present receiving a good deal of attention from the legislatures. Numerous general laws have been passed regulating fraternal beneficiary societies and farmers mutual fire and other casualty companies. Insurance is rapidly being extended to guard against every kind of loss that is the result of mere chance. Companies to insure against loss by mail or express, and bicycle and plate glass companies have been authorized. The surety and guarantee companies are fast revolutionizing methods of executing official bonds. The states are rapidly authorizing the acceptance of surety companies on all official bonds and many are authorizing the payment of premiums out of public or trust funds.

Transportation and communication, general. At an extra session held just previous to the regular session in Kansas, a court of visitation consisting of three elective judges was created and given very extensive control over railroads, express and telegraph companies. The court may establish classifications and rates, prescribe equipment, regulate service and decide all complaints. In case of a strike the court may summon the corporation to appear and may order it to resume operations at once, if after investigation the strike appears just. A receiver may be appointed for any company failing to comply with any of the court decrees; but they are subject to review by the supreme court. The act has recently been held unconstitutional in the United States district court. The Florida legislature under authority of a constitutional amendment adopted in 1898 has vested the railroad commission with judicial power in the exercise of its control over rates and accommodations.

In North Carolina the commission for the supervision of railroad, steamboat, express and telegraph companies has been abolished and a corporation commission created consisting of three elected members to exercise control over railroad, steamboat, canal, express, telegraph, telephone and sleeping car companies, building and loan associations and banks. The commission is to regulate rates and accommodations, and has the authority of a court of general jurisdiction in the exercise of its powers. Arkansas has created a railroad commission consisting of three elected members with power to fix freight and express rates.

Ticket scalping. Florida and Maine have prohibited the business of ticket scalping, but the New York anti-scalping law of 1897 has been declared unconstitutional.

Mileage books. The Michigan law of 1891 requiring railroads to sell 1000 mile books for $20 has been declared unconstitutional by the United States supreme court on the ground that it works a deprivation of property without due process of law.

Telephones, public ownership. Nevada has enacted that county commissioners may buy or construct telephone lines on petition of two thirds of the taxpayers, and Wisconsin has authorized cities, towns and villages to issue bonds for telephone lines.

Street railways. In Vermont companies are now required to submit proposed routes to the board of railroad commissioners to determine whether the convenience of the public requires a new road; an appeal to the supreme court may be taken from the decision of the board. The 1897 act of Illinois permitting city councils to grant 50 year franchises and 50 year renewals, which caused such a stir in Chicago when it was thought that the city council might make use of its power, has been repealed and an act permitting 20 year franchises enacted. Under a new act of the legislature Indianapolis has granted a 34 year franchise to the Indianapolis street railway company. At the expiration of the franchise the road may be bought or the franchise again sold. The maximum fare is 5c with universal transfers and 6 tickets must be sold for 25c and 25 for $1.

In Michigan municipal ownership of street railways has been declared unconstitutional as in violation of the constitution, art.14 §9, providing that "the state shall not be a party to, or interested in, any work of internal improvement." The question came up on an act authorizing municipal ownership of the Detroit street railways.

Bacteriologic laboratories. In 1898 Maryland, Ohio and Vermont provided for the establishment of bacteriologic laboratories, and during the present year Delaware has authorized the board of health to establish a pathologic and bacteriologic laboratory at Delaware college for the diagnosis of diseases and the analysis of water without charge.

Tuberculosis. New York has authorized cities of 250,000 to maintain outside their limits hospitals for the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis. Washington has required physicians to report tuberculosis patients to the local board of health, whereupon the board must send to patients printed instructions to prevent the spread of the disease and must disinfect premises within five days after death.

Vital statistics. Some provision for a general registration of vital statistics is now made by statute in all but 14 states, though the law in many cases is wholly or partly inoperative. During the present year Florida and North Dakota have passed laws providing for a general registration. In Florida a state board of vital statistics is created and in North Dakota the local officials are required to report to the state board of health.

Practice of embalming. In 1894 Alabama and Virginia passed laws for the examination and licensing of embalmers. Missouri and Pennsylvania followed in 1895, New York in 1898 and Nebraska, New Hampshire, South Dakota and West Virginia in 1899.

Beer adulteration. A Missouri law provides that beer or other malt liquors shall not be manufactured or sold containing any material "other than pure hops or pure extract of hops, or pure barley malt or wholesome yeast, or rice." The enforcement of the law is in the hands of a beer inspector appointed by the governor.

Adulteration of candy. Since 1895, 23 states have passed special laws prohibiting the manufacture and sale of candy adulterated with certain injurious ingredients. During the present year Delaware, Idaho, Maryland, New Hampshire and Oregon were added to the list.

Pawnbroking. An Illinois law authorizes the incorporation of pawners' societies in Chicago. Dividends may not exceed 6% and the governor and mayor may each appoint one director. Interest may not exceed 1% a month with an additional $\frac{1}{2}\%$ for insurance and storage. Only one society has as yet been organized under the law.

Trading stamps. The trading stamp is a development of the past few years. It appears to be a device to get around the laws that have been passed by various states prohibiting gift enterprises. The New York law reads as follows:

No person shall sell, exchange or dispose of any article of food, or offer or attempt to do so upon any representation, advertisement, notice or inducement that anything other than that which is specifically stated to be the subject of the sale or exchange is or is to be delivered or received or in any way connected with or a part of the transaction as a gift, prize, premium or reward to the purchaser.

The trading stamp is a coupon furnished by the trading stamp companies to dealers in all lines of trade. The dealer gives the stamps to customers as an inducement to make purchases and they entitle the holder to receive goods of a certain value from the trading stamp company. In 1898 Maryland, Massachusetts, Virginia and Vermont prohibited their use and during the present year New Hampshire and Rhode Island have done likewise. Tennessee has required trading stamp companies to pay a $500 privilege tax in each county and firms using the stamp a $250 tax.

Commission merchants. Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota have provided for the licensing and regulating of commission merchants. In Illinois a state board of inspectors of commission merchants has been created and in Minnesota the railroad and warehouse commission is to exercise supervision.

Negotiable warehouse receipts. To better enable farmers to hold their cotton and other staple products till the market improves a bonded warehouse act has been passed in Georgia permitting warehousemen to give bond in amount equal to the capacity of their warehouses and to issue negotiable warehouse receipts. It is expected that the experiment will prove very beneficial to the agricultural interests of the state.

Horticulture. Legislation in the interest of horticulture and specially for the extermination of injurious insects and pests continues to exact a great deal of attention. In Indiana the office of state entomologist has been created; Montana has established a state board of horticulture; Missouri a fruit experiment station the manager of which is to inspect trees and shrubs. Texas has authorized the employment of an expert entomologist at the state agricultural and mechanical college, to devise means of destroying insect pests.

Commercial feeding stuffs. In 1897 Massachusetts and Maine provided for the inspection of concentrated commercial feeding stuffs; Vermont followed in 1898 and Connecticut, New York and Rhode Island during the present year.

Forestry. A state forestry commission has been created in Michigan, a state forestry board in Minnesota and the office of game and forestry warden in Oregon. To encourage forestry Indiana has enacted that permanent forest reservations shall be appraised for taxation at $1 an acre.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION

1 Oct. 1898—30 Sep. 1899

Public morals

Municipalities^a—incorporation, powers

General

- 2842 Incorporation. Governor to appoint a commission to revise and codify laws relating to cities and incorporated towns. N. J. 205, 24 Mr

^a The usage of terms designating local bodies varies widely in different states. The word municipality is herein throughout used in its original and strictest meaning to designate any densely populated, incorporated community; thus including cities, villages, boroughs and "towns" (as a name for villages) but not including townships. Where the word town is used to designate in general the smallest division of the state regardless of dense population, it is grouped with township government, though in the case of the New England towns the nature of the government approaches more nearly that of a municipality than that of a western township.

In many states, municipalities, specially cities, are divided into classes according to population. As the classification varies widely, the limits of population designated thereby are in these references substituted for the number of the class.

- 2843 General law for the government of cities of 1000 to 15,000 and villages of 200 to 1000; mayor, clerk, treasurer and engineer to be elected for one year; police judge and councilmen for two years; village trustees to be five in number and to be elected for one year; corporate powers; duties of mayor and police judge. a Submitted as one amendment.

b Not repassed by legislature of 1899.

c Submitted November 1899 but vote has not been canvassed.

NEW CONSTITUTIONS

Alabama. The legislature at its regular session voted to submit the question of holding a constitutional convention to popular vote but opposition having developed to a general revision of the constitution an extra session was called by the governor and the act submitting the question to vote repealed.

New Hampshire. The question of holding a constitutional convention will be voted on in November 1900.

Rhode Island. A revised constitution was submitted to the people by the legislature in 1898 and again in June of the present year but both times was rejected. The vote this year was very light. The provision in the proposed constitution for an educational qualification for voting had much to do with its defeat.

ABSTRACT OF STREET RAILWAY TAX LAWS^a

Alabama. Taxes are levied on all property, real and personal. Taxes on capital stock may be levied either on the corporation or the shareholder, but property otherwise taxed to the corporation may be deducted. A license tax is imposed by the state.

Arkansas. Municipal taxation is levied on all property; stock of the company not being taxable in the hands of the holders.

California. All property, including franchises, is taxable, but shares of stock are not assessed at all. Corporations doing business in a city may be required to pay a city license tax.

Franchises in the streets were formerly granted by direct act of the legislature, but now only by the local authorities. Franchises for street railways must be sold at public auction, after due advertisement, and are awarded to the person or corporation offering the greatest percentage of the gross earnings. No franchise which has expired can be renewed unless advertised for sale, but this sale can not be made till within one year of the expiration of the old grant. The minimum rate which may be accepted is 3%, but no tax can be imposed during the first five years.

Colorado. All property is taxed; shares and bonds owned by individuals exempt.

Connecticut. All property is taxable where located; stock owned by individuals exempt.

Delaware. Tangible property of company is taxable; stock and bonds exempt. Special forms of taxation are inserted in the charters of some companies.

District of Columbia. Real estate is taxed as to an individual, and in lieu of all personal taxes 4% of the gross earnings is collected.

Florida. Tangible property is taxed in the same manner as that of individuals. Stock and bonds are taxed as personal property, and if a tax is paid by the company they are not taxed to the holder.

Georgia. If companies do not pay a tax on their stock, the stock is taxed in the hands of the holders.

Idaho. The property of a company is taxed to the company in the same way as that of an individual.

Illinois. All tangible property is subject to taxation, as is also the fair cash value of the stock, including the franchises, over and above the assessed value of the tangible property.

^a This abstract was prepared by the sociology division in response to numerous inquiries for information relative to the franchise tax laws of other states during the consideration of the franchise tax bill of 1899. It has been compiled from the report of the Massachusetts special committee appointed to investigate the relations of cities and towns to street railways, 1898, but has been brought down to date by including laws passed in 1898 and 1899.

The legislature has the power to fix license fees or may authorize their establishment by cities and towns, and these fees are exacted from street railways in Chicago in the shape of a license on the cars employed.

Indiana. All property must be taxed at its true cash value, and franchises and privileges are to be assessed as personal property.

Iowa. Taxation of real and personal property is the same to a corporation as to an individual. Stock is taxed in the hands of the holder.

Kansas. The tangible property of all companies is taxable, and also the market value of the stock over and above the value of the tangible property. This tax is paid by the corporation, and stock in the hands of the holder is exempt.

Kentucky. Real and personal property assessed at its actual value. In cities of first and second class franchises are taxed; value of capital stock less value of tangible property is taken as value of franchise. License taxes are laid on street cars in some cities. A municipality may not grant a franchise except after due advertisement and the receipt of public bids, when it may award the same to the highest or best bidder, but has the right to reject any or all bids.

Louisiana. Real and personal property assessed by state board of appraisers.

Grants in the streets must be made by the local authorities, and may be either awarded at public sale or according to the terms imposed by the local authorities and set out in a notarial contract. These terms may require a payment to the city and may specify the amount and manner of payment.

Maine. Buildings and personal property are taxed by the municipalities and a state tax of .1% is laid on the gross transportation receipts if the same do not exceed $2000 a mile, and .1% additional for each additional $1000 or fractional part thereof a mile. A share of the expenses of the railroad commission is also assessed to the street railways.

Maryland. Real property is taxed in the county where located, but stocks and bonds are not taxed to the owners in Baltimore if the corporation is located in the city. The state determines the actual value of the stock and deducts from it the assessed value of real property, and the residue is taxed by the state for state purposes. Taxes may be assessed to the company on stock held by nonresidents, and must be paid by the company, and may by it be charged to the stockholders. A state tax of 1% is also levied on the gross receipts of transportation companies, and in Baltimore a special tax of 9% on gross earnings is laid for the maintenance of parks. The park commission of Baltimore is given authority to inspect at any time the books, accounts and fare registers of the city railroads, and any employee of the road found guilty of making false returns in relation to the gross receipts is liable to fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, a license tax is laid on cars, and all license taxes are credited to the account of street paving.

Massachusetts. The real estate and machinery of the companies are taxed where located, but rails are not taxed. The difference in value between the market value of the stock of a corporation and the assessed value of the taxable property is taken as the valuation for taxation of the franchise; this tax is assessed and collected by the state and apportioned among the various cities and towns.

In return for the repeal of the law requiring companies to remove from the streets snow displaced in clearing their tracks and to pave and keep in repair the portion of the streets between their tracks, the legislature of 1898 imposed a special tax on the profits of roads paying dividends exceeding 8% and which since they began operation have paid dividends equivalent in the aggregate to 6%, together with a gross receipts tax on all roads varying from 1% to 3%.

Michigan. Real property is taxed at the place of location of the principal business office and stock is taxed in the hands of the holder. In Detroit special taxes are laid on the gross earnings at variable rates.

Minnesota. Real property is taxed where located, and personal property is taxed in the principal place of business; stock is taxed in the hands of holders.

In St Paul and Minneapolis a license tax is laid on the cars, and the local taxes in St Paul by ordinance are made to equal 3% on the gross earnings, but the real estate tax is deducted from the 3%.

Mississippi. Taxes are assessed on actual property and stocks are taxed in the hands of holders. A privilege tax of $25 is laid by the state on each company.

Missouri. The property of the company is taxed where located, and shares of stock are exempt. A return must be made to the state auditor, showing the length of road and all property owned, and from this the state board of equalization fixes the taxable value.

Power to open the streets is granted by the local authorities, under such terms and conditions as may be established; and if municipal officers so desire, franchises for street railways may be sold to the highest bidder, or a per capita tax on the passengers transported, or an annual tax on the gross receipts of such railway, or on each car, may be imposed.

Montana. Property is taxed where located, and a license tax of $50 a quarter is imposed on all street railways located in towns of 4000, and of $25 in all towns under 4000.

Nebraska. The stock and franchises of a corporation are taxed where the principal place of business is located.

New Hampshire. Street railways must pay to the state an annual tax on their total property at the average rate of taxation on property throughout the state, in lieu of all other taxes.

New Jersey. Real estate and personal property are taxed where located. The state assesses taxes on street railways in various ways. A certain amount of tax is collected through the towns, and for this purpose only the real estate of such corporations is taxable; in addition, a street railway company must pay direct to the state a tax based on its rate of dividend; and, finally, each company must pay to the state a tax of $\frac{1}{4}\%$ on its gross earnings. These taxes are called in the law franchise taxes. A municipality has no right to impose a tax under color of a license fee; it has power to exact license fees, but they must be for the purpose of regulating, and can not be used either as a means of prohibiting the use of the franchise or for the purpose of raising a revenue.

New York. In cities of more than 1,250,000 inhabitants the franchise must be sold at auction, and granted to the company bidding the largest proportion of the gross receipts.

All roads built after 1884, in cities of 1,200,000, must pay, for five years, 3% on the gross receipts, and afterward 5%; and any road building extensions must pay on such proportion of receipts as the length of the extension bears to the entire length of the road. Local authorities in other cities and towns are given the right to include as a condition for consent the payment of a sum not to exceed 3% of the gross earnings.

A state franchise tax, amounting to $\frac{1}{4}$ mill on each dollar of valuation for each 1% of dividend, must be paid; but if the dividend is less than 6%, then this franchise tax is $1\frac{1}{2}$ mills a dollar. In addition, street railways must pay to the state annually 1% on gross receipts, and 3% on all dividends in excess of 4%.

Franchise tax law of 1899. Franchises to be considered "real estate" for purposes of taxation. Value of franchise to include value of all tangible property in any street or public place and to be determined annually by state board of tax commissioners. All special taxes paid by companies to the communities to be deducted from the franchise tax. Other street railway real estate to be assessed as formerly by the local assessors.

North Carolina. Real and personal property are taxed where located, and a company is allowed to deduct its debts from its solvent credits, and is liable to taxation only on the balance.

North Dakota. Real and personal property, including the franchise, are taxable where the principal business office is located.

Ohio. Real and personal property are taxed the same as to individuals, and an excise tax of $\frac{1}{2}\%$ is levied by the state on the total value of the stock. By ordinance license taxes are laid on street railways in various forms. Permission to use the streets is granted by the local authorities by ordinance, and can only be given, after due notice by publication, to the person or corporation agreeing to carry the passengers at the lowest rate of fare. Grants may require a payment to the city of a certain sum a lineal foot of each car run on the route or of a percentage of gross earnings, or both.

Oregon. Real estate and personal property are taxed where located, and stock is taxed in the hands of holders.

Pennsylvania. Real and personal property are taxed where located. A state tax is levied on the value of the capital stock, at the rate of 5 mills on its actual value. Bonds and mortgages are taxed to the holder, at the rate of .4% on the par value; but the companies are required to deduct this amount from the interest as paid and pay the same to the city treasurer, so that they are practically taxed to the company. A tax of 6% on dividends in excess of 6% on the paid in cash capital is levied by the cities, and they are also allowed to levy a license tax on all cars used by street railway companies.

Rhode Island. Real and personal estate is taxed where located and an individual stockholder is taxed on the difference in value between the market value of his stock and the amount a share at which the property of the company is taxed.

The legislature of 1898 passed an act applying only to such roads as accept its provisions prior to Oct. 16, 1899. After such acceptance the act forms a contract that can not be altered without the consent of both parties. In return for some concessions and in lieu of all other special taxes except those at the time imposed by cities and towns, a state tax of 1% is imposed on all companies paying a dividend of 8% or less; companies paying a dividend exceeding 8% are required to pay an amount equal to the excess of such dividend over 8%.

South Carolina. Real and personal property are taxed where located, and certain municipal corporations are also authorized to impose a license fee.

South Dakota. Real and personal property are taxable; the personal property in the place where the principal place of business is located; the tracks of a street railway company are held to be personal property.

Tennessee. Street railways are assessed on the full value of their capital stock and bonded debt. A privilege tax may also be levied on corporations using the streets, fixed for street railway companies at $350 a year, in cities or towns of 30,000, at $150 a year in cities or towns from 8000 to 30,000, and at $50 a year in cities and towns under 8000. The consent of the local authorities must be obtained for the use of the streets, and they may prescribe such conditions as they deem proper.

Texas. The tax on real and personal property of street railways is the same as that on property in hands of private holders. Stock is taxed in the hands of holders.

The use of the streets must be granted by the local authorities, and cities and towns may regulate the service and rates to be charged, and may also require the payment of a tax for the privilege of doing business.

Utah. Real and personal property including franchise assessed by state board of equalization.

Vermont. The tangible property of companies is taxed where situated, and the stock is taxed in the hands of holders. In determining the value of the stock, the value of the tangible property is deducted and only the remainder taxed.

Virginia. Real and personal property are taxed for state purposes where located, and the stock of the companies is also taxed. In the case of street railways, local taxation is usually imposed in the form of a percentage on gross receipts in lieu of all other taxes, excepting such special license taxes as may have been imposed.

Washington. Real and personal property are taxed where located, and stock is taxed in the hands of the holders as personal property.

West Virginia. Real estate is taxed where located, and the actual value of the capital invested in personal property is determined by taking the aggregate value of all such property, including money and credits, and deducting therefrom the debts, and the difference is taxed where the principal business office is located.

Wisconsin. Street railways to pay 2% on gross receipts if under $500,000, 4% if over $500,000. Tax to be divided among towns in which company operates, on basis of mileage located in each town.

When a company desires a franchise in any town, the local authorities shall draw up a statement of the terms and conditions on which such road shall be operated, including the rates of fare, and shall invite proposals for the purchase of such franchise on these terms and conditions, payment to be a certain percentage of the gross earnings, and the franchise shall be awarded to the company bidding the highest percentage. In the case of extensions of railroads already in existence, a sum, to be paid annually, shall be bid in lieu of a percentage of the gross earnings.

Bulletins. Summary and index of legislation by states. This has been published annually since its beginning in 1890.

State finance statistics. A bulletin giving a comparative summary of state finance statistics for 1890 and 1895 was published in March 1897. There will be a similar bulletin for 1900 and each succeeding fifth year.

These bulletins may be had postpaid for 25 cents a copy, or for $1 a volume consisting of five numbers. Volume 1 began in 1890, volume 2 in 1895, and volume 3 with number 11. Subscriptions for future numbers or orders for back numbers should be addressed Treasurer of the University of the State of New York, Albany.

Card indexes. A consolidated card index of state legislation, beginning with 1890, makes it easy to refer to laws on any subject in any state within the past 10 years. As fast as advance sheets of new laws are received they are summarized on cards and classified. A special library on comparative legislation is being collected, which is supplemented with catalogues, indexes and notes. This makes it possible to furnish promptly summaries of recent legislation on any subject.

Research. The library with its 234,000 volumes affords unusual advantages for research. Its collections in law, public documents, statistics, political science, economics, administration and allied subjects are unusually valuable and are being rapidly increased. Students of public law or economics who are unable to come to the library may have bibliographies prepared and information gathered for them by trained assistants.

A charge is made for work of this kind covering the salary value of the time spent on it, usually ranging from 50c to $1 an hour; but such work is always assigned to the least expensive assistant competent to do it satisfactorily. Requests for research on these subjects should be addressed Sociology division, State library.

TREND OF LEGISLATION IN THE UNITED STATES

BY

ROBERT HARVEY WHITTEN PH. D.

SOCIOLOGY LIBRARIAN

TREND OF LEGISLATION IN THE UNITED STATES

It is the purpose of this monograph to sketch the general trend of recent legislative regulation from a sociologic standpoint. Laws relating to the organization of the government itself are not considered, merely a broad, comprehensive view being given of the general tendency of attempts at social regulation and control.

Early legislation consists almost exclusively of direct commands and prohibitions, as is well exemplified in the Mosaic laws and the laws of the American colonies. The statute books consisted of long lists of thou shalts and shalt nots, enforced by the stocks, the torture, the dungeon and the gallows. The New England colonies attempted to control by this simple and direct method not only a man's public relations but also his beliefs, speech, morals, amusements, dress and other private affairs to a degree difficult at present to comprehend. With the general advancement of civilization this wasteful and inefficient method of control has gradually been giving way to indirect but vastly more effective methods.

A similar change on a much broader scale has been going on in the industrial world. The barbarian accomplishes practically everything by direct physical force; he opposes his own unaided muscle to that of his fellows and to the forces of nature. Gradually he learns that he can accomplish certain things more easily by indirect methods; he makes tools and weapons that are many times as effective as direct physical force. Then with the aid of science man learns not only to ward off but to use natural forces for accomplishing his own purposes. The marvelous achievements in the arts and industries have resulted from the marshaling of the physical forces to the service of mankind. Electricity, which once brought only destruction and terror in the lightning stroke, now serves man in a thousand ways. Human passions, desires and ambitions may be as destructive as the lightning or of supreme social beneficence and utility. It is the problem of social economy to control and use these social forces. As compared with the mechanical appliances for the control and use of physical forces the social institutions for the control and use of social forces developed both through legislation and private initiative are as yet crude and evince a comparatively undeveloped collective intelligence.

In the progress of legislative control three general stages may usually be recognized. In the first the main idea is to overcome, dissipate or destroy inimical forces; in the second so to control and direct them that they become beneficent instead of harmful; and in the third so to concentrate and organize beneficent forces that their effect is enormously increased. The first is protective and repressive, the second reformative and preventive, the third positively productive: the policeman and the prison are typical of the first; the reformatory and the asylum of the second; and the school and the library of the third. The extent to which the first has been supplanted by the second and third is the best index of political intelligence and of the degree to which legislation has become scientific.

POLICE REGULATIONS

Sunday observance. The progress of liberal principles is nowhere more manifest than in the history of Sunday laws and their enforcement. Many of the colonies had Sunday laws of the most drastic character, and what is more important they were usually enforced. Every person was required to go to church, and amusements, recreations, travel and "worldly work, except of charity or necessity" were forbidden. With the separation of church and state and the establishment of religious liberty the compulsory church attendance laws were repealed, but the other Sunday laws were retained almost unchanged until within recent years, though through general disregard and liberal interpretation they gradually lost much of their early rigorous character and in many cases became dead letters. Not until 1893 however was it lawful in New Jersey to publish or sell newspapers, to sell and deliver milk or to walk, ride or drive for recreation; and in Connecticut recreation was unlawful until 1897, and during the past year that state has passed a law permitting the running of electric cars on Sunday. In the western states generally a more liberal policy has prevailed from the start. Arizona, Idaho and California have no Sunday laws. California repealed its Sunday laws in 1883, but 10 years later passed an act on humanitarian rather than religious grounds, making it unlawful for an employer except in cases of emergency to cause his employees to work more than six days in seven. It is being practically recognized that rest does not necessarily involve either suspended animation or the use of an anesthetic, but merely a change of activity; the great vital processes of transportation and communication and the registering of social sensations through the public press must go on if social vitality and consciousness are to be kept up.¹

A. H. Lewis, Critical history of Sunday legislation. New York 1888.

W. A. Blakely, American state papers bearing on Sunday legislation. New York 1891.

Liquor traffic. State prohibition of the liquor traffic has during the past 50 years existed for a time at least in 17 states,¹ but has now been abolished in all but five sparsely settled and distinctly rural states: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Kansas and North Dakota. A number of states have passed laws permitting the local governments, cities, towns or counties, by popular vote to prohibit the liquor traffic within their own borders, and in these states numerous rural communities have so voted. In order to reduce the evils of the liquor traffic by taking it out of private hands and in order to secure to the state all profits from the traffic, the state dispensary system has been evolved. This system, which provides for the sale of liquor through public agents, was first established at Athens, Georgia in 1889, and was adopted by South Carolina in 1892. South Dakota repealed its prohibitory law in 1896 and adopted a constitutional amendment in 1898 for the manufacture and sale of liquors exclusively under state control by salaried agents, but the legislature has as yet refused to enact the necessary legislation to put the dispensary system in operation and has submitted to popular vote in November 1900 the question of the repeal of the dispensary amendment. Alabama has passed an act permitting cities, towns and counties to establish dispensaries.

The most interesting laws sociologically however and those most pregnant for the future are the ones which seek to treat inebriety as a disease and to give each child a scientific knowledge of the physiological results of alcoholism. A Massachusetts act of 1889 established a state hospital for dipsomaniacs and inebriates and provides that any inebriate may be committed to this institution for a period of two years in the manner provided for the commitment of the insane, and may be released on parole as soon as considered cured. Nine other states have enacted somewhat similar legislation.

In all but seven states and territories² the teaching of physiology and hygiene with special reference to the nature of alcoholic drinks and other narcotics and their effects on the human system has been made a required study in all public schools. Though such laws often go to extremes and require the waste of much time in teaching distorted facts, and though the scientific method would be to teach physiology and hygiene thoroughly but without special reference to any particular phase of the subject, the idea behind the plan, namely the substitution of intelligence for physical force in the battle against intemperance is certainly a great step in advance and in line with the ultimate solution of the problem.

Marriage and divorce. The trend at present appears to be to place safeguards around entering into the marriage contract, to provide for the perpetuation of the record and to further the dissolution of the bond in cases of very evident failure. All but seven states and territories require that a license shall be procured, and all but Pennsylvania and South Carolina require a solemnization by certain designated persons. In most states however failure to conform to these requirements does not render the marriage void but sometimes renders the parties liable to fine or other punishment. 32 states have prescribed minimum ages at which minors are capable of marrying, ranging from 14 to 18 in the case of males and from 12 to 16 in the case of females; the average "age of consent" is slowly increasing.

During colonial days divorce was very infrequent and was granted if at all by the colonial legislature and in some cases by the governor. During the latter part of the eighteenth century however a few states gave the courts power to grant divorce for adultery and cruelty. In the first half of the present century the legislatures of most of the states were prohibited from passing special divorce laws, and in all but a few of the remaining states the practice fell into disuse. In Delaware, till the adoption of the constitution of 1897, the legislature granted many more divorces than the courts and in Connecticut the legislature may still grant divorces for causes for which the courts can not, and each session a few such acts are passed.

During the century the statutory causes of divorce have increased somewhat in number and at present there are five very generally recognized causes: adultery, desertion, cruelty, neglect to provide and drunkenness or imprisonment. South Carolina however grants no absolute divorce and in New York absolute divorce is granted for adultery only. In Washington on the other hand after enumerating numerous other causes the statute provides that "a divorce may be granted . . . for any other cause deemed by the court sufficient, and the court shall be satisfied that the parties can no longer live together." Prof. W. F. Wilcox however in a careful study of divorce statistics has shown that little connection can be traced between the divorce rate and legislation. In states where the economic and legal emancipation of woman is most advanced and in the newer states where as in all new communities there is a tendency to relax traditional standards, the divorce rate is high, regardless of varying statutory provisions. Where a divorce is desired by both parties it is not usually impossible to adapt the cause assigned to the legal cause required, and where public sentiment sanctions the result judicial interpretation will make "cruelty" and "neglect to provide" cover a multitude of cases.

For obvious reasons of convenience and interstate comity a divorce granted in one state is operative everywhere; except under certain conditions in New York, North Carolina and South Carolina. This privilege has been greatly abused by residents of one state going to another having more liberal laws and after securing a nominal residence obtaining a divorce, often without the knowledge of the defendant to the suit. This has led to a demand for uniform divorce laws, particularly as to residence required and procedure. It was largely to secure this that the state commissions on uniform laws were established. They have found the solution of the problem quite difficult, but at their 1899 conference proposed acts were considered pre-

Public health and safety. It has not been many years since the work of the state in the interest of public health was confined to the abatement of public nuisances, on the initiative of an individual or of the local police, and the quarantine of contagious disease. With increased sanitary knowledge, regulations became more numerous and detailed and special officers were charged with their enforcement, and with still greater scientific knowledge of the factors involved methods of control and prevention are being discovered which promise much for the future.

Boards of health. The state boards of health have taken the most prominent part in the development of improved methods of control. The first state board was established in Massachusetts in 1869. As then organized it had no compulsory authority, its duty being simply to make sanitary investigations and to diffuse the information thus gathered among the people. Its function was one of enlightenment and, though it has since been vested with numerous and important powers, none have proved more potent. Other states have followed the example of Massachusetts till now state boards exist in all but five states.² In all states there are local boards of health or health officers, and there is at present a strong movement for the creation of a national board. With the establishment of such a board to carry on extensive scientific investigations relative to the cause and cure of disease, to collect vital statistics and to disseminate information drawn from all sources as to the best sanitary and hygienic methods, a new epoch in health legislation will have begun.

Vital statistics. For the determination of the causes of disease and the influence of employment, locality and condition on health, carefully compiled vital statistics are indispensable. Some provision for a general registration of vital statistics is now made by statute in all but 14 states, though the law in many cases is wholly or partially inoperative. Detailed statistics for the whole country are contained in each decennial national census. The value of statistics of any kind is in proportion to the extent of territory over which they are uniformly compiled. Vital statistics of a single city are valuable, but their value is immensely augmented if there are available for comparison statistics prepared according to the same plan for the other cities and communities of the state, the entire nation or throughout the leading nations of the world. The natural trend will therefore be in the direction of cooperation between the states, national supervision and international cooperation and uniformity.

Bacteriologic laboratories. Delaware, Vermont, Maryland and Ohio have recently established bacteriologic laboratories for the examination of drinking water and the determination of suspected cases of contagious disease. In this as in many other matters the states have merely followed the example of the large cities where the need of such institutions was first felt and provided for. As a rule the use of a state laboratory and all the investigations therein are free to the people of the state. Sanitary intelligence is of such value as a social regulator that its distribution may well be a public charge.

Pure food laws. A greatly extended market, large scale production and chemical discoveries have combined to bring about and render difficult of detection numerous food and drug adulterations and imitations. Antiseptics and preservatives of various kinds are used to defraud and deceive, many of which are harmful and some positively dangerous to health. Investigations have shown that almost all kinds of food are being adulterated and counterfeited to an alarming extent. Owing to the importance of the farming interest legislatures have as yet devoted their attention mostly to imitation or adulterated milk and milk products. All the states and territories except Arizona, Texas and Wyoming have more or less drastic dairy laws and 16 states have a state dairy commissioner or similar officer. General pure food laws have been passed in 23 states, but only a few of these have as yet made adequate provision for their enforcement. These laws usually provide that any article shall be deemed adulterated and its sale unlawful if it contains any inferior or poisonous substance, if any valuable ingredient has been removed, if it is an imitation of or sold under the name of another article, if it is unwholesome or infected, if it is colored to conceal inferiority etc.; but certain common mixtures are permitted if labeled with ingredients. As yet no national law has been enacted. State regulations can not affect interstate commerce and therefore in order to secure effective control it is necessary to have a national law supplemented by uniform state laws. The National pure food and drug congress is drafting a uniform law which it will recommend for adoption by the states. At present prominent physicians and chemists differ radically as to the food value or injurious effects of many imitations, adulterations and preservatives, and for intelligent regulation it is therefore necessary that thorough investigations should be undertaken. When this has been done, the knowledge thus obtained will have to be diffused among the people, and measures taken to make it possible for the buyer to know the ingredients of the article bought. Popular intelligence and publicity are the best possible regulators.¹

Practice of professions and trades. It is rapidly being recognized practically that government officers and employees form but a small part of the number that are really in the public service. Government is confused with the social state while in reality it is but one of many organs for the attainment of the ends of the social state. Governmental employments are public because they intimately affect the general welfare but many so called private employments affect the general welfare in equal measure. This is practically recognized in the numerous laws rapidly being adopted for regulating admission to the practice of law, medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and veterinary medicine and providing for the examination and licensing of embalmers, barbers, horseshoers, engineers, electricians and public accountants. The proper exercise of these trades and professions is believed to be of such social importance that the applicant for admission is required to pass an examination to determine his fitness and ability in much the same way as if he were trying for a government position under the merit system.

For admission to the bar 21 states and territories require an examination in all cases, 16 require either the approval of a law diploma or an examination, and in the remaining 11 admission is governed by the rules of the court. For admission to the practice of medicine 29 states and territories require an examination in all cases and the remaining, with the exception of Kansas, the approval of a medical diploma or an examination by a duly qualified board. For dentistry 23 states require an examination in all cases and the others, except Wyoming, the approval of a dental diploma or examination by a duly qualified board. For pharmacy 17 states require an examination in all cases and the remaining states and territories, except Arizona and Nevada, a diploma, examination or certification of some kind. For veterinary medicine five states require an examination in all cases and seven a diploma, examination or certification of some kind.¹ Beginning with Virginia in 1894 10 states have passed laws for the examination and licensing of embalmers, and beginning with Minnesota in 1897 five states have provided for the examination and licensing of barbers. New York and Pennsylvania have recently made provision for the examination and certification of public accountants.

REGULATION AND PROMOTION OF INDUSTRY AND COMMERCE

Labor. In the United States nearly the entire field of labor legislation is left to the states. The national government has power to interfere only for the purpose of regulating immigration and interstate commerce. To find out what has been done on any given subject it is therefore necessary to examine the statutes of 48 states and territories. Nor is this all, for after a statute has been passed by the legislature it may be declared void by the courts as in violation of the constitution of the state or of the United States. This is specially important in the case of labor legislation, where constitutional questions relative to contract rights and the extent of the police power are constantly coming up. Numerous legislative enactments in the interest of labor have been declared void by the courts and from a study of past decisions it is certain that many others will be so declared if their constitutionality is ever tested.

In factory laws and labor legislation generally the statutes of Massachusetts have usually been in advance of those of other states, just as those of England have been in advance of those of Massachusetts. New York and Pennsylvania have also been leaders. It was in these three states that laborers were first brought together in large workshops; it is here that population is most dense, industrial conditions most complex and the means of betterment through organization and political pressure most effective. As manufacturers have developed in other states formerly almost exclusively agricultural and the conditions in the older states have been reproduced in the newer states of the west, the laws developed to meet those conditions in the older states have been gradually adopted in the newer or industrially less advanced states.

Labor bureaus and commissions. State activity to promote the interests of laborers generally may be said to have begun with the establishment of the Massachusetts bureau of labor statistics in 1869. It was ordered to collect, assort, arrange and present in annual reports statistical details relating to all departments of labor, particularly in relation to the commercial, industrial, social, educational and sanitary condition of the laboring classes, and to the permanent prosperity of the productive industry of the commonwealth. It was the first bureau of the kind not only in the United States but in the world and marks a most important epoch in the history of labor legislation. It was the beginning of a movement to secure publicity concerning factory conditions and to provide the legislator with some of the facts necessary for the scientific regulation of industrial conditions. The example of Massachusetts was followed by Pennsylvania in 1872, Connecticut in 1873 and Ohio in 1877; in the next few years many more bureaus were established and they exist at present in 32 states. The United States bureau of labor was established as an office in the department of the interior in 1884 and reorganized as the department of labor in 1888. Incompetence and partizanship have made the reports of many of the state bureaus almost worthless, but others, notably those of Massachusetts, have been of great value and on the whole the bureaus have exerted a great influence for the betterment of industrial conditions through the direction of intelligent legislation, the encouragement of self-help and the bringing into play of that great social force and regulator, public opinion. The United States department of labor has done for the whole country what the local bureaus have done for the individual states, and it has carried on many extensive investigations of great value.

Factory regulations. 20 states have factory regulations for the protection of the health, safety, comfort and morals of laborers. Among the regulations in force in a large number of states are the following: general provisions relative to heating, lighting, ventilation and other sanitary conditions; fans or dust blowers must be provided to remove noxious vapors or dust peculiar to particular industries; overcrowding is prohibited; belting, shafting, gearing and drums must be securely guarded; where machinery is propelled by steam suitable communication must be provided between each room and engine room in order to control motive power in case of accident; openings for hoistways, hatchways etc. must be protected; machinery other than steam engines must not be cleaned while running if inspector deems it unsafe; proper fire escapes must be provided; separate closets must be provided for the sexes and suitable wash and dressing rooms for women; all accidents must be reported.¹

Factory inspection. The states that are farthest advanced industrially have not stopped with the enactment of factory laws but have usually created a force of state inspectors whose special function it is to see to their enforcement. In most cases it is the custom of the state to rely on individual initiative and the local police to enforce its regulations, but this has been found to work very poorly in the case of factory laws. To be of value they must be uniformly and continuously enforced. In many cases moreover it is not wise to lay down rigid rules, as the best results are obtained by leaving many broad matters to the judgment and discretion of the inspectors; a specially trained force is therefore essential. In many states a department of factory inspection has been created, in others inspectors are appointed by the labor bureau or commissioner and in Massachusetts the chief of the district police has under his direction a force of factory inspectors. 20 states have established some system of state inspection. The chief factory inspector usually publishes an annual or biennial report to the legislature which like the reports of the labor bureaus and commissions are of great value in directing legislation and in securing publicity concerning factory conditions.

Sweat shops. The sweating system has developed chiefly in the larger cities, particularly New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago; and it was in the states containing these cities that the attempt was first made to regulate it. At present there are laws on the subject in Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri.

Mining. The peculiar dangers incident to this industry have led states having considerable mining interests to enact special laws to protect the health and safety of miners. 27 states have laws regulating labor in mines and 24 have established a system of state inspection.

Employer's liability. The liability of employers for injuries to their employees has recently been greatly extended in many states. Under the common law the employee was not allowed to recover from his employer for an injury resulting from the negligence of a fellow servant or coemployee. Under a system of hand labor where a few laborers worked together each might be expected to know the character and reliability of his fellow laborers and to assume any risk attendant on working with them. But the conditions of modern industry are very different. An employee in a large factory or in a great railway system may suffer from the negligence of any one of a thousand men, some of whom he has never seen. It is in the railroad business that the injustice of the old common law rule has been most evident and consequently several laws have been passed modifying the common law rule as to railroad employees while leaving it in force as to others. Other statutes have extended the employer's liability to cases where the injury is caused by the negligence of any coemployee not of exactly the same grade or rank as the person injured. The old rule has been changed not only by statute but by court decision, the tendency being to hold that "the employee does not assume any risks which might be averted by the greatest care on the part of the employer in the choice and construction of machinery or other appliances, and in the selection of other agents or servants."¹ The statutes of Massachusetts, Indiana, Colorado and Alabama agree substantially in making the employer liable where personal injury is caused to an employee while exercising due care and diligence by reason of 1) defects in machinery or appliances due to negligence of employer or a coemployee; 2) the negligence of any person exercising superintendence; 3) the negligence of any coemployee having charge of any railway signal, switch, engine or train.

Free employment bureaus. Several states have provided for the regulation and licensing of private employment agencies and intelligence offices, but only seven have entered the field in competition with private enterprise by establishing free employment bureaus. As yet neither state nor private enterprise has succeeded in making more than a beginning toward the organization of a continuous market or exchange for the purchase and sale of labor. That such a labor market is essential to the most efficient organization of industry is apparent. As wages tend on the whole gradually to rise, the absence of the free competition to be secured by such a market bears most heavily on the wage earner.

Arbitration. In 1886 Massachusetts and New York established state boards of arbitration and at present permanent state boards exist in 16 states, and provision for mediation or arbitration of some kind in eight other states. An act of the national government in 1888 as amended in 1898 provides for mediation and arbitration in case of labor troubles on railroads engaged in interstate commerce.¹

Corporations. During the first half of the century corporations were almost universally chartered by special act of the legislature. With their rapid multiplication the evils of this system became so pronounced that many states adopted constitutional provisions forbidding incorporation by special acts, and at present corporations are almost universally organized under general laws. Ordinarily incorporation is accomplished by merely filing with the secretary of state articles of incorporation stating the name, object, purpose etc., and paying an organization fee. The frauds that this loose method has permitted and the injury resulting not only to innocent investors but to business confidence and the public generally, have led to attempts at regulation. These have usually first consisted of stringent statutory enactments without any adequate method of enforcement. Massachusetts has evolved the most satisfactory system of regulation. It has a state commissioner of corporations who examines and approves the certificate of organization. Corporations are required to make annual statements to the commissioner relative to meetings, shareholders, capital stock, and assets and liabilities in such form and with such detail as he may require. No corporation can begin business till the whole amount of its capital stock has been paid in. If paid in property other than cash the commissioner of corporations must certify that the valuation placed on the property is fair and reasonable. If all states had regulations of this kind the prospect would be much brighter, but as a corporation organized in one state can do business in any state promoters whose financial schemes will not stand the publicity enforced by Massachusetts, incorporate under the laws of some other state. New Jersey's liberal laws and small incorporation fee have made it the favorite state for incorporation; it receives enough from these fees to pay a large part of the expenses of the state government. Its success in this regard has led a few other states to try to emulate its example. It seems doubtful therefore whether the states can be induced voluntarily to adopt uniform regulations, and the only other remedy lies in the substitution of national for state supervision and control.

Industrial combinations. During the past 20 years industrial organization has been taking place on a gigantic scale. Combinations or trusts have been and are being formed to control the supply of all kinds of commodities. Legislators have usually looked on the new development as unquestionably evil and for a cure have turned to that most primitive and simple specific, prohibitory legislation. The national government and 29 states have passed laws specially constructed to prohibit trusts; but all this legislation has served thus far only to harass and annoy but not materially to impede the development of the trust. The trouble seems to be that any law drastic enough effectually to prohibit the trust will at the same time prohibit many forms of combination and organization recognized as highly beneficial. Thus far the labor organizations have been the principal sufferers from legislation intended solely to destroy trusts. In some phases the fight against industrial combinations is simply a fight against a new laborsaving method that during a period of readjustment throws certain classes out of employment, but in other respects it is a protest against the exercise of unlimited power by men who have no conception of social responsibility and who adopt the nearsighted policy of increasing prices and curtailing production. It is beginning to be recognized that enforced publicity of the affairs of the trusts and regulations to prevent discrimination will prove more potent for the correction of its real evils than prohibitions of the most drastic character. With full publicity secured and discrimination prevented, the regulating power of public opinion and potential competition will certainly assert itself. Publicity serves the same function as city street lighting; it furthers legitimate business and prevents crime.

Banking. It is the peculiar function of the banking system to apportion to the use of the various industrial agents the existing supply of capital. The importance of this function has led to a more thorough recognition of the necessity for publicity as to the affairs of banks than of any other class of corporations. The national banks are subjected to strict supervision and inspection by the national government and state banks are more or less carefully supervised in 29 states and territories. To meet changed industrial conditions new kinds of banking institutions have recently been developed. The trust company was made necessary by the growth of corporations and the organization of industry. The safe-deposit companies have supplied the demand for financial warehouses. The building and loan association is a specialization of the bank to meet the wants of small investors. The trend at present is to extend to these new kinds of banking institutions the supervision now exercised over banks.

Insurance. Most states have established special insurance departments and the others have given to some existing officer the duty of supervising insurance companies. The regulations adopted by the various legislatures ostensibly in the interest of the policyholder have very often resulted in benefit to the dishonest holder and in increased expense to the company, followed by increased rates of insurance. In general, restrictions on the right of contract have proved detrimental while regulations to secure publicity have been of inestimable value.

The field of insurance is being rapidly extended to cover all kinds of risks. Accident and casualty insurance of all kinds is making remarkable progress. During the past few years the surety and fidelity companies have been revolutionizing methods of executing official bonds. The states are rapidly authorizing the acceptance of surety companies on all official bonds and many are authorizing the payment of premiums out of public or trust funds. The companies are in some cases supplanting government in its function of inspection and regulation. It is estimated that at the present time employers liability insurance companies pay out about $500,000 annually in the inspection of boilers, elevators and mechanical appliances. In Massachusetts steam boilers that are under the periodically guaranteed inspection of insurance companies are exempt from inspection by the state inspector. The companies often assist directly in the essentially governmental function of fire protection, and their inspection and regulation of the building risks that they assume have probably done more in the interest of public safety and security than have governmental building laws and inspections. It is a substitution of free contract for governmental coercion. The great drawback however arises from the fact that the competition between the companies is so severe that their inspections are frequently shams. Were this drawback removed the companies would become most powerful regulators of public safety and security.

The business of the companies is seldom confined to any one state but usually extends to all the states. Many states have adopted the policy of imposing more severe conditions on the corporations of other states than on their own and this has led to retaliatory laws. The companies are often compelled to bear the expense of periodical examinations by each of the 48 states and territories when one thorough examination by a central authority would be much better, and the conflicting regulations of the different states are extremely annoying. In order to obtain the best results the jurisdiction of the supervising authority should be as extensive as the institution supervised, and there is at present a movement to secure national supervision of insurance.

Transportation. Early attempts at railroad regulation were confined chiefly to the securing of competition. It was thought that competition would insure equitable rates in this industry as it had in others. The essentially monopolistic character of the enterprise and the waste and public inconvenience arising from the duplication of tracks and the multiplication of systems were not appreciated. Legislatures did what they could to encourage the building of competing lines and to prevent pools and consolidations. This policy to a certain extent still prevails in most states and pools are prohibited by national law, but a few states have taken measures to prevent the needless duplication of tracks by providing that the railroad commission or other board shall certify that the construction of the road is demanded by "public necessity and convenience." In most states however the right of eminent domain may be exercised for the construction of a road wherever and whenever private interests dictate.

Exclusively legislative control soon proved inefficient and had to be supplemented by administrative and judicial control. Special railroad commissions have been formed in 31 states and vested with numerous administrative and judicial powers, and in 1887 the national interstate commerce commission was created. These commissions naturally divide into two classes, the weak and the strong, according as they have or have not general powers to regulate rates in addition to powers of supervision and advice. The Massachusetts commission is the type of the weak commission and the Illinois of the strong. The interstate commerce commission holds an intermediate position. The opinion is fast gaining ground that full publicity will correct at least 99% of the existing railway evils; whether this prove true or not publicity is certainly indispensable to intelligent and effective regulation. To secure publicity is far from being an easy task; railroad accounting is a most difficult subject, and it requires a much higher order of legislative ability to devise a system that will secure uniform and accurate accounts than to prepare any number of bills arbitrarily fixing rates and prescribing equipment and service. It also requires a capacity for cooperation—a mark of the highest legislative ability. 48 independent legislatures will have to cooperate with congress in the development of a uniform system of railroad accounting.¹

Agriculture. In contrast with the usual regulative duties of special state boards, boards of agriculture have been established not for the regulation but for the encouragement of agriculture. The general agricultural depression and consequent discontent coupled with the political strength of the farmer have led to numerous attempts at legislative amelioration, among which the establishment of agricultural colleges, experiment stations and government departments have been the most successful. A national department of agriculture has been created and boards of agriculture or officers specially charged with the duty of looking after farming interests have been established in nearly all the states.

The act of 1862 creating a U. S. commissioner of agriculture directed him "To acquire and diffuse among the people of the United States useful information on subjects connected with agriculture, in the most general and comprehensive sense of the word." In carrying out this mandate the national department of agriculture has become a great laboratory of agricultural research and center for the collection, organization and dissemination of agricultural information. Its work supplements and organizes that of the state boards, which in their more restricted fields carry on similar work of investigation and education. The educational work is carried on by various university extension methods, such as public meetings, institutes, lectures, correspondence courses, reading clubs, itinerant agricultural schools and cooperative field experiments, and by numerous annual and special reports and bulletins which are distributed free throughout the state. Through a system of national land grants one or more agricultural colleges and experiment stations have been established in each state. At the colleges men are trained in the science and art of farming with the same thoroughness as in schools of law or medicine, while at the experiment stations scientific investigations are undertaken and improved methods of culture developed. In order to secure the prompt trial and introduction of exotic plants and improved varieties the national government has since 1839 provided for a free distribution of seeds and plants.

Besides purely educational work the state and national governments have aided in much work of a more immediately productive character. The national government maintains extensive and efficient systems of weather and crop forecasts and reports. Swamp and marsh lands are being reclaimed and brought under cultivation and extensive systems of irrigation undertaken. 31 states seek to protect the buyers of fertilizers by providing for an official inspection. All states and territories have established commissions or bureaus for the suppression of contagious diseases among domestic animals, both in the interest of the owner and to protect the consumer against the use of unwholesome animal products. To aid the states in this work a national bureau of animal industry has also been established. The scientific study of plant diseases and insect pests has recently led 18 states to create a board of horticulture or state entomologist to investigate diseases and pests and with power in many cases to take the necessary measures to prevent their spread.

Forestry. Until quite recently the preservation of the forest wealth of the community has received no legislative attention. Enormous areas of fine timber have been improvidently exploited or wholly wasted. The general improvident attitude toward the forests is largely the outgrowth of the fact that the early settler had laboriously to clear away the forest in order to till the soil; in this way the feeling became fixed that the forest was an evil to be got rid of rather than a source of future wealth to be carefully conserved. 10 states have established forestry boards to encourage the growing and preservation of forests and North Dakota and New York have established state schools of forestry.¹

Pisciculture. Early legislation in the interest of fish preservation was entirely restrictive in character and was made with practically no scientific knowledge of the habits of the fish that it was sought to protect. The trend at present is to place more reliance on methods of fish propagation than on a multiplicity of vexatious restrictions, and to obtain through thorough scientific investigation the knowledge essential to enlightened regulation. Prof. E. Ray Lankester in a paper presented to the International fisheries exposition in London in 1883 says: "It is undeniably true that, in most cases, the accurate knowledge as to the life-history and circumstances of fishes is too small to justify legislative interference. . . . If we are to have effective legislation at the present day in regard to our sea fisheries, we must, before proceeding any further, have more knowledge. Those (and there are many) who earnestly desire additional restrictive fishery laws should do their utmost to enable zoologists to carry on researches which will provide that accurate knowledge of fishes and shellfish, their food, reproduction, and conditions of life—which must be obtained before legislation can be reasonably proposed."

¹The monograph of C. W. Dabney on Agricultural education has been of much assistance in the preparation of this review of agricultural legislation.

In 1871 the United States commission of fish and fisheries was created to undertake scientific investigations, collect information and to further the introduction and multiplication of food fishes, particularly in waters under national jurisdiction. The commission is frequently called on for the technical information necessary to the formulation of protective legislation by the states or to the extension or establishment of fishery enterprises. In 1898 it maintained 34 fish-cultural stations and distributed 857,509,546 eggs, fry and adult fish. Fish commissions have been created in every state except Kentucky. Many of the commissions exist primarily for protective purposes but others carry on valuable scientific work and maintain hatcheries and stock local waters with the most valuable food fishes. Illinois has a zoological station and Oregon has created the office of state biologist for the investigation of the animal resources of the state and the development of such as have economic value.

CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS

Beginning with Massachusetts in 1863 state boards having a general supervision of charities and corrections have been established in 17 states. Usually they have no executive functions their duties being confined to inspection and education. They have been the centers for the origination and propagation of improved methods of caring for the unfortunate and degenerate classes.

Delinquents. A comparison of the crude ways of dealing with criminals in the American colonies with the present methods shows great progress. The colonists made little use of prisons, and reformatories were unknown. In Massachusetts death was the penalty for 18 crimes and banishment was frequently resorted to. For less serious offenses culprits were branded, whipped, had their ears cut off, were put in stocks, disfranchised or fined. It was thought by public and sanguinary punishments to restrain the criminally disposed. The brutalizing and degrading effects of such exhibitions were not realized. Very gradually this entire system has been almost completely done away with; in only a few states are any vestiges of it left. Public executions have been almost entirely abolished and New York, Ohio and Massachusetts have recently adopted electricity in place of hanging for the infliction of the death penalty. The number of capital crimes has gradually been reduced till now murder and crimes resulting in death are in most states the only offenses punished capitally while five states have abolished capital punishment altogether.

It is only recently that the idea of reforming the criminal has received much consideration. The new movement began with attempts to reform juvenile offenders; the methods found to be successful in the cases of boys and girls have with modifications been applied successively to more and more mature delinquents. Formerly all grades and conditions of offenders were confined together. Under the influence of modern ideas concerning the treatment and reform of criminals special institutions, specially constructed and equipped are being provided for the various grades and conditions of prisoners.

No state, quite justifiably no doubt, has as yet had sufficient confidence in the criminologists to adopt a real indeterminate sentence law. Crime is in most cases the result of a diseased or defective social nature, and the only scientific way to deal with it is to keep the criminal under treatment till cured. At present it is evident that the trend is in this direction: many states are adopting maximum and minimum sentence, "good time" and parole laws.

Just as dosing a healthy person with medicine may make a permanent invalid, so the indiscriminate imprisonment of all kinds of offenders whether they show serious pathologic symptoms or not, is responsible for making many confirmed criminals. This is particularly true in the case of juvenile offenders, and a number of states have provided probation officers who may recommend that convicted juveniles be released on probation and shall exercise supervision over those so released. Massachusetts in 1891 was the first state to extend this system to adult offenders and in 1899 Vermont followed her example.

Defectives and dependents. During the past century a broad humanitarian spirit has done much to alleviate the condition of the defective and dependent classes. At the opening of the 19th century the system of outdoor relief with its abuses and pauperizing tendencies played a much more important role than at present; there were few almshouses and many localities farmed out their poor to various families or to a single individual, usually the lowest bidder. At present this inhuman custom has been almost entirely abandoned. It is in the care of destitute and neglected children, however, that the greatest progress can be noted. At the opening of the century destitute children were cared for with adult paupers by the contract system, in almshouses, by outdoor relief, or were bound out as apprentices. The only public orphan asylum was located at Charleston. Moreover there was it seems no provision for the rescue and care of neglected children growing up under evil influences. With practically no attempt at prevention, children were left to grow up to swell the ranks of paupers and criminals. Now many states have provided excellent systems for the education and support of dependent children and others have made considerable progress in this direction, but in 19 states the old methods still prevail. Almost all the states now practically recognize the necessity for state interference in the case of children who by reason of the neglect, crime, drunkenness or other vices of parents are suffered to grow up without salutary parental control or under evil influences; and a number of states have provided special institutions for their care. Child-saving is one of the most hopeful features of the contest against poverty and crime.

State schools have been established in many states for the instruction of the blind and the deaf and dumb, and the New York state library sends books for the blind free to any part of the state. Great progress is being made in methods of caring for the insane and in the most progressive states the insane, the feeble-minded and the epileptic are being carefully classified and treated in special state and municipal institutions. In most cases however all that can be done is to alleviate somewhat the condition of these unfortunates. With all the skill and scientific knowledge of the expert the abnormal child can not be made normal. The only substantial gain must come through prevention. Degenerates are largely continued and multiplied through heredity and the problem of prevention is therefore the extremely difficult one of controlling reproduction. Much can doubtless be accomplished by the general diffusion of intelligence concerning heredity and the creation of a controlling public opinion supplemented by judicious legislation. In 1895 Connecticut passed an act prohibiting under penalty of three years imprisonment marriage or cohabitation, where the woman is under 45 years of age, and either party is epileptic, imbecile or feeble-minded. The great army of criminals and paupers is very largely recruited from mental defectives born of degenerate parents.¹

EDUCATION

Public schools. During the first part of the 19th century education in the United States was at a very low ebb. The public elementary schools were poor, specially trained teachers were unknown and secondary and college education was meagerly provided through private enterprise and philanthropy. One of the first indications of the beginnings of an educational renaissance was the creation in New York of the office of state superintendent of common schools in 1812. New York was followed by 16 states before 1850 and at present every state has an officer or board specially intrusted with the supervision and advancement of educational interests. In 1867 a national bureau of education was established "for the purpose of collecting such statistics and facts as shall show the condition and progress of education in the several states and territories, and of diffusing such information respecting the organization and management of school systems and methods of teaching as shall aid the people of the United States in the establishment and maintenance of efficient school systems, and otherwise promote the cause of education throughout the country." Though the national bureau has no supervisory or compulsory authority its influence in raising educational standards has been most potent. Up to 1898 in carrying out its task of enlightenment it had published 350 separate volumes and pamphlets including 30 annual reports ranging from 800 to 2300 pages each. In the states, also the departments of public instruction in addition to the function of disseminating information have exercised a beneficial and steadily increasing control over the local school authorities.

The expansion of public education during the century has been truly marvelous, and it seems probable that the coming century will witness a still more wonderful development. One of the first results of the movement was the establishment of public and private normal schools for the professional training of teachers. Beginning with the school at Lexington Mass. in 1839 the movement extended rapidly, till in 1897 there were 167 public normal schools with an enrolment of 46,245 students, and 178 private normal schools with 21,293 students. New York has 12 public normal schools and nearly every state has one or more. Since the middle of the 19th century the public high school has been fast supplanting the private academy. In 1898 there were 5315 public high schools with 449,600 students and but 1990 private high schools with 105,225 students. The number of states that secure the privilege of free high school instruction to every boy and girl is rapidly increasing.

In accordance with the spirit of the famous words of the ordinance of 1787 for the government of the Northwest territory, "Religion, morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged," each state, with the exception of Maine, Texas and West Virginia, admitted to the Union since 1800 has received two or more townships of land for the founding of a university. Publicly supported and controlled state universities have now been established in 29 states. Tuition in these institutions is very low or entirely free. In the great university of California the total charge for a four year course is but $5 and in Nebraska it is but $10. The national land grant act of 1862 gave to each state public lands for the purpose of founding "at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such manner as the legislatures of the states shall respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life." As a result of this generous provision, state colleges of agriculture and the mechanic arts now exist in every state and territory.

Not only has the system of free public schools been expanded from the elementary school to cover the field of secondary and higher education, but now with the development of the kindergarten it is being rapidly extended in the other direction. Kindergartens are now authorized by general law in 17 states, while cities usually have power to establish them without special authorization. In 1898 there were public kindergartens in 189 of the 626 cities of 8000 population and over.

Free textbooks are the logical complement of free tuition. Many states have long provided for supplying indigent pupils with textbooks at public expense. Nine states now furnish free textbooks to all students and many states permit the localities to do so if they see fit. In the exercise of the parental relation which the state very properly assumes for the protection of children, 32 states and territories have compulsory school attendance laws. The most general period of required attendance at school is from 8 to 14 years of age but in 5 states it is 8 to 16 years and in Connecticut and Wyoming 7 to 16 years.

Accompanying the expansion of the school period there has been a corresponding broadening and deepening of the school curriculum, while the purpose is no longer merely to give a general education but to train as well for some special calling. Industrial, commercial, technical and professional education is rapidly becoming a recognized part of the public school system, thus working toward the true democratic ideal of equality of opportunity. The state can well afford to secure to every one opportunity to develop the highest powers of social service of which he is capable.

Public libraries. Every state and territory now has a state or territorial library. In a number of these the collections consist chiefly of documents obtained through exchange, but others have large miscellaneous collections specially good in law and sociology. The New York state library is by far the largest having 239,121 volumes, exclusive of 55,026 volumes in traveling libraries and 124,683 duplicates, making a total of 418,830¹ volumes. Besides the state libraries the national congressional library at Washington now has 957,056² books and pamphlets housed in a magnificent building but recently completed.

A movement to encourage the establishment of free public libraries in the various cities and communities was started in 1890 with the establishment of a free public library commission in Massachusetts. It is the duty of this commission to give advice to local librarians and trustees and to expend \$100 in buying books for each town that will establish a library and annually appropriate a certain amount for its support. In 1890 there were 103 towns in which there were no free libraries, but as a result of state encouragement and aid only seven towns containing less than $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% of the population of the state are now without free library privileges. Following the example of Massachusetts, special library commissions or authorities with similar duties have now been provided in 14 states and their work is resulting in the establishment of city, town and village libraries all over the country.

The traveling library is one of the most interesting developments of the library movement. It was first introduced by the New York state library in 1891 and has since been adopted by 10 states. Small carefully selected collections of books are sent all over the state to study clubs, university extension centers and communities without free libraries. The movement is new and its possibilities of farther growth and expansion seem very great.

With the prodigious annual output of new books it is becoming a physical and financial impossibility for all except a few libraries to keep anything like a complete collection. In the great cities the necessity for expansion and centralization is being solved by the establishment of numerous branch libraries containing the books for which there is a constant demand in the locality and serving as stations for the circulation of the books of the central library. It seems probable that some adaptation of this plan will be generally adopted. The vast majority of libraries must become in fact if not in name branches of some great central library on which they will depend for all books for which there is not a considerable demand and to which they will refer inquiries that can not be answered from the material at their command.

It is the function of the public library to preserve, organize and disseminate knowledge. The library supplements and forms the center for all other forms of educational activity and expands the system of free public education to cover the entire span of life. It is a great governing center because a great fact center; for after all facts are the real rulers, they are absolute despots. With the increasing differentiation and complexity of social and industrial conditions, the continued development of the library is indispensable to the best political, social and industrial integration. The library will assuredly become as essential in the daily work of the public officer, statesman, journalist and business man as it now is in the work of the lawyer and the scientist.¹

It is evident that the enormous practical value of intelligence as a social regulator is beginning to be realized. Vexatious commands and prohibitions regulating individual action make up a decreasing portion of statute law, publicity is being relied on more and more for controlling industry and commerce, reformatory schools are taking the place of prisons, systems of child-saving are doing much to prevent crime and pauperism, public schools, universities and libraries are reducing social friction and developing to the fullest individual capacities for social service, and the various state and national departments through their laboratories and investigations and their numberless reports and bulletins are exercising a control quite as potent as through the use of their compulsory authority.

SOCIOLOGY DIVISION

Bulletins. Summary and index of legislation by states. This is a minutely classified annual summary of new laws passed by all the states, followed by a full alphabetic index of specific topics, and has been published annually since its beginning in 1890.

State finance statistics. A bulletin giving a comparative summary of state finance statistics for 1890 and 1895 was published in March 1897. There will be a similar bulletin for 1900 and each succeeding fifth year.

These bulletins may be had postpaid for 25 cents a copy, or for $1 a volume consisting of five numbers. Volume 1 began in 1890, volume 2 in 1895, and volume 3 with number 11. Subscriptions for future numbers or orders for back numbers should be addressed Treasurer of the University of the State of New York, Albany.

Card indexes. A consolidated card index of state legislation, beginning with 1890, makes it easy to refer to laws on any subject in any state within the past 10 years. As fast as advance sheets of new laws are received they are summarized on cards and classified. A special library on comparative legislation is being collected, which is supplemented with catalogues and indexes. This makes it possible to furnish promptly summaries of recent legislation on any subject.

Research. The library with its 242,000 volumes affords unusual advantages for research. Its collections in law, public documents, statistics, political science, economics, administration and allied subjects are unusually valuable and are being rapidly increased. Students of public law or economics who are unable to come to the library may have bibliographies prepared and information gathered for them by trained assistants.

A charge is made for work of this kind covering the salary value of the time spent on it, usually ranging from 50c to $1 an hour; but such work is always assigned to the least expensive assistant competent to do it satisfactorily. Requests for research on these subjects should be addressed Sociology Division, State Library.

PREFACE

In this highly competitive age improved methods must be quickly adopted in government as well as in industry to keep in the lead. States which do not study their neighbors' methods of government are as sure to lag behind as is the manufacturer who does not study his competitors' methods of production. This bulletin prepared by the sociology librarian Robert H. Whitten Ph. D. is an attempt to digest and organize the enormous annual output of legislation so as to enable legislators with a minimum of labor to make use of the most recent experience of other states.

As fast as advance copies of the session laws of each state can be secured, the separate laws are summarized on cards and classified by subject. This enables the library to answer promptly frequent inquiries regarding legislation in other states. At the end of the year the summary thus prepared is printed as part of this bulletin. The aim is to summarize the laws sufficiently to give a concise comparative view of current state legislation. It is of course impracticable to give many details of long general laws, and laws of purely local interest are not included.

As a decision of the supreme court of a state or of the United States declaring a statute unconstitutional is in effect equivalent to its repeal by the legislature, a digest of such decisions is included with the laws. Constitutional amendments submitted to future action of the legislature or people, as well as those voted on since the last bulletin, are placed in the summary under their proper subject-heads, and on page 588 there is a separate table arranged by states, showing the result of votes, and referring to the marginal numbers. Besides the detailed summary of legislation, the bulletin includes a review of legislation, the aim of which is to present briefly the most important and distinctive laws and to indicate the general trend of legislation.

A new feature of the bulletin this year is a table of statistics of legislation showing for each state the length of session in days, number of laws and resolutions passed and number summarized in the present bulletin.

The references in this bulletin cover 17 states and include all legislative sessions held from Sep. 30, 1899, to Oct. 1, 1900.

EXPLANATIONS

These must be carefully read to understand the bulletin

The summary is classified under the general heads shown in the table of contents on the cover and in greater detail on page 444. More comprehensive headings are regularly put first, and in ascertaining what legislation has been passed concerning subordinate heads under the general subject, it is necessary to refer also to the more inclusive heads. Cross references must also be observed.

The index is an alphabetic list of all the specific topics contained in the summary, and refers to each entry by its marginal number. It is necessarily very condensed.

New legislation only is included and when this is in the form of amendments only those clauses which add to, or materially change old enactments are cited. In case some part of the former law, still retained, is necessary for clearness, it is printed in ordinary type and new matter in italics.

The citations at the end of each entry are, as a rule, made by state, number and date of approval. In Delaware, North Carolina, Ohio and Rhode Island, where the governor's approval is not necessary, the date of final passage by the legislature is given. In the case of bills which are passed over the governor's veto or become laws without his signature by expiration of time, the date of such passage or expiration is given. The laws of several states are without chapter numbers and references are to pages.

LEGISLATION BY STATES IN 1900

REVIEW OF LEGISLATION

Education. In Maryland the office of state superintendent of public education has been created in addition to the state board of education already existing.¹ The superintendent is appointed by the governor for a term of four years. It is his duty to diffuse educational information, to hold an annual institute in each county, and to receive the reports of the boards of county school commissioners, and with the consent of two thirds of the state board of education he may remove any county examiner. In this state also the power to appoint county school commissioners has been transferred from the circuit court judges to the governor.²

A law of Ohio provides that any township voting to abolish all sub-districts and centralize the schools must furnish transportation for all pupils living more than three fourths of a mile from the central building;³ and Iowa has provided that in the contingent fund of district schools $5 may be estimated for each person of school age for transporting children to and from school.⁴

A law of Massachusetts provides that all school committees may and after July 1, 1902, shall employ a superintendent of schools, and that towns with a valuation under $2,500,000 may unite for this purpose.⁵ In Ohio a law has been passed to secure to each child the benefit of a high school education by providing that in districts or townships in which there is no high school, the board of education shall pay the tuition of pupils attending the high school of an adjoining district.¹

New Jersey school system. A codification of the New Jersey school laws, covering 90 pages, has been adopted.² The distinctive features of the school system as set forth in this code are as follows: there is a state board of education composed of two persons from each congressional district, appointed by the governor for terms of five years. This board has broad powers to make necessary rules and regulations to carry the school laws into effect and may also provide rules and regulations for teachers institutes and for the examination and licensing of teachers. There is also a state superintendent of public instruction appointed by the governor for a term of three years with a salary of $3000. It is his duty to instruct county and district superintendents in their duties, and to decide subject to appeal to the state board of education all disputes arising under the school laws. For neglect of duty he may withhold the salary of local superintendents and teachers and may withhold school money from any district failing to conform to the law. He may also suspend members of local boards of education or their appointees, subject to reinstatement or removal by the state board. The county superintendents are appointed by the state board for terms of three years, subject to removal for cause, and their salaries, from $1000 to $1300, are paid by the state. Each township, city and incorporated town constitutes a school district; there are locally elected or appointed boards of education for each district. For the examination of teachers there are state, county and district boards of examiners. Corporal punishment is forbidden in all cases. Children living remote from a schoolhouse may be given free transportation. The state superintendent is required to procure plans and specifications for school buildings, which may be lent to any district desiring to erect a new building. All plans of school buildings must be submitted to the state board for suggestions and criticism before being accepted by the local board. Attendance at school is compulsory for all children between the ages of 7 and 12, and the employment of children is regulated. The state board has control of the state normal school, the New Jersey school for the deaf, and the manual training and industrial school for colored youth. Every board of education may employ a medical inspector whose duty it shall be at stated times to visit the schools and examine pupils referred to him by the teacher. It is his duty at least once during each year to examine every pupil to learn whether any physical defect exists, and to keep a record from year to year of the growth and development of such pupils. The code also provides for union graded schools, kindergartens, evening schools, manual training schools, teachers libraries, a teachers retirement fund, the study of the nature and effect of alcohol and narcotics and free textbooks.

Public libraries. In Iowa a state library commission has been created consisting of the state librarian, the superintendent of public instruction, the president of the state university and four persons appointed by the governor for terms of five years, two of whom must be women.¹ It is the duty of the commission to give advice to libraries and aid in their establishment and to co-operate with the state library in the development of traveling libraries. Members of the commission serve without pay, but a secretary may be employed and $2000 is provided for expenses. New Jersey also has created a state library commission consisting of five members appointed by the governor for terms of five years.² $500 is appropriated for annual expenses. The commission is required to furnish advice to libraries and may give $100 to such as expend an equal sum for books. Beginning with Massachusetts in 1890, special library commissions or authorities with similar duties have now been provided in 15 states.

Suffrage. The constitutional amendment submitted to vote in North Carolina to disfranchise the illiterate negro was adopted and goes into effect in July 1902.³ The proposed plan is similar to that adopted by Louisiana in 1898⁴ and makes ability to read and write a section of the constitution a qualification for voting. This provision applies to whites and blacks alike, but there is a proviso that it shall not apply to any person entitled to vote in any state prior to January 1, 1867, or to a lineal descendant of such person who registers before January 1, 1908. It is in effect an ingenious device to disfranchise illiterate negroes without also disfranchising illiterate whites and still keep within the letter of the 15th amendment providing that the right to vote shall not be denied on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

Voting machines. The first state law authorizing the use of automatic machines was passed by New York in 1892, allowing towns to use the Myers automatic ballot cabinet at elections of town officers.¹ In 1893 Michigan² and Massachusetts³ permitted the use of voting machines at local elections, and in 1894 New York⁴ authorized their use at all elections. Michigan⁵ passed a similar law in 1895, Massachusetts⁶ in 1896, Minnesota⁷ in 1897, Ohio⁸ in 1898 and Indiana⁹ and Nebraska¹⁰ in 1899. During the present year Rhode Island has created a voting machine commission to examine machines and make regulations for their use by cities and towns.¹¹ Machines are to be bought by the secretary of state at not exceeding $250 each and furnished to cities and towns on application, and for this $15,000 is appropriated. In Iowa the use of voting machines has been authorized at all elections and a commission to examine voting machines created.¹² In 1895 Connecticut authorized the use of McTammany and Myers machines at local elections.¹³ The first permanent state voting machine commission was established in New York in 1897.¹⁴ Massachusetts¹⁵ and Ohio¹⁶ followed in 1898.

Corrupt practices. Kentucky has made it unlawful for corporations to contribute to campaign funds.¹⁷ Similar laws were passed by Florida,¹⁸ Missouri,¹⁹ Nebraska²⁰ and Tennessee²¹ in 1897.

Legislature. Rhode Island has been holding two sessions of its legislature yearly, an annual session being held at Newport beginning on the last Tuesday in May, and an adjourned session at Providence beginning in January. The January session held at Providence has usually lasted into May after which the Newport session beginning the last Tuesday in May has usually lasted till the latter part of June. A constitutional amendment was adopted at the November election providing for a single annual session at Providence beginning on the first Tuesday in January.¹ According to a constitutional amendment adopted in November 1900 the biennial sessions of the legislature of Iowa will be held in odd instead of even years, beginning in January 1903.²

Special legislation. Florida has adopted a constitutional amendment prohibiting the creation of corporations, except universities and ship canals, by special acts.³ In order to reduce the number of private acts of various kinds, Mississippi has authorized the auditor and land commissioner to settle claims for taxes erroneously paid, correct errors in land descriptions, cancel patents to lands in certain cases and refund over-payments.⁴ In 1899 the New York legislature referred to the next legislature a constitutional amendment prohibiting the passage of a local or private act granting an exemption from taxation but the amendment was not repressed by the legislature of 1900.⁵

Labor. Louisiana has created the office of commissioner of labor statistics.⁶ The commissioner is appointed by the governor for a term of four years, with a salary of $1500. It is his duty to collect statistics relating to industrial, social and sanitary condition of workingmen and the productive industries of the state. He may summon and examine witnesses, but no person can be required to leave the parish in which he resides or to answer questions respecting his private affairs. The first bureau of labor statistics established in the world was that of Massachusetts in 1869. The example of Massachusetts was followed by Pennsylvania in 1872, Connecticut in 1873 and Ohio in 1877.

Within the next few years many more bureaus were established and they exist at present in 33 states. The United States bureau of labor was established as an office in the department of the interior in 1884, and reorganized as the department of labor in 1888.

Ohio has passed an eight hour law for state and local employees and for workmen on all public contracts.¹ A New York law provides that pharmacists and drug clerks in New York city shall not work more than 70 hours a week.² In 1899 Colorado passed a law establishing an eight hour day in mines, smelters and reduction works, except in cases of emergency where life or property is in imminent danger.³ This law has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of Colorado as being class legislation.⁴

The California law of 1897⁵ requiring corporations to pay employees monthly, and the Kansas law of 1897⁶ making it unlawful to pay wages in script, token, order or credit other than lawful money of the United States or bank checks, have been declared unconstitutional by the supreme courts of those states.

Banking. Maryland has created a special commission of seven members to revise laws relating to state banks, fidelity and trust companies, and building and loan associations.⁷ The Virginia law of 1894 providing for state banks of circulation has been revised.⁸ This law provides that the state treasurer shall furnish notes of $5 and upwards, that the circulation shall not exceed the capital stock and that a reserve shall be kept in gold, silver or United States notes equal to 25% of the circulation. In Louisiana, homestead and building and loan associations have been required to report semi-annually to the state examiner of banks.⁹

Trusts and combinations. Mississippi was the only state to pass anti-trust legislation in 1900.¹⁰ An anti-trust law was passed in 1890¹¹ and amended in 1896 and 1898, and during the present year a revision of the law of 1890 has been adopted. Like the anti-trust laws of a number of other states, it defines a trust as a combination of capital, skill or acts: 1) to restrict trade; 2) to limit production or change price; 3) to prevent competition in manufacture, transportation or sale; 4) to fix a standard for adjusting prices; or 5) to make contracts or agreements for any of these purposes. All contracts or agreements entered into by trusts and combines are void. A domestic corporation entering into a trust forfeits its charter and a foreign corporation forfeits its right to do business within the state. Persons entering into trusts are subject to fine of $100 to $5000 or imprisonment from 3 to 12 months or both. A new provision in the law of 1900 makes it unlawful for any corporation directly or indirectly to purchase or own any part of the capital stock of any other corporation, or to buy or in any manner acquire the franchise, plant or equipment of any other corporation if such other corporation be engaged in the same kind of business or be a competitor therein. Violation of this provision subjects a corporation to forfeiture of its charter or right to do business in the state. Trusts and combinations are now prohibited by statute or constitutional provision in 29 states and territories.¹

Tax inquisitors. Iowa has followed the example of Ohio in providing for tax inquisitors to discover personalty omitted from tax lists.² The law authorizes the county board of supervisors to contract with any person to assist in the discovery of property not listed for taxation. The fees and expenses of the tax inquisitor may not exceed 15% of the taxes paid into the treasury through his assistance and he is required to give a $3000 bond.

Ohio first passed a law in 1880 permitting the county commissioners of Hamilton county in which Cincinnati is situated to ¹The following is a list of states and territories having anti-trust laws together with a reference to the statute:

Alabama, Code '96 § 5557-59; Arkansas '99 ch. 41; Georgia '96 p. 68; Idaho, Constitution art. 11 § 18; Illinois '91 p. 206, amended '93 p. 89, 182 and '97 p. 298; Indiana '97 ch. 104; Iowa '90 ch. 28; Kansas '97 ch. 265, amended '99 ch. 293; Kentucky, Statutes '90 ch. 101; Louisiana '92 ch. 90; Maine '89 ch. 266; Michigan '99 ch. 255; Minnesota '99 ch. 359; Mississippi '00 ch. 88; Missouri '91 p. 186 amended '95 p. 237, '97 p. 208, '00 p. 314, 316, 318, 320; Montana, constitution art. 15 § 20, penal code § 321, 325; Nebraska '97 ch. 79; New Mexico '91 ch. 10; New York '99 ch. 690; North Carolina '99 ch. 666; North Dakota, Penal code '99 ch. 51; Ohio '98 p. 143; Oklahoma, Statutes '93 ch. 83; South Carolina '97 ch. 285, amended '98 ch. 487; South Dakota, Constitution art. 17 § 20, '97 ch. 94; Tennessee '97 ch. 94; Texas '99 ch. 146, 172; Utah, R. employ a person to discover omitted property. In 1885 this law was extended to all counties containing a city of the first class or of the first grade of the second class, thus including the counties of Hamilton, Cuyahoga, Lucas and Franklin. In 1888 the power to employ a tax inquisitor was extended to all counties of the state.¹ Under this law the compensation of the inquisitor may not exceed 20% of the amount of taxes recovered and his bond is fixed at $1000.

Taxation of mortgages. Missouri has adopted a constitutional amendment to exempt the amount of the mortgage in the assessment of mortgaged property.² A mortgage is deemed and treated as an interest in the property and the value of the property less the value of the mortgage is assessed to the owner and the value of the mortgage to the mortgagee. Taxes so levied are a lien on the property and mortgage and may be paid by either party. If the owner of the property pays the tax on the mortgage it constitutes a payment thereon. Every contract for the payment of the tax by the mortgagor is void.

Stamp taxes. Virginia has provided for the collection of its tax of $1 on the seals of all courts and notaries by means of an adhesive stamp to be affixed to the instrument requiring the seal, over which the seal shall be placed in such a way as to cancel the stamp.³ The auditor of public accounts prepares the stamps and furnishes them to county and city treasurers for sale to individuals. So far as known this is the only instance of the use of stamps by a state for the collection of a tax. In 1845 an act was passed in Maryland imposing a stamp tax on every bond, obligation, single bill or promissory note above the sum of $100. The next year the act was extended to every deed and bill of sale for over $200 and to every release of mortgage. This law was repealed in 1856.

Inheritance tax. The Minnesota inheritance tax has been declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court.⁴ The act was passed in 1897 and provides for a tax of 5% on descents of personal property over $5000 to collateral heirs, and of 1% on personal property over $10,000 to direct heirs. As this law excludes real property from taxation, provides a larger exemption to lineal than to collateral heirs and exempts certain persons and corporations, the court decides that it does not provide equality of taxation in accordance with the provisions of the state constitution.

Express, telephone, telegraph taxation. Iowa has revised its system of taxing telephone, telegraph and express companies. The state executive council determines the value of the property and franchises of telegraph and telephone companies, and state and local taxes are to be assessed on this valuation by the local authorities in the same manner as other property, and the owners of capital stock are exempt from taxation.¹ Formerly the state council determined the value of the property of telegraph and telephone companies and after deducting the amount locally assessed, assessed the remainder at an average rate. The state executive council also determines the value of the property of each express company, except property not used exclusively in the conduct of its business.² The valuation is based on the aggregate value of shares plus mortgage indebtedness, and the county auditor adds property not used exclusively in the conduct of the business of the company, and the whole is taxed for the same purposes and by the same officers as the property of individuals. Owners of capital stock are exempt from taxation. Formerly the tangible property of express companies was assessed in the same manner as the property of individuals and a state tax of 2% on gross receipts was imposed.

Franchise taxes. New Jersey has adopted a franchise tax law similar in some respects to that adopted by New York in 1899.³ Like the New York law it provides for the taxation of persons and corporations using highways, streets and public places, except railroad and canal companies. The New York law, however, provides for the assessment of the property and franchises of such corporations by the state tax commission and for its taxation for state and local purposes in the same manner as other property. The New Jersey law provides that the property shall be assessed locally and taxed at local rates as heretofore and that a tax of 2% on gross receipts shall be assessed annually and apportioned by the state board of assessors to the taxing districts in proportion to the value of property therein, on streets, highways and public places.

Practice of law. Indiana has adopted a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to prescribe qualifications for admission to the bar.¹ In Iowa a board of law examiners consisting of the attorney general and four persons appointed by the supreme court has been created. Applicants for admission must have three years study of law in a law office or law school instead of two as formerly, and must have a general education equivalent to a three year high school course. A New Jersey law of 1882 exempting from preliminary requirements to examination, applicants having certification of unusual aptitude signed by five counselors of five years practice has been repealed.²

Courts and procedure. California has rejected a constitutional amendment reorganizing its system of state courts.³ The defeated amendment decreased the number of associate justices of the supreme court from six to four, and created three district courts of appeal. A constitutional amendment has been adopted in Indiana fixing the number of supreme court judges at not less than five nor more than 11; formerly the number was fixed at not less than three nor more than five.⁴ In Oregon⁵ the number of supreme court judges has been increased from three to five and in Kansas⁶ from three to seven. The Kansas amendment provides that all cases need not be heard by the entire court, but if not, the concurrence of four justices is necessary. New Jersey has adopted revisions of its laws relative to the court of errors and appeals, supreme and circuit courts, court of common pleas and prerogative courts, and also a revision of its laws relative to evidence.⁷ In Missouri a constitutional amendment has been adopted providing that in civil cases, in courts not of record two thirds and in courts of record three fourths of a jury may render a verdict.¹ The legislature of West Virginia has requested the state board of health and vital statistics to report to the next assembly whether there is any method of inflicting the death penalty more humane than hanging, and also to report on the advisability of designating a single place in the state for executions. The use of electricity in place of hanging was adopted by New York in 1888,² by Ohio in 1896,³ and by Massachusetts in 1898.⁴

Palisades interstate park. New Jersey⁵ and New York⁶ have appointed commissions to cooperate in the establishment of an interstate park to preserve the scenic beauty of the Palisades on the Hudson. Each commission consists of 10 members appointed for five years without salary.

Counties. New Jersey has adopted an act for the reorganization of the government of counties of 150,000.⁷ The act provides for a county supervisor and board of chosen freeholders elected by the people. The county supervisor is the chief executive officer and may recommend to the board of chosen freeholders such measures as he deems necessary. It is his duty to see that the laws and ordinances of the county are enforced, to exercise constant supervision over the conduct of all subordinate officers, to examine into all complaints against them for violation or neglect of duty, and if any officer be found guilty of charges brought against him he may be suspended or removed by the county supervisor. The ordinances and resolutions of the board of chosen freeholders are presented to the county supervisor for approval and if he disapproves, a two-thirds vote is necessary for passage. The board of chosen freeholders appoints a county physician, engineer, warden of penitentiary, warden of county jail, superintendent of almshouse, superintendent of each hospital, penitentiary physician, jail physician and physicians for each hospital and such other officers and agents for the transaction of county business as may be determined by resolution of the board. Members of the board receive a salary of $500 and the county supervisor a salary of $2500.

In Ohio a state commission on fees of county officials has been established consisting of the secretary of state, auditor and attorney general. It is required to prepare schedules of legal fees and to report biennially to the legislature.¹

Municipal government. A joint legislative committee has been appointed in Iowa to revise and codify special assessment laws and such other municipal laws as it may deem necessary.² In New York the governor has appointed a commission of 15 persons to revise the charter of New York city.³

Municipal monopolies. The law of New Mexico of 1897 investing cities and towns with power to regulate the price of gas, electric light and water has been declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court on the ground that the legislature can not delegate such power to consumers without providing for a judicial investigation of the reasonableness of the rates established.⁴ Iowa has authorized cities and towns to establish heating plants, assess taxes for them and fix regulations for corporations or individuals supplying heat.⁵ Louisiana has authorized municipalities to expropriate private gas and electric light plants,⁶ and Texas has made it unlawful for cities and towns to lease or sell water systems except by vote of the electors.⁷

Roads. Mississippi has passed a law providing that public roads may be worked by contract.⁸ The county board of supervisors may appoint a road commissioner and a tax of one mill may be levied on property and also a poll tax of eight days road work or three dollars. Missouri has adopted a constitutional amendment providing for the levy of a one and a half mill road and bridge tax by county courts and township boards.⁹ The California act of 1897 regarding wide tires has been repealed,¹⁰ while Massachusetts has passed a similar act relative to draft wagons, which goes into effect Jan. 1, 1902.¹¹ New Jersey has authorized cities under 12,000 to require four inch tires on 1500 lb. wagons on macadamized streets.¹²

Bicycles. Rhode Island has created a state commission of five members appointed by the governor to build and maintain side-paths.¹ A license fee of from 50c to $1 may be imposed to form a sidepath fund. A state sidepath commission has been established in Maryland with power to appoint boards in each county to construct and maintain paths.² In this state also turnpike companies have been prohibited from charging toll on bicycles.³

Militia. Mississippi has created a board of military regulations consisting of the attorney general, judge advocate general and commanding officers of the regiments of the national guard, to make regulations for the government and instruction of the national guard conforming as nearly as practicable to the United States army regulations.⁴ General revisions of the military code have been adopted by Georgia,⁵ New Jersey⁶ and Virginia⁷ and the governor of Massachusetts⁸ has been authorized to appoint five persons to revise the militia laws and report to the legislature of 1901.

Confederate veterans. Mississippi,⁹ South Carolina¹⁰ and Virginia¹¹ have revised their laws providing for pensions for indigent confederate veterans, and Louisiana¹² has adopted a constitutional amendment increasing annual appropriations for pensions.

Dependent and neglected children. Maryland has passed laws amending procedure in commitment of minors to juvenile institutions and defining the powers of juvenile institutions and societies.¹³ Massachusetts has authorized the state board of charity to remove any child under seven years kept apart from its parents without proper care, and to apply to the court for the removal of unsuitable guardians.¹⁴ Another law authorizes the Massachusetts board to provide for placing indigent and neglected children in private families.¹⁵ New Jersey authorizes the commitment of vagrant or indigent children to reform institutions till they reach the age of 21.¹⁶ A Virginia law regulates the commitment of negro minors to the negro reformatory association, and another law of the same state provides that minors under 18 may be committed to the prison association for an indeterminate period, but must not be detained after reaching their majority.¹ Massachusetts appropriated $1000 to the Perkins institution and Massachusetts school for the blind for instruction of adult blind at home under supervision of the state board of education.²

Insane. In Iowa the state board of control has been authorized to supervise county and private institutions for the insane.³ It is required to inspect them annually and make regulations for their government, and it may transfer patients from a private or county institution to a state hospital or vice versa. Ohio has extended the time from June 1, 1900, to June 1, 1903, after which it shall be unlawful to keep any epileptic or insane person in a county infirmary.⁴ Massachusetts⁵ has followed the recent example of New York,⁶ Wyoming⁷ and Ohio⁸ in providing for state support and control of all insane committed to institutions. After January 1, 1904, the Massachusetts state board of insanity may transfer the insane in almshouses or other institutions not maintained and controlled by the state to state institutions. All city and town institutions for the insane are to be abolished, except those of Boston the expenses of patients in which are to be paid by the state. Massachusetts has also provided for establishing a state colony for the chronic insane,⁹ for which 1500 to 2500 acres of land may be bought. Virginia has adopted a revision of its insanity laws.¹⁰

Penal institutions. On expiration of the present lease, March 3, 1901, the system of leasing convicts in Louisiana will be abolished. A law of 1900 provides for a board of control of the state penitentiary consisting of three commissioners appointed by the governor for terms of six years. The salary of the president of the board is $4000, of the other members $3000, and of the warden $2000.¹¹ The board is to enter on its duties Oct. 1, 1900, and the president is authorized to visit other states and investigate their convict systems. The board may secure land for convict farms and factories and may bid and contract the same as a private individual for the building by the convicts of state and local public works. In Ohio the governor has been authorized to appoint a commission of four members to investigate methods of employing convict labor in that state.¹

Reformatories. It is comparatively recent that the idea of reforming criminals has received much consideration. The movement began with attempts to reform juvenile offenders and the methods found successful with boys and girls have been applied with modifications to more and more mature delinquents. Under the influence of modern ideas concerning the treatment and reformation of criminals, specially constructed and equipped institutions are being prepared for the various grades and conditions of prisoners, who were formerly all confined together.

During the past year Iowa² has provided for establishing and maintaining an industrial reformatory for females at Anamosa; South Carolina³ for establishing in connection with the state penitentiary a reformatory for male convicts under 16; Louisiana⁴ for establishing a reformatory for convicts from 7 to 17 years of age; New York⁵ has revised its laws relating to Elmira reformatory.

Probation. A number of states have provided probation officers who may recommend that convicted juvenile offenders be released on probation, and shall exercise supervision over those so released. Massachusetts in 1891⁶ was the first state to extend this system to adult offenders. Vermont⁷ followed in 1898 and during the present year New Jersey⁸ has adopted a law providing that the judges of the court of general quarter sessions for each county may, if in their judgment the interests of justice will be promoted thereby, appoint a probation officer. In counties of the first and second classes the court may with the consent of the board of chosen freeholders appoint not exceeding three assistant probation officers. The probation officer has constable's powers, and whenever directed by the court it is his duty to inquire carefully into the antecedents, character and offense of any person under arrest, and if in the judgment of the court the record shall so justify, the court may order the convict placed on probation under the care of the probation officer, instead of imposing the legal penalty. The court establishes rules and regulations governing the probation officer and the persons committed to his care. Compensation of the probation officer is fixed by the court and he may be reimbursed for such actual expenses as the court approves. In case any person violates the conditions of his probation, he may be taken into custody and sentenced at any time within three years from the date of conviction.

Another New Jersey law makes it possible for courts to allow persons to go at large until able to pay fines.¹ A person convicted of a misdemeanor and sentenced to pay a fine may be permitted to be at liberty with or without bail for a definite time or till the fine is paid.

Parole; pardon. An interesting Kentucky law provides that the board of prison commissioners may parole convicts in the penitentiary for the first time, except those convicted of rape or incest.² Persons convicted of murder must serve at least five years, and persons convicted of arson, burglary or highway robbery must serve the minimum term provided by law before being paroled. Paroled prisoners are not required to remain in the state, but if they do so they are required to report their place of residence and conduct to the board of prison commissioners through the county judge at least every six months. This provision should be quite effective in diminishing the number of ex-convicts in the state. North Dakota has adopted a constitutional amendment establishing a board of pardons consisting of the governor, attorney general, chief justice of the supreme court and two persons appointed by the governor.³

State insurance. South Carolina has decided to make an interesting experiment in state insurance. The state will carry its own risks on all state and county public buildings except school-houses.⁴ Beginning January 1, 1901, half the amount now paid for premiums on city and county buildings will be paid to the commissioners of the sinking fund for an insurance fund. When the insurance fund reaches $200,000 no further premiums will be paid except to maintain the fund at this amount.

Fire inquests. In 1894 the first system of state supervision of fire inquests was established. In that year Massachusetts created the office of state fire marshal.¹ It is the duty of the state fire marshal in Boston and of certain local authorities in other cities and towns to investigate the cause of every fire within two days of its occurrence. The state marshal may supervise or direct the investigation of local authorities whenever he deems it necessary. The local board making the investigation is required to report within 10 days of the occurrence of the fire to the state marshal and the state marshal must examine into the cause of every fire thus reported. If any evidence of incendiarism is shown an inquest may be held and if facts warrant, arrests may be made and offenders prosecuted. The law also empowers the state marshal and the local authorities to inspect buildings and order removal of combustible materials or inflammable conditions.

In the same year Maryland also created the office of state fire marshal, but instead of providing for an investigation of every fire simply gave the state marshal authority to investigate the cause of any fire whenever he deemed it advisable.² In 1899 North Carolina passed a law modeled quite closely on that of Massachusetts. The duty of state supervision, however, is imposed on the state insurance commissioner, and while providing for an investigation of every fire by the local authorities as in the Massachusetts law, it is the duty of the insurance commissioner to examine into the cause of fires only when it seems to him advisable.³ During the present year Ohio has created the office of state fire marshal, following the North Carolina rather than the Massachusetts law.⁴

Railroads. A special session of the Kansas legislature held in December 1898 created a court of visitation consisting of three elected judges, with power to fix railroad rates, prescribe equipment and service, decide complaints and appoint receivers for roads failing to comply with its decrees. The state supreme court has decided this law unconstitutional, as the powers conferred on the court are legislative, executive and judicial, so interwoven as to violate the constitutional requirement that the three departments of government shall be exercised independently.¹ A Kansas law of 1897 requiring railroad companies to give free transportation to each shipper of a carload of live stock, and to one additional person for each three cars, has also been declared unconstitutional on the ground that it takes property without due process of law.² Kentucky has authorized the railroad commission to investigate and fix rates of companies accused of extortion,³ and Massachusetts has provided that passenger, baggage, mail and express cars shall have platform gates.⁴

Passenger rates. Iowa has required common carriers to redeem unused tickets,⁵ and the New York law requiring railroads to issue 1000 mile books at a reduced rate has been declared unconstitutional by the court of appeals on the ground that it takes property without due process of law.⁶ This decision follows a decision of the United States supreme court in 1899 declaring the Michigan mileage book law unconstitutional.⁷

Massachusetts has provided for the running of workingmen's trains in the Boston suburban district.⁸ On filing a petition with the board of railroad commissioners for workingmen's trains on any railroad terminating in Boston, such trains shall be furnished by the company in such number, not less than two each way, as the board may order. The trains shall arrive at Boston between 6 and 7.30 a. m. and between 6.30 and 7 p. m. every week day, and shall depart between the same hours. For such trains, for distances not exceeding 15 miles, season tickets shall be furnished at a rate not exceeding $3 a mile a year, and quarterly and weekly tickets at a rate not exceeding $1 a mile a quarter, any such tickets to be good once a day each way for six days in the week. For such trains the company may provide special cars. For the Boston suburban district also railroads must provide commutation tickets for not more than 25 trips at such price that the fare for each trip shall not exceed the lowest rate now charged between Boston and the particular point, except the rate for season tickets on workingmen's trains.¹

Race distinctions. A Georgia law requires separate compartments for white and colored passengers on sleeping cars² and laws of Virginia require separate cars and separate compartments on steamboats.³ South Carolina, which formerly required separate compartments in cars, now requires separate cars.⁴

Street railways. New Jersey has provided that street railway companies may agree to share the cost of widening country roads, and that companies owning adjacent or adjoining lines may be merged by the unanimous vote of each board of directors.⁵ Massachusetts has required street and elevated railways except the Boston elevated railway company, to transport scholars to and from school at half fare, tickets to be sold in lots of 10 each.⁶

Public health. Virginia has adopted a revision of its health laws.⁷ Under the new system there is a state board of health consisting of seven members appointed by the governor for terms of four years on nomination of the state medical society. The local boards consist of the clerk of the municipal or county court and three physicians appointed by the court on recommendation of the local medical society, and the local health authorities must report monthly to the state board cases of infectious or contagious diseases. The state board is authorized: to annul or modify any regulation of a local board concerning a matter which in its judgment affects public health beyond the jurisdiction of the local board; to appoint a local health officer, if a local board is not appointed; to make suggestions for regulating contagious diseases and, if they are not carried out by the local board, to assume exclusive control of the regulation of the disease; to require the local health authorities to furnish periodically such vital statistics as it may prescribe; to have the products of suspected cases of contagious disease examined on request of any physician.

New Jersey,¹ South Carolina² and Virginia³ have provided regulations for the transportation of bodies of persons dying of contagious diseases. In New York a tenement house commission has been appointed by the governor to investigate tenement houses in cities of 250,000 and report to the legislature of 1901.⁴ This state has also provided for a pulmonary tuberculosis hospital in the Adirondacks.⁵ The hospital is placed in charge of a board of trustees consisting of five members appointed by the governor for terms of five years, serving without salary. The board appoints a superintendent and treasurer and also physicians in each city to examine patients applying for admission.

Practice of embalming. In 1894 Alabama⁶ and Virginia⁷ passed laws for the examination and licensing of embalmers. Missouri⁸ and Pennsylvania⁹ followed in 1895, New York¹⁰ in 1893 and Nebraska,¹¹ New Hampshire,¹² South Dakota,¹³ West Virginia¹⁴ and Georgia¹⁵ in 1899.

Practice of medicine and dentistry. Iowa,¹⁶ Ohio¹⁷ and Virginia¹⁸ have been added to the list of states requiring an examination in all cases for the practice of medicine, making 32 states and territories in all. All the other states, except Kansas,¹⁹ require approval of a medical diploma or an examination by a duly qualified board. South Carolina has created a state board of homeopathic medical examiners with powers and duties similar to those of the regular state board.²⁰ Iowa²¹ has been added to the list of states requiring examination in all cases for the practice of dentistry, there being now 24 such states. The other states, except Wyoming,²² require approval of a dental diploma or an examination by a duly qualified board. Louisiana has created a state board of dentistry of five members appointed by the governor for terms of seven years, to take the place of the previous board of examining dentists.¹

Pure food. Virginia has been added to the list of states, now 24 in all, having general pure food laws.² In only a few states however, is there any adequate provision for their enforcement. The laws usually provide that any article shall be deemed adulterated and its sale unlawful if it contains any inferior or poisonous substance, if any valuable ingredient has been removed, if it is an imitation of or sold under the name of another article, if it is unwholesome or infected, if it is colored to conceal inferiority, etc.; but certain common mixtures are permitted if labeled to show ingredients. The Virginia law provides that the board of agriculture shall analyze foods and report violations to prosecuting officers. Kentucky has passed an act generally amending its pure food law of 1898.³

Illuminating oils. Engineers. Georgia has provided for the appointment of a state inspector of oils by the commissioner of agriculture.⁴ Iowa requires lamps for the lighter products of petroleum, manufactured or sold for public use, to be approved by the state board of health.⁵ Ohio has repealed its law of 1885 authorizing cities and villages to provide for licensing engineers and has passed an act making it unlawful to operate steam boilers or engines of 35 horse power, other than locomotives, without a state license.⁶ The governor is to appoint a chief examiner and six district examiners.

Accountants. Maryland⁷ has created a board of four examiners of public accountants, appointed by the governor for terms of two years. The law provides that certified public accountants must have a certificate from the governor. Provision for the examination and certification of public accountants was made by New York⁸ in 1896 and Pennsylvania⁹ in 1899.

Department stores. In 1899 Missouri passed an act designed to prohibit department stores.¹⁰ The act classifies merchandise in 73 classes and 28 groups and prohibits the sale of more than one group in cities of 50,000 except on the payment of a license of from $300 to $500 for each additional group or class sold. Establishments employing not more than 15 persons are exempt from the provisions of the act. This act has been declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court on the ground that taxes must be uniform and that the legislature may not levy a tax for city purposes or deprive persons of liberty without due process of law.¹

Trading stamps. The use of trading stamps was prohibited by Maryland,² Massachusetts,³ Virginia,⁴ and Vermont⁵ in 1898, by New Hampshire⁶ and Rhode Island⁷ in 1899 and during the past year by Louisiana⁸ and New York.⁹ The Rhode Island law has been declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court on the ground that the act is not a valid exercise of the police power and that it deprives citizens of liberty and abridges their privileges and immunities.¹⁰ In 1899 Tennessee passed an act requiring state trading stamp companies to pay a $500 privilege tax in each county and firms using the stamp a tax of $250.¹¹

Manufactures in the south. The enterprise of the southern states in their industrial development is shown by two acts of this year by Mississippi, one offering five years exemption from taxation for all new enterprises established before 1910 and the other providing for the establishment of a textile school.¹²

Agriculture. In Iowa a department of agriculture has been created to include the agricultural societies, the state weather and crop service and the offices of the dairy commissioner and state veterinarian.¹³ The department is to be managed by a state board of agriculture consisting of the president of the state agricultural college, the dairy commissioner, the state veterinarian and also a president and vice-president, and one member from each congressional district, elected at an annual agricultural convention composed of the state board of agriculture and of delegates from the agricultural societies. The board has general supervision of the agricultural interests of the state and holds the state fair and state farmers institute. In New York the management of the state fair has been transferred to a commission consisting of the lieutenant-governor, commissioner of agriculture and nine persons appointed by the governor.¹

Horticulture. Ohio has authorized the board of control of the agricultural experiment station to inspect nurseries, orchards, gardens, etc. and treat trees diseased or infested with insects.² Plants shipped into the state must bear a certificate of inspection. In Virginia the board of control of the experiment station has been constituted a board of crop pest commissioners with power to appoint a state entomologist, publish a list of pests and diseases of plants and provide for the quarantine and annual inspection of nursery stock.³ There are now 20 states that have created a board of horticulture or a state entomologist to investigate diseases and pests and with power in many cases to take the necessary measures to prevent their spread.

Veterinary medicine. Iowa has created a state board of veterinary medical examiners of three members appointed by the governor.⁴ After January 1, 1901, all applicants for a license must be graduates of a recognized veterinary school and must pass an examination. This makes six states that require an examination in all cases for the practice of veterinary medicine. Seven others require a diploma, examination or certification of some kind.

Commercial feeding stuffs. In 1897 Massachusetts⁵ and Maine⁶ provided for inspection of concentrated commercial feeding stuffs. Vermont⁷ followed in 1898, Connecticut,⁸ New York⁹ and Rhode Island¹⁰ in 1899 and Maryland¹¹ and New Jersey¹² in 1900.

¹The usage of terms designating local bodies varies widely in different states. The word municipality is herein used in its original and strictest meaning to designate any densely populated, incorporated community; thus including cities, villages, boroughs and "towns" (as a name for villages) but not including townships. Where the word town is used to designate in general the smallest division of the state, regardless of dense population, it is grouped with township government, although in the case of the New England towns the nature of the government approaches more nearly that of a municipality than that of a western township.

In many states municipalities, specially cities, are divided into classes according to population. As the classification varies widely, the limits of population designated thereby are in these references substituted for the number of the class.

² Submitted as one amendment.

⁴ Adopted November 1900 but must be inserted in constitution by legislative resolution.

⁷ Adopted November 1900, and must be ratified by legislature of 1901.

NEW CONSTITUTIONS

Iowa. The constitution of Iowa provides for submitting to the electors every 10 years the question of holding a constitutional convention, and in accordance with this provision the electors at the November election voted in favor of holding a convention. The constitution makes it the duty of the legislature at its next session, which will be in 1902, to provide for election of delegates. The present constitution of the state was adopted in 1857. It has since been amended in 1868, 1880, 1882 and 1884.

New Hampshire. The legislature of 1899 provided for submitting the question of holding a constitutional convention (see Laws of 1889, ch. 110) and at the recent November election the proposition to hold a convention was adopted. It will be the duty of the legislature of 1901 to provide for election of delegates. The present constitution of New Hampshire was adopted in 1792, and has since been amended but three times. In 1851 a constitutional convention proposed three amendments, one of which was accepted by the people. The constitutional convention of 1876 proposed 13 amendments, all but two of which were adopted. The last constitutional convention, held in 1889, proposed seven amendments, five of which were adopted. The constitution of the state requires the question of calling a convention to be submitted every seven years and in November 1894 the question was voted on but failed to carry.

Virginia. At an election held in May 1900 the proposition to hold a constitutional convention was adopted. For the law providing for the submission of the question see Laws of 1900, ch 778. An extra session of the legislature will be convened Jan. 23, 1901, to provide for electing delegates to the convention. The present constitution was adopted in 1869.

SOCIOLOGY DIVISION

Bulletins. No. 1-7, 9-11, 13, Summary and index of legislation by states. These are minutely classified annual summaries of new laws passed by all the states, followed by a full alphabetic index of specific topics, and have been published since 1890.

No. 8, State finance statistics. A bulletin giving a comparative summary of state finance statistics for 1890 and 1895 was published in March 1897. There will be a similar bulletin for 1900 and each succeeding fifth year.

No. 12, Trend of legislation in the United States.

These bulletins may be had postpaid for $1 a volume consisting of five numbers or for 25 cents a copy, except no. 8 which is 10 cents, no. 11, 50 cents and no. 12, five cents. Volume 1 began in 1890, volume 2 in 1895, and volume 3 with number 11 in 1899. Subscriptions for future numbers or orders for back numbers should be addressed Treasurer of the University of the State of New York, Albany.

Card indexes. A consolidated card index of state legislation, beginning with 1890, makes it easy to refer to laws on any subject in any state within the past 10 years. As fast as advance sheets of new laws are received they are summarized on cards and classified. A special library on comparative legislation is being collected, which is supplemented with catalogues and indexes. This makes it possible to furnish promptly summaries of recent legislation on any subject.

Research. The library with its 246,000 volumes affords unusual advantages for research. Its collections in law, public documents, statistics, political science, economics, administration and allied subjects are unusually valuable and are being rapidly increased. Students of public law or economics who are unable to come to the library may have bibliographies prepared and information gathered for them by trained assistants.

A charge is made for work of this kind covering the salary, the time spent on it, usually ranging from 50c to $1 an hour; but work is always assigned to the least expensive assistant competent to do it satisfactorily. Requests for research on these subjects should be addressed Sociology librarian, State Library.

LEGISLATION 14

TAXATION OF CORPORATIONS

IN

NEW YORK, MASSACHUSETTS, PENNSYLVANIA AND NEW JERSEY

BY

Robert Harvey Whitten Ph. D.

SOCIOLOGY LIBRARIAN

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The aim of this study is to present for comparative purposes the corporation tax systems of these four states, in which corporate organization is so strongly developed. The comparative summary gives a brief review of the several systems. The summary by states is more full and under the heads general business corporations, public service corporations, state and national banks, trust companies, savings banks, insurance, incorporation tax and shares and bonds, describes in the briefest form for comparative purposes the various state and local taxes imposed on each class of corporations. The tax officials of the several states have had the kindness to read the proof of this portion of the bulletin.

The compilation of corporation tax statutes contains all tax laws applying specifically to corporations and such laws of a general nature as are necessary to give a complete view of the method of taxing corporations. References are made to such court decisions as are essential to an understanding of the actual basis and general system of taxation but not to such as relate only to technical administration.

The study is complete to May 1, 1901, thus including the numerous corporation tax laws passed by the New York legislature of 1901 and also an act passed by the New Jersey legislature of the same year. It is hoped by frequent revision to keep the subject-matter up to date and also at some future time to include the corporation tax systems of other states, specially, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois whose systems are probably next in importance and interest.

COMPARATIVE SUMMARY

General business corporations. In New York and Massachusetts real estate of general business corporations is assessed by the local assessors for state and local purposes, while in Pennsylvania and New Jersey¹ it is assessed for local purposes only, there being no state tax on real property in these two states. In New York corporations are also subject to taxation for local purposes approximately on the actual value of capital employed less liabilities and real estate, and to a state tax at a rate varying according to dividends, being $1\frac{1}{2}$ mills on the par value of capital stock employed in the state, if dividends are 6%. The state tax commissioner of Massachusetts assesses a tax at the average rate of taxation throughout the state (about $1\frac{1}{2}\%$) on the total market value of the shares of all domestic corporations, less real estate and machinery locally assessed, and the auditor general of Pennsylvania, a tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on the actual value of the franchises, property and entire earning capacity of all corporations having a capital stock, and also a tax of $\frac{2}{3}$ of 1% on the bonds or other obligations of domestic corporations held by residents of the state, which is paid by the corporations and deducted from interest due. In New Jersey corporations are subject to local taxation on personal property in the same manner as individuals. As in New York the value of the franchise can not be taxed as personalty and corporations have the same right to a deduction for debts as have individuals. Domestic corporations also pay a state tax of $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1% on the par value of capital stock on amounts not exceeding \$3,000,000, $\frac{1}{20}$ of 1% on amounts from \$3,000,000 to \$5,000,000 and \$50 for each \$1,000,000 in excess of \$5,000,000. New Jersey corporations organized to carry on business in other states form by far the largest proportion of corporations subject to this rapidly regressive tax. Public service corporations

Public service corporations. Of the four states under consideration Pennsylvania and Massachusetts have the most consistent systems of taxing public service corporations. In Pennsylvania public service like other corporations are subject to a state tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on their capital stock, which the state supreme court has held to mean a tax on entire property including franchises and earning capacity. Bondholders in foreign corporations pay a tax of $\frac{2}{3}$ of 1% on their bonds and domestic corporations pay from interest due a tax at the same rate on bonds held by residents of the state. Real estate is not taxed for state purposes in Pennsylvania and public service corporations, except railroads in Philadelphia and Pittsburg, are exempt from all local taxation on so much of their property as is essential to the exercise of their franchise. To make up for this exemption from local taxation, transportation and transmission corporations of every kind pay a state tax of $\frac{1}{3}$ of 1% on gross receipts from business done wholly within the state.

Massachusetts taxes public service like all domestic corporations on the aggregate market value of shares less real estate locally assessed, at the average rate of taxation throughout the state (about $1\frac{1}{2}\%$). Street railways are the only public service corporations that are required to pay additional taxes. They pay a tax equal to the excess of dividends paid over 8% and a gross receipts tax at a rate varying from 1% to 3% in proportion to gross receipts per mile.

There are a number of points of similarity between the systems of New Jersey and New York. In both states personal property of public service corporations is assessed locally for local purposes, but the value of the franchise can not be included and debts may be deducted. This exemption of the franchise has recently led both states to pass special laws for the taxation of corporations exercising franchises to use streets or other public places. The New York law passed in 1899 provides for the valuation of this special franchise by the state board of taxation and for its assessment for state and local purposes in the same manner as real estate. The New Jersey law passed one year later, imposes a tax of 2% on the gross receipts of such corporations.

In New York street and elevated railroads pay a state tax of 1% on gross receipts and of 3% on dividends paid in excess of 4%; and water, light, power and heat companies pay $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on gross receipts and 3% on dividends in excess of 4%. All other transportation and transmission corporations pay a state tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on gross receipts from business done wholly within the state, and like corporations generally they are subject to a state tax at a rate varying according to dividends being $1\frac{1}{2}$ mills on the par value of capital stock employed in the state, if dividends equal 6%.

New Jersey has a special system for the taxation of steam railroads and canals. Real and personal property is taxed for state purposes at the rate of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on its actual value as determined by the state board of assessors. The court has held that the valuation may be based on the aggregate value of shares and bonds less debts due creditors within the state. The state board also levies a tax for local purposes at the local rate but not exceeding 1%, on branch roadbeds or waterways and all other property except; 1) the "main stem" of each railroad or canal, including the roadbed not exceeding 100 feet wide with tracks and passenger stations, and 2) rolling stock, canal boats and all tangible and intangible personalty.

The old system of assessing public service corporations through local officials in the same manner as individuals has been quite generally abandoned. The change has not come about through a conviction of the injustice of the former system of strict uniformity, but as a result of the fact that local assessors proved unequal to the task of putting it in operation. Many states have given up actual value as a basis of assessment and levy taxes, assessed usually by some state officer or board, on gross receipts, milage, par value of shares, etc. The administration of such taxes is comparatively simple and certain, but they can have no other justification. They are unequal and arbitrary, the rate imposed being necessarily fixed by guesswork or intrigue. In the case of public service corporations there are but two bases of taxation that can be plausibly defended, net income and actual value. When both these are abandoned, chaos results. These arbitrary taxes, though unequal as between corporations of the same class, have usually been favored by corporate interests because of their definiteness and because the amount paid is usually much below their proportionate share of the burdens of government as measured by net income or the actual value of their property.

The present chaotic conditions were much furthered by the earlier decisions of the United States courts relative to the taxation of interstate commerce, but with the more recent decisions of the United States supreme court sustaining the so called unit system in the assessment of the property and franchises of interstate corporations and with the belief in many states that such corporations are escaping their just share of the burden of taxation, there is now a very strong tendency to return to the principle of uniformity in the basis of taxation though not in the mode of assessment. The general trend seems to be to abandon gross receipts, milage, shares, etc., as a basis of taxation and substitute the actual value of property and franchises as determined by a state board. The broader jurisdiction, more extensive powers and higher technical training of the state board are relied on to accomplish the task to which the local assessors have proved unequal. This tendency though shown more clearly in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri and other states is evidenced by the state tax on the actual value of the property and franchises of corporations in Pennsylvania and by the special franchise tax in New York and the tax on railroads and canals in New Jersey.

State and national banks Trust com-

State and national banks. There is considerable uniformity in the taxation of state and national banks throughout the United States. The existing system has grown out of the exemption from taxation of United States bonds, in which much of the capital of national banks is invested and the provisions of the national banking act permitting the taxation of national bank shares in the hands of individuals at a rate not greater than that at which other moneyed capital in the hands of individuals is taxed. [National bank act, 1864 § 41] In Massachusetts real estate is taxed for state and local purposes and the bank pays a tax in behalf of the shareholders at the average rate for state and local purposes on the market value of the shares, less a proportionate deduction for real estate separately assessed. New York besides taxing real estate at the regular rate for state and local purposes levies a tax of 1% for local purposes on the value of the shares determined by adding together capital stock, surplus, and undivided profits and the tax is paid by the bank in behalf of the shareholders. In Pennsylvania the tax on real estate is for local purposes only and the state levies a tax of $\frac{2}{3}$ of 1% on the actual value of shares, determined by adding together capital stock paid in, surplus and undivided profits. The tax is paid by the bank and charged to the shareholders. In New Jersey the tax on both real estate and shares is for local purposes only. Shareholders are taxable where they reside on the actual value of their shares less a proportionate deduction for the real estate of the bank separately assessed. Only the tax on the shares of nonresidents of the state is paid by the bank and charged to the holders.

Trust companies. In New York the real estate of trust companies is taxed for state and local purposes and they pay a state tax of 1% on the amount of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits. In Massachusetts and Pennsylvania in addition to the taxes to which general business corporations are subject they pay taxes on property held in trust. In Massachusetts they are taxed at the average rate of taxation throughout the state (about 1½%) on personal property held in trust that would be taxable if in the hands of an individual trustee, and at $\frac{3}{4}$ of this average rate on deposits that are held subject to withdrawal on not less than 10 days notice. In Pennsylvania they pay a tax $\frac{3}{4}$ of 1% on certain securities held in trust and depositors are taxed at the same rate on time deposits bearing interest. In New Jersey they, like banks, are taxed for local purposes only. The real estate and the true value of capital stock less real estate, are taxed at the local rate.

Savings banks. Mutual savings banks are confined almost exclusively to the New England and eastern states and in all these states besides being taxed on real estate they pay a tax on deposits, surplus or earnings. All the New England states and New York follow the plan of exempting depositors and levying a tax at a low rate on the deposits or surplus or both deposits and surplus of the bank. In Maine the rate is $\frac{3}{4}$ of 1% and in Rhode Island $\frac{3}{4}$ of 1% on both deposits and surplus; in Connecticut it is $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% on deposits, in Massachusetts $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on deposits, in Vermont $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1% on deposits, in New Hampshire $\frac{3}{4}$ of 1% on deposits; in New York 1% on the par value of surplus and undivided earnings. In all these states except New York real estate separately taxed is deducted and there are usually other deductions. In Massachusetts loans on mortgages on taxable real estate are deducted. In Pennsylvania mutual savings banks pay a tax of $\frac{3}{4}$ of 1% on certain kinds of mortgages and other securities and a tax of 3% on net earnings or income. Depositors are liable to a tax of $\frac{3}{4}$ of 1% on time certificates of deposit bearing interest. Savings banks in New Jersey are taxed at the local rate on the full amount of their property or valuable assets less funds invested in nontaxable mortgages and other securities but without any deduction for liabilities. They are therefore taxable on their deposits but the depositors are exempt.

Insurance. In the four states insurance companies are subject to the same taxes on real estate as general business corporations. In New York domestic life and fire companies are subject to a state tax of 1% on gross premiums from business in the state. In Massachusetts domestic life and fire companies having a capital stock are, like other corporations, taxed at the average rate of taxation on the market value of shares less real estate separately taxed. All domestic life companies also pay a state tax of $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% on the net value of policies held by residents of the state, and mutual fire companies not subject to the tax on the market value of shares pay a state tax of 1% on gross receipts from premiums or assessments received in all states, except those in which they are subject to a like tax. In Pennsylvania domestic life and fire companies pay the same taxes as general business corporations, except that in the case of fire companies the tax on capital stock is at the rate of $\frac{3}{10}$ of 1% instead of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1%. In addition they pay a state tax of $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1% on gross premiums and assessments from business within the state. In New Jersey domestic life and fire companies other than mutual are taxed for local purposes on capital stock paid in and accumulated surplus, less real estate and nontaxable property in which the surplus is invested. Domestic fire companies, except mutual companies that do not issue policies on the stock plan also pay a state tax of 1% on gross premiums from business within the state and domestic life companies pay a state tax of 1% on their entire surplus and a tax of $\frac{3}{10}$ of 1% on the gross amount collected from premiums in all states, but all taxes collected of foreign life companies under reciprocal provisions are deducted from the taxes due from domestic companies.

All but 12 states have reciprocal or retaliatory laws for the taxation of foreign insurance companies and the tax on all foreign insurance companies in California, Connecticut and Tennessee, on life companies in New Jersey, on fire and marine companies in Oklahoma, and on all except fire and marine companies in Illinois is determined entirely by reciprocal laws, no tax being imposed on companies of states that do not impose a tax on companies incorporated in these states. The preamble of the New Jersey act of 1891 taxing life companies recites that on account of the reciprocal laws of other states the companies of New Jersey are willing to pay an increased tax in order that existing taxes on foreign companies may be repealed.

Incorporation tax. Pennsylvania $\frac{1}{8}$ of 1%, New York $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1%, New Jersey $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1% and Massachusetts $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1% on amounts up to \$400,000 but nothing on capitalization in excess of that amount, \$200 being the maximum tax. A corporation with a capital of \$10,000,000 would pay \$33,333 in Pennsylvania, \$5,000 in New York, \$2,000 in New Jersey and \$200 in Massachusetts. In 1901 New York reduced its incorporation tax from $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1% and greatly liberalized its corporation laws, so as to agree in most respects with those of New Jersey.

Shares and bonds. In New York and New Jersey shareholders in both domestic and foreign corporations are exempt from taxation on their shares, while in Massachusetts only shareholders in domestic corporations and in Pennsylvania only shareholders in domestic corporations and in foreign corporations doing business in the state are exempt. Bondholders in both domestic and foreign corporations are taxable in New York and Massachusetts. In Pennsylvania a tax at the rate $\frac{2}{3}$ of 1% is paid by domestic corporations in behalf of the bondholders, and deducted from interest due. Bonds not subject to this tax are taxed in the hands of the holders at the same rate by the local assessors. In New Jersey bondholders in foreign corporations not taxed within the state and in other corporations claiming a deduction for debts due bondholders, are subject to taxation for local purposes.

SUMMARY BY STATES

General business corporations

New York. Real estate of all corporations is assessed by the local assessors for state and local purposes in the same manner as real estate of individuals. [Gen. tax law § 3, 21]

Personal property. All corporations except banks are also assessed by the local assessors either for both state and local purposes or for local purposes only, approximately on the actual value of capital employed less their liabilities and the assessed value of their real estate. [Gen. tax law § 12] Only such corporations are taxed for state purposes in this way as are not subject to an annual state tax at a definite rate on capital and earnings or gross receipts under article 9 of the tax law. [Gen. tax law § 202]

The rule of assessment as laid down in various decisions construing § 12 of the tax law under which this tax is levied may be formulated as follows:

Appraise all real and personal property of the corporation except surplus and value arising from acquired business, superior management, a specially favorable market or some special franchise or monopoly, and add to the total all surplus profits or reserve funds exceeding 10% of the capital. [126 N. Y. 433; 7 App. Div. 31; 146 N. Y. 304; 161 N. Y. 195] From this aggregate deduct: 1) the assessed value of the real estate; 2) mortgage indebtedness and other liabilities [161 N. Y. 195]; 3) the shares of stock of other corporations taxable on their capital stock belonging to the corporation; 4) that proportion of the remainder that the shares held by the state and by incorporated literary and charitable institutions bear to the whole number of shares.

Foreign corporations are subject to assessment on all capital invested in the state, and are only entitled to a deduction of such debts as are incurred in the purchase of property in the state. [141 N. Y. 118; 147 N. Y. 31]

State tax on capital stock. This tax does not apply to: 1) laundry corporations, manufacturing corporations, to the extent of the capital actually employed in manufacturing and in the sale of the product manufactured, mining corporations wholly engaged in mining ores within the state, provided 40% of the capital stock of such laundry, manufacturing or mining corporation is invested and used within the state; 2) agricultural and horticultural societies and associations; 3) banks, trust companies, savings banks, institutions for saving, insurance, title guaranty and surety corporations; 4) companies actually operating elevated or surface railroads not operated by steam and companies formed for supplying water or gas or for electric or steam heating, lighting or power purposes. All other domestic and foreign corporations, joint stock companies and associations are required to pay annual state taxes as follows:

1 If dividends are 6% or more, tax at rate of $\frac{1}{4}$ mill for each 1% of dividends, on par value of capital stock employed in state. General business corporations
New York

2 If dividends are less than 6%, tax at rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ mills on par value of capital stock employed in state. Massachusetts

3 If no dividend, tax at rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ % mills on appraised capital employed in state.

4 If more than one kind of capital stock and on one kind no dividend or a dividend less than 6%, and on the other a dividend of 6% or more has been declared, the appraised value of the former kind of stock is taxed at the rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ mills and the par value of the latter at the rate of $\frac{1}{4}$ mill for each 1% of dividends declared. [Gen. tax law § 182, 183]

The tax is enforced and assessed by the state controller. Corporations subject to taxation on the actual value of their capital stock are required to make a return to the controller of such actual value which may not be less than the average price at which the stock has sold during the year. The controller is not bound by this return but has full power to make an examination and determine the valuation. The court has defined the actual value of the capital stock of a corporation to be the value of its assets, after deducting liabilities, and adding to the sum then remaining the value of the good will of the business, including its right to conduct it as a corporation. [154 N. Y. 101]

In order to subject a foreign corporation to the tax it is necessary both that it shall be doing business in the state and that some portion of its capital shall be employed in the state. [154 N. Y. 1]

Massachusetts. Real estate. Real estate and machinery of corporations is assessed by local assessors for state and local purposes [P. S. ch. 11 § 3, 6; ch. 13 § 38-41] with the exception of the property of public service corporations devoted to a public use which is exempt from taxation. [For the taxation of public service corporations see p. 634]

Personal property of domestic corporations. The state tax commissioner ascertains the market value of the shares of domestic corporations except banks, and estimates therefrom their fair cash value. From the aggregate value of the shares of each corporation as thus determined the valuation of real estate and machinery subject to local taxation within or without the state is deducted, and the remainder is taxed at the average rate of taxation throughout the state, obtained by dividing the aggregate assessed valuation of real and personal property in the state by the aggregate amount of taxes to be raised for state and local purposes. [P. S. ch. 13 § 38-41] The tax is paid into the state treasury and such a proportion of the tax of each corporation as corresponds to the proportion of its shares held by nonresidents of the state, is retained for state purposes and the remainder is distributed to cities and towns in proportion to the number of shares held by residents of each city and town. [P. S. ch. 13 § 57]

Personal property of foreign corporations. No special provision has been made for taxation of foreign corporations doing business in the state and they are taxed under the general law for taxation of all real estate and personal property. Not being residents of the state they can only be taxed on such personalty as is made taxable wherever situated, while personal property the situs of which follows the residence of the owner can not be taxed. Besides being taxed on their real estate and machinery they are subject to assessment, therefore, only on goods, wares, merchandise, and other stock in trade, including stock employed in the business of manufacturing or the mechanic arts. [P. S. ch. 11, § 20 ¶ 1]

Pennsylvania. Real estate is not subject to taxation for state purposes but is taxed wherever situated for local purposes, with the exception of the property of public service corporations essential to the exercise of their franchise which is exempt from both state and local taxation. [148 Pa. 162, 282; 168 Pa. 401. See p. 635 for the taxation of public service corporations]

Capital stock. Domestic corporations and foreign corporations doing business in the state, except banks, savings institutions, domestic fire and marine insurance companies and foreign insurance companies, pay a state tax of 5 mills on the appraised value of their capital stock. The tax on capital is defined as a tax on franchises, property and entire earning capacity. [164 Pa. 284] The valuation may not be less than the average price at which the shares have sold during the year nor less than the value indicated by net earnings, dividends and increased surplus. A proportionate deduction is made for capital employed without the state. A portion of the capital stock of manufacturing corporations proportionate to the capital employed exclusively in manufacturing, is exempt from taxation. [Pa. '91, ch. 200, § 4; '93 ch. 288 § 1]

Personalty and net earnings. Personal property of corporations subject to the 5 mill tax on their shares, is not otherwise taxable. [Pa. '93 ch. 288 § 1] Corporations not subject to this tax pay a tax of 4 mills on certain kinds of personalty. [Pa. '91 ch. 200 § 1] The tax on personalty, though termed a state tax, is assessed by the local assessors and three fourths of it goes to the county and one fourth to the state. [Pa. '91, ch. 200 § 3] Corporations, except manufacturing, that are not subject to the 5 mill tax are also subject to state tax of 3% on their net earnings. [Pa. '89 ch. 332 § 27]

Bonds. Loans. The obligations of domestic and foreign corporations held by residents of the state are subject to a state tax of 4 mills on their par value. [Pa. '85 ch. 162 § 4; '91 ch. 200 § 1] The tax is paid by the corporations in behalf of the holders and deducted from the interest due. If no interest is paid no tax can be collected. [150 Pa. 312] The supreme court of the United States has held that a foreign corporation doing business in the state and paying interest to residents of the state by checks drawn without the state can not be compelled to pay the tax and deduct the amount from interest. [153 U. S. 628] This decision practically exempts foreign corporations from the tax. Residents holding the obligations of foreign corporations that do not pay this tax are required to list their obligations as personal property and pay a tax of 4 mills on their value. [Pa. '91 ch. 200 § 1]

New Jersey. Real estate of all corporations except railroad and canal companies is taxed where situated by local assessors for local and school purposes. [G. S. p. 3292 ¶ 62; gen. corp. law, 1896 § 110] A state school tax sufficient to produce $5 for each child of school age is levied on real and personal property. 90% of the amount collected in each county is returned to the county and the remaining 10% constitutes a "reserve fund" which is apportioned to the counties by the state board of education "equitably and justly according to its discretion." [N. J. '00 ch. 96 § 190-95]

Local taxation of personal property. Personal property of domestic and foreign corporations, except railway, canal, turnpike, insurance, banking and savings bank corporations, is taxed for local and school purposes in the same manner as the personal property of individuals. [Gen. corp. law § 110] Visible personalty is assessed in the tax district where found and invisible personalty in the district where the principal office of the corporation is located or its operations carried on. [G. S. p. 3294 ¶ 67; p. 3345 ¶ 291; 23 Vroom 308] The value of the corporate franchise can not be included in the valuation of the property for taxation. [27 Vroom 471] Corporations have the same right to a deduction for debts due to creditors residing within the state as have individuals. In case a deduction is claimed an affidavit must be filed with the assessor stating the name and residence of the creditor [13 Vroom 357] and it is the duty of the assessor to notify the assessor of the taxing district in which the creditor resides. [Report state board of taxation, 1900 p. 34] No mortgage on real or personal property whether given by an individual or by a corporation is taxed unless a deduction therefor is claimed by the owner of the mortgaged property. [G. S. p. 3319 ¶ 198; p. 3304 ¶ 113; p. 2109 ¶ 37] Corporations, domestic or foreign, are not taxed on personal property situated and taxed without the state. [29 Vroom 633; 34 Vroom 525]

State taxation of capital stock. All domestic corporations, except public service corporations, insurance corporations and manufacturing or mining corporations 50% of whose capital stock is invested in manufacturing or mining within the state, are subject to an annual state license fee or franchise tax on the par value of capital stock issued and outstanding, at the rate of 1% of 1% on amounts not exceeding \$3,000,000, $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1% on amounts over \$3,000,000 and not exceeding \$5,000,000, and \$50 for each \$1,000,000 in excess of \$5,000,000. [N. J. '92 ch. 76 § 4] New Jersey corporations organized to carry on business in other states form by far the largest class of corporations subject to this tax.

Public service
corporations
New York

Foreign corporations doing business in the state, except public service and insurance corporations, are not subject to any tax, either real or personal, for state purposes.

Public service corporations

Under the term public service corporations as here used are included all transportation and transmission corporations and all corporations exercising the right of eminent domain or any franchise to use streets or public places.

New York. Real estate of all public service corporations is assessed by the local assessors for state and local purposes in the same manner as real estate of individuals. The value of property in streets and public places, however, is included in the valuation of the "special franchise" and this is defined as real estate in the tax law and assessed by the state board of tax commissioners as described below.

In assessing the portion of a railroad situated in any taxing district, merely its structural value or cost of replacement can be taken into consideration and not its value as a part of a system [152 N. Y. 490]: in the case of telephone lines the cost of replacement plus the actual cost incurred in obtaining the legislative license or franchise, is the proper basis. [126 N. Y. 166]

Personal property assessed locally. All public service corporations are also assessed for local purposes by local assessors as are other corporations, approximately on the actual value of capital employed less liabilities and less the assessed value of real estate. [Gen. tax law § 12. For more detailed description see p. 625] Value due to acquired business, superior management, a specially favorable market or some special franchise or monopoly, is not included in the appraisal. As most public service corporations are bonded to an amount exceeding their personalty as thus estimated, the deduction of liabilities results in their practical exemption from the tax.

State tax on capital stock or earnings. 1 All public service corporations, except water, lighting, heating or power companies or elevated or surface railroads not operated by steam, are subject like corporations generally to a state tax on their capital stock. Briefly stated, a tax of $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mill for each 1% of dividends declared but not less than $1\frac{1}{2}$ mills in any case, is levied on the par value of such portion of the capital stock as the amount of capital invested within the state bears to the entire capital; or if no dividend has been declared the tax at the minimum rate ($1\frac{1}{2}$ mills) is levied on the appraised capital employed within the state. [Gen. tax law § 182. For more detailed description see p. 326]

2 In addition to the above tax, a tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% is levied on the gross earnings of transportation and transmission corporations and joint stock associations, on business originating and terminating within the state. [Gen. tax law § 184] All earnings on business of an interstate character are excluded. Elevated and surface railroads not operated by steam and water, gas, heating, lighting and power companies are exempt from this tax.

3 Companies actually operating an elevated or surface railroad not operated by steam, must pay an annual state tax of 1% on gross receipts within the state and 3% on the amount of dividends declared in excess of 4%. [Gen. tax law § 185] If the road is not in operation the company is exempt from this tax but subject to the general tax on capital stock described in ¶ 1.

4 Every corporation, joint stock company or association formed for supplying water or gas, or for electric or steam heating, lighting or power purposes must pay an annual state tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on gross earnings within the state and 3% on the amount of dividends declared in excess of 4%. [Gen. tax law § 186]

Franchise tax. Public service corporations are also subject to taxation for state and local purposes at the rate levied on other property, on the actual value of their franchise to use streets, highways or public places, as determined by the state board of tax commissioners. The act of 1899 [N. Y. '99 ch. 712] establishing this tax amends the definition of real estate [Gen. tax law § 2] so as to include franchises to use public places, calling them "special franchises" to distinguish them from the franchise to exist as a corporate body which is subject to the state tax on capital stock. [see p. 332] The "special franchise" is defined so as to include the right to use public places and also the value of all tangible property in public places.

The state board has never made known any precise rule of determining the value of special franchises and as yet no case has been passed on by the courts. It is understood that the board has followed the method outlined in the opinion rendered to it by J. Newton Fiero its special counsel in the matter. Mr Fiero sums up his conclusions as follows:

It would seem, therefore, that the practical and practicable method for arriving at the entire value of corporate assets with a view to assessment of the "special franchise" necessitates a consideration of the cost of reproduction of the real estate, of the earning capacity of the property as a whole, and as an element going to make up the corporate value by showing the earning capacity, the value of the capital stock and surplus, and the actual value of the bonded indebtedness. That in addition there must be considered all the surrounding and attending facts and circumstances which tend to enhance value or aid in ascertaining value, as well as such facts and circumstances of a character which in anywise tend to detract from or depreciate the value of the corporate property, as, for instance, the amount of floating debt or liabilities of any kind not included in bonded indebtedness. [J. NEWTON FIERO, Assessment of special franchises, Albany, 1899]

Mr Fiero goes on to state that from this valuation of corporate assets should be deducted: 1) real estate not included in the definition of "special franchise"; 2) tangible personal property; 3) "the value of the franchise to be a corporation; that is, the business opportunity and capacity of the corporation . . . including also the choice and conduct and the good will of the business". The remainder is the value of the "special franchise".

Public service

Massachusetts

The valuation of the special franchise as determined by the state board is placed on the assessment rolls in each tax district and taxed at the same rate as other property for local and state purposes. If however any corporation assessed pays any franchise tax to any city, town or village in accordance with an existing agreement, the amount so paid is deducted from the tax on the special franchise levied for city, town or village purposes.

Massachusetts. Real estate. Strictly speaking the property of a corporation to the extent to which it is devoted to a public use is exempt from taxation. As property can not be taken by eminent domain except for a public use it follows that all property so taken is exempt. In the case of Worcester vs. Western railroad, 4 Met. 564, the court held that only property outside of a railroad's right of way was taxable. The state however actually succeeds in taxing property of corporations devoted to public uses through its general tax on the market value of shares less real estate and machinery locally assessed; [P. S. ch. 13 § 38-41] this tax is called a franchise tax and legally a tax on the franchise of a corporation is not a tax on its property. [12 Mass. 252] All real estate and machinery of public service corporations except such as is devoted in a legal sense to a public use is assessed by the local assessors for state and local purposes in the same manner as real estate of individuals. [P. S. ch. 11 § 3; ch. 13 § 38-41]

Personal property. Capital stock. Public service corporations are subject to the general "franchise tax" on the market value of shares, less real estate and machinery locally assessed. [P. S. ch. 13 § 38-41; Mass. '85 ch. 238; '86 ch. 270; '98 ch. 417] The tax applies to all domestic corporations and to foreign telegraph and street railway companies operating within the state. In the case of railroads, street railways and telegraph companies only such a proportion of the aggregate value of the shares is taken as the length of line in the state bears to the total length; and in the case of telephone companies only such a proportion as the number of telephones within the state bears to the total number.

The tax is imposed at the average rate of taxation throughout the state, obtained by dividing the aggregate assessed valuation of real and personal property in the state by the aggregate amount of taxes to be raised for state and local purposes. The tax is paid into the state treasury and such a proportion of the tax of each corporation, except street railways, as corresponds to the proportion of shares held by residents of the state is retained for state purposes and the remainder is distributed to cities and towns in proportion to the number of shares held by residents of each.

Public service
corporations
Massachusetts

Street railways. Besides being subject to the above described general franchise tax on the value of shares, street railways are required to pay the following special taxes: 1) a tax equal to the excess of dividends paid over 8%, provided the company has paid since commencing operation dividends averaging 6%; 2) 1% on gross receipts if less than $4000 a mile, 2%, if from $4000 to $7000 a mile; 2½%, if from $7000 to $14,000; 2½%, if from $14,000 to $21,000; 2¾%, if from $21,000 to $28,000; 3% if more than $28,000.

The tax on gross receipts is paid into the city or town treasury and is assessed by the local assessors on such a proportion of the aggregate gross receipts as length of track within the city or town bears to its entire length. The tax on dividends is paid into the state treasury and together with the entire amount of the franchise tax on the value of the shares is apportioned back to the cities and towns in which the street railways are situated in proportion to length of the track. [Mass. '98 ch. 578]

Pennsylvania. Real estate. Public service corporations are exempt from all local taxation on so much of their property as is essential to the exercise of their franchise.¹ Railroad tracks, rolling stock, stations, telegraph lines, etc. are thus exempted. [148 Pa. 162; 148 Pa. 282; 168 Pa. 401] Real estate is not taxed for state purposes in Pennsylvania.

Capital stock and bonds. Public service corporations like other corporations are subject to a state tax of ½ of 1% on their capital stock, i. e. their franchises, property and entire earning capacity; and domestic corporations are also subject to the state tax of ½ of 1% on their bonds or other obligations held by residents of the state, which is deducted from interest due the holders. [For more extended description see p. 628]

Gross receipts. Transportation and transmission companies of every kind, domestic and foreign, pay a state tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on their gross receipts from passengers and freight transported wholly within the state, or from telegraph, telephone or express business done wholly within the state. Electric light companies are subject to a like tax on gross receipts from their electric lighting business. [Pa. '89 ch. 322 § 23; '99 ch. 66 § 2]

New Jersey. Real estate of public service corporations except railroads and canals is taxed by the local assessors for local and school purposes.

Personal property of public service corporations, except steam railroads and canals, is taxed for local purposes in the same manner as personal property of individuals. [Gen. corp. law § 110] The valuation of the corporate franchise can not be included in the valuation of the property for taxation, and debts due creditors residing within the state may be deducted. [For more extended description see p. 630. 13 Vroom 357] Corporations, domestic or foreign, can only be taxed on personal property actually within the state. [29 Vroom 663]

Franchises. All public service corporations, except steam railroads and canals, using streets, highways or public places are required to pay an annual franchise tax of 2% on gross receipts. [N. J. '00 ch. 195] The tax is apportioned by the state board of assessors to the taxing districts in proportion to the assessed value of property therein in streets, highways and public places, and is then assessed and collected by the local authorities and devoted to local purposes. Express companies and palace sleeping car companies pay a state tax of 2% on gross receipts from business done in the state. [N. J. '92 ch. 76]

Railroads and canals. The real and personal property including franchises of railroads (except street railways) and canals is taxed for state purposes at the rate of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on its actual value as determined by the state board of assessors, but property not used for railroad or canal purposes is not included and is assessed by local assessors for local purposes in the same manner as other real estate. The valuation may be based on the aggregate market value of shares and bonds less debts due creditors within the state. [20 Vroom 1, 7-9] A tax for local purposes is also assessed by the state board of assessors on branch roadbeds or waterways and all other property except: 1) the "main stem" of each railroad or canal, including the roadbed not exceeding 100 feet wide with tracks and passenger stations, and 2) rolling stock, canal boats and all tangible and intangible personalty. The tax is at the local rates of taxation for other property in the tax districts where the property is situated, but the rate may not exceed 1%. Each tax district receives from the state the amount collected on property within it.

A railroad or canal company is entitled to a deduction from the value of its property for purposes of state and local taxation, of debts due to creditors residing in the state, but in case a deduction is claimed the names and residences of creditors must be given and a tax on the amount of the debt is assessed by the state board to the creditor; likewise in case a deduction is claimed on account of any mortgage, the amount allowed and deducted is taxed to the holder of the mortgage. New York. Real estate is assessed where situated, for state and local purposes.

Previous to 1901 shares of stock were assessed at the regular rate for state and local purposes on their actual or market value less a proportionate deduction for real estate; and each shareholder was entitled to all deductions allowed by law in assessing other personal property. The act of 1901 substitutes a tax of 1% for local purposes on the value of the shares, determined by adding together capital stock, surplus and undivided profits; and permits no deductions for real estate owned by the bank or for the personal indebtedness of the holders of the shares.¹

¹This provision denying the right to deduct personal indebtedness has not yet been passed on by the courts. In 1866 an act was passed which while not denying in express terms the same right to deduct personal indebtedness as in the case of other personal property, made no provision for such deduction, and the United States supreme court [100 U. S. 530; 105 U. S. 305] held that the act was in conflict with the national banking act in that it taxed bank shares at a greater rate than other moneyed capital and while not void, relief would be granted in any case where deduction of indebtedness was denied.

Shareholders are assessed, not in the district of their residence, but in the district where the bank is located and the bank is required to pay the tax in behalf of the holders and has a lien on the shares for the amount paid. [Gen. tax law § 13, 23, 24]

Massachusetts. Real estate is assessed where situated, for state and local purposes.

Shares of stock are assessed to each individual holder at their fair cash value less the proportionate part of the value of the real estate of the bank. The shareholders are assessed, not in the city or town of their residence, but in the city or town where the bank is located, at the rate, state and local, at which other property is assessed. The bank is required to pay the tax in behalf of the shareholders and it is given a lien on the shares for all taxes paid. The tax is apportioned between the state and the cities and towns in the same way as the general tax on domestic corporations; each city and town receives the tax collected on the shares held by its residents and the state receives the tax collected on the shares of nonresidents of the state. [P. S. ch. 13 § 8-19]

Shares of stock are subject to a state tax of $\frac{2}{3}$ of 1% on their actual value, determined by adding together capital stock paid in, surplus and undivided profits. Though nominally a tax on the shareholders it is actually paid by the bank and charged to the shareholders. The bank has the option instead of paying a tax of $\frac{2}{3}$ of 1% on the actual value of its shares of paying a tax of 1% on their par value. [Pa. '97 ch. 227]

New Jersey. Real estate is assessed where situated for local and school purposes.

Shareholders are taxable for local and school purposes in the tax district where they reside on the actual value of their shares less a proportionate deduction for real estate of the bank separately assessed. The tax on shares if nonresidents of the state is assessed in the district where the bank is located and it is paid by the bank and charged to the holders. [N. J. '00 ch. 107]

2 Tax on market value of shares less real estate separately assessed. [P. The tax is paid into the state treasury and such a proportion of the tax of each corporation as corresponds to the proportion of its shares held by nonresidents of the state is retained for state purposes and the remainder is distributed to cities and towns in proportion to the number of shares held by residents of each city and town.

3 Tax on all personal property held in trust that would be taxable if held by an individual trustee. This tax is levied by the state tax commissioner at the average rate above described. [Mass. '88 ch. 413]

4 A tax at $\frac{1}{4}$ of this average rate is levied on deposits that are not held subject to withdrawal on demand or on less than 10 days notice. This tax and also the tax on property held in trust is paid into the state treasury but the amount assessed on trust funds and deposits held by companies for persons residing in cities and towns of the state, is apportioned back to the cities and towns, and the amount assessed on trust funds and deposits for persons not residing in the state, is retained for state purposes. 2 The true value of capital stock issued and outstanding less the assessed value of real estate separately taxed, is taxed at the local rate for local purposes, in the district where the office of the company is situated. The capital stock, property and franchises of trust companies are expressly exempt from all other taxation. [N. J. '99 ch. 174 § 29; Fidelity trust co. v. Vogt, N. J. supreme court Feb. term 1901]

Savings banks

New York. Savings banks are taxed on real estate for state and local purposes, and pay a state tax of 1% on the par value of surplus and undivided earnings. Depositors are exempt from taxation on their deposits. [158 N. Y. 414; Gen. tax law § 4 ¶ 14, § 187b § 189 ¶ 8; 22 Misc. 477]

Massachusetts. Real estate is assessed where situated for state and local purposes. Depositors are exempt from taxation on their deposits but the bank pays a state tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on its deposits, less the amount invested in real estate and in mortgages on taxable real estate. The entire tax is retained for state purposes. [P. S. ch. 13 § 20-23]

Pennsylvania. Savings institutions having a capital stock are taxed in the same manner as state and national banks (see p. 638). Mutual saving institutions are subject: 1) to the local tax on real estate; 2) to the 4 mill tax on taxable bonds, mortgages and other securities held in their own right, three fourths of which goes to the county and one fourth to the state [Pa. '91 ch. 200 § 1]; and 3) to the state tax of 3% on net earnings or income. [Pa. '89 ch. 332 § 27] Deposits are not taxable to the bank but time certificates of deposit bearing interest are taxable to the depositors at the 4 mill rate. [Pa. '91 ch. 200 § 1]

New Jersey. Savings banks¹ are taxed for local and school purposes on the full amount of their property and valuable assets, without any deduction for debts or liabilities. They are therefore taxable on their deposits but the depositors are exempt. [G. S. p. 3296 ¶ 75; 8 Vroom 408] Most of their funds are however invested in mortgages on which the owner of the land pays taxes, or in nontaxable securities, and it seems probable that these may be deducted from the total valuation of their property. [G. S. p. 3319 ¶ 198; Report New Jersey state board of taxation, 1898, p. 107]

Insurance companies

New York. Life insurance. 1 Real estate is assessed where situated, for state and local purposes.

2 Domestic and foreign corporations having a capital stock are nominally subject to taxation for state and local purposes in the same manner as other corporations, approximately on actual value of capital employed less liabilities and real estate. [Gen. tax law § 12. See p. 8] But the accumulations of domestic life companies held for the exclusive benefit of the insured are exempt, [Gen. tax law § 4 ¶ 14] as is also the personal property in excess of $100,000 of domestic companies incorporated before April 10, 1849. [Gen. tax law § 4 ¶ 17] Foreign corporations are subject to assessment on all capital invested in the state and are only entitled to a deduction of such debts as are incurred in the purchase of property in the state. [141 N. Y. 118; 147 N. Y. 31]

4 Foreign corporations are also subject to a state tax of 2% on gross premiums received in the state. [Gen. insurance law § 34]

5 Other taxes on foreign companies governed by reciprocal provisions. [Gen. insurance law § 33]

Fire insurance. 1. Domestic and foreign fire insurance companies are subject to the taxes on real estate and capital employed, described in paragraphs 1 and 2 under life insurance.¹

2 Domestic fire companies, except town or county cooperative companies, are subject to a state tax of 1% on gross premiums from business in state. [Gen. tax law § 187]

3 Companies incorporated without the United States are subject to a state tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on gross premiums from business in the state. [Gen. tax law § 187]

4 Agents of foreign companies in villages and cities having a fire department, except Buffalo, are required to pay a local tax of 2% on premiums received on property within the city or village. [Gen. insurance law § 133; Greater New York charter § 799]

5 Other taxes on foreign companies governed by reciprocal provisions.

Insurance other than life and fire. 1 Domestic and foreign companies are subject to the taxes on real estate and capital employed described in paragraphs 1 and 2 under life insurance.¹

2 All companies other than fire and life, except foreign marine companies, health and casualty companies incorporated without the United States, town or county cooperative companies, fraternal beneficiary societies and companies for the insurance of domestic animals, are required to pay a state tax of 1% on gross premiums from business in the state. Marine companies incorporated without the United States pay a state tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1%. [Gen. tax law § 187]

3 Other taxes on foreign companies governed by reciprocal provisions.

¹The exemptions described in paragraph 2 apply only to domestic life companies, but the personal property of all fire, casualty and surety companies is exempt to the extent of the value of unearned premiums required to be charged as a liability. [Gen. tax law § 4 ¶ 14.]

2 Every domestic company having a capital stock is taxed on the market value of its shares, less real estate separately assessed, under the general law for taxation of domestic corporations. [P. S. ch. 13 § 38-41] The tax is assessed by the state tax commissioner at the average rate of taxation in the state. Such a proportion of the tax of each corporation as corresponds to the proportion of its shares held by nonresidents of the state, is retained for state purposes and the remainder is distributed to cities and towns in proportion to number of shares held by each.

3 Domestic and foreign life companies both mutual and stock, pay a state tax of $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% on the net value of policies held by residents of the state. [P. S. ch. 13 § 25]

4 Other taxes on foreign companies governed by reciprocal provisions. [P. S. ch. 13 § 31; Mass. '94 ch. 522 § 85]

Insurance other than life. 1 Real estate and reciprocal taxes as described in paragraphs 1 and 4 under life insurance.

2 Domestic companies having capital stock divided into shares, and mutual fire and marine companies with a guaranty capital or permanent fund are subject to the tax described in paragraph 2 under life insurance. [P. S. ch. 13 § 50]

3 Mutual domestic companies not subject to above tax on capital or permanent fund are subject to a state tax of 1% on gross receipts from premiums and assessments; but premiums received in other states where they are subject to a like tax, are deducted. [P. S. ch. 13 § 29]

4 Foreign companies are subject to a state tax of 2% on premiums received in the state. [P. S. ch. 13 § 30]

Pennsylvania. Domestic companies. 1 Real estate is taxed where situated for local purposes.

2 State tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% on actual value of capital stock, i. e. franchise, property and entire earning capacity; except that in the case of fire and marine companies the rate is $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1% instead of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1%. [Pa. '91 ch. 200 § 4; '93 ch. 288 § 1]

3 State tax of $\frac{2}{5}$ of 1% on bonds or obligations held by residents of the state. The tax is deducted from interest due holders. [Pa. '91 ch. 200 § 1]

4 State tax of $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% on gross premiums and assessments from business within the state. This tax applies to all domestic companies and associations except companies doing business on the purely mutual plan without any capital stock or accumulated reserve and purely mutual beneficial associations whose funds for the benefit of members are made up entirely of weekly or monthly contributions of members and accumulated interest thereon. [Pa. '89 ch. 332 § 24]

5 Mutual companies not subject to the tax on premiums are subject to state tax of 3% on net earnings or income. [Pa. '79 ch. 122 § 10]

6 Mutual companies without capital stock are subject to the tax of $\frac{2}{5}$ of 1% on taxable mortgages, bonds and other securities held. [Pa. '91 ch. 200 § 1]

Foreign companies. 1 Real estate is taxed for local purposes.

2 Tax of 2% on gross premiums from business within the state.¹ One half of the amount collected from foreign fire insurance companies, is apportioned by the state to the cities and boroughs from which the premiums were received. [Pa. '73 ch. 3 § 10; '89 ch. 332 § 24; '95 ch. 289 § 2]

New Jersey. Life insurance. 1 Real estate is taxed where situated for local and school purposes.

2 Domestic companies pay a state tax of 1% on their entire surplus and also a state tax of $\frac{3.5}{100}$ of 1% on the gross amount collected from premiums in all states. The tax on foreign life companies is governed entirely by a reciprocal or retaliatory law and all taxes collected of foreign companies are deducted from the amount that domestic companies would otherwise be required to pay. [N. J. '92 ch. 76; '91 ch. 20 § 1]

companies, and building and loan associations, are required to pay a license tax of $\frac{1}{8}$ of 1% on the capital stock employed within the state during the first year of carrying on business in the state and a tax at the same rate on every subsequent increase. [Gen. tax law § 181]

Massachusetts. $\frac{1}{8}$ of 1% on authorized capital stock of domestic corporations and on every subsequent increase; but not less than \$5 in any case, and not more than \$200 for both original capital and subsequent increase. [P. S. ch. 106 § 84] No similar tax is imposed on foreign corporations doing business in the state.

Pennsylvania. $\frac{1}{8}$ of 1% on authorized capital stock of domestic corporations except building and loan associations, and same on every subsequent increase. [Pa. '99 ch. 120 § 1] No similar tax is imposed on foreign corporations doing business in the state.

New Jersey. $\frac{1}{8}$ of 1% on authorized capital stock of domestic corporations and same on every subsequent increase, and on every increase of aggregate capitalization through consolidation; but the tax for incorporation may not be less than \$25, nor for any increase less than \$20. A fee of \$10 is charged for filing a copy of the charter of a foreign corporation and issuing a certificate of authority to transact business. [Gen. corp. law 1896 § 114] But if New Jersey corporations are charged a greater fee for doing business in any state an equal fee is charged the corporations of such state for doing business in New Jersey. [Gen. corp. law 1896 § 101]

Shares and bonds

New York. Residents of the state owning shares of domestic or foreign corporations, are exempt from taxation on their shares, but bondholders are assessable on their bonds. [4 Hun 595; affirmed, 62 N. Y. 630]

Massachusetts. Shareholders in all domestic corporations, and in foreign telegraph and street railway corporations operating within the state, are exempt from taxation on their shares. [P. S. ch. 13 § 57] Shareholders in foreign corporations and bondholders in both domestic and foreign corporations are subject to assessment on their shares or bonds by the local assessor for state and local purposes. Shareholders in foreign manufacturing corporations taxed within the state on real estate and machinery, are entitled to a proportionate reduction for the value of real estate and machinery thus taxed. New Jersey

Pennsylvania. Shareholders in all domestic corporations and in foreign corporations doing business in the state, except banks, savings institutions and foreign insurance companies, are exempt from taxation on their shares, [Pa. '91 ch. 200 § 1] Shareholders in other corporations are assessed on their shares by the local assessors at the rate of 4 mills on the dollar. Three fourths of the tax goes to the county and the remainder to the state. [Pa. '91 ch. 200 § 3. For taxation of bonds see p. 629]

New Jersey. Shareholders in domestic and foreign corporations are exempt from taxation on their shares. [17 Vroom 194; 26 Vroom 110] Bondholders in domestic corporations and in foreign corporations doing business in the state are exempt unless the corporation claims a deduction from its appraised valuation on account of debts of bondholders. [G. S. p. 3319 ¶ 198; p. 3304 ¶ 113; p. 2109 ¶ 37] Bondholders in foreign corporations not taxed within the state are liable to taxation on their bonds for local purposes.

COMPILATION OF CORPORATION TAX LAWSNEW YORK*Section of general tax law, ch. 908, 1896

Amended to May 1, 1901, relative to taxation of corporations

§ 2 Definitions. . . 3 The terms "land," "real estate," and "real property," as used in this chapter, include the land itself above and under water, all buildings and other articles and structures, substructures and superstructures, erected upon, under or above, or affixed to the same; all wharves and piers, including the value of the right to collect wharfage, cranage or dockage thereon; all bridges, all telegraph lines, wires, poles and appurtenances; all supports and inclosures for electrical conductors and other appurtenances upon, above and under ground; all surface, under ground or elevated railroads, including the value of all franchises, rights or permission to construct, maintain or operate the same in, under, above, on or through, streets, highways, or public places; all railroad structures, substructures and superstructures, tracks and the iron thereon; branches, switches and other fixtures permitted or authorized to be made, laid or placed in, upon, above or under any public or private road, street or ground; all mains, pipes and tanks laid or placed in, upon, above or under any public or private street or place for conducting steam, heat, water, oil, electricity or any property, substance or product capable of transportation or conveyance therein or that is protected thereby, including the value of all franchises, rights, authority or permission to construct, maintain or operate, in, under, above, upon, or through, any streets, highways, or public places, any mains, pipes, tanks, conduits, or wires, with their appurtenances, for conducting water, steam, heat, light, power, gas, oil, or other substance, or electricity for telegraphic, telephonic or other purposes; all trees and underwood growing upon land, and all mines, minerals, quarries and fossils in and under the same, except mines belonging to the state. A franchise, right, authority or permission specified in this subdivision shall for the purpose of taxation be known as a "special franchise." A special franchise shall be deemed to include the value of the tangible property of a person, copartnership, association or corporation situated in, upon, under or above any street, highway, public place or public waters in connection with the special franchise. The tangible property so included shall be taxed as a part of the special franchise. No property of a municipal corporation shall be subject to a special franchise tax. [As amended by '99 ch. 712]

4 The term special franchise shall not be deemed to include the crossing of a street, highway or public place where such crossing is not at the intersection of another street or highway, unless such crossing shall be at other than right angles for a distance of not less than 250 feet, in which case the whole of such crossing shall be deemed a special franchise. This subdivision shall not apply to any elevated railroad. [Inserted by '01 ch. 490]

5 The terms "personal estate," and "personal property," as used in this chapter, include chattels, money, things in action, debts due from solvent debtors, whether on account, contract, note, bond or mortgage; debts and obligations for the payment of money due or owing to persons residing within this state, however secured or wherever such securities shall be held; debts due by inhabitants of this state to persons not residing within the United States for the purchase of any real estate; public stocks, stocks in moneyed¹ corporations, and such portion of the capital of incorporated companies, liable to taxation on their capital, as shall not be invested in real estate. [No. of ¶ changed by '01 ch. 490]

§ 3 Property liable to taxation. All real property within this state, and all personal property situated or owned within this state, is taxable unless exempt from taxation by law.

§ 4 Exemption from taxation. The following property shall be exempt from taxation: . . .

7 The real property of a corporation or association organized exclusively for the moral or mental improvement of men or women, or for religious, Bible, tract, charitable, benevolent, missionary, hospital, infirmary, educational, scientific, literary, library, patriotic, historical or cemetery purposes, or for the enforcement of laws relating to children or animals, or for two or more such purposes, and used exclusively for carrying out thereupon one or more of such purposes; and the personal property of any such corporation shall be exempt from taxation. But no such corporation or association shall be entitled to any such exemption if any officer, member or employee thereof shall receive or may be lawfully entitled to receive any pecuniary profit from the operations thereof except reasonable compensation for services in effecting one or more of such purposes, or as proper beneficiaries of its strictly charitable purposes; or if the organization thereof, for any such avowed purpose be a guise or pretense for directly or indirectly making any other pecuniary profit for such corporation or association, or for any of its members or employees, or if it be not in good faith organized or conducted exclusively for one or more of such purposes. The real property of any such corporation or association entitled to such exemption held by it exclusively for one or more of such purposes and from which no rents, profits or income are derived, shall be so exempt, though not in actual use therefor by reason of the absence of suitable buildings or improvements thereon, if the construction of such buildings or improvements is in progress, or is in good faith contemplated by such corporation or association. The real property of any such corporation not so used exclusively for carrying out thereupon one or more of such purposes, but leased or otherwise used for other purposes, shall not be exempt, but if a portion only of any lot or building of any such corporation or association is used exclusively for carrying out thereupon one or more such purposes of any such corporation or association, then such lot or building shall be so exempt only to the extent of the value of the portion so used, and the remaining or other portion to the extent of the value of such remaining or other portion shall be subject to taxation; provided, however, that a lot or building owned, and actually used for hospital purposes, by a free public hospital, depending for maintenance and support upon voluntary charity shall not be taxed as to a portion thereof leased or otherwise used for the purposes of income, when such income is necessary for, and is actually applied to, the maintenance and support of such hospital. Property held by any officer of a religious denomination shall be entitled to the same exemptions, subject to the same conditions and exceptions, as property held by a religious corporation. [As amended by '97 ch. 371]

8 Real property of an incorporated association of present or former volunteer firemen actually and exclusively used and occupied by such corporation and not exceeding in value $15,000.

9 All dwelling-houses and lots of religious corporations while actually used by the officiating clergyman thereof, but the total amount of such exemption to any one religious corporation shall not exceed $2,000. Such exemption shall be in addition to that provided by subdivision 7 of this section.

10 The real property of an agricultural society permanently used by it for exhibition grounds. . .

12 All vessels registered at any port in this state and owned by an American citizen, or association, or by any corporation, incorporated under the laws of the state of New York, engaged in ocean commerce between any port in the United States and any foreign port, are exempted from all taxation in this state, for state and local purposes; and all such corporations, all of whose vessels are employed between foreign ports and ports in the United States, are exempted from all taxation in this state, for state and local purposes, upon their capital stock, franchises and earnings, until and including Dec. 31, 1922.

13 A bond, mortgage, note, contract, account or other demand, belonging to any person not a resident of this state, sent to or deposited in this state for collection; the products of another state, owned by a nonresident of this state and consigned to his agent in this state for sale on commission for the benefit of the owner; moneys of a nonresident of this state, under the control or in the possession of his agent in this state, when transmitted to such agent for the purpose of investment or otherwise.

14 The deposits in any bank for savings which are due depositors, the accumulations in any domestic life insurance corporation, held for the exclusive benefit of the insured, other than real estate and stocks, now liable for taxation; the accumulations of any incorporated cooperative loan association upon the shares of such association held by any person; and personal property of any corporation, person, company or association transacting the business of fire, casualty or surety insurance in this state equal in value to the unearned premiums required by the laws of this state, or the regulations of its insurance department, to be charged as a liability. [As amended by '01 ch. 618]

15 Moneys collected in the course of the business of any corporation, association or society, doing a life or casualty insurance business or both, upon the cooperative or assessment plan, and which are to be used for the payment of assessments, or for death losses or for benefits to disabled members.

16 The owner or holder of stock in an incorporated company liable to taxation on its capital, shall not be taxed as an individual for such stock.

17 The personal property in excess of $100,000 of a mutual life insurance corporation incorporated in this state before April 10, 1849.

§ 6 No deduction allowed for indebtedness fraudulently contracted. No deduction shall be allowed in the assessment of personal property by reason of the indebtedness of the owner contracted or incurred in the purchase of nontaxable property or securities owned by him or held for his benefit, nor for or on account of any indirect liability as surety, guarantor, indorser or otherwise, nor for or on account of any debt or liability contracted or incurred for the purpose of evading taxation.

Debt incurred in purchase of good will. Indebtedness incurred by a corporation for the purchase of the good will of a business can not be deducted from the value of its taxable personal property, under § 6 of the tax law, which prohibits the deduction of indebtedness incurred in the purchase of nontaxable property, since good will, though it constitutes property, is not taxable as such for general town, county, or municipal purposes. [41 App. div. 617]

§ 7 When property of nonresidents is taxable. Nonresidents of the state doing business in the state, either as principals or partners, shall be taxed on the capital invested in such business, as personal property, at the place where such business is carried on, to the same extent as if they were residents of the state.

Foreign corporations. Deduction of debts. Foreign corporations are included within the terms of '55 ch. 37, subjecting nonresidents doing business in this state to assessment and taxation on all sums invested in such business. A person or corporation liable to assessment and taxation under this act is not entitled to a deduction of debts. [141 N. Y. 118]

When a foreign corporation doing business in this state purchases property here for its business and pays cash for a portion of it and promises to pay the balance at a future day, or pays no cash but promises to pay in the future, the amount still due upon the property is to be deducted from the value of the property, to ascertain the "sums invested" in this state, in applying the provision of '55 ch. 37, that all nonresident persons and associations doing business in the state of New York "shall be assessed and taxed on all sums invested in any manner in said business the same as if they were residents of this state." [141 N. Y. 118, limited; 147 N. Y. 31]

§ 11 Place of taxation of property of corporations. The real estate of all incorporated companies liable to taxation, shall be assessed in the tax district in which the same shall lie, in the same manner as the real estate of individuals. All the personal estate of every incorporated company liable to taxation on its capital shall be assessed in the tax district where the principal office or place for transacting the financial concerns of the company shall be, or if such company have no principal office, or place for transacting its financial concerns, then in the tax district where the operations of such company shall be carried on. In the case of toll bridges, the company owning such bridge shall be assessed in the tax district in which the tolls are collected; and where the tolls of any bridge, turnpike, or canal company are collected in several tax districts, the company shall be assessed in the tax district in which the treasurer or other officer authorized to pay the last preceding dividend resides.

§ 12 Taxation of corporate stock. The capital stock of every company liable to taxation, except such part of it as shall have been excepted in the assessment roll or shall be exempt by law, together with its surplus profits or reserve funds exceeding 10% of its capital, after deducting the assessed value of its real estate, and all shares of stock in other corporations actually owned by such company which are taxable upon their capital stock under the laws of this state, shall be assessed at its actual value.

Capital stock defined. Basis of valuation. Franchise exempt. The property of every stock company consists of three things, its capital, existing in money or property, its surplus, if any, and its franchise. These which are several in the ownership of the company are united in the ownership of the shareholders, and the share stock or capital stock as owned by the shareholders covers all three. The phrase "capital stock" in the provision of the act of 1857 in relation to taxing incorporated companies (57 ch. 456 § 3), means not the share stock, but the capital owned by the corporation, the fund required to be paid in and kept intact as the basis of the business enterprise. In taxing corporations, therefore, under said act the subject of valuation and assessment is never the share stock, but always the company's capital and surplus which should be assessed at its actual value when that is known or can be ascertained. [126 N. Y. 433]

It is not the value of the capital stock, but the value of the capital that is to be ascertained. To ascertain the capital subject to taxation requires the valuation of the whole property owned by the corporation, whether real or personal or both, and from the aggregate is to be deducted the assessed value of the real estate, and the balance is the capital subject to assessment, after deducting debts and any exemptions allowed by law. The franchises of the corporation are not part of its taxable capital. [7 App. div. 27, at 31]

It is the actual value of its capital stock and not the market value of its share stock that is to be assessed; in other words, it is its actual tangible personal property and not its franchises. Other statutes provide for the taxing of its real estate and franchises. [146 N. Y. 304, at 312]

Deduction of debts. The provision for the assessment of capital stock of a corporation at its actual value made by § 12 of the tax law does not conflict with or prohibit a deduction of the company's indebtedness in determining such value. [161 N. Y. 195]

It is not to be presumed that the indebtedness of a corporation represents property to the amount of such indebtedness in addition to that represented by its capital stock. In making an assessment under said act of 1857 the earnings of the corporation may be considered by the assessors. Where, therefore, it appeared that the earnings of the corporation enabled it to pay its running expenses, necessary repairs and interest on its indebtedness, and to declare a dividend of 6% and still have a surplus, held, it was proper to assume that its capital stock remains unimpaired, and that there are surplus assets sufficient to pay its outstanding indebtedness. [146 N. Y. 304]

§ 13 Stockholders of bank taxable on shares. The stockholders of every bank or banking association organized under the authority of this state, or of the United States, shall be assessed and taxed on the value of their shares of stock therein; said shares shall be included in the valuation of the personal property of such stockholders in the assessment of taxes in the tax district where such bank or banking association is located, and not elsewhere, whether the said stockholders reside in said tax district or not.

§ 14 Place of taxation of individual bank capital. Every individual banker shall be taxable upon the amount of capital invested in his banking business in the tax district where the place of such business is located and shall, for that purpose, be deemed a resident of such tax district.

§ 20 Ascertaining facts for assessment. The assessors in each tax district may, by mutual agreement, divide it into convenient assessment districts not exceeding the number of such assessors. The assessors in each tax district shall annually between May 1 and July 1, ascertain by diligent inquiry all the property and the names of all the persons taxable therein, except that in towns containing an incorporated village having a population of more than 10,000 inhabitants according to the last state census the assessors may have from April 15 until July 1 to ascertain the taxable property and names of persons taxable in such towns. [As amended by '00 ch. 512]

§ 21 Preparation of assessment roll. They shall prepare an assessment roll containing six separate columns and shall, according to the best information in their power, set down:

1 In the first column the names of all the taxable persons in the tax district.

2 In the second column the quantity of real property taxable to each person with a statement thereof in such form as the commissioners of taxes shall prescribe.

3 In the third column the full value of such real property.

4 In the fourth column the full value of all the taxable personal property owned by each person respectively after deducting the just debts owing by him.

5 In the fifth column the value of taxable rents reserved and chargeable upon lands within the tax district, estimated at a principal sum, the interest of which, at the legal rate per annum, shall produce a sum equal to such annual rents and if payable in any other thing except money the value of the rents in money to be ascertained by them and the value of each rent assessed separately, and if the name of the person entitled to receive the rent assessed can not be ascertained by the assessors, it shall be assessed against the tenant in possession of the real property upon which the rents are chargeable.

6 In the sixth column the value of the special franchise as fixed by the state board of tax commissioners. [As amended by '99 ch. 712]

Deduction of debts. The word "person" as mentioned in § 21 and 37 of the tax law, providing for deduction of debts from personal property, includes a corporation by virtue of the statutory construction law, § 5, and a corporation is entitled, therefore, to have its debts deducted from the value of property, in an assessment of its personal property for town, county or municipal purposes. [161 N. Y. 195]

Report of bank. List of stockholders. § 23 The chief fiscal officer of every bank or banking association organized under the authority of this state, or of the United States, shall, on or before the first day of July, in each year, furnish the assessors of the tax district in which its principal office is located a statement under oath of the condition of such bank or banking association on the first day of June next preceding, stating the amount of its authorized capital stock, the number of shares and the par value of the shares thereof, the amount of stock paid in, the amount of its surplus and of its undivided profits, if any, a complete list of the names and residences of its stockholders and the number of shares held by each. In case of neglect or refusal on the part of any bank or banking association to report as herein prescribed, or to make other or further reports as may be required such bank or banking association shall forfeit the sum of $100 for each failure, and the additional sum of $10 for each day such failure continues, and an action therefor shall be prosecuted by the county treasurer of the county in which such bank or banking association so neglecting or refusing to report is located, and in the city of New York by the receiver of taxes thereof. There shall, in addition to such report, be kept in the office of every such bank or banking association a full and correct list of the names and residences of all stockholders therein, and of the number of shares held by each, and such lists shall be subject to the inspection of the assessors at all times. The list of stockholders furnished by such bank or banking association shall be deemed to contain the names of the owners of such shares as are set opposite them, respectively, for the purpose of assessment and taxation. [As amended by '01 ch. 550]

Taxation of bank shares. § 24 In assessing the shares of stock of banks or banking associations organized under the authority of this state or the United States, the assessment and taxation shall not be at a greater rate than is made or assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of this state. The value of each share of stock of each bank and banking association shall be ascertained and fixed by adding together the amount of the capital stock, surplus, and undivided profits of such bank or banking association and by dividing the result by the number of outstanding shares of such bank or banking association. The rate of tax upon the shares of stock of banks and banking associations shall be 1% upon the value thereof, as ascertained and fixed in the manner hereinbefore provided, and the owners of the stock of banks and banking associations shall be entitled to no deduction from the taxable value of their shares because of the personal indebtedness of such owners, or for any other reason whatsoever. Complaints in relation to the assessments of the shares of stock of banks and banking associations made under the provisions of this act shall be heard and determined as provided in article 2, § 36, of the tax law. The said tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes whatsoever for state, county or local purposes upon the said shares of stock, and the mortgages, judgments and other choses in action and personal property held or owned by banks and banking associations, the value of which enters into the value of said shares of stock, shall also be exempt from all other state, county or local taxation. The tax herein imposed shall be levied in the following manner: The board of supervisors of the several counties shall, on or before the 15th day of December in each year, ascertain from an inspection of the assessment rolls in their respective counties, the number of shares of stock of banks and banking associations in each town, city, village, school and other tax district, in their several counties, respectively, in which such shares of stock are taxable, the names of the banks issuing the same, respectively, and the assessed value of such shares, as ascertained in the manner provided in this act and entered upon the said assessment rolls, and shall forthwith mail to the president or cashier of each of said banks or banking associations a statement setting forth the amount of its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits, the number of outstanding shares thereof, the value of each share of stock taxable in said county, as ascertained in the manner herein provided, and the aggregate amount of tax to be collected and paid by such bank or banking association, under the provisions of this act. A certified copy of each of said statements shall be sent to the county treasurer. It shall be the duty of every bank or banking association to collect the tax due upon its shares of stock from the several owners of such shares, and to pay the same to the treasurer of the county wherein said bank or banking association is located, and in the city of New York to the receiver of taxes thereof, within fifteen days after the receipt by it of the statement of assessment and tax herein provided for; and any bank or banking association failing to pay the said tax as herein provided shall be liable by way of penalty for the gross amount of the taxes due from all the owners of the shares of stock, and for an additional amount of $100 for every day of delay in the payment of said tax. Every bank or banking association so paying the taxes due upon the shares of its stock shall have a lien on the shares of stock and on all property of the several share owners in its hands, or which may at any time come into its hands, for reimbursement of the taxes so paid on account of the several shareholders, with legal interest; and such lien may be enforced in any appropriate manner. The tax hereby imposed shall be distributed in the following manner: The board of supervisors of the several counties shall ascertain the tax rate of each of the several town, city, village, school and other tax districts in their counties, respectively, in which the shares of stock of banks and banking associations shall be taxable, which tax rates shall include the proportion of state and county taxes levied in such districts, respectively, for the year for which the tax is imposed, and the proportion of the tax on bank stock to which each of said districts shall be respectively entitled shall be ascertained by taking such proportion of the tax upon the shares of stock of banks and banking associations, taxable in such districts, respectively, under the provisions of this act as the tax rate of such tax district shall bear to the aggregate tax rates of all the tax districts in which said shares of stock shall be taxable. The said board of supervisors shall issue their warrant or order to the county treasurer on or before the 15th day of December in each year, setting forth the number of shares of bank stock taxable in each town, city, village, school and other tax district in said county, in which said shares of stock shall be taxable, the tax rate of each of said tax districts for said year, the proportion of the tax imposed by this act to which each of said tax districts is entitled, under the provisions hereof, and commanding him to collect the same, and to pay to the proper officer in each of such districts the proportion of such tax to which it is entitled under the provisions of this act. The said county treasurer shall have the same powers to enforce the collection and payment of said tax as are possessed by the officers now charged by law with the collection of taxes, and the said county treasurer shall be entitled to a commission of 1% for collecting and paying out said moneys, which commission shall be deducted from the gross amount of said tax before the same is distributed. In issuing their warrants to the collectors of taxes, the boards of supervisors shall omit therefrom assessments of and taxes upon the shares of stock of banks and banking associations. All assessment of the shares of stock of banks and banking associations made on or after January 1, 1901, and prior to the passage of this act, shall be null and void, and new assessments thereof shall be made agreeably to the provisions of this act. Provided, that in the city of New York the statement of bank assessment and tax herein provided for shall be made by the board of tax commissioners of said city, on or before the 15th day of December in each year, and by them forthwith mailed to the respective banks and banking associations located in said city, and a certified copy thereof sent to the receiver of taxes of said city. The tax shall be paid by the respective banks in said city to the said receiver of taxes within 15 days after the receipt of said statement, and said tax shall be collected by the said receiver of taxes and shall be by him paid into the treasury of said city to the credit of the general fund thereof. This act is not to be construed as an exemption of the real estate of banks or banking associations from taxation. [As amended by '01 ch. 550]

Validity of denial of right to deduct personal indebtedness. The section as amended has not been passed on by the courts but the decision of the United States supreme court relative to a similar law of 1866 is as follows:

The provisions of the statute of 1866 of New York, providing for the assessment and taxation of the stockholders of a bank or banking association on the value of their shares of stock, are in conflict with an act of congress, so far as they do not permit a stockholder of a national bank to deduct the amount of his just debts from the assessed value of his stock, while by the laws of the state the owner of all other personal taxable property can deduct such debts from its value. The statute is not, however, rendered void by reason of such conflict, nor is the assessment thereunder of the shares of stock in national banks of no effect. If the stockholder has no debts to deduct, the prescribed mode of assessment is valid, and he can not recover the tax paid pursuant thereto; if he has debts, the assessment excluding them from computation is voidable, but the assessing officers act within their authority until they are duly notified that he is entitled to deduct such debts. If the assessing officers proceed after such notice, and act in violation of the act of congress, he may take the requisite steps to secure that deduction, and, when secured, the residue of the statute remains valid. [105 U. S. 305]

§ 25 Individual banker, how assessed. Every individual banker doing business under the laws of this state, must report before the 15th day of June under oath to the assessors of the tax district in which any of the capital invested in such banking business is taxable, the amount of capital invested in such banking business in such tax district on the first day of June preceding. Such capital shall be assessed as personal property to the banker in whose name such business is carried on.

§ 26 Notice of assessment to bank or banking association. The assessors of every tax district shall within 10 days after they have completed the assessment of the stock of a bank or banking association, give written notice to such bank or banking association of such assessment of the shares of its respective shareholders and no personal or other notice to such shareholders of such assessment is required.

§ 27 Reports of corporations. The president or other proper officer of every moneyed or stock corporation deriving an income or profit from its capital or otherwise shall, on or before June 15th, deliver to one of the assessors of the tax district in which the company is liable to be taxed and, if such tax district is in a county embracing a portion of the forest preserve, to the controller of the state, a written statement specifying:

1 The real property, if any, owned by such company, the tax district in which the same is situated and, unless a railroad corporation, the sums actually paid therefor.

2 The capital stock actually paid in and secured to be paid in excepting therefrom the sums paid for real property and the amount of such capital stock held by the state and by any incorporated literary or charitable institution, and

3 The tax district in which the principal office of the company is situated or in case it has no principal office, the tax district in which its operations are carried on.

Such statement shall be verified by the officer making the same to the effect that it is in all respects just and true. If such statement is not made within 20 days after the 15th day of June, or is insufficient, evasive or defective, the assessors may compel the corporation to make a proper statement by mandamus.

§ 28 Penalty for omission to make statement. In case of neglect to furnish such statements within 30 days after the time above provided, the company so neglecting shall forfeit to the people of this state for each statement so omitted to be furnished, the sum of $250, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to prosecute for such penalty upon information which shall be furnished him by the controller. Upon such statement being furnished and the costs of the suit being paid, the controller, if he shall be satisfied that such omission was not wilful, may, in his discretion, discontinue such suit.

§ 31 Corporations, how assessed. The assessors shall assess corporations liable to taxation in their respective tax districts upon their assessment rolls in the following manner:

1 In the first column the name of each corporation, and under its name the amount of its capital stock paid in and secured to be paid in; the amount paid by it for real property then owned by it wherever situated; the amount of all surplus profits or reserve funds exceeding 10% of their capital, after deducting therefrom the amount of said real property and the amount of its stock, if any, belonging to the state and to incorporated literary and charitable institutions.

2 In the second column the quantity of real property except special franchises owned by such corporation and situated within their tax district.

3 In the third column the actual value of such real property, except special franchises.

4 In the fourth column the amount of the capital stock paid in and secured to be paid in, and of all of such surplus profits or reserve funds as aforesaid, after deducting the sums paid out for all the real estate of the company, wherever the same may be situated, and then belonging to it, and the amount of stock, if any, belonging to the people of the state and to incorporated literary and charitable institutions.

5 In the fifth column the value of any special franchise owned by it as fixed by the state board of tax commissioners. [As amended by '99 ch. 712]

§ 31 Superseded by § 12 The provision reenacted in § 31 of the tax law requiring an assessment of the amount of the capital stock of a corporation "paid in or secured to be paid in" is superseded by the provision reenacted in § 12, which requires the capital stock to be assessed at its actual value. [161 N. Y. 196]

§ 37 Correction and verification of tax roll. When the assessors, or a majority of them, shall have completed their roll, they shall severally appear before any officer of their county, authorized by law to administer oaths, and shall severally make and subscribe before such officer an oath in the following form: "We, the undersigned, do severally depose and swear that we have set down in the foregoing assessment roll all the real estate situated in the tax district in which we are assessors, according to our best information; and that, with the exception of those cases in which the value of the said real estate has been changed by reason of proof produced before us, and with the exception of those cases in which the value of any special franchise has been fixed by the state board of tax commissioners, we have estimated the value of the said real estate at the sums which a majority of the assessors have decided to be the full value thereof; and, also, that the said assessment roll contains a true statement of the aggregate amount of the taxable personal estate of each and every person named in such roll over and above the amount of debts due from such persons, respectively, and excluding such stocks as are otherwise taxable, and such other property as is exempt by law from taxation, at the full value thereof, according to our best judgment and belief," which oath shall be written or printed on said roll, signed by the assessors and certified by the officer. [As amended by '99 ch. 712]

§ 39 Assessors to apportion valuation of railroad, telegraph, telephone, or pipe line companies between school districts. The assessors of each town in which a railroad, telegraph, telephone or pipe line company is assessed upon property lying in more than one school district therein, shall, within 15 days after the final completion of the roll, apportion the assessed valuation of the property of each of such corporations among such school districts. Such apportionment shall be signed by the assessors or a majority of them, and be filed with the town clerk within five days thereafter, and thereupon the valuation so fixed shall become the valuation of such property in such school district for the purpose of taxation. In case of failure of the assessors to act, the supervisor of the town shall make such apportionment on request of either the trustees of any school district or of the corporation assessed. The town clerk shall furnish the trustees a certified statement of the valuations apportioned to their respective districts. In case of any alteration in any school district affecting the valuation of such property, the officer making the same shall fix and determine the valuations in the districts affected for the current year.

§ 42 Assessment of special franchises. The state board of tax commissioners shall annually fix and determine the valuation of each special franchise subject to assessment in each city, town, or tax district. After the time fixed for hearing complaints the tax commissioners shall finally determine the valuation of the special franchises, and shall file with the clerk of the city or town in which said special franchise is assessed a written statement duly certified by the secretary of the board of the valuation of each special franchise assessed therein as finally fixed and de-terminated by said board; such statement of valuation shall be filed with the town clerk of the respective towns within 30 days next preceding the first day of July in each year; and with the clerks of cities of the state within 30 days before the date set opposite the name of each city in the following schedule. In the city of New York such statement shall be filed with the department of taxes and assessments.

Each city or town clerk shall, within five days after the receipt by him of the statement of assessment of a special franchise by the state board, deliver a copy of such statement certified by him to the assessors or other officers charged with the duty of making local assessments in each tax district in said city or town and to the assessors of villages and commissioners of highways within their respective towns and villages. The valuations of every special franchise as so fixed by the state board shall be entered by the assessors or other officers in the proper column of the assessment roll before the final revision and certification of such roll by them, and become part thereof with the same force and effect as if such assessment had been originally made by such assessor or other officer. If a special franchise assessed in a town is wholly within a village, the valuation fixed by the state board for the town shall also be the valuation for the village. If a part only of such special franchise is in a village, or is in a village situated in more than one tax district, it shall be the duty of the village assessors to ascertain and determine what portion of the valuation of such franchise, as the same has been fixed by the state board, shall be placed upon the tax roll for village purposes. The valuation apportioned to the town shall be the assessed valuation for highway purposes, and in case part of such special franchise shall be assessed in a village and part thereof in a town outside a village, the commissioners of highways of the town and village shall meet on the third Tuesday in August in each year and apportion the valuation of such special franchises between such town outside the village and such village for highway purposes. In case of disagreement between them the decision of the supervisor of the town shall be final. The town assessors shall make an apportionment among school districts at the time and in the manner required by section thirty-nine of this chapter. The valuation so fixed by the state board shall be the assessed valuation on which all taxes based on such special franchise in the city, town or village for state, municipal, school or highway purposes shall be levied during the next ensuing year. It shall not be necessary for the state board of tax commissioners to give notice to any person, copartnership, association or corporation of the valuation of a special franchise located in any village for village purposes except in a case where such valuation is required to be made for such village purposes by the state board of tax commissioners. The assessors or other taxing officer, or other local officer in any city, town or village, or any state or county officer, shall on demand furnish to the state board of tax commissioners any information required by such board for the purpose of determining the value of a special franchise. [Added by '99 ch. 712; amended '00 ch. 254]

Street railways. Percentage of gross receipts to be paid in cities or villages; report of officers. Every corporation building or operating a railroad or branch or extension thereof, under the provisions of this article, or of chapter 252 of the laws of 1884, within any city of the state having a population of 1,200,000 or more, shall, for and during the first five years after the commencement of the operation of any portion of its railroad annually, on November 1, pay into the treasury of the city in which its road is located, to the credit of the sinking fund thereof, 3% of its gross receipts for and during the year ending Sep. 30 next preceding; and after the expiration of such five years make a like annual payment into the treasury of the city to the credit of the same fund, of 5% of its gross receipts. If a street surface railroad corporation existing and operating any such railroad in any such city on May 6, 1884, shall have thereafter extended its tracks or constructed branches therefrom, and shall operate such branches or extensions under the provisions of chapter 252 of the laws of 1884, or of this article, such corporation shall pay such percentages only upon such portion of its gross receipts as shall bear the same proportion to its whole gross receipts as the length of such extension or branches shall bear to the entire length of its line. In any other incorporated city or village the local authorities shall have the right to require, as a condition to their consent to the construction, operation or extension of a railroad under the provisions of this article, the payment annually of such percentage of gross receipts, not exceeding 3%, into the treasury of the city or village as they may deem proper. In case of extension the amount to be paid shall be ascertained in the manner heretofore provided. The corporation failing to pay such percentage on its gross earnings shall, after November 1, pay in addition thereto 5% a month on such percentage until paid. The president and treasurer of any corporation required by the provisions of this article to make a payment annually upon its gross receipts shall, on or before November 1 in each year make a verified report to the controller or chief fiscal officer of the city of the gross amount of its receipts for the year ending September 30, next preceding, and the books of such corporation shall be open to inspection and examination by such controller or officer, or his duly appointed agent, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of its report as to its gross receipts. The corporate rights, privileges and franchises acquired under this article or such chapter by any corporation, which shall fail to comply with all the provisions of this section, shall be forfeited to the people of the state, and upon judgment of forfeiture rendered in an action brought in the name of the people by the attorney-general shall cease and determine. ['90 ch. 563 § 95 as amended by '92 ch. 676]

§ 43 Report to state board of tax commissioners. Every person, copartnership, association or corporation subject to taxation on a special franchise, shall, within 30 days after this section takes effect, or within 30 days after such special franchise is acquired, make a written report to the state board of tax commissioners containing a full description of every special franchise possessed or enjoyed by such person, copartnership, association or corporation, a copy of the special law, grant, ordinance, or contract under which the same is held, or if possessed or enjoyed under a general law, a reference to such law, a statement of any condition, obligation or burden imposed upon such special franchise, or under which the same is enjoyed, together with any other information relating to the value of such special franchise, required by the state board. The state board of tax commissioners may from time to time require a further or supplemental report from any such person, copartnership, association or corporation, containing information and data upon such matters as it may specify. Every report required by this section shall have annexed thereto the affidavit of the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer of the association or corporation, or one of the persons or one of the members of the copartnership making the same, to the effect that the statements contained therein are true. Such board may prepare blanks to be used in making the reports required by this section. Every person, copartnership, association or corporation failing to make the report required by this section, or failing to make any special report required by the state board of tax commissioners within a reasonable time specified by it, shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of $100 for every such failure and the additional sum of $10 for each day that such failure continues, and shall not be entitled to review the assessment by certiorari, as provided by § 45 of this chapter. [Added by '99 ch. 712]

§ 44 Hearing on special franchise assessment. On making an assessment of a special franchise, the state board of tax commissioners shall immediately give notice in writing to the person, copartnership, association or corporation affected, stating in substance that such assessment has been made, the total valuation of such special franchise, and the valuation thereof in each city, town, village or tax district; and that the board will meet at its office in the city of Albany on a day specified in such notice, which must not be less than 20 nor more than 30 days from the date of the notice, to hear and determine any complaint concerning such assessment. Such notice must be served at least 10 days before the day fixed for the hearing; and it may be served on a copartnership, association or corporation, by mailing a copy thereof to it at its principal office or place of business and on a person, either personally or by mailing it to him at his place of business or last known place of residence. § 36 of this chapter applies so far as practicable to a hearing by the state board of tax commissioners under this section. [Added by '99 ch. 712]

§ 45 Certiorari to review assessment. An assessment of a special franchise by the state board of tax commissioners may be reviewed in the manner prescribed by article 11 of this chapter, and that article applies so far as practicable to such an assessment, in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the assessment had been made by local assessors; a petition for a writ of certiorari to review the assessment must be presented within 15 days after the completion and filing of the assessment roll, and the first posting or publication of the notice thereof as required by law. Such writ must run to and be answered by said state board of tax commissioners and no writ of certiorari to renew any assessment of a special franchise shall run to any other board or officer unless otherwise directed by the court or judge granting the writ. An adjudication made in the proceeding instituted by such writ of certiorari shall be binding upon the local assessors and any ministerial officer who performs any duty in the collection of said assessment in the same manner as though said local assessors or officers had been parties to the proceeding. The state board of tax commissioners on filing with the city, town or village clerk a statement of the valuation of a special franchise, shall give to the person, copartnership, association or corporation affected written notice that such statement has been filed, and such notice may be served on a copartnership, association or corporation by mailing a copy thereof to it at its principal office or place of business, and on a person either personally or by mailing it to him at his place of business or last known place of residence. [Added by '99 ch. 712; amended by '00 ch. 254]

§ 46 Deduction from special franchise tax for local purposes. If, when the tax assessed on any special franchise is due and payable under the provisions of law applicable to the city, town or village in which the tangible property is located, it shall appear that the person, copartnership, association or corporation affected has paid to such city, town or village for its exclusive use within the next preceding year, under any agreement therefor, or under any statute requiring the same, any sum based upon a percentage of gross earnings, or any other income, or any license fee, or any sum of money on account of such special franchise, granted to or possessed by such person, copartnership, association, or corporation, which payment was in the nature of a tax, all amounts so paid for the exclusive use of such city, town or village except money paid or expended for paving or repairing of pavement of any street, highway or public place, shall be deducted from any tax based on the assessment made by the state board of tax commissioners for city, town or village purposes, but not otherwise; and the remainder shall be the tax on such special franchise payable for city, town or village purposes. The chamberlain or treasurer of a city, the treasurer of a village, the supervisor of a town, or other officer to whom any sum is paid for which a person, copartnership, association, or corporation is entitled to credit as provided in this section, shall, not less than five nor more than 20 days before a tax on a special franchise is payable, make and deliver to the collector or receiver of taxes or other officer authorized to receive taxes for such city, town or village, his certificate showing the several amounts which have been paid during the year ending on the day of the date of the certificate. On the receipt of such certificate the collector, receiver or other officer shall immediately credit on the tax roll to the person, copartnership, association or corporation affected the amount stated in such certificate, on any tax levied against such person, copartnership, association or corporation on an assessment of a special franchise for city, town or village purposes only, but no credit shall be given on account of such payment or certificate in any other year, nor for a greater sum than the amount of the special franchise tax for city, town or village purposes, for the current year; and he shall collect and receive the balance, if any, of such tax as required by law. [Added by '99 ch. 712]

§ 47 Special franchise tax not to affect other tax. The imposition or payment of a special franchise tax as provided in this chapter shall not relieve any association, copartnership or corporation from the payment of any organization tax or franchise tax or any other tax otherwise imposed by article nine of this chapter, or by any other provision of law; but tangible property subject to a special franchise tax situated in, upon, under or above any street, highway, public place or public waters, as described in subdivision three of section two shall not be taxable except upon the assessment made as herein provided by the state board of tax commissioners. [Added by '99 ch. 712]

§ 57 Statement of taxes upon certain corporations by clerk of supervisors. The clerk of each board of supervisors shall, within five days after the tax warrant is completed, deliver to the county treasurer, a statement showing the names, valuation of property and the amount of tax of every railroad corporation and telegraph, telephone and electric light line in each tax district in the county, and on refusal or neglect so to do, shall forfeit to the county the sum of $1000, to be sued for by the district attorney in the name of the county.

§ 58 Statement of valuation to be forwarded to controller. The clerk of each board of supervisors shall, on or before the second Monday in December, transmit to the controller, in the form to be prescribed by such controller, a certificate or return of the aggregate assessed and equalized valuation of the real and personal estate in each tax district as the valuation of such real estate has been corrected by such board, and the amount of tax assessed thereon for town, city, school, county and state purposes. Also the names of the several incorporated companies liable to taxation in such county, the nature of their business, the amount of the capital stock paid in and secured to be paid in by each, the amount of real and personal property of each as put down by the assessors, or by it, the amount of taxes assessed on each, and the amount of personal property on which each such corporation is exempt on account of the payment of state taxes on its capital.

In the city of New York such report shall be made by the clerk or the board of aldermen, and for the purpose of making such report he may require any department or board of such city to furnish the necessary information.

§ 70 Notice by collector. Every collector, upon receiving a tax roll and warrant, shall forthwith cause notice of the reception thereof to be posted in five conspicuous places in the tax district, specifying one or more convenient places in such tax district, where he will attend from 9 o'clock in the forenoon until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at least three days, and if in a city, at least five days, in each week for 30 days from the date of the notice, which shall be the date of the posting or first publication thereof, which days shall be specified in such notice, for the purpose of receiving the taxes assessed upon such roll. The collector shall attend accordingly, and any person may pay his taxes to such collector at the time and place so designated, or at any other time or place. In a city, the notice in addition to being posted shall be published once in each week, for two weeks successively, in a newspaper published in such city. On the written demand of a nonresident owner of real property included in such tax roll, and the payment by such owner to the collector of the sum of 25 cents, the collector shall within 24 hours after the receipt of such demand mail in a postpaid envelop directed to such nonresident owner, to the orders to be furnished in such demand, a statement of the amount of taxes assessed against such property with a notice of the dates and places fixed by him for receiving taxes. [As amended by '99 ch. 342]

for the payment of such tax, and the fees and expenses of collection; and no claim of property to be made thereto by any other person shall be available to prevent such sale. Public notice of the time and place of sale of the property to be sold shall be given by posting the same in at least three public places in the tax district where the sale is to be made, at least six days previous thereto. If the proceeds of such sale shall be more than the amount of such tax, the fees of the collection and the expenses of the sale, the surplus shall be paid to the person against whom the tax was assessed. If any other person shall claim the surplus, on the ground that the property sold belonged to him, and such claim be admitted by the person for the payment of whose tax the sale was made, such surplus shall be paid to such other person. If such claim be contested by the person for the payment of whose tax the property was sold, such surplus shall be paid over by the collector to the supervisor of the town, who shall retain the same until the rights of the parties thereto shall be determined by due course of law, or by agreement in writing made by them and filed with the supervisor.

§ 72 Collection of taxes assessed against stocks in banks and banking associations. Every bank or banking association shall retain any dividend until the delivery to the collector of the tax roll and warrant of the current year, and within 10 days after such delivery, shall pay to such collector so much of such dividend as may be necessary to pay any unpaid taxes assessed on the stock upon which such dividend is declared. In case the owner of such stock resides in a place other than where the bank or banking association is located, the same power may be exercised in collecting the tax so assessed as is given in case a person has removed from a tax district in which the assessment was made. The tax so assessed shall be and remain a lien on the shares of stock against which it is assessed till the payment of such tax, and if the stock is transferred it shall be subject to such lien. The collector or county treasurer may foreclose such lien in any court of record, and collect from the avails of the sale of the stock the tax assessed against the same. In addition thereto, the same remedy may be had for the collection of the tax on such shares as is now provided by law for enforcing payment of personal tax against residents.

§ 73 Payment of taxes by railroad and certain other corporations. Any railroad, telegraph, telephone or electric light company may, within 30 days after receipt of notice by the county treasurer from the clerk of the board of supervisors, pay its tax, with 1% fees, to the county treasurer, who shall credit the same with such fees to the collector of the tax district, unless otherwise required by law. If not so paid the county treasurer shall notify the collector of the tax district where it is due, and he shall then proceed to collect under his warrant. Until such notice from the treasurer the collector shall not enforce payment of such taxes, but may receive the same, with the fees allowed by law, at any time.

§ 74 Enforcement of tax against telegraph, telephone and electric-light lines. Collection of tax against a telegraph, telephone or electric-light line may be enforced by sale of the instruments and batteries connected with such line, and in case there is not sufficient personal property, together with such instruments and batteries, to pay such tax and the percentage due the collector, he shall return a statement thereof to the county treasurer as other unpaid taxes are returned, and the county treasurer shall proceed to sell such part of the line in the tax district where the tax was levied as may be necessary to satisfy the unpaid taxes and percentage, in the manner now provided by law for the sale of lands on execution, and upon such sale shall execute to the purchaser a conveyance of such part of said line, and the purchaser shall thereupon become the owner thereof. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent collection of such taxes by any procedure now provided by law.

§ 170 State board of tax commissioners. The tax commissioners now in office shall continue in office for the terms for which they were appointed, and they and their successors shall constitute the state board of tax commissioners. On the expiration of their terms the governor shall appoint three commissioners by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to hold office for three years, and so classified that the term of office of one of them shall expire with the 31st day of December in each year, and in case of a vacancy the appointment shall be for the unexpired term. Each commissioner shall receive an annual compensation of $5000, payable monthly, and in addition thereto the expenses actually incurred by him, in the discharge of his official duties, including expenses while attending meetings of the commission. [As amended '00 ch. 94]

§ 180 Organization tax. Every stock corporation incorporated under any law of this state shall pay to the state treasurer a tax of one twentieth of 1% upon the amount of capital stock which the corporation is authorized to have, and a like tax upon any subsequent increase. Provided, that in no case shall such tax be less than $1. Such tax shall be due and payable upon the incorporation of such corporation or upon the increase of its capital stock. Except in the case of a railroad corporation, neither the secretary of state nor county clerk shall file any certificate of incorporation or article of association, or give any certificate to any such corporation or association until he is furnished a receipt for such tax from the state treasurer, and no stock corporation shall have or exercise any corporate franchise or powers, or carry on business in this state until such tax shall have been paid. In case of the consolidation of existing corporations into a corporation, such new corporation shall be required to pay the tax hereinbefore provided for only upon the amount of its capital stock in excess of the aggregate amount of capital stock of said corporations. This section shall not apply to state and national banks or to building, mutual loan, accumulating fund and cooperative associations. A railroad corporation need not pay such tax at the time of filing its certificate of incorporation, but shall pay the same before the railroad commissioners shall grant a certificate, as required by the railroad law, authorizing the construction of the road as proposed in its articles of association, and such certificate shall not be granted by the board of railroad commissioners until it is furnished with a receipt for such tax from the state treasurer. [As amended by '97 ch. 369 and '01 ch. 448]

§ 181 License tax on foreign corporations. Every foreign corporation, except banking corporations, cooperative fraternal insurance companies and building and loan associations, authorized to do business under the general corporation law, shall pay to the state treasurer, for the use of the state, a license fee of one eighth of 1% for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchises or carrying on its business in such corporate or organized capacity in this state, to be computed upon the basis of the capital stock employed by it within this state, during the first year of carrying on its business in this state; and if any year thereafter any such corporation shall employ an increased amount of its capital stock within this state, the same license fee shall be due and payable upon any such increase. The tax imposed by this section on a corporation not heretofore subject to its provisions shall be paid on the first day of December, 1901, to be computed upon the basis of the amount of capital stock employed by it within the state during the year preceding such date, unless on such date such corporation shall not have employed capital within the state for a period of 13 months in which case it shall be paid within the time otherwise provided by this section. No action shall be maintained or recovery had in any of the courts in this state by such foreign corporation without obtaining a receipt for the license fee hereby imposed within 13 months after beginning such business within the state, or if at the time this section takes effect such a corporation has been engaged in business within this state for more than 12 months, without obtaining such receipt within 30 days after such tax is due. [As amended by '01 ch. 558]

§ 182 Franchise tax on corporations. Every corporation, joint stock company or association incorporated, organized or formed under, by or pursuant to law in this state, shall pay to the state treasurer annually, an annual tax to be computed upon the basis of the amount of its capital stock employed within this state and upon each dollar of such amount, at the rate of one quarter of a mill for each 1% of dividends made and declared upon its capital stock during each year ending with the 31st day of October, if the dividends amount to 6 or more than 6% upon the par value of such capital stock. If such dividend or dividends amount to less than 6% on the par value of the capital stock, the tax shall be at the rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ mills upon such portion of the capital stock at par as the amount of capital employed within this state bears to the entire capital of the corporation. If no dividend is made or declared, the tax shall be at the rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ mills upon each dollar of the appraised capital employed within the state. If such corporation, joint stock company or association shall have more than one kind of capital stock, and upon one of such kinds of stock a dividend or dividends amounting to six, or more than 6%, upon the par value thereof, has been made or declared, and upon the other no dividend has been made or declared, or the dividend or dividends made or declared thereon, amount to less than 6% upon the par value thereof, then the tax shall be at the rate of one quarter of a mill for each 1% of dividends made or declared upon the capital stock upon the par value of which the dividend or dividends made or declared amount to 6 or more than 6%, and in addition thereto a tax shall be charged at the rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ mills upon every dollar of the valuation made in accordance with the provisions of this act of the capital stock upon which no dividend was made or declared, or upon the par value of which the dividend or dividends made or declared did not amount to 6%. Every corporation, joint stock company or association organized, incorporated or formed under the laws of any other state or country, shall pay a like tax for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchises or carrying on its business in such corporate or organized capacity in this state, to be computed upon the basis of the capital employed by it within this state.

Valuation of capital stock. The basis for assessing the tax on the capital stock employed in this state of a corporation which has paid no dividends, and of whose stock there have been no sales, during the tax year, is to be arrived at by ascertaining its actual cash value. The actual value of the capital stock of such a corporation is the value of its assets, after deducting its liabilities, and adding to the sum then remaining the value of the good will of the business, including its right to conduct it under its franchise. [154 N. Y. 101]

Where the controller in appraising the capital stock of a railroad company, fixes the valuation at the average price at which the stock sold during the year, he has complied with the statute, and it is not necessary for him to ascertain the "intrinsic" or actual value of the stock in cash, unless such intrinsic value exceeded the market value. [90 Hun 537]

Good will defined. Taxation of good will of a foreign corporation. Good will embraces at least two elements, the advantage of continuing an established business in its old place, and of continuing it under the old style or name. While it is not necessarily altogether local, it is usually to a great extent and must, of necessity, be an incident to a place, an established business or a name known to the trade. The good will of a foreign corporation, acquired and built up in this state and having a market value here, where its business is carried on, and nowhere else, is not exempt from taxation as capital employed within this state, merely because it is intangible. Where a corporation which, although organized in another state, has never done any business, owned any property or had an office there, but which has carried on its business wholly in this state, where all its tangible property is located, has acquired a good will created here and has built up the same by the exercise of its corporate franchises and through the increased value of its tangible property in this state, such good will is properly taxable as capital employed within this state, under § 182 of the tax law. [159 N. Y. 70]

Foreign corporations. The jurisdiction to tax foreign corporations depends on the existence of two concurring conditions, namely, that the corporations shall be "doing business in this state," and that its capital or some portion thereof shall have been "employed within this state." A foreign corporation, whose capital is wholly invested in the stock and bonds of an independent foreign corporation doing business wholly out of this state, whose whole income is derived from such investment, and which maintains a leased office, with furniture, officers and clerks, in this state, where it receives and distributes the dividends or income derived from its investment, which constitutes its whole business, is not subject to taxation under the act of 1880-85, since, although it is "doing business in this state," no part of its capital is "employed within this state," within the meaning of the statute. [154 N. Y. 1]

§ 183 Certain corporations exempt from tax on capital stock. Banks, saving banks, institutions for savings, title guaranty, insurance or surety corporations, every trust company incorporated, organized or formed, under, by or pursuant to a law of this state, and any company authorized to do a trust company business solely or in connection with any other business, under a general or special law of this state, laundry corporations, manufacturing corporations to the extent only of the capital actually employed in this state in manufacturing, and in the sale of the product of such manufacturing, mining corporations, wholly engaged in mining ores within this state, agricultural and horticultural societies or associations, and corporations, joint-stock companies or associations operating elevated railroads or surface railroads not operated by steam, or formed for supplying water or gas for electric or steam heating, lighting or power purposes, and liable to a tax under § 185 and 186 of this chapter, shall be exempt from the payment of the taxes prescribed by § 182 of this chapter. But such a laundry, manufacturing or mining corporation shall not be exempted from the payment of such taxes, unless at least 40% of the capital stock of such corporation is invested in lands and other property in this state and used by it in the conduct of its business. [As amended by '97 ch. 785 and '01 ch. 558]

§ 184 Additional franchise tax on transportation and transmission corporations and associations. Every corporation and joint-stock association formed for steam surface railroad, canal steamboat, ferry, express, navigation, pipe line, transfer, baggage express, telegraph, telephone, palace car or sleeping car purposes, and all other transportation corporations not liable to taxes under § 185 or 186 of this chapter, shall pay for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchises or carrying on its business in such corporate or organized capacity in this state, an annual excise tax or license fee which shall be equal to five tenths of 1% upon its gross earnings within the state, which shall include its gross earnings from its transportation or transmission business originating and terminating within this state, but shall not include earnings derived from business of an interstate character. All settlements for such taxes heretofore based by the controller upon gross earnings excluding earnings from interstate business, have been ratified and confirmed, except that the accounts for taxation under § 6 of chapter 361 of the laws of 1881, for the years 1892 and 1893, shall be settled and adjusted by the controller by excluding the earnings of an interstate character as provided by this section.

§ 185 Franchise tax on elevated or surface railroads not operated by steam. Every corporation, joint-stock company or association operating any elevated railroad or surface railroad not operated by steam shall pay to the state for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise or carrying on its business in such corporate or organized capacity within this state, an annual tax which shall be 1% upon its gross earnings from all sources within this state, and 3% upon the amount of dividends declared or paid in excess of 4% upon the actual amount of paid-up capital employed by such corporation, joint-stock company or association. Any corporation, joint-stock company or association taxed under this section which has paid a tax to the state for the year ending November 1, 1895, under § 3 of chapter 542 of the laws of 1880, as amended by chapter 522 of the laws of 1890, shall be credited by the controller with one third of the amount so paid in computing the taxes to be paid for the year ending June 30, 1896.

§ 186 Franchise tax on water-works companies, gas companies, electric or steam heating, lighting and power companies. Every corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for supplying water or gas, or for electric or steam heating, lighting or power purposes, shall pay to the state for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchises or carrying on its business in such corporate or organized capacity in this state, an annual tax which shall be five tenths of 1% upon its gross earnings from all sources within this state, and 3% upon the amount of dividends declared or paid in excess of 4% upon the actual amount of paid-up capital employed by such corporation, joint-stock company or association.

§ 187 Franchise tax on insurance corporations. An annual state tax for the privilege of exercising corporate franchises or for carrying on business in their corporate or organized capacity within this state equal to 1% on the gross amount of premiums received during the preceding calendar year for business done in this state, whether such premiums were in the form of money, notes, credits, or any other substitute for money, shall be paid annually into the treasury of the state, on or before the first day of June by the following corporations:

1 every domestic insurance corporation, incorporated, organized or formed under, by, or pursuant to a general or special law;

2 every insurance corporation, incorporated, organized or formed under, by, or pursuant to the laws of any other state of the United States, and doing business in this state, except a corporation doing a fire insurance business or a marine insurance business;

3 every insurance corporation, incorporated, organized or formed under, by, or pursuant to the laws of any state without the United States, or of any foreign country, except such a corporation doing a life, health or casualty insurance business, and doing business in this state; but the tax on gross premiums of a corporation so incorporated, organized or formed and doing a fire or marine insurance business within the state shall be equal to five tenths of 1%. This section does not apply to a fraternal beneficiary society, order or association, a corporation for the insurance of domestic animals, a town or county cooperative insurance corporation, nor to any corporation subject to the supervision of or required by or in pursuance of law to report to the superintendent of banks; but this section does apply to an individual, or partnership, or association of underwriters known as Lloyds, in so far as corporations doing the same kind of insurance business are subject to its provisions. The taxes imposed by this section shall be in addition to all other fees, licenses or taxes imposed by this or any other law, except that in assessing taxes under the reciprocal provisions of § 33 of chapter 38 of the general laws, credit shall be allowed for any taxes paid under this section. Any insurance corporation taxed under this section for the year ending December 31, 1901, shall be credited by the controller with one half of the amount of taxes paid by it into the state treasury, under the provisions of § 187 of the tax law, for the year ending June 30, 1901. The term "gross premiums" as used in this article shall include, in addition to all other premiums, such premiums as are collected from policies subsequently canceled and from reinsurance. The term "insurance corporations" as used in this article, shall include a corporation, association, joint-stock company or association, person, society, aggregation or partnership by whatever name known doing an insurance business in this state. [As amended by '01 ch. 118]

Payment of tax by agents of foreign fire insurance corporations to fire departments. Except in the cities of New York and Buffalo there shall be paid to the treasurer of the fire department of every city or village of this state, whether incorporated or unincorporated, having a fire department, company or organization, for the use and benefit of such department, or to the treasurer of such fire department within the fire limits, as established by law, of an unincorporated village, and when no treasurer of a fire department exists, then to the treasurer or other fiscal officer of such city or village, or in case of an unincorporated village to the supervisor of the town in which such village is situated who, for the purposes of this act, shall have the same powers as the treasurers of fire departments, on the first day of February of each year, by every person who shall act as agent for or on behalf of any foreign fire insurance corporation, association or individuals which insure property against loss or injury by fire, the sum of $2 upon the hundred dollars, and at that rate, upon the amount of all premiums which during the year or part of a year ending on the last preceding 31st day of December shall have been received by such agent or person, or received by any other person for him, for any insurance effected or procured by him as such agent or broker against loss or injury by fire upon property situate within the corporate limits of such city or village, or within the fire limits of such unincorporated village. Every city, except the city of New York, village, fire department, fire, hose or hook and ladder company, fire district, or fire district association, firemen's benevolent associations, exempt or veteran firemen's associations, and every officer, board of officers and associations receiving any portion of the tax directed to be paid by this section or any similar provision of law, shall within 10 days after the receipt of the same, pay to the treasurer of the Firemen's association of the state of New York, 10% of the amount so received by it or him, for the support or maintenance of the Volunteer firemen's home at Hudson, N. Y. On or before the first day of April in each year every such city, village, fire department, fire, hose or hook and ladder company, fire district, or fire district association, firemen's benevolent associations, exempt or veteran firemen's associations, officer, board of officers and association, shall, by its chief fiscal officer, treasurer, or other officer whose duty it may be to receive such funds, deliver to the treasurer of the Firemen's association of the state of New York a statement showing the name of each person or corporation from whom any such tax shall have been received and the amount paid by each, which statement shall be verified by the officer making the same to the effect that the same is correct and true and that such statement correctly shows the amount of such tax received by such city, village, fire department, fire, hose or hook and ladder company, fire district, or fire district association, firemen's benevolent associations, exempt or veteran firemen's associations, officer, board of officers and association since the first day of April in the preceding year. Any such city, village, fire department, fire, hose or hook and ladder company, fire district, or fire district association, firemen's benevolent associations, exempt or veteran firemen's associations, officer, board of officers and association receiving any portion of such tax and failing to make and deliver such verified statement as herein provided or omitting to pay 10% thereof to the treasurer of the Firemen's association of the state of New York as provided herein within the time above allowed shall forfeit the sum of $50 in addition to the amount of such tax to be recovered in an action which may be maintained by said Firemen's association of the state of New York in any of the courts of this state. [92 ch.690 §133 as amended by '01 ch.726]

Taxation of foreign corporations. The capital of any insurance corporation incorporated under the laws of any state or country outside of the United States, to the extent employed in the transaction of business in this state, and as determined and certified as prescribed by § 27 of this chapter, shall be subject to taxation the same as the capital of a like domestic insurance corporation, to be levied, assessed and collected, as prescribed by law, at such place in the state as it shall have its principal office. Upon satisfactory proof to the superintendent of insurance that any foreign insurance corporation has neglected or refused to pay any tax levied and assessed under the laws of this state, he shall revoke any certificate of authority granted by him to such corporation to do business in this state, and it shall thereafter be precluded from doing business herein. Every life, health or casualty insurance corporation incorporated by or organized under the laws of any government outside of the United States engaged in the transaction of the business of life, health or casualty insurance in this state shall annually on or before the first day of March, pay to the superintendent of insurance a tax of 2% on all premiums received in cash or otherwise by their attorneys or agents in this state during the year ending on the preceding 31st day of December, upon which a tax on premiums has not been paid to any other state. If any such corporation shall neglect or refuse to pay such tax, the superintendent shall collect the same out of the interest on the stocks or securities deposited in the insurance department. The agent of every corporation, association or individual not incorporated by the laws of this state to effect insurances against marine risks shall annually, on or before the first day of February, pay to the superintendent of insurance a tax of 2% upon the amount of all premiums upon insurances against marine risks which have been received by such agent or any person for him or have been agreed to be paid for any such insurance effected or agreed to be effected or procured by him, within this state, for the year ending the 31st day of December preceding; but in collecting such tax from a foreign marine insurance corporation, the superintendent of insurance shall deduct therefrom all other taxes paid by such corporation under the laws of this state. In ascertaining the amount of premiums upon which said 2% tax is to be levied, there shall be deducted from the premiums aforesaid, on account of reinsurances, such portion of the premiums upon said reinsurances as may have been paid to companies that are subject to the payment of the tax hereby provided for. ['92 ch. 690 § 34 as amended by '93 ch. 725]

Reciprocal requirements. If, by the existing or future laws of any state, an insurance corporation of this state having agencies in such other state or the agents thereof, shall be required to make any deposit of securities in such other state for the protection of policy holders or otherwise, or to make payment for taxes, fines, penalties, certificates of authority, license fees or otherwise, greater than the amount required by this chapter from similar corporations of such other state by the then existing laws of this state, then and in every such case, all insurance corporations of such state established or heretofore having established an agency or agencies in this state shall be and they are hereby required to make the like deposit for the like purposes in the insurance department of this state, and to pay the superintendent of insurance for taxes, fines, penalties, certificates of authority, license fees and otherwise, an amount equal to the amount of such charges and payments imposed by the laws of such other state upon the insurance corporations of this state and the agents thereof. The superintendent of insurance may remit any of the fees and charges which he is required by law to collect, except such as he is required to collect by virtue of this section; but no discrimination shall be made in favor of one corporation over another from the same state or country. Whenever it shall appear to the superintendent of insurance that permission to transact business within any foreign country is refused to a company organized under the laws of this state, after a certificate of the solvency and good management of such company has been issued to it by the said superintendent and after such company has complied with any reasonable laws of such foreign country requiring deposits of money or securities with the government of such country, then and in every such case, the superintendent shall forthwith cancel the authority of every company organized under the laws of such foreign government and licensed to do business in this state, and shall refuse a certificate of authority to every such company thereafter applying to him for authority to do business in this state, until his certificate shall have been duly recognized by the government of such country. ['92 ch. 690 § 33 as amended by '96 ch. 23]

§ 187a Franchise tax on trust companies. Every trust company incorporated, organized or formed under, by or pursuant to a law of this state, and any company authorized to do a trust company business solely or in connection with any other business, under a general or special law of this state, shall pay to the state annually for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise or carrying on its business in such corporate or organized capacity, an annual tax which shall be equal to 1% on the amount of its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits. Any corporation taxed under this section for the year ending June 30, 1901, shall be credited by the controller with one third of the amount of taxes paid by it into the state treasury under the provisions of § 182 of the tax law for the year ending October 31, 1900. [As amended by '01 ch. 132]

§ 187b. Franchise tax on savings banks. Every savings bank incorporated, organized or formed under, by or pursuant to a law of this state, shall pay to the state annually for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise or carrying on its business in such corporate or organized capacity, an annual tax which shall be equal to 1% on the par value of its surplus, and undivided earnings. [As amended by '01 ch. 117]

§ 188 Tax upon foreign bankers. Every foreign banker doing business in this state, shall annually pay to the treasurer a tax of 5% on the amount of interest or compensation of any kind earned and collected by him on money loaned, used or employed in this state by such banker. The term, doing a banking business, as used in this section, means doing such business as a corporation may be created to do under article two of the banking law, or doing any business which a corporation is authorized by such article to do. The term, foreign banker doing a banking business in this state, as used in this section, includes:

1 every foreign corporation doing a banking business in this state, except a national bank;

2 every unincorporated company, partnership or association of two or more individuals, organized under or pursuant to the laws of another state or country, doing a banking business in this state;

3 every other unincorporated company, partnership or association, of two or more individuals, doing a banking business in this state, if the members thereof, owning more than a majority interest therein, or entitled to more than one half of the profits thereof, or who would, if it were dissolved, be entitled to more than one half of the net assets thereof, are not residents of this state;

4 every nonresident of this state, doing a banking business in this state, in his own name and right only. [As amended by '00 ch. 500]

§ 189 Reports of corporations. Corporations liable to pay a tax under this article shall report as follows:

1 Corporations paying franchise tax. Every corporation, association or joint-stock company liable to pay a tax under § 182 of this chapter shall, on or before November 15 in each year, make a written report to the controller of its condition at the close of its business on October 31 preceding, stating the amount of its authorized capital stock, the amount of stock paid in, the date and rate per cent of each dividend declared by it during the year ending with such day, the entire amount of the capital of such corporation, and the capital employed by it in this state during such year.

2 Transportation and transmission corporations. Every transportation or transmission corporation, joint-stock company or association liable to pay an additional tax under § 184 of this chapter, shall also, on or before August 1 in each year, make a written report to the controller of its condition at the close of its business on June 30 preceding, stating the amount of its gross earnings from all sources and the amount of its gross earnings from its transportation or transmission business originating and terminating within this state.

3 Elevated and surface railroad corporations. Every corporation, joint-stock company or association liable to pay a tax under § 185 of this chapter, shall, on or before August 1 of each year, make a written report to the controller of its condition at the close of its business on June 30 preceding, stating the amount of its gross earnings from business done in this state, the amount of dividends of every nature declared or paid during the year ending June 30, the authorized capital of the company and the amount of capital stock actually issued and outstanding.

4 Water-works, gas, electric, steam heating, lighting and power corporations. Every corporation, joint-stock company or association liable to pay a tax under § 186 of this chapter, shall, on or before December 1 of each year, make a written report to the controller of its condition at the close of its business on October 31 preceding, stating the amount of its gross earnings from business done in this state, the amount of dividends of every nature declared or paid during the year ending with October 31, the authorized capital of the company and the amount of capital stock actually issued and outstanding.

5 Insurance corporations. Every insurance corporation liable to pay a tax under § 187 of this chapter, shall, on or before March 1 in each year, make a written report to the controller of its condition at the close of its business on December 31 preceding, stating the entire amount of premiums received on business done thereby in this state during the year ending with such day, whether the premiums were in money or in the form of notes, credits or other substitutes for money. [As amended by '01 ch. 118]

6 Foreign bankers. Every foreign banker liable to pay a tax under § 188 of this chapter shall, on or before February 1 in each year, make a written report to the controller of the condition of his business on December 31 preceding, stating the amount of tax for which he is liable under this article, and giving in detail the facts required by the last preceding section for the purpose of ascertaining and computing the same.

7 Trust companies. Every company liable to pay a tax under § 187a of this chapter shall, on or before August 1 in each year, make a written report to the controller of its condition at the close of business on June 30 preceding, separately stating the amount of its capital stock, the amount of its surplus, and the amount of its undivided profits, and containing such other data, information or matter as the controller may require. [As amended by '01 ch. 132]

8 Savings banks. Every savings bank liable to pay a tax under § 187b of this chapter, shall, on or before August 1 in each year, make a written report to the controller of its condition, at the close of business on June 30 preceding, stating the par value of its surplus, and undivided earnings and containing such other data, information or matter as the controller may require. [As amended by '01 ch. 117]

§ 190 Value of stock to be appraised. In case no dividend has been declared, by a corporation, association or joint-stock company liable to pay a tax under § 182 of this chapter, the treasurer or secretary of the company, shall, under oath, between the first and 15th day of November in each year, estimate and appraise the capital stock of such company upon which no dividend has been declared, or upon which the dividend amounted to less than 6% at its actual value in cash, not less, however, than the average price which said stock sold for during said year, and shall forward the same to the controller with the report provided for in the last section. If the controller is not satisfied with the valuation so made and returned he is authorized and empowered to make a valuation thereof, and settle an account upon the valuation so made by him, and the taxes, penalties and interest to be paid the state.

§ 191 Further requirements as to report of corporations. Every report required by this article shall have annexed thereto, the affidavit of the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer of the corporation, association or joint-stock company or of the person or one of the persons, or the members of the partnership making the same, to the effect that the statements contained therein are true. Such reports shall contain any other data, information or matter which the controller may require to be included therein, and he may prescribe the form in which such reports shall be made and the form of oath thereto. When so prescribed such form shall be used in making the report. The controller may require at any time a further or supplemental report under this article, which shall contain information and data upon such matters as the controller may specify.

§ 192 Powers of controller to examine into affairs of corporation. In case any report required by any of the preceding sections of this article shall be unsatisfactory to the controller, or if any such report is not made as herein required, the controller is authorized to make an estimate of the dividends paid by such corporation and the value of the capital stock employed by it, from any such report or from any other data, and to order and state an account according to the estimate and value so made by him for the taxes, percentage and interest due the state from such corporation, association, joint-stock company, person or partnership. The controller shall also have power to examine or cause to be examined in case of a failure to report or in case the report is unsatisfactory to him, the books and records of any such corporation, joint-stock association, company, foreign banker, person or partnership, and may hear testimony and take proofs material for his information, either personally or he may appoint a commissioner by a written appointment under his hand and official seal for that purpose. Every commissioner so appointed shall be authorized to make such examination and take such testimony and hear such proofs and report the proofs and testimony so taken and the result of his examination so made and the facts found by him to the controller. The controller shall, therefrom, or from any other data which shall be satisfactory to him, order and state an account for the tax due the state, together with the expenses of such examination and the taking of such testimony and proofs. Such expenses shall be fixed and adjusted by the controller.

§ 193 Notice of statement of tax; interest. Upon auditing and stating every account for taxes or other charges under this article, the controller shall forthwith send notice thereof in writing to the person, partnership, company, association or corporation against whom the same is made, which notice may be mailed to the postoffice address of such person, partnership, association, company or corporation. All accounts so audited and stated shall bear interest upon the total amount found due thereon to the state, for taxes, percentage, interest and other charges, from the expiration of 30 days after sending such notice until payment thereof shall be made.

§ 194 Payment of tax and penalty for failure. A tax imposed by § 182 or 186 of this chapter, shall be due and payable into the state treasury on or before the 15th day of January in each year. A tax imposed by § 184 of this chapter on a transportation or transmission corporation, or by § 185, on elevated railroads or surface railroads not operated by steam, shall be due and payable into the state treasury on or before the first day of August in each year. A tax imposed by § 187 of this chapter on an insurance corporation shall be due and payable into the state treasury on or before the first day of June in each year. A tax imposed by § 187a or 187b shall be due and payable into the state treasury on or before the first day of September in each year. A tax imposed by § 188 of this chapter on a foreign banker shall be due and payable into the state treasury on or before February 1 in each year. If such tax in any case is not paid within 30 days after the same becomes due, or if the report of any such corporation is not made within the time required by this article, the corporation, association, joint-stock company, person or partnership, liable to pay the tax, shall pay into the state treasury in addition to the amount of such tax, a sum equal to 5% thereof, and 1% additional for each month the tax remains unpaid, which sum shall be added to the tax and paid or collected therewith. Every corporation, association, joint-stock company, person or partnership failing to make the annual report required by this article, or failing to make any special report required by the controller, within any reasonable time to be specified by him, shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of $100 for every such failure, and the additional sum of $10 for each day that such failure continues. Such tax shall be a lien upon and bind all the real and personal property of the corporation, joint-stock company or association liable to pay the same from the time when it is payable until the same is paid in full. [As amended by '01 ch. 132 and 558]

§ 195 Revision and readjustment of accounts by controller. The controller may, at any time within one year from the time any such account shall have been audited and stated, and notice thereof sent to the person, partnership, company, association or corporation against whom it is stated, revise and readjust such account upon application therefor by the party against whom the account is stated or by the attorney-general, and if it shall be made to appear upon any such application by evidence submitted to him or otherwise, that any such account included taxes or other charges which could not have been lawfully demanded, or that payment has been legally made or exacted of any such account, he shall resettle the same according to law and the facts, and charge or credit, as the case may require, the difference, if any, resulting from such revision or resettlement upon the accounts for taxes of or against any such person, partnership, company, association or corporation. The controller shall forthwith send written notice of its determination upon such application to the applicant, which notice may be sent by mail to his postoffice address.

§ 196 Review of determination of controller by certiorari. The determination of the controller upon any application made to him by any person, partnership, company, association or corporation for a revision and resettlement of any account, as prescribed in this article, may be reviewed both upon the law and the facts, upon certiorari by the supreme court at the instance of any person, partnership, company, association or corporation affected thereby, and in the name and on behalf of the people of the state. For the purpose of such review the controller shall return, on such certiorari, the accounts and all the evidence before him on such application, and all the papers and proofs upon the original statement of such account and all proceedings thereon. If the original or resettled accounts shall be found erroneous or illegal, either in point of law or of fact, by the supreme court, upon any such review, the accounts reviewed shall then be corrected and restated, and from any determination of the supreme court upon any such review, an appeal to the court of appeals may be taken by either party.

tion by the controller under this article, shall be granted unless notice of application therefor is made within 30 days after the service of the notice of such determination. Eight days' notice shall be given to the controller of the application for such writ. The full amount of the taxes, percentage, interest and other charges, audited and stated in such account must be deposited with the state treasurer before making the application and an undertaking filed with the controller in such amount and with such sureties as a justice of the supreme court shall approve to the effect that if such writ is dismissed or the determination of the controller affirmed, the applicant for the writ will pay all costs and charges which may accrue against him, or it in the prosecution of the writ, including costs of all appeals.

§ 198 Warrant for the collection of taxes. After the expiration of 30 days from the sending by the controller of a notice of a settlement of an account as provided in this article, unless the amount of such account shall have been paid or deposited with the state treasurer, if an appeal or other proceedings have been taken to review the same, and the undertaking given as provided in this article, the controller may issue a warrant under his hand and official seal, directed to the sheriff of any county of the state, commanding him to levy upon and sell the real and personal property of the person, partnership, company, association or corporation against which such account is stated, found within his county for the payment of the amount thereof with interest thereon and costs of executing the warrant, and to return such warrant to the controller and pay to the state treasurer the money collected by virtue thereof, by a time to be therein specified, not less than 60 days from the date of the warrant. Such warrant shall be a lien upon and shall bind the real and personal property of the person, partnership, company, association or corporation against which it is issued, from the time an actual levy shall be made by virtue thereof. The sheriff to whom any such warrant shall be directed shall proceed upon the same in all respects, with like effect, and in the same manner as prescribed by law in respect to executions issued against property upon judgments of a court of record, and shall be entitled to the same fees for his services in executing the warrant, to be collected in the same manner.

§ 199 Information of delinquents. It shall be the duty of any person having knowledge of the evasion of taxation under this article by any corporation, association, joint-stock company, partnership or person liable to taxation thereunder, for any omission on their part to make the reports required by this article, to make a written report thereof to the controller of the state, with such information as may be in his possession as may lead to the recovery of any taxes due the state therefrom. If, in his opinion, the interests of the state require it, the controller may employ such person to assist in the collection and preparation of evidence and in the prosecution and trial of actions for such taxes, and so much of the same, not exceeding ten per centum thereof, as may be collected from any such delinquent corporation, association, company, partnership or person, by reason of such report and such services, as shall have been agreed upon between such person and the controller or attorney-general as a compensation therefor, shall be paid to such person, and nothing shall be paid to such person for such report or services unless there shall be a recovery of taxes by reason thereof.

§ 200 Action for recovery of taxes; forfeiture of charter of delinquent corporation. An action may be brought by the attorney-general, at the instance of the controller, in the name of the state, to recover the amount of any account audited and stated by the controller under the provisions of this article. If any such account shall remain unpaid at the expiration of one year after notice of the statement thereof has been sent as required by this article, and the controller is satisfied that the failure to pay the same is intentional, he shall so report to the attorney-general, who shall immediately bring an action, in the name of the people of the state, for the forfeiture of the franchise of any corporation, joint-stock company or association failing to make such payment, and if it is found that such failure was intentional, judgment shall be rendered in such action for the forfeiture of its franchise and for its dissolution, and thereafter such franchise shall be annulled.

§ 201 Reports to be made by the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall transmit on the first day of each month to the controller, a report of the stock corporations whose certificates of incorporation are filed, or of the foreign stock corporations to whom a certificate of authority has been issued to do business in this state, during the preceding month. Such report shall state the name of the corporation, its place of business, the amount of its capital stock, its purposes or objects, the names and places of residence of its directors, and, if a foreign corporation, its place of business within the state. The controller may prescribe the forms and furnish the blanks for such reports. The secretary of state shall make like reports to the controller whenever required by him relating to any such corporations whose certificates have been filed or to whom a certificate of authority has been issued prior to the time when this article takes effect, and during any period of time specified by the controller in his request for such report.

§ 202 Exemptions from other state taxation. The personal property of every corporation, company, association or partnership, taxable under this article, other than for an organization tax, shall be exempt from assessment and taxation upon its personal property for state purposes, and the personal property of every corporation taxable under § 187a of this article, other than for an organization tax, and as provided in ch. 37 of the general laws, shall be exempt from assessment and taxation for all other purposes, if all taxes due and payable under this article have been paid thereby. The personal property of a private or individual banker, actually employed in his business as such banker, shall be exempt from taxation for state purposes, if such private or individual banker shall have paid all taxes due and payable under this article. Such corporation and private or individual banker shall in no other respect be relieved from assessment and taxation by reason of the provisions of this article. The owner and holder of stock in an incorporated trust company liable to taxation under the provisions of this act shall not be taxed as an individual for such stock. [As amended by '01 ch. 118]

§ 203 Application of taxes. The taxes imposed by this article and the revenues thereof shall be applicable to the general fund of the treasury and to the payment of all claims and demands which are a lawful charge thereon.

MASSACHUSETTS

Public statutes ch. 11

Property subject to taxation. § 2 All property, real and personal, of the inhabitants of this state, not expressly exempted by law, shall be subject to taxation as hereinafter provided.

Real estate. § 3 Real estate for the purposes of taxation, shall include all lands within this state, and all buildings and other things erected on or affixed to the same.

Personal estate. § 4 Personal estate shall, for the purposes of taxation, include, goods, chattels, money and effects, wherever they are, ships and vessels at home or abroad, except as provided in § 8, money at interest, and other debts due the persons to be taxed more than they are indebted or pay interest for, but not including in such debts or indebtedness any loan on mortgage of real estate, taxable as real estate, except the excess of such loan above the assessed value of the mortgaged real estate, public stocks and securities, bonds of all railroads including street railways, stocks in turnpikes, bridges and moneyed corporations within or without the state, the income from an annuity, from ships and vessels engaged in the foreign carrying trade within the meaning of § 8, and so much of the income from a profession, trade or employment as exceeds the sum of $2000 a year, and which has accrued to any person during the year ending on the first day of May of the year in which the tax is assessed, but no income shall be taxed which is derived from property subject to taxation: provided, that no taxes shall be assessed in any city or town for state, county, or town purposes upon the shares in the capital stock of a corporation organized or chartered in the commonwealth paying a tax on its corporate franchises, under the provisions of ch. 13, for any year in which it pays such tax, but such shares shall be taxable to the owners thereof for school district and parish purposes, and this proviso shall apply to corporations mentioned in the 46th section of said ch. 13. [As amended by '82 ch. 76, '87 ch. 228, '88 ch. 363] . . .

Shares of foreign corporations. Shares of the capital stock of a foreign manufacturing corporation, if owned by citizens of this commonwealth, are taxable here for their full value, without deducting the value of the machinery and real estate belonging to such corporation, and taxed to it at the place where it is established. [12 Allen 316]

Property exempted. § 5 The following property and polls shall be exempted from taxation. . .

3d, The personal property of literary, benevolent, charitable and scientific institutions and temperance societies incorporated within this commonwealth, and the real estate belonging to such institutions occupied by them or their officers for the purposes for which they were incorporated; but such real estate when purchased by such a corporation with a view to removal thereto, shall not, prior to such removal, be exempt for a longer period than two years; but none of the real or personal estate of such corporations organized under general laws shall be exempt when any portion of the income or profits of the business of such corporations is divided among their members or stockholders or used or appropriated for other than literary, educational, benevolent, charitable, scientific or religious purposes. The personal property and real estate belonging to grand army and veteran associations incorporated within this commonwealth for the purpose of owning property for the use and occupation by posts of the grand army of the republic shall, to the extent of $20,000, if the same shall be in actual use and occupation by such associations, be deemed to be the property of charitable institutions, and exempt from taxation, provided the net income from said property is used for charitable purposes in aid of needy soldiers of the war of the rebellion, and their dependents. [As amended by '86 ch. 231, '88 ch. 158, '89 ch. 465]. . .

Such property is not to be exempt from taxation unless a list and statement of real and personal estate is brought in to the assessors as required by '82, ch. 217, as amended by '88 ch. 323.

7th, Houses of religious worship owned by a religious society, or held in trust for the use of religious organizations, and the pews and furniture (except for parochial purposes); but portions of such houses appropriated for purposes other than religious worship shall be taxed at the value thereof to the owners of the houses.

8th, Cemeteries, tombs, and rights of burial, so long as the same shall be dedicated for the burial of the dead.

9th, The estate, both real and personal of incorporated agricultural societies.

Such portions of real estate and buildings belonging to incorporated horticultural societies as are used for their offices, libraries, and exhibitions shall be exempt from taxation. ['84 ch. 176 §1]

Public service corporations. The Western railroad corporation is not liable to be taxed for the land, not exceeding 5 rods in width, over which it is authorized to lay out its road, nor for buildings and structures thereon erected, if such buildings and structures are reasonably incident to the support of the road or to its proper and convenient use for the carriage of passengers and property such as houses for the reception of passengers, engine houses, car houses and depots for the convenient reception, preservation and delivery of merchandise carried on the road. . . From this view of the various provisions of the law, by which the rights and duties of the Western railroad corporation are regulated, it is manifest that the establishment of that great thoroughfare is regarded as a public work, established by public authority, intended for the public use and benefit, the use of which is secured to the whole community, and constitutes therefore, like a canal, turnpike or highway, a public easement. The only principle, on which the legislature could have authorized the taking of private property for its construction, without the owner's consent, is, that it was for the public use. Treating the railroad then as a public easement, the works erected by the corporation as public works intended for public use, we consider it well established that, to some extent at least, the works, necessarily incident to such public easement, are public works, and as such exempted from taxation. Such we believe has been the uniform practice in regard to bridges, turnpikes, and highways, and their incidents; and also in regard to other public buildings and structures of a like kind; as state houses, forts and arsenals, courthouses, jails, churches, town houses, schoolhouses; and generally to houses appropriated specially to public uses. [4 Met. 564, 566]

A tax on the franchise of a corporation is not a tax on its property. [12 Mass. 252]

Property used in manufacture of beet sugar. § 6 Any city or town, for the term of 10 years next after the fourth day of May, in the year 1872, may exempt from taxation all property therein used exclusively in the business of manufacturing beet-sugar (except property of foreign corporations): provided, that this exemption shall not apply to lands upon which beets are raised for the purpose of manufacture. . . .

Personal estate, where taxed. § 20 All personal estate, within or without the commonwealth, shall be assessed to the owner in the city or town where he is an inhabitant on the first day of May, except as provided in ch. 13 and in the following clauses of this section:

1st, All goods, wares, merchandise, and other stock in trade (except ships or vessels owned by a copartnership), including stock employed in the business of manufacturing or of the mechanic arts, in cities or towns within the commonwealth, other than where the owners reside, whether such owners reside within or without the commonwealth, shall be taxed in those places where the owners hire or occupy manufactories, stores, shops, or wharves, whether such property is within said places or elsewhere on the first day of May of the year when the tax is made.

2d, All machinery employed in any branch of manufactures shall be assessed where such machinery is situated or employed; and, in assessing the stockholders for their shares in any manufacturing corporation, there shall first be deducted from the value thereof the value of the machinery and real estate belonging to such corporation. . . .

10th, All machines employed in any branch of manufactures and used or operated under a stipulation providing for the payment of a royalty or compensation in the nature of a royalty for the privilege of using or operating the same, shall be assessed where such machines are situated or employed to the owner or any person, firm or corporation in possession of the same on the first day of May. [As amended by '87 ch. 125]

Foreign corporations. A corporation organized under the laws of another state, having an office and doing a large part of its business in a city in this commonwealth, can not be taxed on money deposited by it with a national bank in that city, and the provisions of P. S. ch. 11 § 20, that "All personal estate, within or without the commonwealth, shall be assessed to the owner in the city or town where he is an inhabitant on the first day of May, except," etc., do not apply. [158 Mass. 461]

If a foreign corporation has a place of business in this commonwealth, where it has personal property, consisting of office furniture and fixtures, and where it keeps personal property pledged to it as collateral security for money lent, which it sells when not redeemed, such place of business is a "shop," and the property so used and pledged is "stock in trade," which is taxable to it, under P. S. ch. 11 § 12 cl. 1. [187 Mass. 332]

Debts due do not come within the description of goods, wares, merchandise, and other stock in trade, taxable under P. S. ch. 11 § 20 cl. 1. By stock in trade is meant the visible and tangible property with which the trade or business of the owner is carried on, and to which it relates. [161 Mass. 326]

Shareholders, evasion of taxation. § 28 Any shareholder, who, with intent to avoid taxation, fraudulently transfers a share of corporate stock, or fraudulently causes or procures a certificate of a share to be issued to any person other than himself, or in any name other than his own; or refuses to inform, or wilfully misinforms, the corporation respecting his name or residence; or, having changed his residence to another city or town in the commonwealth, wilfully omits to give notice thereof to any corporation in the commonwealth in which he is a shareholder, shall forfeit one half of the par value of the shares so transferred, issued, or owned by him in the stock of such corporation, to be recovered by an action of tort to the use of the city or town in which he resides. . .

Assessors' return to tax commissioner. § 86 The assessors shall annually, on or before the first Monday of August, return to the tax commissioner the names of all corporations, except banks of issue and deposit, having a capital stock divided into shares, chartered by the commonwealth or organized under the general laws for the purposes of business or profit, and established in their respective cities and towns or owning real estate therein, and of all companies, copartnerships, and other associations having a location or place of business in this commonwealth in which the beneficial interest is held in shares assignable without consent of the other associates specifically authorizing such transfer, and a statement in detail of the works, structures, real estate, and machinery owned by each of said corporations, companies, copartnerships, and associations, and situated in such city or town, with the value thereof, on the first day of May preceding, and the amount at which the same is assessed in said city or town for the then current year. They shall also, at the same time, return to the tax commissioner the amount of taxes laid, or voted to be laid, within said city or town, for the then current year, for state, county, and town purposes.

Penalty. § 87 If the assessors of a city or town neglect to comply with the requirements of the preceding section, each assessor so neglecting shall forfeit $100.

Lists of corporations. § 3 The tax commissioner shall annually, on or before the 20th day of June in each year, cause to be forwarded to the assessors of every city and town a list of all Massachusetts corporations, and of all companies, copartnerships, or associations known to him to be taxable on the first day of May next preceding said 20th day of June, on their corporate franchises or property under the provisions of this chapter, with such other information in his possession as in his judgment will assist them in the assessment of taxes.

Bonds and stock held as collateral. § 4 Every corporation established within the commonwealth by special charter, or organized under the general laws thereof, which on the first day of May in any year holds, as collateral security for borrowed money or other liability, bonds of any description or shares of stock in corporations other than those subject to taxation on their corporate franchises or stock under the provisions of this chapter, shall annually, between the first and 10th days of May, return to the tax commissioner the whole number of such shares and bonds so held, the names and residences of the persons pledging the same, and the number, denomination, and the par and cash market value, if known, of the shares and bonds pledged by each; and the tax commissioner shall, on or before the 20th day of June in each year, transmit to the assessors copies of the list furnished by such corporations.

Penalty. § 5 A corporation neglecting or refusing to make the returns required by the preceding section, or wilfully making a return which is materially false or defective, shall forfeit for each offense not less than $50 nor more than $1000, to be recovered by an action of tort to the use of the city or town in which the person pledging such stock or bonds resides. . .

Stocks held by trustees. § 7 Every guardian who holds, or whose ward holds, shares or stock in any corporation, including banks located in the commonwealth, and companies, partnerships, or associations taxable under this chapter, and every executor, administrator, or other person who holds in trust any such stock, shall, between the first and 10th days of May in each year, return under oath to said commissioner the names and residences, on the first day of that month, of themselves and of all such wards or other persons to whom any portion of the income from such stock is payable, the number of shares of stock so held, and the name and location of the corporation, company, partnership, or association in which they are held.

Every partnership shall, between the first and 10th days of May in each year, make a like return, stating the amount of such stock owned by the firm, the names and residences of all the partners, and the proportional interest or ownership of each partner in said stock. Any guardian, executor, administrator, trustee, or partnership, neglecting to comply with the requirements of this section, shall forfeit $100.

Bank shares. § 8 All the shares of stock in banks, whether of issue or not, existing by authority of the United States or of the commonwealth, and located within the commonwealth, shall be assessed to the owners thereof in the cities or towns where such banks are located, and not elsewhere, in the assessment of all state, county, and town taxes imposed and levied in such place, whether such owner is a resident of said city or town or not; all such shares shall be assessed at their fair cash value on the first day of May, first deducting therefrom the proportionate part of the value of the real estate belonging to the bank, at the same rate, and no greater, than that at which other moneyed capital in the hands of citizens and subject to taxation is by law assessed. And the persons or corporations who appear from the records of the banks to be owners of shares at the close of the business day next preceding the first day of May in each year shall be taken and deemed to be the owners thereof for the purposes of this section.

Tax on shares paid by bank. § 9 Every such bank or other corporation shall pay to the collector, or other person authorized to collect the taxes of the city or town in which the same is located, at the time in each year when other taxes assessed in the said city or town become due, the amount of the tax so assessed in such year upon the shares in such bank or other corporation. If such tax is not so paid, the said bank or other corporation shall be liable for the same; and the said tax, with interest thereon at the rate of 12% per annum from the day when the tax became due, may be recovered in an action of contract brought by the treasurer of such city or town.

Lien on shares. § 10 The shares of such banks or other corporations shall be subject to the tax paid thereon by the corporation or by the officers thereof, and the corporation and the officers thereof shall have a lien on all the shares in such bank or other corporation and on all the rights and property of the shareholders in the corporate property for the payment of said taxes.

Names of shareholders. Rate. § 11 The cashier of every such bank shall make and deliver to the assessors of the city or town in which such bank is located, on or before the 10th day of May in each year, a statement verified by the oath of such cashier showing the name of each shareholder, with his residence and the number of shares belonging to him at the close of the business day next preceding the first day of May, as the same then appeared on the books of said bank. If the cashier fails to make such statement, said assessors shall forthwith, upon such failure, obtain a list of shareholders, with the residence of, and number of shares belonging to each.

In either case the assessors shall, immediately upon obtaining such list or statement, transmit to the tax commissioner a true copy of the same; and shall, by notice in writing, inform said commissioner of the rate per cent upon the valuation of the city or town of the total tax in such city or town for the year, immediately upon the ascertainment thereof, and also of the amount assessed by them upon the shares of each bank located therein.

Distribution of tax. § 12 Said commissioner shall thereupon, as soon as may be, determine from the returns and otherwise the proportionate amount of the tax so assessed upon the shares in each of said banks, which has been assessed upon shares which, according to the provisions of ch. 11, would not be taxable in said city or town; and such amounts, as finally determined under the provisions of this chapter, shall be a charge to said city or town as an offset against any payments to be made from the treasury of the commonwealth to said city or town.

§ 13 Said commissioner shall, in like manner, determine the proportionate amount of tax so assessed upon shares in each of said banks, which, according to the provisions of ch. 11, would be taxable in each city or town in this commonwealth other than that in which the bank is located; and such amounts, as finally determined under the provisions of this chapter, shall become a credit to such city or town.

§ 14 Said commissioner shall, by written or printed notice delivered at the assessors office or sent by mail, inform the assessors of each city or town affected thereby of the aggregate amount of charges and credits against and in favor of such city or town, under the two preceding sections, as determined by him, forthwith, upon the determination thereof. From this determination an appeal may be made by said assessors, within the time hereinafter provided, to the board of appeal constituted under the provisions of § 62.

§ 15 Said commissioner shall, at the expiration of 10 days after notice given as provided in the preceding section, or upon being informed of the decision of the board of appeal, if an appeal is made, certify to the treasurer and receiver-general the aggregate amount of charges mentioned in § 12 against each city and town, and also the aggregate of credits mentioned in § 13 in favor of each city or town, as finally determined under the three preceding sections; and the treasurer shall thereupon withhold out of any sums of money which are or may become payable out of the state treasury to any city or town against which a charge is certified the amount so certified, and shall allow or pay over to each city or town in favor of which a credit is certified the amount so certified.

§ 16 In the adjustment and determination of amounts due under the provisions of this chapter in relation to the taxation of bank shares, an allowance of 1% upon the amount so assessed and collected shall be made for the expenses of assessing and collecting the same; and no city or town shall be entitled in any year to an allowance of credits or payments under any of the provisions of this chapter until the assessors thereof have complied with the requirements of this chapter and of § 33 of ch. 11 in relation to the taxation of bank shares. No bank, the shares in which are made taxable by § 8, shall be subject to taxation under the provisions of § 40, nor shall the shareholders be taxable in respect to their shares therein for state, county, or town purposes, except under the provisions of this chapter.

Deductions, savings banks and insurance companies. § 17 The amount actually paid into the treasury of the commonwealth in each year, under the provisions of this chapter, on account of shares in banks or banking associations, which on the first day of May are the absolute property of any savings bank or institution for savings subject to taxation under the provisions of § 20, or of any insurance corporation which is subject to taxation under the provisions of § 40, shall be deducted from the tax payable under the provisions of said sections by such savings bank, institution for savings, or insurance corporation, at the next payment to the commonwealth after the assessment of bank shares as herein provided. The tax commissioner may require a statement of all such shares so owned by any such savings bank, institution for savings, or insurance corporation, to be made in a form approved by him, and signed and sworn to by the treasurer or like financial officer thereof. He shall, from such statement and other evidence, and subject to appeal by such corporation, as herein provided in similar cases, determine the amounts to be deducted, and certify the same to the treasurer of the commonwealth upon the final determination thereof; but the amount so to be deducted from the tax payable by any savings bank or institution for savings shall not, in any year, exceed the amount of the tax assessed on account of that portion of its deposits invested in shares in banks or banking associations.

Exemptions. § 18 The tax commissioner shall, as soon as may be after the first Monday in December in each year, certify to the treasurer the amount assessed and collected for that year in respect of shares in such banks or other corporations owned absolutely by any society, district, or institution of any of the classes specified in the third, fourth, and ninth divisions of § 5 of ch. 11, and the treasurer shall thereupon pay over such amounts to the corporations owning such shares.

§ 19 The assessors of each city or town, upon request of any person resident in such city or town, who is the owner of any shares in such banks or other corporations which, under the provisions of the 10th and 12th divisions of § 5 of ch. 11, would be entitled to exemption from taxation, shall give such owner a certificate setting forth such fact; and the treasurer of such city or town, upon request therefor and the deposit with him of such certificate, shall pay over to such owner the amount so collected in respect of such shares, immediately upon the allowance made to such city or town under the provisions of this chapter in relation to the taxation of bank shares.

Savings banks. § 20 Every savings bank and institution for savings, incorporated under the laws of this commonwealth, shall pay to the treasurer of the commonwealth a tax, on account of its depositors, of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% per annum on the amount of its deposits, to be assessed, one half of said annual tax on the average amount of its deposits for the six months preceding the first day of May, and the other half on the average amount of its deposits for the six months preceding the first day of Novem-preceding sections; and the treasurer shall thereupon withhold out of any sums of money which are or may become payable out of the state treasury to any city or town against which a charge is certified the amount so certified, and shall allow or pay over to each city or town in favor of which a credit is certified the amount so certified.

§ 16 In the adjustment and determination of amounts due under the provisions of this chapter in relation to the taxation of bank shares, an allowance of 1% upon the amount so assessed and collected shall be made for the expenses of assessing and collecting the same; and no city or town shall be entitled in any year to an allowance of credits or payments under any of the provisions of this chapter until the assessors thereof have complied with the requirements of this chapter and of § 33 of ch. 11 in relation to the taxation of bank shares. No bank, the shares in which are made taxable by § 8, shall be subject to taxation under the provisions of § 40, nor shall the shareholders be taxable in respect to their shares therein for state, county, or town purposes, except under the provisions of this chapter.

Deductions, savings banks and insurance companies. § 17 The amount actually paid into the treasury of the commonwealth in each year, under the provisions of this chapter, on account of shares in banks or banking associations, which on the first day of May are the absolute property of any savings bank or institution for savings subject to taxation under the provisions of § 20, or of any insurance corporation which is subject to taxation under the provisions of § 40, shall be deducted from the tax payable under the provisions of said sections by such savings bank, institution for savings, or insurance corporation, at the next payment to the commonwealth after the assessment of bank shares as herein provided. The tax commissioner may require a statement of all such shares so owned by any such savings bank, institution for savings, or insurance corporation, to be made in a form approved by him, and signed and sworn to by the treasurer or like financial officer thereof. He shall, from such statement and other evidence, and subject to appeal by such corporation, as herein provided in similar cases, determine the amounts to be deducted, and certify the same to the treasurer of the commonwealth upon the final determination thereof; but the amount so to be deducted from the tax payable by any savings bank or institution for savings shall not, in any year, exceed the amount of the tax assessed on account of that portion of its deposits invested in shares in banks or banking associations.

Exemptions. § 18 The tax commissioner shall, as soon as may be after the first Monday in December in each year, certify to the treasurer the amount assessed and collected for that year in respect of shares in such banks or other corporations owned absolutely by any society, district, or institution of any of the classes specified in the third, fourth, and ninth divisions of § 5 of ch. 11, and the treasurer shall thereupon pay over such amounts to the corporations owning such shares.

§ 19 The assessors of each city or town, upon request of any person resident in such city or town, who is the owner of any shares in such banks or other corporations which, under the provisions of the 10th and 12th divisions of § 5 of ch. 11, would be entitled to exemption from taxation, shall give such owner a certificate setting forth such fact; and the treasurer of such city or town, upon request therefor and the deposit with him of such certificate, shall pay over to such owner the amount so collected in respect of such shares, immediately upon the allowance made to such city or town under the provisions of this chapter in relation to the taxation of bank shares.

Savings banks. § 20 Every savings bank and institution for savings, incorporated under the laws of this commonwealth, shall pay to the treasurer of the commonwealth a tax, on account of its depositors, of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% per annum on the amount of its deposits, to be assessed, one half of said annual tax on the average amount of its deposits for the six months preceding the first day of May, and the other half on the average amount of its deposits for the six months preceding the first day of November, and such tax shall be paid semiannually within 10 days after the first Mondays of June and December, each payment to be an assessment, by the treasurer of one half the annual percentage: provided, that so much of the deposits as are invested in real estate used for banking purposes or in loans secured by mortgages of taxable real estate shall be exempt from taxation under the provisions of this section, and that so much of said deposits as are invested in real estate, the title to which has been acquired by the completion of foreclosure, or by purchase under the provisions of § 20 of ch. 116, shall be exempt from taxation under the provisions of this section, for the period named in said section.

Tax commissioner to make assessment in place of treasurer. ['90 ch. 160 § 4]

Returns. § 21 Every savings bank and institution for savings incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth shall semiannually, on or before the second Mondays of May and November, make to the treasurer of the commonwealth a return, signed and sworn to by its president and treasurer, of the amount of its deposits on the first days of May and November of each year, and of the average amount of its deposits for the six months next preceding each of said days. Every such corporation neglecting to make such return shall forfeit $50 for each day of such neglect; and any such corporation wilfully making false statements in any such return shall be liable to pay a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5000.

Penalties. § 22 Every savings bank or institution neglecting to pay the taxes imposed by § 20 shall be liable for the same, with costs and interest, in an action of contract in the name of the commonwealth at the suit of the treasurer; and, on application therefor of the treasurer to a justice of the supreme judicial court, shall be further liable to injunction restraining said savings bank or institution, and the agents thereof, from the further prosecution of its business, until all such taxes with cost and interest shall be fully paid.

Depositors exempt. § 23 All deposits taxed under § 20 shall be otherwise exempt from taxation for the current year in which the tax is paid.

Cooperative saving fund and loan association. § 24 Taxing cooperative saving fund and loan associations $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% on dues paid by shareholders is repealed by '90 ch. 63 § 2.

Cooperative banks. § 1 The capital stock, corporate franchises and personal estate of cooperative banks shall be exempted from taxation; but this act shall not be construed to exempt from taxation any real estate of such corporations.

§ 2 Section 24 of ch. 13 of the public statutes is hereby repealed. ['90 ch. 63]

Life insurance. § 25 Every corporation and association engaged within the commonwealth, by its officers or by agents as defined by ch. 119, in the business of life insurance, whether incorporated by authority of this commonwealth or otherwise, shall annually pay an excise tax of an amount to be determined by assessment of the same at the rate of $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% per annum upon a valuation equal to the aggregate net value of all policies in force on the 31st day of December then next preceding, issued or assumed by such corporation or association and held by residents of the commonwealth.

Returns. Assessment. Collection. § 26 Every such corporation shall annually, on or before the 10th day of May, make a return to the tax commissioner, signed and sworn to by its president and secretary, giving the number, date, and class of the policies so held, the age of the assured life, and the aggregate net value of each group requiring a separate computation to determine their net value and the combined aggregate. The tax commissioner shall, upon such return, and such other evidence as he may obtain, assess and determine the amount to be paid by such corporation under the requirements of the preceding section; and the provisions of § 53 and 59 shall apply to the determination of the amount, notification, and time of payment of assessments under the preceding section, except that notification shall be made to the secretary or general agent of the company or association instead of to the treasurer. [As amended by '87 ch. 283]

Residence of policyholders. § 27 For the purpose of the two preceding sections all persons or corporations shall be deemed residents of the commonwealth who, under the provisions of ch. 11, are made liable to taxation on account of personal property other than that mentioned in the first, second, and third divisions of § 20 of said chapter, owned or held by or for them in trust, pledged, or otherwise.

Penalty. Enforcement. § 28 Every corporation or association neglecting to make return as required by § 26 shall forfeit $50 for each day of such neglect; and any corporation wilfully making false statements in any such return shall be liable to pay a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5000. All sums so forfeited, and all taxes unpaid, when due, by a corporation under § 25 and 26, may be collected by information in equity brought in the supreme judicial court in the name of the attorney-general at the relation of the treasurer and receiver-general; and upon such information the court may issue an injunction restraining the further prosecution of the business, or of any part thereof, of the corporation named therein, until said sums forfeited as aforesaid, or said taxes due and unpaid as aforesaid, are paid, together with interest and the costs of the information, and until the returns required by § 26 are made.

Domestic insurance other than life. § 29 Every fire, marine, fire and marine, and other insurance company, incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth, except life insurance companies, and except companies subject to taxation on their corporate franchise under the provisions of this chapter, shall, as hereinafter provided, annually pay a tax or excise of 1% on all premiums received during the year for insurance, whether in cash or in notes absolutely payable, and 1% on all assessments made by such company upon policy-holders: provided, that, in the assessment of such tax, premiums received in other states where they are subject to a like tax shall not be included.

Foreign insurance other than life. § 30 Every fire, marine, fire and marine, and other insurance company, corporation, association, or partnership, including associations formed upon the plan known as Lloyds, which is incorporated or associated by authority of any other state of the United States, shall, as herein-after provided, annually pay a tax or excise upon all premiums charged or received on contracts made in this commonwealth for the insurance of property or interest therein, or received or collected by agents in this commonwealth, at the rate of 2%, and at such greater rate, if any, as shall be equal to the highest rate imposed during the year by the laws of such other state upon insurance companies incorporated by authority of this commonwealth, or upon their agents, when doing business in such state.

Fire insurance by unauthorized companies. The insurance commissioner, upon the annual payment of a fee of $20, may issue licenses to citizens of this commonwealth, subject to revocation at any time, permitting the person named therein to procure policies of fire insurance on property in this commonwealth in foreign insurance companies not authorized to transact business in this commonwealth. Before the person named in such a license shall procure any insurance in such companies on any property in this commonwealth he shall in every case execute and file with the insurance commissioner an affidavit that he is unable to procure, in companies admitted to do business in the commonwealth, the amount of insurance necessary to protect said property, and shall only procure insurance under such license after he has procured insurance in companies admitted to do business in this commonwealth to the full amount which said companies are willing to write on said property. Each person so licensed shall keep a separate account of the business done under the license, a certified copy of which account he shall forthwith file with the insurance commissioner, showing the exact amount of such insurance placed for any person, firm, or corporation, the gross premium charged thereon, the companies in which the same is placed, the date of the policies and the term thereof, and also a report in the same detail of all such policies canceled, and the gross return premiums thereon, and before receiving such license shall execute and deliver to the treasurer and receiver-general of the commonwealth a bond in the penal sum of $2,000, with such sureties as the treasurer and receiver-general shall approve, with a condition that the licensee will faithfully comply with all the requirements of this section, and will file with the treasurer and receiver-general, in January of each year, a sworn statement of the gross premiums charged for insurance procured or placed, and the gross returned premiums on such insurance canceled under such license during the year ending on the 31st day of December next preceding, and at the time of filing such statement will pay into the treasury of the commonwealth a sum equal to 4% of such gross premiums, less such returned premiums so reported. [’87 ch. 214 § 83] corporated or associated by authority of any other state of the United States, by the laws of which state a tax is imposed upon the premium receipts of life insurance companies chartered by this commonwealth, and doing business in such state, or upon their agents, shall annually, so long as such laws continue in force, pay a tax or excise upon all premiums charged or received upon contracts made in this commonwealth, at a rate equal to the highest rate imposed during the year upon life insurance companies chartered by this commonwealth or upon their agents doing business in such other state.

Alien insurance companies. § 32 Every fire, marine, fire and marine, and other insurance company, corporation, association, or partnership, including associations formed upon the plan known as Lloyds, incorporated or associated under the laws of any government or state other than one of the United States, shall, as hereinafter provided, annually pay a tax of 4% upon all premiums charged or received on contracts made in this commonwealth for insurance, or received or collected by agents in this commonwealth: provided, that whenever it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the tax commissioner, that any such company, corporation, association, or partnership, has, during the whole term for which the tax is to be assessed, kept deposited with the insurance or other departments of any state of the United States, or in the hands of trustees, resident in and citizens of such states, for the general benefit and security of all policy-holders residing in the United States, securities approved by the insurance commissioner, of the value of $200,000, which have been at all times available for the payment of losses in this commonwealth, the tax upon the premiums of such company, under this section, shall be assessed at the rate of 2%. The certificate of the insurance commissioner may be received by the tax commissioner as sufficient evidence that such securities have been so deposited.

Deduction for return premiums, reinsurance, etc. § 33 In determining the amount of tax due under the four preceding sections there shall be deducted in each case, from the full amount of premiums and assessments, unused balances on notes taken for premiums on open policies, all sums paid for return premiums on canceled policies, and all sums actually paid to other insurance companies incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth, or to the agents of foreign companies, for reinsurance on risks, for which a tax on the premium would be due had no reinsurance been effected: provided, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to allow dividends in scrip or otherwise in stock, mutual, or mixed companies to be considered return premiums: and provided, further, that whenever any company negotiating insurance effects a reinsurance of any part thereof otherwise than by their licensed resident agents, no deduction of the sums paid for such reinsurance shall be made under this section. [As amended by '88 ch. 154]

Returns to tax commissioner. Agents of foreign companies. § 34 Every company, which, by the provisions of § 29, is required to pay a tax, shall, between the first and 15th days of November in each year, cause to be made to the tax commissioner a return, signed and sworn to by its secretary or other officer cognizant of the facts, which shall set forth the amount insured by said company, and the premiums received and assessments collected during the year ending with the 31st day of October then next preceding. Every company, corporation, association, or partnership, including associations formed upon the plan known as Lloyds, which is incorporated or associated by authority of any government other than this commonwealth, doing or authorized to do insurance business in the commonwealth, shall, between the first and 15th days of November in each year, make to the tax commissioner, in such form as he shall prescribe, a return, signed and sworn to by its secretary, manager or other officer cognizant of the facts of the amount insured by it upon property or interests in this commonwealth, and the premiums and assessments upon such insurance charged or received by it or its agents during the year ending with the 31st day of October then next preceding. Such returns shall contain a statement of the whole amount of premiums charged or received by or in behalf of said company, corporation, association, or partnership, either in cash or in notes absolutely payable, and the amount claimed as a deduction therefrom, under any of the provisions of this chapter specifying the amount so claimed, and also the classes of deductions and amount of each class. Every agent of a foreign insurance company, before transacting any business in this commonwealth, shall file with the treasurer of the commonwealth a bond with two sureties approved by the insurance commissioner in the penal sum of $500, conditioned that such agent shall, on or before the 15th day of November in each year, make return to the tax commissioner of all business transacted by him as such agent during the year ending with the 31st day of October then next preceding, in such form as the tax commissioner may prescribe; and also that all the books, papers and accounts of his agency shall be open to the inspection of the tax commissioner at any time whenever he may deem it proper to verify the statement of transactions aforesaid. If any such agent shall refuse to submit the books, papers and accounts of his agency to such inspection, he shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $500, which may be recovered in a suit upon said bond, and the tax commissioner shall report such refusal to the insurance commissioner who shall thereupon cancel his certificate of authority to such agent, and the certificate so canceled shall not be renewed within one year thereafter; but only such agents of life or accident insurance companies are required to give bond as are not accountable to any other agent in the commonwealth for premiums received. [As amended by '87 ch. 283]

Returns of insurance agents. Every agent of a foreign insurance company shall, on or before the 15th day of November in each year, make return to the tax commissioner of all business transacted by him as such agent during the year ending with the 31st day of October then next preceding, in such form as the tax commissioner may prescribe; and all books, papers and accounts of his agency shall be open to the inspection of the tax commissioner at any time whenever he may deem it proper to verify the statements and transactions aforesaid. If such agent neglects or refuses to make such return, or refuses to submit the books, papers and accounts of his agency to such inspection, the tax commissioner shall report such neglect or refusal to the insurance commissioner, who shall thereupon cancel the certificate of authority to such agent and make publication thereof, in such manner as the commissioner shall deem necessary, and the certificate so canceled shall not be renewed within one year thereafter; but only such agents shall be subject to this provision as are not accountable to any other agent in the commonwealth for premiums received. ['94 ch. 522 § 92 ¶ 2 as amended by '97 ch. 63 § 1]

Insurance tax, assessment. § 35 The tax commissioner shall, thereupon, upon such statements, and on such other evidence as he may obtain, proceed to assess upon such companies, corporations, associations, and partnerships, including associations formed upon the plan known as Lloyds, and their agents, the taxes prescribed by the provisions of § 29 to 32, inclusive, and shall forthwith, upon making such assessment, forward written or printed notices to such companies, corporations, associations, and partnerships, or their agents in the commonwealth, stating the amounts so determined by him to be payable by each company, corporation, association, partnership, or agent. Such taxes shall be paid to the treasurer of the commonwealth on the 10th day of December next succeeding the time fixed in the preceding section for making the statement therein required.

The tax commissioner shall, on or before such 10th day of December, deliver to the treasurer of the commonwealth a certificate setting forth the names of every such company, corporation, association, partnership, and agent, upon whom such tax has then been assessed; and shall, in like manner, make certificate of such further assessments as may be made after that date. All such taxes, whether assessed before or after the 10th day of December, shall bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from that date until they are paid.

Penalties. § 36 Every company, corporation, association, partnership, and agent, failing to make any return required by the provisions of § 34, shall forfeit $25 for such default; and continuing in such failure for the space of 10 days after a written or printed notice thereof, authorized by the tax commissioner, has been deposited in the postoffice, postage paid, and addressed to such company, corporation, association, partnership, or agent, shall be subject to a farther penalty of $500; and, in addition, the company, corporation, association, or agent, so failing, shall be liable, upon information by the attorney-general, at the relation of the tax commissioner, to injunction restraining it or him from transacting the business of such company, corporation, association, or partnership in this commonwealth, until such return is made.

If any such return contains statements which are false, and are known, or by the exercise of reasonable care might have been known, to the agent or officers making it, to be false, such agent, company, corporation, or association shall be liable for the amount of tax thereby lost to the commonwealth, and, in addition, to a penalty of not less than $500 nor more than $5000.

Such penalties may be recovered by an action of tort, brought at the instance of the treasurer against the company, corporation, association, partnership, or agent in default: provided, that no such company, corporation, association, partnership, or agent shall be liable to the money penalties imposed by this section, if it is made to appear that the return was duly made and deposited by said agent in the postoffice, postage paid, and properly directed to the tax commissioner, and that there was no neglect on the part of such agent.

Liability for taxes. § 37 Every insurance company is incorporated by authority of the commonwealth, and every such company, corporation, association, or partnership, incorporated or associated by authority of any other state or government, shall be liable for the full amount of all taxes so assessed upon the premiums or assessments received by such company, corporation, association, or partnership, or by its agents; which, with interest at the rate of 12% per annum, may be recovered in an action of contract brought in the name of the commonwealth. Such corporation, company, association, or partnership, shall be further liable, upon information by the attorney-general at the relation of the treasurer of the commonwealth, to injunction restraining said company, corporation, association, or partnership, and the agents thereof, from the further prosecution of its business, until all taxes due as aforesaid, with costs and interests, are fully paid. [As amended by '87 ch. 283]

Accident, fidelity and guaranty insurance. § 1 Every corporation which is incorporated by the authority of any other state of the United States, or of any foreign country, which is subject to the provisions of ch. 214 of the acts of the year 1887 and amendments thereto, engaged in the business of insuring against accident to the person, acting as surety upon bonds, guaranteeing the fidelity of employees, and insuring employers against liability for accidents to employees, shall, as hereinafter provided, annually pay a tax or excise upon all premiums charged or received on contracts made in this commonwealth for such insurance or guaranty, or received or collected by agents in this commonwealth, at the rate of 2%.

§ 2 Every corporation which by the provisions of this act is required to pay a tax shall be subject so far as applicable thereto to the provisions of § 33 to 37, both inclusive, of ch. 13 of the public statutes as amended by ch. 283 of the acts of the year 1887 and by ch. 154 of the acts of the year 1888. ['90 ch. 197 as amended by '92 ch. 129]

Shares of domestic corporations. Returns. § 38 Every corporation chartered by the commonwealth, or organized under the general laws, for purposes of business or profit, having a capital stock divided into shares, excepting banks whose shares are otherwise taxable under this chapter, and except those specified in § 43 and 46, shall annually, between the first and the 10th day of May, return to the tax commissioner, under the oath of its treasurer, a complete list of its shareholders, with their places of residence, the number of shares belonging to each on the first day of May, the amount of the capital stock of the corporation, its place of business, the par value and market value of the shares on said first day of May. Such return shall, in the case of stock held as collateral security, state not only the name of the person holding the same, but also the name of the pledger and his residence. The returns shall also contain a statement in detail of the works, structures, real estate, and machinery owned by said corporation and subject to local taxation within the commonwealth, and of the location and value thereof. Railroad and telegraph companies shall return the whole length of their lines, and the length of so much of their lines as is without the commonwealth; other corporations required to make a return under this section shall also return the amount, value, and location of all works, structures, real estate, and machinery owned by them and subject to local taxation without the commonwealth: provided, that nothing herein contained shall exempt any corporation from making all returns required by its charter.

Valuation of shares. Real estate. § 39 The tax commissioner shall ascertain, from the returns or otherwise, the true market value of the shares of each corporation included in the provisions of the preceding section, and shall estimate therefrom the fair cash valuation of all of said shares constituting its capital stock on the first day of May next preceding, which shall be taken as the true value of its corporate franchise for the purposes of this chapter. He shall also ascertain and determine the value and amount of all real estate and machinery owned by each corporation, and subject to local taxation, and of the deductions provided in the following section; and for this purpose he may take the amount or value at which such real estate and machinery are assessed at the place where the same are located as the true amount or value; but such local assessment shall not be conclusive of the true amount or value thereof.

Tax on corporate franchise. § 40 Every corporation embraced in the provisions of § 38 shall annually pay a tax upon its corporate franchise at a valuation thereof equal to the aggregate value of the shares in its capital stock, as determined in the preceding section, after making the deductions provided for in this section, at a rate determined by an apportionment of the whole amount of money to be raised by taxation upon property in the commonwealth during the same current year, as returned by the assessors of the several cities and towns under § 86 of ch. 11, upon the aggregate valuation of all the cities and towns for the preceding year, as returned under § 54 and § 55 of said chapter: provided, that in case the return from any city or town is not received prior to the 20th day of August, the amount raised by taxation in said city or town the preceding year, as certified to the secretary of the commonwealth, may be adopted for the purpose of this determination; and provided, further, that the amount of tax assessed upon polls the preceding year, as certified to the secretary, may be taken as the amount of poll-tax to be deducted from the whole amount to be raised by taxation, for the purpose of ascertaining the amount to be raised by taxation upon property. From the valuation, ascertained and determined as aforesaid, there shall be deducted,—First, in case of railroad and telegraph companies, whose lines extend beyond the limits of the commonwealth, such portion of the whole valuation of their capital stock, ascertained as aforesaid, as is proportional to the length of that part of their line lying without the commonwealth; and also an amount equal to the value, as determined by the tax commissioner, of their real estate and machinery located and subject to local taxation within the commonwealth: Second, in case of other corporations, included in § 38 of this chapter, an amount equal to the value, as determined by the tax commissioner, of their real estate and machinery, subject to local taxation, wherever situated: provided, that, whenever the charter of a corporation provides a different method of ascertaining the valuation of its corporate franchise for the purposes of this chapter, the same shall be ascertained in the method provided in such charter.

Title guaranty companies. § 40 to apply to title guaranty companies the same as to domestic fire insurance companies. ['84 ch. 180 § 5]

Telephone companies. Every corporation chartered by this commonwealth, or organized under the general laws for the purpose of establishing, owning, using, or licensing others to use electric speaking telephones or other apparatus and appliances pertaining to the transaction of telephonic business partly within and partly without this commonwealth, and every such corporation organized or incorporated elsewhere and having any part of its lines or telephones in use in this commonwealth, shall be subject to taxation under the provisions of § 38, § 39, and § 40 of ch. 13 of the public statutes: provided, however, that the apportionment provided by said § 40 shall be made upon the number of telephones in use by it, or under its authority or with its permission, or under any letters patent owned or controlled by it within and without this commonwealth, respectively; and the returns to be made under said ch. 13 shall state the facts required for such apportionment in such form as the tax commissioner may require and determine. ['85 ch. 238 § 1]

Every corporation chartered by this commonwealth, or organized under the general laws for the purpose of manufacturing, owning, selling, using, or licensing others to use electric speaking telephones and other apparatus and appliances pertaining to the transaction of telephonic business, either wholly or partly within this commonwealth, shall be subject to the provisions of § 38 to § 41 inclusive of ch. 13 of the public statutes, except so far as the same relate to telegraph and railroad companies. And every such corporation may between the first and 10th days of May in each year make a return to the tax commissioner specifying therein the amount and their market value of all stocks in other corporations held by it upon which a tax has been assessed and actually paid either in this or other states for the 12 months next preceding the date of said return, which return shall be signed by its president, treasurer and clerk and by them sworn to, and it shall be the duty of the tax commissioner or his deputy to examine the books, accounts and papers of such corporation so far as may be necessary for the verification of said return; and said amount so returned and verified shall be deducted from the valuation of the corporate franchise of such corporation as determined in the manner provided in § 39 of said ch. 13, in addition to the deductions provided for in § 40 of said chapter so far as the same are applicable to such corporation. ['86 ch. 270 § 1]

Street railway companies. The provisions of § 38 to 41, and § 53 to 66, inclusive, of ch. 13 of the public statutes, which are applicable to railroad companies whose lines are located partly within and partly without the limits of this commonwealth, shall apply in like manner to street railway companies, whether chartered or organized in this commonwealth or elsewhere. ['98 ch. 417 § 1]

Valuation of real estate. § 41 In case the value of the real estate and machinery located within the commonwealth, of any corporation, as determined by the commissioner, is less than the value as determined by the assessors of the city or town where such real estate or machinery is taxable, said commissioner shall notify the corporation of such determination, and if it does not, within one month from the date of such notice, make application to said assessors for an abatement, and does not, in case of the refusal of said assessors to grant an abatement, forthwith prosecute an appeal in accordance with the provisions of § 71 of ch. 11, and give notice thereof to the tax commissioner, such determination shall be conclusive upon said corporation. The tax commissioner may appear before the county commissioners and be heard upon any appeal made to them, and the decision of the county commissioners shall be conclusive as to the value.

Appeals from assessors to superior court. [See '90 ch. 127]

Foreign telegraph companies. § 42 Every corporation or association chartered or organized elsewhere, which owns, or controls and uses, under lease or otherwise, a line of telegraph within this commonwealth, shall make all the returns prescribed in § 38 to be made by telegraph companies within the commonwealth, excepting the list of its shareholders; and shall annually pay a tax at the same rate, and to be ascertained and determined in the same manner as is provided in § 40; and all telegraph lines within the commonwealth controlled and used by such corporation or association, shall, for the purposes of this chapter, be taken and considered as part of its own lines.

Mining companies. § 43 Every corporation chartered by this commonwealth, or organized under the general laws, for the purpose of engaging without the limits of this commonwealth, in the business of coal-mining or other mining, quarrying or extracting carbonaceous oils from the earth, or for the purpose of purchasing, selling, or holding mines or lands without the commonwealth, and every such company or association, incorporated elsewhere, and having an office or place of business within the commonwealth for the direction of its affairs or the transfer of its shares, shall, semiannually, between the first and the 10th day of June and December, make a return, under the oath of its treasurer or president, to the tax commissioner, of the whole amount of its capital stock, as fixed by the corporation, on the first days respectively of May and November preceding, and shall pay to the treasurer of the commonwealth a tax of one twentieth of 1% upon said capital stock at the par thereof.

All officers of such corporation, and other persons assuming to represent it within the commonwealth by having charge of its affairs or of books for the transfer of its shares, shall severally be personally liable for the amount of the tax imposed upon it under this section if the same is not paid by the corporation. The capital stock of any corporation established in this commonwealth, subject to taxation under this section, shall not be reduced except upon application to the supreme judicial court. In case of such application, written notice shall be given to the tax commissioner and to the attorney-general 10 days at least before the hearing.

Foreign mining, quarrying and oil companies. § 1 Every corporation, company or association chartered or organized by authority other than that of this commonwealth for the purpose of engaging without the limits of this commonwealth in the business of coal mining or other mining, of quarrying, or extracting carbonaceous oils from the earth, or of purchasing or holding mines or lands without the said limits, which shall for any period exceeding 10 days establish, set up, have, or keep principal or branch subscription, treasury, or transfer office, or agency within this commonwealth, shall within 30 days after the setting up or establishment of such office or agency make and return to the secretary of the commonwealth a certificate in manner and form to be approved by the commissioner of corporations, and signed and sworn to by its president, treasurer and a majority of its board of directors or trustees, setting forth the name of such corporation, company, or association, the name of the state, territory, or foreign country under whose laws it is organized and whether specially chartered, or organized under the general laws thereof, its location in such state, territory or country, the location of its mines, quarries, oil wells, or lands, and the amount of its capital stock authorized by its charter or organization and the amount thereof actually called in by assessment or instalment, the place or places within this commonwealth in which its office or offices are established or set up, and the names and residences of all those of its officers, directors, trustees and agents who are citizens or residents of this commonwealth. Such corporation, company or association shall also in said return designate, by his proper name and address, one of said officers or agents, a citizen or resident of this commonwealth, as the attorney upon whom service may be made of all process against such corporation, company or association in this commonwealth.

§ 2 Within 30 days after any meeting of the stockholders, members, directors or trustees of any such corporation, company or association at which the capital stock is increased or reduced, or any changes made in its board of officers, agents, directors or trustees, a like certificate shall be filed setting forth the facts as then established.

§ 3 The fee for filing and recording the certificate required by § 1 and 2 of this act shall be $5 for each certificate, to be paid to the secretary of the commonwealth, and by him paid into the treasury of the commonwealth.

§ 4 Each such corporation, company or association shall semiannually between the first and 10th days of June and December in each year pay to the treasurer of the commonwealth a tax of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% upon the par value of its capital stock as paid in in cash or otherwise or called in by assessment or instalment by the corporation, company or association on the first days of May and November respectively then next preceding: provided, however, that said semiannual tax shall not for any one of such corporations, companies or associations exceed the sum of \$300. And this tax when paid shall be in lieu of that required by § 43 of ch. 13 of the public statutes. [As amended by '83 ch. 74]

§ 5 All officers, directors, trustees and agents of such corporations, companies, or associations, citizens of or resident or commorant within this commonwealth, shall be jointly and severally liable for all taxes due under said § 43 of ch. 13 of the public statutes, and for fees required to be paid under provisions of this act. ['82 ch. 106]

Every corporation mentioned in section one of ch. 106 of the acts of the year 1882, upon filing the copy and statement required by the provisions of ch. 330 of the acts of the year 1884, shall be relieved from making the returns and certificates required by the first and second sections of said ch. 106. ['86 ch. 230 § 1]

Mining companies. Annual report. § 44 Every corporation mentioned in the preceding section, except those not incorporated by this commonwealth, shall annually, on or before the 10th day of June, submit to the tax commissioner a report of its business for the year ending on the first day of March next preceding, which report shall be signed and sworn to by its treasurer and a majority of its directors, and shall contain a full and accurate statement of its property and of all receipts and expenditures during said year in or on account of its business, and of all products thereof. Said report shall contain such details as shall be prescribed by the tax commissioner, who shall furnish to each corporation blank forms therefor.

Tax on net profits. § 45 The tax commissioner shall, from such report or otherwise, ascertain and determine the net profits or gains of each corporation, from which a report is required under the preceding section, from its property and business during the year aforesaid, and shall assess a tax of 4% upon the amount thereof.

Companies to construct railroads in foreign countries. § 46 Every corporation formed under the general laws of the commonwealth to construct railroads, or railroads and telegraphs, in foreign countries, shall, for purposes of taxation, be subject to the provisions of § 43, except that the rate of taxation shall aggregate $\frac{1}{2}\%$ of 1% per annum upon the par value of the capital stock of every such corporation, divided into two semiannual payments as provided in said § 43; but no other provisions of this chapter relating to the assessment of taxes upon corporations or the shareholders therein shall apply thereto. Every such corporation shall annually, between the first and 10th days of May, return to the tax commissioner, under the oath of its treasurer, a complete list of its shareholders, with their places of residence, the number of shares belonging to each on the first day of May, the amount of its capital stock, and the par value and market value of the shares on said first day of May. [As amended by '95 ch. 300]

Guaranty capital and permanent funds of certain mutual insurance companies. § 50 Mutual fire insurance companies with a guaranty capital, and mutual marine, and mutual fire and marine, insurance companies with a permanent fund, shall, if organized under the general laws, so far as the assessment and payment of a tax upon such guaranty capital or permanent fund is concerned, be subject to the provisions of this chapter imposing a tax upon the franchises of corporations organized for purposes of business or profit having a capital stock divided into shares, and shall make all such returns and payments, and be subject to like penalties, liabilities, and forfeitures, and have the same rights of appeal, required of, imposed upon, and given to such corporations in this chapter.

Massachusetts hospital life insurance company. § 51 The Massachusetts hospital life insurance company shall, on or before the second Mondays of May and November in each year, make a return, signed and sworn to by a majority of its board of directors, of the full amount of all moneys and property, in detail, in its possession or charge as deposits, trust funds, or for purposes of investment, and shall pay upon all the same, except upon deposits invested in loans secured by mortgages of taxable real estate, the same rate of tax imposed upon savings banks or institutions for savings on account of deposits. If said corporation neglects to make the return herein required it shall forfeit $50 for each day of such neglect, and if it wilfully makes false statements in any such return it shall be liable to pay a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5000.

Trust companies. § 52 All trust companies, safe deposit and trust companies, banking and trust companies, loan and trust companies, and other moneyed corporations, incorporated in this commonwealth subject to the provisions of any act consolidated in this chapter, shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter so far as the same are applicable thereto. Property held in trust by, and moneys deposited on interest or for investment with, said corporations, shall, for purposes of taxation, and of credits to cities and towns, be governed by the provisions of their respective charters; and said corporations shall make all such returns and payments, submit to such examinations, and be subject to such penalties and forfeitures, as are required or imposed by law, or by their respective charters.

Safe deposit and trust companies incorporated after May 28, 1888.
Deposits. Deposits with such corporation, which can be withdrawn on demand or upon not exceeding 10 days' notice, shall for the purposes of taxation be deemed money in possession of the persons to whom the same is payable. ['88 ch. 413 § 20]

Tax on property held in trust. Such corporation shall also, annually, between the first and 10th days of May, return to the tax commissioner a true statement, attested by the oath of some officer of the corporation, of all personal property held upon any trust on the first day of May which would be taxable if held by an individual trustee residing in this commonwealth, and the name of every city or town in this commonwealth where any beneficiary resided on said day, and the aggregate amount of such property then held for all beneficiaries resident in each of such cities or towns and also the aggregate amount held for beneficiaries not resident in this commonwealth, under the pains and penalties provided in § 54 of ch. 13 of the public statutes and acts in amendment thereof, for corporations failing to make returns provided by said act. Such corporation shall annually pay to the treasurer of the commonwealth a sum to be ascertained by assessment by the tax commissioner upon an amount equal to the total value of such property, at the rate ascertained and determined by him, under § 40 of ch. 13 of the public statutes and acts in amendment thereof. ['88 ch. 413 § 21]

Tax on deposits. Such corporation shall also, annually, between the first and 10th days of May, return to the tax commissioner a true statement, verified by the oath of some officer of the corporation, of the amount of all sums deposited with it on interest or for investment, other than those specified in the 20th and 21st sections of this act, together with the name of every city and town in this commonwealth where any beneficial owner resided on said first day of May, and the aggregate amount of such deposits then held for the benefit of persons residing in each of such cities and towns, under like penalty. Such corporation shall annually pay to the treasurer of the commonwealth a sum to be ascertained by assessment by the tax commissioner upon an amount equal to the total value of such deposits at three fourths of the rate ascertained and determined by him under § 40 of ch. 13 of the public statutes and acts in amendment thereof. ['88 ch. 431 § 22]

Exemption. Distribution. Collection. No taxes shall be assessed in any city or town for state, county or town purposes, upon or in respect to any such property held in trust or any such amounts deposited on interest or for investment, but such proportion of the sum so paid by such corporation as corresponds to the amount of such property held for beneficiaries or payable to persons resident in this commonwealth shall be credited and paid to the several cities and towns where it appears from the returns or other evidence that such beneficiaries resided on the first day of May next preceding, according to the aggregate amount so held for beneficiaries and persons residing in such cities and towns respectively; and in regard to such sums so to be assessed and paid as aforesaid such corporation shall be subject to § 52, 53, 57, 58 and 59 of ch. 13 of the public statutes and acts in amendment or lieu thereof, so far as the same are applicable thereto. ['88 ch. 413 § 23]

Tax on shares. Every such corporation shall be subject to the provisions of ch. 13 of the public statutes as to the taxation of its capital stock, and to any acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto. ['88 ch. 413 § 24]

Notice of tax. § 53 The tax commissioner shall, as soon as may be after the first Monday in August, in each year, notify the treasurer of each corporation, company, copartnership, or association liable thereto, of the amount of its tax under § 25, 40, 42, 45, 47, 50 and 52, to become due and payable to the treasurer of the commonwealth within 30 days from the date of such notice: provided, that it shall not be due and payable earlier than the first day of November. Such notice shall also state that within 10 days after the date thereof the said corporation, company, copartnership, or association may apply for a correction of said tax, and be heard thereon before the board of appeal hereinafter established.

Penalties. § 54 Any corporation, company, copartnership, or association taxable under the provisions of § 40, 42, 43, 45, 47, 50, and 52, neglecting to make the returns required by this chapter, or refusing or neglecting, when required thereto, to submit to the examinations provided for therein, shall forfeit 2% upon the par value of its capital stock; all which penalties may be recovered by an action of tort, brought in the name of the commonwealth, either in the county of Suffolk or in the county where the corporation is located. If any corporation, company, copartnership, or association fails to pay the taxes required to be paid to the treasurer of the commonwealth under the provisions of said § 40, 42, 43, 45, 47, 50, 51 and 52, he may forthwith commence an action of contract in his own name, as treasurer, for the recovery of the same, with interest at the rate of 12% per annum until the same are paid. All penalties under this section, and under § 7, 47, 50, and 52, may also be enforced, and all taxes under said § 40, 42, 43, 45, 47, 50, 51, and 52, may also be collected by information brought in the supreme judicial court at the relation of the treasurer of the commonwealth, and upon such information the court may issue an injunction restraining the further prosecution of the business of the corporation, company, copartnership, or association, until all such taxes due or penalties incurred shall be paid, with interest at the rate aforesaid, and costs. In any proceeding under this section the certificate of the tax commissioner or his deputy shall be competent evidence of all determinations made and notices given by him, and of all values, amounts, and other facts required to be fixed or ascertained by him under this chapter.

Failure to make returns. § 55 Any corporation, company, copartnership, or association which fails to make a return required by the provisions of § 38, 42, 43, 44, 46, 48, 50, and 52, shall be liable, on application of the tax commissioner therefor to any of the justices of the supreme judicial court, to injunction restraining the same and the agents thereof from the further prosecution of its business, until the returns required by law shall be made.

Lessee of property liable. § 56 The lessee of the works, structures, real estate, or machinery of any corporation, company, copartnership, or association taxed under § 40, 42, 43, 45, 47, 50, 51, and 52, shall be liable as well as the lessor to pay the amount of said tax, and upon such payment may, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, retain the same out of the rent of the property, or recover the same in an action against the lessor.

Exemption of shareholders. Distribution to cities and towns. § 57 No taxes shall be assessed in any city or town for state, county, or town purposes, upon the shares in the capital stock of corporations, companies, copartnerships, or associations, taxable under § 40, 42, 45, 47, 50, and 52, for any year for which they pay to the treasurer the tax on their corporate franchises or property under said sections; but such proportion of the tax collected of each corporation, company, copartnership, or association under § 40, 47, 50, and 52, as corresponds to the proportion of its stock owned by persons residing in this commonwealth, shall be credited and paid to the several cities and towns where it appears from the returns or other evidence that such shareholders resided on the first day of May next preceding, according to the number of shares so held in such cities and towns respectively: provided, that in case stock is held by copartners, guardians, executors, administrators, or trustees, the proportion of tax corresponding to the amount of stock so held shall be credited and paid to the towns where the stock would have been taxed, under the provisions of the fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh clauses of § 20 and of § 24 of ch. 11; and provided, further, that when a town owns stock in any corporation taxed upon its corporate franchise under this chapter, a return to said town shall be made in like manner as is provided in the case of stock held by individuals residing in said town.

Distribution to cities and towns. § 58 Said commissioner shall ascertain and determine the amount due to each city and town under the preceding section, subject to appeal to the board of appeal constituted as hereinafter provided, and shall notify the treasurer of each city and town thereof, and certify the amount, as finally determined, to the treasurer of the commonwealth, who shall thereupon pay over the same.

Inspection. Examination. § 59 Every corporation taxable under the provisions of § 25 and of 38 to 52, inclusive, excepting corporations taxable under § 46, shall, when required, submit its books to the inspection of the tax commissioner, and its treasurer and directors to examination on oath in regard to all matters affecting the determinations which are to be made by said commissioner.

Tax on corporate franchise not to affect other taxes. § 60 The tax on corporate franchises herein imposed upon any corporation shall not affect or prevent the imposition and collection of any other tax now authorized, or that may hereafter be au-

Appeals. § 61 Any party aggrieved by the decision of the tax commissioner arising under the provisions of § 25 to 58, inclusive, excepting corporations named in § 46, may apply to the board of appeal, constituted under the provisions of the following section for a correction of the same.

Board of appeal. § 62 The treasurer and the auditor of the commonwealth, together with one member of the council to be named by the governor, shall constitute a board of appeal, to which board any party aggrieved by a decision of the tax commissioner upon any matter arising under this chapter, from his decision upon which an appeal is given, may apply within 10 days after notice of such decision for a correction of the same. Upon such appeal said board shall, as soon as may be, give a hearing to such party, and shall thereupon decide the matter in question, and notify the tax commissioner and the party appealing; and such decision shall be final and conclusive as to the rights of the parties affected, although payments may have been made as required by the decision of the tax commissioner appealed from. Any overpayment of tax, determined by the decision of said board of appeal, shall be reimbursed from the treasury of the commonwealth.

Warrants for collection. Relief. § 63 When any tax or excise of any kind remains due to or is claimed by the commonwealth from a corporation, company, copartnership, or association, whether existing by authority of this commonwealth or otherwise, except a municipal corporation, for the term of 10 days after notice given through the mail by the treasurer of the commonwealth to its treasurer or other financial agent that such tax or excise is due and unpaid, the treasurer of the commonwealth may issue his warrant, directed to the sheriff, or his deputies, of the county in which such corporation, company, copartnership, or association has its place of business, commanding the collection of such tax or excise. Such warrant may be substantially in the form of those now issued by the assessors of towns, except as is hereinafter provided; and the officer to whom the same is delivered for service shall proceed in the manner in which collectors and others serving such warrants are authorized to proceed. Such warrants shall not run against the body of any person, nor shall any property of such delinquent corporation, company, copartnership, or association be exempt from seizure and sale thereon. The officer having such warrant shall collect such tax or excise, and interest upon the same at the rate of 12% per annum from the time when such tax or excise became due, and shall be entitled to collect and receive for his fees the sum which an officer would be entitled by law to receive upon an execution for a like amount. He shall also collect $1 for the warrant, which shall be paid over to the treasurer of the commonwealth.

§ 64 Any corporation, company, copartnership, or association feeling aggrieved by the exaction of said tax or excise or of any portion thereof, may, within six months from the date of payment of the same, whether such payment be after or before the issue of the warrant provided for in the preceding section, file a petition to the supreme judicial court, in the nature of a petition of right, setting forth the amount of the tax or excise, and costs thereon so paid, the general legal grounds, if any, upon which it is claimed such tax or excise should not have been exacted, and specifically the grounds in fact, if any, upon which it is so claimed. Said petition shall be entered and heard in the county of Suffolk. Service of the same shall be made upon the treasurer of the commonwealth, and the attorney-general, in the same manner as a writ of original summons is now served upon an individual. The proceedings upon such petition shall conform, as nearly as may be, to proceedings in equity, and an abatement shall be granted therein of such portion only of the tax or excise as appears to have been assessed without authority of law.

§ 65 If the court, upon a hearing or trial, adjudges that said tax or excise, and the costs thereon, have been illegally exacted, a copy of the judgment or decree shall be transmitted by the clerk of the court to the governor; and the governor shall thereupon draw his warrant upon the treasurer of the commonwealth for the amount adjudged to have been unjustly exacted, with interest, and costs to be taxed by the clerk of the court, as in equity causes; and the treasurer shall pay the same, without any further act or resolve making appropriation therefor. And so much thereof as has been paid out of the treasury of the commonwealth to any city or town may be deducted and set off from and against any sum afterwards due and payable to such city or town.

§ 66 The manner of collection provided for in § 63 shall be in addition to those otherwise provided. The remedy by petition, provided in § 64, shall take the place of any and all actions which might otherwise be maintained on account of the assessment and collection of such tax or excise, and shall be the exclusive remedy. [See '98, ch. 417]

§ 67 When it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the tax commissioner that any corporation assessed under § 43 is doing no business, and has taken actual measures, in good faith, to procure its legal dissolution, or the reduction of its capital stock, upon a sworn statement by its treasurer or other officer setting forth the facts and that there is no money in its treasury, and if it is made to appear that it has not sufficient assets to satisfy the claim of the commonwealth for such taxes with the costs of collection, said commissioner may in his discretion accept for the commonwealth, in satisfaction and composition of all such assessments due and the interest thereon, a sum not less than 10% of the amount of the assessments due; and upon his certifying to the treasurer of the commonwealth the said composition and the amount to be paid thereunder, and upon payment thereof, the officers and stockholders shall be discharged from liability to the commonwealth for the amount of such assessments.

Street railways. Definitions. § 1 In the construction of this act, unless such meaning would be repugnant to the context, "street railways" and "railways" shall mean all railways, including tracks, poles, wires and other appliances and equipments connected therewith, which are constructed on, in, under or above the public highways or streets, and operated by any motive power other than steam, except such as are at the present time owned or operated by or leased to the Boston elevated railway company. "Street railway companies" and "companies" shall mean all corporations, persons, partnerships or associations, constructing, maintaining or operating street railways, but shall not include said Boston elevated railway company, or companies whose railways are at the present time leased or operated by said company. "Location" shall mean the grant to a street railway company by vote or order of a board of aldermen of a city or selectmen of a town, when duly accepted by such company, of the right to construct, maintain and operate a street railway in a public highway or street in such city or town. An "original location" of a company in any city or town shall mean the first location granted to it in such city or town.

Returns. § 2 In the case of street railway companies the return to the tax commissioner under the provisions of § 38 of ch. 13 of the public statutes shall also contain a statement under the oath of the treasurer of every such company, giving the length of the track operated by it in each city and town in the commonwealth on the 30th day of September next preceding the date of the return, which length shall be determined by measuring as single track the total length of all track operated by such company, including sidings and turn-outs, whether owned or leased by it, or over which it has trackage rights only; and said return shall also contain a statement under the oath of the treasurer of every such company showing the amount of the capital stock of the company and of the dividends paid thereon during the year ending on the 30th day of September last preceding, and during each and every year from the organization of the company.

Tax on dividends. § 3 Whenever an operating street railway company has paid during the year ending on the 30th day of September next preceding the date of the return referred to in

§ 2 of this act, dividends exceeding in the aggregate 8% upon its capital stock, said company shall, for every such year, in addition to the tax upon its corporate franchise for which it is liable under the provisions of ch. 13 of the public statutes, pay to the treasurer of the commonwealth a tax equal to the amount of such excess: provided, however, that no company shall be liable to pay such additional tax which has not from the date when it commenced to operate its road paid dividends equivalent in the aggregate to at least 6% per annum upon its capital stock from year to year. Said tax shall be determined and paid in the manner provided in said ch. 13 in relation to taxes upon the corporate franchises of street railways.

Distribution to cities and towns. § 4 Prior to the first day of November in each year the tax commissioner shall apportion the amount of the tax for which each street railway company is liable under the provisions of ch. 13 of the public statutes, and under the provisions of § 3 of this act, among the several cities and towns in proportion to the length of tracks operated by such company in said cities and towns, respectively, subject to appeal to the board of appeal constituted by § 61 and 62 of said ch. 13. The tax commissioner shall notify the treasurers of every such city and town of the share of said tax so apportioned to each city and town, and he shall also certify to the treasurer of the commonwealth the shares thus apportioned as finally determined in case of appeal.

§ 5 As soon as practicable after the receipt of said tax, and of the certificate of apportionment thereof by the tax commissioner, the treasurer of the commonwealth shall credit and pay over to the treasurers of the several cities and towns the shares of said tax apportioned to them respectively as aforesaid.

Returns. § 6 Every street railway company shall on or before the 15th day of October in each year make and file in the office of the board of assessors of every city and town in which any portion of the railway operated by it is situated, a return signed and sworn to by its president and treasurer, stating the length of track operated by it in public ways in such city or town, and also the total length of track operated by it in public ways, determined as provided in § 2 of this act, and also the amount of its gross receipts during the year ending on the 30th day of September next preceding, which gross receipts shall include all amounts received by it from the operation of its railway, but shall not include income derived from sale of power, rental of tracks or other sources.

Gross receipts tax. § 7 On or before the first day of November in each year, the assessors of every city and town in which any street railways are operated shall assess on each company operating such railways therein, an excise tax of an amount equal to such proportion of the following percentages of the gross receipts of such company as the length of tracks operated by it in public ways of such city or town bears to the total length of tracks operated by it in public ways, to wit:

In case of companies whose annual gross receipts per mile of track operated are $4000 or less, 1% of the total annual gross receipts; in case of companies whose annual gross receipts per mile of track operated are more than $4000 and less than $7000 2% of the total annual gross receipts; in case of companies whose annual gross receipts per mile of track operated are more than $7000 and less than $14,000, 2½% of the total annual gross receipts; in case of companies whose annual gross receipts per mile of track operated are more than $14,000 and less than $21,000, 2½% of the total annual gross receipts; in case of companies whose annual gross receipts per mile of track operated are more than $21,000 and less than $28,000, 2¾% of the total annual gross receipts; and in case of companies whose annual gross receipts per mile of track operated are $28,000 or more, 3% of the total annual gross receipts. The excise tax provided by this section shall be in addition to the taxes now provided by law. . . .

Repealing clause. § 26 Sections 57 and 58 of ch. 13 of the public statutes, so far as said sections relate to the distribution of taxes assessed and collected upon the corporate franchise of street railway companies; § 32 of ch. 113 of the public statutes; so much of § 27 of said ch. 113 as relates to the removal of snow and ice; § 7, 21, 22, 23, 24, 44 and 45 of said ch. 113; ch. 541 of the acts of the year 1896; and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed; subject to the exception contained in § 28. . .

Exceptions. When in effect. § 28 This act shall take effect on the first day of October in the year 1898, except as to § 6 and 7, and, as to those sections, this act shall take effect on the first day of October in the year 1899, but for the term of 25 years from the 10th day of June in the year 1897 this act shall not apply to or affect the Boston elevated railway company or any railways now owned, leased, or operated by it, or the opening, widening or paving, or the altering or changing of any grade, of any street or highway in which it operates such railway, nor shall it apply to snow in such street or highway, and the acts and parts of acts repealed by § 26 hereof shall continue during said term in full force so far as they relate thereto: provided, however, that the taxes now or hereafter imposed by general law consistently with the provisions of § 10 of ch. 500 of the acts of the year 1897 upon the Boston elevated railway company, as therein provided, and the taxes or excises in fact imposed upon the West End street railway company at the date of the passage of said act, except taxes locally assessed upon the real estate and machinery of said corporations consistently with said section, shall be paid and distributed as the compensation tax imposed by said § 10 upon said elevated railway company is paid and distributed; and provided, further, that the return by the Boston elevated railway company to the tax commissioner under the provisions of § 38 of ch. 13 of the public statutes shall also contain a statement under the oath of the treasurer of said company giving the length of the track operated by it in each city and town in the commonwealth on the 30th day of September next preceding the date of the return, which length shall be determined by measuring as single track the total length of all track operated by said company, including sidings and turn-outs, and specifying the length of such track in each city and town which is owned by it, and the length of such track operated by or leased to it in each city or town which is owned by any other company, with the name of the company and the length of track in each city or town owned by every such company, and provided, further, that, prior to the first day of November in each year, the tax commissioner shall apportion the amount of the tax for which the Boston elevated railway company and any other street railway company whose railways are now owned, leased or operated by it, are liable under the provisions of ch. 13 of the public statutes, among the several cities and towns, in proportion to the length of tracks owned by said Boston elevated railway company and by each of said other street railway companies in said cities and towns respectively, subject to appeal to the board of appeal constituted by § 61 and 62 of said ch. 13. The tax commissioner shall notify the treasurers of every such city and town of the share of said tax so apportioned to each city and town, and he shall also certify to the treasurer of the commonwealth the shares thus apportioned as finally determined in case of appeal. ['98 ch. 578]

Incorporation tax. Fees shall be paid for filing and recording the certificates required by this chapter to be filed with the secretary of the commonwealth as follows:

For filing and recording the certificates required by § 21 and 22, including the issuing the certificate of organization by the secretary one twentieth of 1% of the amount of the capital stock as fixed by the agreement of association; but not less in any case than $5, nor more than $200.

For filing and recording the certificate required by § 56, one twentieth of 1% of the amount by which the capital is increased; but the amount so to be paid shall not, when added to the amount previously paid for filing and recording certificates under § 21, 22 and 56, exceed in any case $200.

For filing and recording the certificates required by § 51 and 52, one twentieth of 1 % of the amount of the capital stock of the corporation.

For official copies of any of the records mentioned in this chapter, the rates now fixed by law for copies of similar records furnished by the secretary of the commonwealth. [P. S. ch. 107 § 84]

PENNSYLVANIA

Real estate is taxed for local but not for state purposes by the local assessors with the exception of property specially exempt and the property of public service corporations essential to the exercise of their franchise.

Real estate of public service corporations. A public corporation is one which can not carry out the purposes of the organization without chartered rights from the commonwealth. Railroads, canals and gas companies must have the right of eminent domain in order to perform their functions. Their property, which is indispensable to their chartered rights, is represented by their capital stock, and as such is taxed specially by the legislature, and the law will not subject it to duplicate taxation by mere inference. While the works of a gas company and the lot of ground on which they are located are necessary to enable the company to carry on its business, and therefore not liable to local taxation, a house occupied by a tenant is not a necessary part of the company's works or equipment, and is therefore taxable. [148 Pa. 162]

The property of canal and railroad companies, and other quasi public corporations, necessary for the exercise of their several franchises, as depots, toolhouses and water stations, is not taxable for local purposes. [148 Pa. 282]

Railroad real estate taxable in Philadelphia. The offices, depots, car-houses and other real property of railroad corporations situated in said city, the superstructure of the road and water stations only excepted, are and hereafter shall be subject to taxation by ordinances for city purposes. ['58 ch. 411 § 1]

Railroad real estate taxable in Pittsburg. All real estate situated in said city, owned or possessed by any railroad company, shall be and is hereby made subject to taxation for city purposes the same as other real estate in said city. ['59 ch. 765 § 3]

A street passenger railway company is a "railroad" within the meaning of the act. [104 Pa. 522]

Exemptions. All churches, meeting-houses, or other regular places of state worship, with the grounds thereto annexed necessary for the occupancy and enjoyment of the same; all burial grounds not used or held for private or corporate profit; all hospitals, universities, colleges, seminaries, academies, associations and institutions of learning, benevolence or charity, with the grounds thereto annexed and necessary for the occupancy and enjoyment of the same, found, endowed and maintained by public or private charity; and all schoolhouses belonging to any county, borough or school district, with the grounds thereto annexed and necessary for the occupancy and enjoyment of the same; and all courthouses and jails, with the grounds thereto annexed, be and the same are hereby exempted from all and every county, city, borough bounty, road, school and poor tax: provided, that all property, real or personal, other than that which is in actual use and occupation for the purposes aforesaid, and from which any income or revenue is derived, shall be subject to taxation, except where exempted by law for state purposes, and nothing herein contained shall exempt same therefrom. ['74 ch. 94 § 1]

Personal property, 4 mill tax on certain. § 1 Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania in general assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, that from and after the passage of this act, all personal property of the classes hereinafter enumerated, owned, held or possessed by any person, persons, copartnership or unincorporated association or company, resident, located or liable to taxation within this commonwealth, or by any joint-stock company or association, limited partnership, bank or corporation whatsoever, formed, erected or incorporated by, under or in pursuance of, any law of this commonwealth or of the United States, or of any other state or government, and liable to taxation within this commonwealth, whether such personal property be owned, held or possessed by such person or persons, copartnership, unincorporated association, company, joint-stock company or association, limited partnership, bank or corporation, in his, her, their or its own right, or as active trustee, agent, attorney-in-fact or in any other capacity for the use, benefit or advantage of any other person, persons, copartnership, unincorporated association, company, joint-stock company, or association, limited partnership, bank or corporation, is hereby made taxable annually for state purposes at the rate of 4 mills on each dollar of the value thereof, and no failure to assess or return the same shall discharge such owner or holder thereof from liability therefor to the commonwealth, that is to say:

All mortgages, all moneys owing by solvent debtors, whether by promissory note or penal or single bill, bond or judgment, all articles of agreement and accounts bearing interest; all public loans whatsoever, except those issued by this commonwealth or the United States; all loans issued by or shares of stock in any bank, corporation, association, company or limited partnership, created or formed under the laws of this commonwealth or of the United States or of any other state or government, including car trust securities and loans secured by bonds or any other form of certificate or evidence of indebtedness, whether the interest be included in the principal of the obligation or payable by the terms thereof, except shares of stock in any corporation or limited partnership liable to the capital stock tax imposed by the 21st section of this act, or relieved from the payment of tax on capital stock by said section; all moneys loaned or invested in other states, territories, the District of Columbia or foreign countries; all other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of the state: provided, that this section shall not apply to bank notes, or notes, discounted or negotiated by any bank or banking institution, savings institution or trust company: and provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to building and loan associations: provided also, that this section shall take effect on the first day of January, A. D. 1892. [As amended by '91 ch. 200 § 1]

Corporate bonds and obligations. That hereafter it shall be the duty of the treasurer of each private corporation incorporated by or under the laws of this commonwealth, or the laws of any other state or of the United States and doing business in this commonwealth, upon the payment of any interest on any scrip, bond or certificate of indebtedness, issued by said corporation to residents of this commonwealth, and held by them, to assess the tax imposed and provided for state purposes upon the nominal value of each and every said evidence of debt, and to report on oath annually on the first Monday of November to the auditor-general the amount of indebtedness of the corporation owned by residents of this commonwealth, as nearly as the same can be ascertained, and it shall be his further duty to deduct 3 [4] mills on every dollar of the interest paid as aforesaid and return the same into the state treasury within 15 days after the 31st day of December in each year; and his compensation for his services shall be the same that city and borough treasurers receive for similar services; and for every failure to assess and pay said tax and make report as aforesaid, the auditor-general shall add 10% as a penalty to the amount of the tax in payment of said tax by a corporation; the bonds, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness issued by it shall be exempt from all other taxation in the hands of the holders of the same. [185 ch. 162 § 4]

The rate of taxation is made four, instead of three, mills by '91 ch. 200 § 1.

If no interest is paid no tax can be collected. It is not a tax laid on the company nor on the bondholders as a body, but on each resident bondholder as an individual. The treasurer of the corporation is merely the agent of collection for the convenience of the state. [150 Pa. 312]

Foreign corporations paying without the state interest on bonds held by residents of Pennsylvania can not be required to pay a tax under the above section and deduct it from interest due. [153 U. S. 628]

Personal property, returns. § 2 That the board of revision of taxes in cities coextensive with counties, shall furnish the assessors of said city annually, and the commissioners of the other counties shall annually furnish the assessors of the several townships, boroughs and cities of the respective counties with blanks in the form prepared and supplied by the auditor-general, and it shall be the duty of each of said assessors to furnish a copy of the same to every taxable person, copartnership, unincorporated association, joint-stock association and company, limited partnership and corporation in his respective ward, district, borough or township, or to any officer, agent or employee found at the place of business of any such limited partnership or corporation in his ward, district, borough or township, upon which blank each taxable person, copartnership, unincorporated association, company, limited partnership, joint-stock association and corporation, shall respectively make return annually of the aggregate amount of all the different classes of personal property made taxable by the first section of this act, held, owned or possessed by said person, copartnership, unincorporated association, company, limited partnership, joint-stock association or corporation, either in his, her or its own right, or as trustee, agent, attorney-in-fact or in any other capacity, for the use, benefit or advantage of any other person, persons, copartnerships, unincorporated association, company, limited partnership, joint-stock association or corporation; which return shall be made and sworn or affirmed to by such taxable person, and in the case of copartnerships, unincorporated associations, and joint-stock associations and companies by some member thereof, and in the case of limited partnerships and corporations by the president, chairman or treasurer thereof; provided, that any corporation, joint-stock association or limited partnership doing business in more than one county shall be liable to make such return only in the county in which its principal office within this commonwealth is situated: provided, that the taxable person, copartnership, unincorporated association, joint-stock association, limited partnership, corporation or other person making the return aforesaid, shall not include in said return the obligations of public or private corporations, the tax upon which is required by law to be collected from the holder of such obligations and paid into the state treasury by the corporation, it being the true intent and meaning of this act that the provisions of the law in force at the time of the passage of this act relating to the collection of the tax upon such obligations shall remain unaffected by the present act. . .

Omnibuses, cabs, etc. § 14 That the county commissioners or board of revision of taxes of each and every county in this commonwealth are hereby authorized and required, annually, hereafter, at the usual period of making county rates and levies, to assess or cause to be assessed, for the use of the commonwealth, upon all stages, omnibuses, hacks, cabs and other vehicles used for transporting passengers for hire, except steam and street passenger railway cars owned, used or possessed within this commonwealth by any person or persons or by any corporate body or bodies, and upon all annuities yielding annually over $200, a tax of 4 mills, upon each and every dollar of the value thereof: provided also, that this section shall take effect on the first day of January, A. D. 1892. [As amended by '91 ch. 200 § 2] . . .

1892, and annually thereafter, three fourths of the net amount of tax based on the return of property subject to taxation for state purposes required to be made to and accepted by the state board of revenue commissioners, annually, by county commissioners and the board of revision of taxes in cities coextensive with counties, that is collected and paid into the state treasury by a county, or city coextensive with a county shall be returned by the state treasurer to such county or city coextensive with a county for its own use in payment of the expenses incurred by it in the assessment and collection of the said tax: provided, that in consideration of the return to counties, and cities coextensive with counties, of the tax as aforesaid, no claim shall be made upon or allowed by the commonwealth for abatements, tax collectors' commissions, extraordinary expenses, uncollectible taxes or for keeping a record of judgments and mortgages. [As amended by '91 ch. 200 § 3] . . .

Registration of corporations. § 19 That hereafter no limited partnership, bank, joint-stock association, association, corporation or company whatsoever, formed, erected, incorporated or organized, by or under any law of this commonwealth, general or special, or formed, erected, incorporated or organized under the laws of any other state, and doing business in this commonwealth, shall go into operation, without first having the name of the institution or company, the date of incorporation or organization, the act of assembly or authority under which formed, incorporated or organized, the place of business, the postoffice address, the names of the president, chairman, secretary and treasurer or cashier, and the amount of capital authorized by its charter, and the amount of capital paid into the treasury, registered in the office of the auditor-general; and every limited partnership, bank, association, joint-stock association, company or corporation whatsoever, now engaged in business in this commonwealth, shall within 90 days after the passage of this act, register as herein required in the office of the auditor-general; all the corporations, companies, associations and limited partnerships aforesaid, shall annually hereafter notify the auditor-general of any change in their officers; and any such institution or company which shall neglect or refuse to comply with the provisions of this section, shall be subject to a penalty of $500, which penalty shall be collected on an account settled by the auditor-general and state treasurer in the same manner as taxes on capital stock are settled and collected.

Capital stock, reports for state tax on. § 20 That hereafter, except in the case of banks, savings institutions and foreign insurance companies, it shall be the duty of the president, chairman or treasurer of every corporation having capital stock, every joint-stock association and limited partnership whatsoever, now or hereafter organized or incorporated by or under any law of this commonwealth, and of every corporation, joint-stock association and limited partnership whatsoever now or hereafter incorporated or organized by or under the laws of any other state or territory of the United States, or by the United States, or by any foreign government and doing business in and liable to taxation within this commonwealth, or having capital or property employed or used in this commonwealth, by or in the name of any limited partnership, joint-stock association, company or corporation whatsoever, association or associations, copartnership or copartnerships, person or persons, or in any other manner, to make a report in writing to the auditor-general in the month of November, 1892, and annually thereafter, stating specifically.

2d Total authorized number of shares.

3d Number of shares of stock issued.

4th Par value of each share.

5th Amount paid into the treasury on each share.

6th Amount of capital paid in.

8th Date of each dividend declared during said year ended with the first Monday of November.

10th Amount of each dividend during the year ended with the first Monday in said month.

11th Gross earnings during the year.

12th Net earnings during said year.

16th Highest price of sales of stock during the year aforesaid.

17th Average price of sales of stock during the year; and in every case any two of the following named officers of such corporation, limited partnership or joint-stock association, namely: the president, chairman, secretary and treasurer, after being duly sworn or affirmed to do and perform the same with fidelity and according to the best of their knowledge and belief, shall, between the 1st and 15th days of November of each year, estimate and appraise the capital stock of the said company at its actual value in cash, not less however than the average price which said stock sold for during said year, and not less than the price or value indicated or measured by net earnings or by the amount of profit made and either declared in dividends or carried into surplus or sinking fund, and when the same shall have been so truly estimated and appraised they shall forthwith forward to the auditor-general a certificate thereof accompanied with a copy of their said oath or affirmation, signed by them and attested by a magistrate or other persons duly qualified to administer the same: provided, that if the auditor-general and state treasurer, or either of them, is not satisfied with the appraisement and valuation so made and returned, they are hereby authorized and empowered to make a valuation thereof based upon the facts contained in the report herein required, or upon any information within their possession or that shall come into their possession, and to settle an account on the valuation so made by them for the taxes, penalties and interest due the commonwealth thereon with a right to the company dissatisfied with any settlement so made against it to appeal therefrom in the manner now provided by law; and in the event of the neglect or refusal of the officers of any corporation, company, joint stock association or limited partnership, for a period of 60 days to make the report and appraisement to the auditor-general as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the auditor-general and state treasurer to estimate a valuation of the capital stock of such defaulting corporation, company, joint-stock association or limited partnership, and settle an account for taxes, penalties and interest thereon, from which settlement there shall be no right of appeal. [As amended by '91 ch. 200 § 4]

Tax on capital stock. § 21 That every corporation, joint-stock association, limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the 20th section hereof, shall be subject to pay into the treasury of the commonwealth annually a tax at the rate of 5 mills upon each dollar of the actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds, including common, special and preferred, as ascertained in the manner prescribed in said 20th section, and it shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officers having charge of any such corporation, joint-stock association or limited partnership upon which a tax is imposed by this section to transmit the amount of said tax to the treasury of the commonwealth within 30 days from the date of settlement of the account by the auditor general and state treasurer: provided, that for the purposes of this act interests in limited partnerships or joint-stock associations shall be deemed to be capital stock and taxable accordingly: provided also, that corporations, limited partnerships and joint-stock associations liable to tax on capital stock under this section shall not be required to make any report or pay any further tax on the mortgages, bonds and other securities owned by them in their own right but corporations, limited partnerships and joint-stock associations holding such securities as trustees, executors, administrators, guardians or in any other manner shall return and pay the tax imposed by this act upon all securities so held by them as in the case of individuals: and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to the taxation of so much of the capital stock of corporations, limited partnerships or joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes, which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on manufacturing within the state, except companies engaged in the brewing or distilling of spirits or malt liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain, but every manufacturing corporation, limited partnership or joint-stock association shall pay the state tax of 5 mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock, if any, as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to its manufacturing business in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the districts where located, it being the object of this proviso to relieve from state taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the manufacturing plant and business: provided further, in case of fire or marine insurance companies, the tax imposed by this section shall be at the rate of 3 mills on each dollar of the actual value of the whole capital stock. [As amended by '93 ch. 288 § 1]

Valuation. The amount and rate per cent of dividends made by a corporation, and the amount carried to surplus or sinking fund, during the tax year, do not furnish an absolute indication or measure of the actual value in cash of the capital stock of a corporation, but are to be considered, with all other relevant facts, in determining what is its actual value in cash. [164 Pa. 284]

The tax on capital stock is a tax on property, and it is proper to include in its appraisal the value of the franchises and privileges enjoyed and exercised by the corporation, and to determine the value of these by the material result of their exercise. [165 Pa. 44]

Property without the state. The capital stock of a domestic railroad corporation, represented by its equipment in use interchangeably on its lines within and without the state, is taxable in the proportion its mileage operated in this state bears to its entire mileage. But the capital of such company, invested in real estate and other railroads outside the state, and in vessels, barges and tugs, built, registered and used wholly outside the state, is not subject to such taxation; the said property being already taxable in the states where it exists and is used. [145 Pa. 96]

The power of taxation is limited to subjects within the jurisdiction of the state, and it was not the intent of these acts to tax the whole capital stock of foreign corporations, irrespective of the place of its investment, but to tax the property of such company, that is, its capital stock, to the extent that it brings such property within the state in the transaction of its business. [101 Pa. 120]

Capital stock report, penalty. § 22 That if the said officers of any such limited partnership, joint-stock association or corporation, shall neglect or refuse to furnish the auditor-general, on or before the 31st day of December in each and every year, with the report and appraisement as aforesaid, as required by the 20th section of this act, it shall be the duty of the accounting officers of the commonwealth to add 10% to the tax of said limited partnership, joint-stock association or corporation, for each and every year for which such report and appraisement were not so furnished, which percentage shall be settled and collected with the said tax in the usual manner of settling accounts and collecting such taxes; if the officers of any such limited partnership, association, joint-stock association or corporation, or any of them, shall intentionally fail to comply with the requirements of the 20th section of this act for three successive years, he or they shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and undergo an imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both or either, at the discretion of the court.

Transportation and transmission companies, gross receipts tax. § 23 That every railroad company, pipe line company, conduit company, steamboat company, canal company, slack water navigation company, transportation company, street passenger railway company, and every other company, joint-stock association or limited partnership, now or hereafter incorporated or organized by or under any law of this commonwealth, or now or hereafter organized or incorporated by any other state or by the United States or any foreign government, and doing business in this commonwealth, and owning, operating or leasing to or from another corporation, company, association, joint-stock association or limited partnership, any railroad, pipe line, slack water navigation, street passenger railway, canal or other device for the transportation of freight or passengers or oil, and every telephone or telegraph company incorporated under the laws of this or any other state or of the United States and doing business in this commonwealth, and every express company, incorporated or unincorporated, doing business in this commonwealth, and every firm, copartnership or joint-stock company or association doing express business in this commonwealth, and every electric light company and every palace car and sleeping car company, incorporated or unincorporated, doing business in this commonwealth, shall pay to the state treasurer a tax of 8 mills upon the dollar upon the gross receipts of said corporation, company or association, imited partnership, firm or copartnership, received from passengers and freight traffic transported wholly within this state and from telegraph, telephone or express business done wholly within this state, or from business of electric light companies, and from the transportation of oil done wholly within the state; the said tax shall be paid semi-annually upon the last days of January and July in each year; and for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of the same, it shall be the duty of the treasurer or other proper officer of the said company, firm, copartnership, limited partnership, joint-stock association or corporation, to transmit to the auditor-general a statement, under oath or affirmation of the amount of gross receipts of the said companies, copartnerships, corporations, joint-stock associations or limited partnerships derived from all sources and of gross receipts from business done wholly within the state, during the preceding six months ending on the first days of January and July in each year; and if any such company, firm, copartnership, joint-stock association, association or limited partnership or corporation, shall neglect or refuse for a period of 30 days after such tax becomes due, to make said returns or to pay the same, the amount thereof with an addition of 10% thereto, shall be collected for the use of the commonwealth as other taxes are recoverable by law: provided, that in any case where the works of one corporation, company, joint-stock associaton or limited partnership are leased to and operated by another corporation, company, association or limited partnership, the taxes imposed by this secton shall be apportioned between the said corporations, companies, associations or limited partnerships in accordance with the terms of their respective leases or agreements, but for the payment of the said taxes the commonwealth shall first look to the corporation, company, association or limited partnership operating the works, and upon payment by the said company, corporation, association or limited partnership of a tax upon the receipts as herein provided derived from the operation thereof, the corporation, company, joint-stock association or limited partnership from which the said works are leased, shall not be held liable under this section for any tax upon the proportion of said receipts received by it as rental for the use of said works.

Express companies. Gross receipts. Every corporation, limited partnership, joint stock association, partnership, firm or association of individuals, incorporated or unincorporated, engaged in the business commonly known as express business, shall pay to the state treasurer, for the use of the commonwealth, a tax of 8 mills upon the amount of their gross receipts from express business done wholly within this state, the said tax shall be paid semiannually upon the last days of January and July in each year; and for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of the same, it shall be the duty of the treasurer, or other proper officer of the said corporation, limited partnership, joint stock association, partnership, firm or association of individuals, to transmit to the auditor-general a statement, under oath or affirmation, of the amount of gross receipts of the said corporation, limited partnership, joint stock association, partnership, firm, or association of individuals, incorporated or unincorporated, derived from all sources, and of the gross receipts from business done wholly within the state, during the preceding six months ending upon the first days of January and July in each year; and if any such corporation, limited partnership, joint stock association, partnership, firm, or association of individuals, incorporated or unincorporated, shall neglect or refuse for a period of 30 days after such tax becomes due to make said returns, or to pay the said tax, the amount thereof, with an addition of 10% thereto, shall be collected for the use of the commonwealth as other taxes are recoverable by law. No other tax upon express receipts, or upon the privilege of transacting express business, shall be collected without further authority of law to be hereafter enacted: providing, that this act shall not be construed to repeal or take the place of the tax upon capital stock now imposed by law; but the tax on gross receipts hereby imposed shall be in addition to the tax on capital stock imposed by existing law upon any of the corporations, companies or associations hereby taxed. [1909 ch. 66 § 2]

Insurance companies, gross premiums. § 24 That hereafter it shall be the duty of the president, secretary or other proper officer of each and every insurance company or association incorporated by or under any law of this commonwealth, except companies doing business upon the purely mutual plan without any capital stock or accumulated reserve, and purely mutual beneficial associations whose funds for the benefit of members, their families or heirs are made up entirely of the weekly or monthly contributions of their members and the accumulated interest thereon, to make report in writing to the auditor-general semiannually upon the first days of July and January in each year, setting forth the entire amount of premiums and assessments received by such company or association during the preceding six months, whether the said premiums and assessments were received in money or in the form of notes, credits or any other substitutes for money; and every such company or association shall pay into the state treasury semiannually on the last days of January and July, in addition to any other taxes to which it may be liable under the 1st and under the 21st sections of this act, a tax of 8 mills upon the dollar upon the gross amount of said premiums and assessments received from business transacted within this commonwealth: provided, that said report shall be made under oath or affirmation, and that it shall be the duty of the accounting officers of the commonwealth to add 10% to the account of any company or association whose officers shall neglect or refuse for a period of 30 days to make the said report or to pay into the state treasury the tax imposed by this section: and provided further, that hereafter the annual tax upon the premiums of insurance companies of other states or foreign governments shall be at the rate of 2% upon the gross premiums of every character and description received from business done within this commonwealth within the entire calendar year preceding. . . .

Foreign companies. No person shall act as agent or solicitor in this state of any insurance company of another state, or foreign government, in any manner whatever relating to risks, until the provisions of this act have been complied with on the part of the company or association, and there has been granted to said company or association, by the commissioner, a certificate of authority, showing that the company or association is authorized to transact business in this state; and it shall be the duty of every such company or association, authorized to transact business in this state, to make report to the commissioner in the month of January of each year, under oath of the president or secretary thereof, showing the entire amount of premiums of every character and description received by said company or association in this state, during the year or fraction of a year ending with the 31st day of December preceding, whether said premiums were received in money or in the form of notes, credits or any other substitute for money, and pay into the state treasury a tax of 3% [2%] upon said premiums; and the commissioner shall not have power to grant a renewal of the certificate of said company or association until the tax aforesaid is paid into the state treasury. ['73 ch.3 § 10]

Distribution of foreign fire insurance tax. On and after the first day of January, 1896, and annually thereafter, there shall be paid by the state treasurer to the treasurers of the several cities and boroughs within the commonwealth, one half of the net amount received from the 2% tax paid upon premiums by foreign fire insurance companies. The amount to be paid to each of the treasurers of the several cities and boroughs, shall be based upon the return of said 2% tax upon premiums received from foreign fire insurance companies doing business within the said cities and boroughs as shown by the insurance commissioner's report. Warrants for the above purposes shall be drawn by the auditor-general, payable to the treasurers of the several cities and boroughs in accordance with this act whenever there are sufficient funds in the state treasury to pay the same. . . ['95 ch.289 § 2]

Tax on net earnings or income. § 27 That from and after the passage of this act every incorporated company or limited partnership whatever, whether the same be incorporated, formed or organized under the laws of this or any other state or territory, and doing business within this commonwealth, and liable to taxation therein, which is not subject to the taxes imposed by the 21st or 24th sections of this act, except incorporated banks and savings institutions having capital stock, and foreign insurance companies, shall annually, upon the first Monday of November of each year, make report to the auditor-general under oath of some officer of such company, association or limited partnership, setting forth the entire amount of net earnings or income received by said company or limited partnership from all sources during the preceding year; and upon such net earnings or income, the said company, association or limited partnership, as the case may be, shall pay into the state treasury for the use of the commonwealth, within 60 days thereafter, 3% upon such annual net earnings or income, in addition to any taxes on personal property to which it may be subject under the first section of this act; and in case any company or limited partnership as aforesaid, shall neglect or refuse to make the report required by this section to the auditor-general, on or before the 31st day of December following, such company, association or limited partnership shall be liable to a penalty of 10% for such neglect, which shall be added to the amount of tax found due on the settlement of their account: provided, that this section shall not apply to corporations and limited partnerships chartered or organized for the manufacturing purposes. . .

Net earnings of brokers and private bankers. § 1 That every stock broker, bill broker, exchange broker and private banker in this commonwealth shall, on or before the first Monday of December next, and on or before the same day in each year thereafter, make a written return, under oath or affirmation, to the auditor-general of this commonwealth, in which return he shall exhibit and set forth the full amount of his receipts from commissions, discounts abatements, allowances and all other profits arising from his business during the year ending with the 30th day of November preceding the date of such annual return, and shall forthwith pay into the state treasury 3% upon the aggregate amount contained in such return for the use of the commonwealth; all revenues derived from this source are hereby appropriated to the sinking fund to be applied under the direction of the commissioners thereof to the payment of the interest and reduction of the principal of the public debt, in like manner as other revenues appropriated to that fund are now applied.

Registration. § 2 That every stock broker, bill broker, exchange broker and private banker in this commonwealth, whether the business be conducted by an individual or more than one person in partnership shall, within three months after the passage of this act, and all others who shall hereafter engage in such business in this commonwealth, within 60 days after they commence the same, make a report to the auditor-general, in writing and under oath or affirmation, setting forth the name of the person so employed, if an individual, or if a partnership, the names of all the individuals composing the same, and the name of the firm, the location or place where such business is transacted, and the amount of capital invested therein, if any.

Penalty. § 3 That any such stock broker, bill broker, exchange broker or private banker in this commonwealth who shall neglect or refuse to make the return and report required by the first and second sections of this act shall, for every such neglect or refusal be subject to a penalty of $1000, which penalty shall be collected on an account settled by the accountant officers as taxes on bank dividends are now settled and collected, and shall not be relieved from paying the amount which he is liable to pay to the commonwealth under the provisions of the first section of this act on account of his having been required and compelled to pay the said penalty. [95 ch. 283]

Examination of books and papers. § 29 That the auditor-general and state treasurer, or any agent appointed by them or either of them, are hereby authorized to examine the books and papers of any corporation, institution, company, association or limited partnership made taxable by this act, to verify the accuracy of any return made under the provisions of this or any other act of assembly.

Interest on accounts. § 30 That in the settlement by the auditor-general and state treasurer of all accounts for taxes due the commonwealth, they shall charge interest upon the amount of tax or balance or balances found due the commonwealth, at the rate of 12% per annum from 30 days after the time said taxes or balances become due and payable to the time of the settlement of the same; and all balances due the commonwealth on accounts settled by the auditor-general and state treasurer shall bear interest from 60 days after date of settlement at the rate of 12% per annum until the same are paid; and any judgment recovered thereon shall bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum until paid; and the payment of interest as aforesaid shall not relieve any corporation from any of the penalties or commissions prescribed by law for neglect or refusal to furnish reports to the auditor-general or to pay any claim due to the commonwealth from such corporation: provided, that the auditor-general shall first have sent to such corporation a statement of the amount due.

Liens for taxes. § 31 That all taxes imposed by this act shall be a lien upon the franchises and property, both real and personal, of corporations, companies, associations, joint-stock associations and limited partnerships, from the time the said taxes are due and payable; and whenever the franchises or property of a corporation, company, association, joint-stock association or limited partnership shall be sold at a judicial sale, all taxes due the commonwealth shall first be allowed and paid out of the proceeds of such sale, before any judgment, mortgage or other claims which shall be entered of record or become a lien after the passage of this act.

Dissolutions. § 32 That no corporation, company, joint-stock association, association or limited partnership made taxable by this act, shall hereafter be dissolved by the decree of any court of common pleas, nor shall any judicial sale be valid or a distribution of the proceeds thereof be made, until all taxes due the commonwealth have been fully paid into the state treasury, and the certificate of the auditor-general, state treasurer and attorney-general to this effect filed in the proper court, with the proceedings for dissolution or sale.

Existing laws, certain not repealed. § 33 That nothing in this act contained shall be taken or construed to alter or repeal existing laws imposing taxes upon collateral inheritances, or imposing any bonus or tax, nor with the license or tax on net earnings to be paid by bankers, brokers, private banks, unincorporated banks and savings institutions.

Blanks. § 34 The auditor-general is hereby authorized to prepare all blanks, in such forms as he may deem best calculated to insure true returns of all property taxable under the provisions of this act, and the collection of the taxes therein, and to take all necessary action to enforce the provisions of this act. . .

Repealing clause. § 36 That from and after the passage of this act, § 2, 3, 4 and 7 of the act, entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation," approved the seventh day of June, A. D. 1879, and § 1, 3, 5 and 20 of the act, entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation,' approved the seventh of June 1879," approved June 30, 1885, and § 1 of an act, entitled "An act requiring boom companies to make report to the auditor-general of the number of logs annually rafted by them, and to pay taxes," approved April 6, 1870, and all other sections and parts of the said acts which are inconsistent herewith, or which are hereby substantially reenacted, and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith or which are hereby substantially reenacted, be and the same are hereby repealed, saving, reserving and excepting unto the commonwealth the right to collect any tax, taxes, interest, penalty or penalties due or owing, or accrued under the said sections, laws or parts of laws, or any of them, prior to the date of the approval of this act.

Banks. From and after the passage of this act every bank or savings institution having a capital stock incorporated by or under any law of this commonwealth or under any law of the United States, and located within this commonwealth, shall, on or before the 20th day of June in each and every year, make to the auditor-general a report in writing, verified by the oath or affirmation of the president, cashier or treasurer, setting forth the full number of shares of the capital stock subscribed for or issued by such bank or savings institution, and the actual value thereof, which shall be ascertained as hereinbefore provided; whereupon it shall be the duty of the auditor-general to assess such shares for taxation at the same rate as that imposed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of the state, that is to say, at the rate of 4 mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof; the actual value of each share of stock to be ascertained and fixed by adding together the amount of capital stock paid in, the surplus and undivided profits, and dividing this amount by the number of shares. The auditor-general shall have the power, and it shall be his duty in case he shall not be satisfied with the correctness of the report as made by the officers of any bank or savings institution, to summon the officers of said bank or savings institution to appear before him, upon notice to do so, on a day to be fixed by him, and to bring with them the books of said bank or savings institution for his examination; and he shall have the right to have further evidence to satisfy himself as to the correctness of the report made to him on the question of the value of the shares of stock of such bank or savings institution according to the rule hereinbefore stated. After the auditor-general shall have fixed the value of the shares of stock in any bank or savings institution by the method hereinbefore provided, and settled an account according to law, he shall thereupon transmit to the president, cashier or treasurer of such bank or savings institution, a copy of such settlement showing the valuation and assessment so made by him, and the amount of tax due the commonwealth on all such shares. And it shall be the duty of the president, cashier or treasurer of any such bank or savings institution, immediately upon the receipt of said settlement, to post the same in a conspicuous place in such bank or savings institution so as to give notice to the shareholders of such valuation; and it shall be the duty of the auditor-general to hear any shareholder upon the subject of the valuation of such shares of stock at the auditor-general's office within a period of 30 days from the date of said settlement. It shall be the duty of every bank or savings institution, within a period of 40 days after the date of such settlement by the auditor-general, at its option, to pay the amount of said tax to the state treasurer from its general fund, or collect the same from its shareholders and pay over to the state treasurer: provided, that if any such bank or savings institution shall fail or refuse to make such report, or to pay such tax at the time herein specified or shall make any false statement in such report, or shall fail or refuse by its officers to appear before the auditor-general upon notice as aforesaid, or shall fail or refuse to produce its books for examination when required to do so by the auditor-general, he shall, after having ascertained the actual value of each share of the capital stock of such bank or savings institution from the best information he can obtain, add thereto 50% as a penalty, assess the tax as aforesaid, and proceed according to law to collect the same from such bank or savings institution: provided, further, that if the president, cashier or treasurer of any such bank or savings institution shall neglect or refuse to post the copy of the settlement in a conspicuous place in such bank or savings institution immediately upon the receipt of the same, so as to give notice to the shareholders, such president, cashier or treasurer shall be adjudged to be in default, and as a penalty for such default such bank or savings institution shall be responsible to the commonwealth for the amount of the tax assessed against the shareholders of such bank or savings institution: and provided, further, that in case any bank or savings institution having capital stock, incorporated under the law of this state or of the United States, shall collect, annually, from the shareholders thereof, said tax of 4 mills on the dollar upon the actual value of all the shares of stock of said bank or savings institution according to the rule hereinbefore stated that have been subscribed for or issued, and pay the same into the state treasury on or before the first day of March in each year, the shares and so much of the capital and profits of such bank or savings institution as shall not be invested in real estate, shall be exempt from local taxation under the laws of this commonwealth; and such bank or savings institution shall not be required to make any report to the local assessor or county commissioners of its personal property owned by it in its own right for purposes of taxation, and shall not be required to pay any tax thereon. Except however that any bank or savings institution incorporated as aforesaid, in lieu of the method hereinbefore set out for ascertaining the actual value of the shares of capital stock thereof, may elect to collect annually from the stockholders thereof a tax of 10 mills on the dollar upon the par value of all shares of said bank that have been subscribed for or issued, and pay the same into the state treasury, on or before the first day of March in each year; and the shares of such bank or savings institution, and so much of the capital and profits of such bank or savings institution, as shall not be invested in real estate shall be exempted from local taxation under the laws of this commonwealth. [’97 ch.227 §1]

Building and loan associations. Upon all full paid, prepaid and fully matured or partly matured stock in any building and loan association incorporated under the laws of this state, or incorporated under the laws of any other state and doing business within this state, and upon which annual, semiannual, quarterly or monthly cash dividends or interest shall be paid, there shall be paid a state tax equal to that required to be paid upon money at interest by the general tax laws of this state; and such tax shall be deducted from the cash dividend or interest so provided for by the secretary or treasurer of such corporation, and be paid to the state treasurer. And every such domestic corporation shall annually make return to the auditor-general, at the time other returns for taxation are required to be made, of the amount of its stock outstanding entitled to receive cash dividends or interest, and every such foreign corporation shall, in the reports required to be made by them to the banking department, make report of the amount of its stock held by residents of this state, entitled to receive cash dividends or interest, and said banking department shall, at the time other returns for taxation are required to be made, certify to the auditor-general the amount of such stock each of said foreign corporations had outstanding at the time of its last report to said banking department; and upon said sum such foreign corporation shall pay the tax above required to be paid to the state treasurer, upon demand, and failure to make such payment within 30 days after such demand shall have been made shall subject such corporation to the forfeiture of its right to transact business in this state: provided however, that nothing in this act shall be taken to require the payment of any tax upon any unmatured stock of building and loan associations upon which periodical payments are required to be made, or upon any such stock after it has matured and is in process of payment. [’97 ch.147 §1]

Incorporation tax. All corporations hereafter created under any general or special law of the commonwealth, except building and loan associations, and excepting all corporations named in the first class of § 2 of an act entitled “An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations,” approved the 29th day of April, A. D. 1874, shall pay to the state treasurer, for the use of the commonwealth, a bonus of $\frac{1}{3}$ of 1% upon the amount of the capital stock which said company is authorized to have, and a like bonus on any subsequent authorized increase thereof, and a like bonus shall be paid by all such companies heretofore incorporated upon any increase of their capital stock hereafter authorized. And no company as aforesaid shall have or exercise any corporate powers until the said bonus is paid, and the governor shall not issue letters patent to any company until he is satisfied that the said bonus has been paid to the state treasurer. And no company incorporated as aforesaid shall go into operation, or exercise any corporate powers or privileges, until said bonus has been paid. The secretary of the commonwealth shall not permit the filing in his office of any proceedings for increase of capital stock until he is satisfied that the said bonus upon said authorized increase has been paid to the state treasurer. ['99 ch.120 §1]

NEW JERSEY

Property taxable. Real and personal estate defined. § 2 All real and personal estate within this state, whether owned by individuals or by corporations, shall be liable to taxation at the full and actual value thereof, on the day in each year when by law the assessment is to commence, at such rate per dollar as will be sufficient to produce the sum required to be raised, together with an addition thereto, not exceeding 10% of such sum to meet contingencies, after deducting the poll tax and the tax derived from foreign insurance companies.

§ 3 The term real estate, as used in this act, shall be construed to include all lands, all water power thereon or appurtenant thereto, and all buildings or erections thereon or affixed to the same, trees and underwood growing thereon, and all mines, quarries, peat and marl beds, and all fisheries.

§ 4 The term personal estate, as used in this act, shall be construed to include goods and chattels of every description, including steamboats and other vessels, money, debts due or owing from solvent debtors, whether on contract, note, bond, mortgage or book account, public stocks and stocks in corporations, whether said personal estate be within or without the state. [G.S. p.3292 ¶62-64; '66 ch.487 §2-4]

Exemptions. The following persons and property shall be exempt from taxation, namely:

1 The property and the bonds and other securities of the United States, and the bonds and securities of this state which are by law exempt from taxation, the property of the counties, townships, cities and boroughs of this state, and stocks and other personal estate owned by citizens of this state situate and being out of this state, upon which taxes shall have been actually assessed and paid within 12 months next before the day prescribed by law for commencing the assessment.

2 All colleges, academies or seminaries of learning, public libraries, schoolhouses, buildings erected and used for religious worship, buildings used as asylums or schools for the care, cure, nurture, maintenance and education of feeble-minded or idiotic persons and children, provided such institutions are duly incorporated under the laws of this state, and the land whereon the same are situate, necessary to the fair use and enjoyment thereof, not exceeding 5 acres for each one, the furniture thereof and the personal property used therein, the endowment or fund of any religious society, college, academy, seminary of learning, public library or institution for feeble-minded persons as aforesaid; provided, that no building so used which may be rented for such purposes and rent received by the owner therefor shall be exempted; the stock of any corporation of this state, which by charter or other contract with this state is expressly exempted from taxation, the stock of any corporation of this state, the capital whereof is by this act made taxable to and against said corporation, pews in churches, graveyards not exceeding 10 acres of ground, cemeteries and all buildings erected thereon, and all buildings used exclusively for charitable purposes, with the land whereon the same are erected, and which may be necessary for the fair enjoyment thereof, and the furniture and personal property used therein, the funds of all charitable institutions and associations collected and held exclusively for the sick or disabled members thereof, or for the widows of deceased members or for the education, support and maintenance of deceased members. [G. S. p. 3320 ¶ 200; '66 ch. 487 § 5 as amended by '94 ch. 233 § 1]

A mortgage owned by a resident of this state although made upon lands situate in another state, where a tax upon such lands has been assessed and paid within the preceding 12 months, is taxable here. [22 Vroom 140]

Shares of stock in foreign corporations owned by citizens of this state, upon which taxes have been actually assessed and paid by the corporation within 12 months next before the day prescribed by law for commencing the assessment within this state, are exempt from taxation under the laws of this state. [26 Vroom 110]

Real and personal property, how taxed. All real and personal property of every corporation shall be taxed the same as the real and personal property of an individual; provided, that this section shall not apply to railway, turnpike, insurance, canal or banking corporations, or to savings banks, or to cemeteries, church property, or purely charitable or educational associations. [’96 ch. 185 § 110]

Only property actually within the state can be taxed. [29 Vroom 633, at 639]

Franchises of corporations are not taxable under this section. [27 Vroom 471]

Debts. Corporations have the same right to a deduction for debts due to creditors residing within the state as have individuals. [13 Vroom 357]

Certain corporations. Shareholders exempt. All private corporations of this state, except banking institutions, and except those which by virtue of any contract in their charters or other contracts with this state are expressly exempted from taxation, and except mutual life insurance companies specially taxed, shall be and are hereby required to be respectively assessed and taxed at the full amount of their capital stock paid in, and accumulated surplus; but any real estate which such corporations may lawfully own in any other state than this state, shall not be liable to be estimated in such accumulated surplus, and the persons holding the capital stock of such corporation shall not be assessed therefor; and such corporations as have no capital stock other than those above excepted, shall be assessed for the full amount of their property and valuable assets, without any deduction for debts and liabilities; but depositors in savings banks, taxed by virtue of this section, shall be exempted from taxation on their personal estate to the amount of their deposits; provided, that premium notes held by life insurance companies shall in no case be considered as future premiums, but shall be included in the valuable assets of said company. [G. S. p. 3296 ¶ 75; ’66 ch. 487 § 15]

This section is in force to the extent only that it is not inconsistent with ’96 ch. 185 § 110 above. The provisions for the exemption of shareholders and for the taxation of certain corporations not otherwise provided for are still in force. [17 Vroom 194]

Domestic fire insurance companies [25 Vroom 138; affirmed 26 Vroom 145] and savings banks [8 Vroom 408] are taxable under this section.

Foreign corporations, how taxed. All corporations regularly doing business in this state, and not being corporations of this state, shall be assessed and taxed for and in respect of the business so done by them and transacted in this state. . . [G. S. p.3297 ¶79; '66 ch. 487 §19]

Building and loan associations. The real and personal estate of all such corporations shall be liable to taxation the same as if owned by an individual resident in the place where the real estate of said corporation is situate. [G. S. p.335 ¶30; '75 ch.379 §3]

Trust companies. Every trust company incorporated under any law of this state shall be taxed in the taxing district where its office is situated upon the amount of its capital stock issued and outstanding, except that any real estate belonging to any such corporation shall be taxed in the taxing district where such real estate is situated, and the amount of assessment upon said real estate may be deducted from the amount of any assessment made upon the capital stock of the company as herein provided for; the capital stock, property and franchise of any such corporation shall be exempt from taxation in this state, except as hereinabove provided for. ['99 ch.174 §29]

State and national banks. Every person shall be assessed in the city, township or ward where he resides for all shares of the stock of any national bank in this state, and all shares of any bank organized under the laws of this state and subject to the provisions of "An act concerning banks and banking" (revision of 1899), owned by him or in his possession or control as trustee, guardian, executor or administrator; and in case said owner, trustee, guardian, executor or administrator shall be a nonresident of this state then and in that case he shall be assessed for said shares in the city, township or ward where said bank is located, and the tax assessed against such nonresident stockholder shall be a lien upon his stock from the day designated by law for commencing the assessment, and said stock may be levied upon and sold by virtue of a tax warrant to be issued against such nonresident for that purpose; and moreover it shall be the duty of said bank, upon demand for that purpose made by the collector of taxes, to pay the amount of tax so assessed against such nonresident and to retain the amount so paid out of the dividends from time to time declared upon said shares, and said bank shall have a lien upon such nonresident's shares of stock for the amount of the tax so assessed and paid thereon until the same shall be repaid to said bank, which lien may be enforced by appropriate proceedings in the court of chancery; provided, however, that all real estate of any such bank shall be assessed to the said bank in the city, township or ward in which said real estate is located, in the same manner as the real estate of individuals, and the amount of said assessment shall be deducted from the assets of said bank in estimating the assessable value of the shares of stock of said bank. ['00 ch.107 §1]

Life insurance companies. All associations or corporations whose business is that of assurance on lives, shall be assessed and taxed for the full amount of their property and valuable assets after deducting the amount of their debts and liabilities, and that to ascertain the said amounts, a statement of the assets and debts and liabilities as they existed in the month of January preceding such statement, shall be annually made to the assessor in the township or city where the company is located, upon the oath of the president, secretary or treasurer of said association or corporation, and no other tax or assessment shall be imposed on any such association or corporation; provided, that in stating the liabilities on policies, the basis of such statement shall be the then present value of such policies at the time of such statement, and not the gross amount insured thereby; and provided, that the amount of tax to be assessed against the Mutual benefit life insurance company, which accepted the provisions of the above-recited supplement, shall not be less than $5,000 in any one year, nor less than the assessment on the value at the rate other property is taxed in the city of Newark, of the full amount of the mortgages held by the said company at the time of the assessment, on taxable property in said city, without any deduction therefor; and provided also, that the said company shall not be subjected to the foregoing provisions of this act until by an instrument duly executed under its corporate seal, filed in the office of the secretary of state of this state, it shall have signified its assent to this act. [G. S. p.3291 §58; '64 ch.276 §1]

Property, where assessed. Every person shall be assessed in the township or ward where he resides, for all personal estate in his possession or under his control, as trustee, guardian, executor or administrator; and in case the owner or owners of personal estate shall be nonresident of this state, then and in that case the said personal estate shall be taxed in the township or ward where the same may be situate; that the personal estate of every incorporated company liable to taxation, shall be assessed in the township or ward where the principal office shall be, or if such company have no principal office or place of transacting its financial concerns, then in the township or ward where the operations of such company are carried on, and where the tolls of any bridge, turnpike, railroad or canal company are collected in the several townships or wards, the personal estate of such company shall be assessed in the township or ward in which the treasurer, or other officer authorized to discharge the general pecuniary obligations of said company, resides; and the real estate of incorporated companies, liable to taxation, shall be assessed in the township or ward in which the same shall lie, in the same manner as the real estate of individuals. [G. S. p. 3293 ¶ 67; '66 ch. 487 § 7]

Real estate. Hereafter all real estate except such real estate as is subject to assessment under the provisions of an act of the legislature of New Jersey, entitled "An act for the taxation of railroad and canal property," approved Ap. 10, 1884, and the supplements and amendments thereto, shall be assessed in the township, borough or taxing district in which the same may be situate; when the line between taxing districts divides a farm, each part thereof shall be assessed to the owner thereof in the taxing district in which the same may be located, and this whether such division line be a township, borough or county line. [G. S. p. 3465 ¶ 818, '96 ch. 370 § 1]

Deductions for debt. After making the valuation of the real and personal estate for which any individual shall be assessed, it shall be lawful for the assessor or for the commissioners of appeal in cases of taxation, to deduct from such valuation any debt or debts bona fide due and owing from such individual to creditors residing within this state; provided, that no deduction shall be made from the full and fair value of the real or personal estate of any individual, unless such individual shall make and sign a true statement in writing, under oath or affirmation, that the same is just and true, of the several debts owing by such individual, which he desires to have deducted, to whom owing and where the creditor resides, and also a statement of the total amount of real estate and of personal property of such individual, including mortgages held and other debts due and owing to such individual from solvent debtors, and shall deliver the same to the said assessor on or before the time limited by law for closing the assessment; provided, that if it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the commissioners of appeal that the individual assessed was prevented by sickness or other unavoidable accident from delivering such statement to the assessor as aforesaid, the said commissioners may permit the said individual or any person in his behalf, having knowledge of the facts, to deliver such statement to them sworn or affirmed to be just and true as aforesaid, and may therefore deduct the balance of such debts in like manner as the assessor might have done in case the said statement had been duly delivered to him; and in case any assessor or commissioner of appeal shall make any such deduction, without having first delivered to him as aforesaid such statement under oath or affirmation, the said assessor and commissioner of appeal shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to a fine not exceeding $200; and all written statements and oaths and affirmations authorized and required by this act, shall be forthwith delivered to the clerk of the township wherein the assessor or person making the same resides, to be by him filed and preserved. [G. S. p. 3298 ¶ 80; '66 ch. 487 § 20]

Procedure. In making the valuation and assessment of personal estate within this state for state, county, township and municipal taxes, no deduction of the amount of any personal indebtedness shall be made therefrom, unless the individual claiming such deduction shall sign a statement in writing, under oath or affirmation, of the truth and justice thereof, and of the several debts owing by such individual which he desires to have deducted, to whom owing and where the creditor resides, and also of the total amount of personal property of such individual, including debts due and owing to such individual from solvent debtors; and also that no part of such indebtedness was created for the purpose of reducing the taxes of such individual; and that the stated actual value of the personal property of such individual includes not only that to which such individual holds title or possession, but also that to which any other person or persons hold the title or possession for such individual, whether the same be held in trust or not. [G. S. p. 3305 ¶ 118; '78 ch. 143 § 1]

In all cases in which deductions shall be hereafter claimed or allowed, either for indebtedness or for property claimed to be exempt from taxation, from the total values of the property or estate of any person or corporation to be assessed for taxes in this state, such person or corporation shall, in addition to the requirements now imposed by law, furnished to the assessor or other taxing officer or authority a statement under oath or affirmation, showing when the indebtedness for which said deduction is claimed was incurred, and a detailed list of the securities or property claimed to be exempt from taxation, and of the dates at which said securities or other property were purchased, together with a declaration under oath that said indebtedness was not incurred, nor said securities or property purchased with the intent to escape taxation, but in good faith. [G. S. p. 3310 ¶ 142; '85 ch. 36 § 1]

No deduction shall be made, either for indebtedness or for property or securities claimed to be exempt from taxation, unless the statement and deduction hereinbefore required shall be furnished at the time and in the manner now or hereafter directed by law for furnishing statements of taxable property and schedules of indebtedness; and that any person who shall in such statement make a false return, in whole or in part of his or her taxable property or of his or her indebtedness, or of the indebtedness or taxable property of the corporation of which he may be an officer, or of such property or securities claimed to be exempt from taxation, shall be deemed guilty of perjury and subject to the penalties now or hereafter prescribed by law for that offense. [G. S. p. 3310 ¶ 143; '85 ch. 36 § 2]

The statements and declaration herein required to be furnished, when made by or in behalf of any corporation, shall be subscribed and sworn to by the president or principal officer of such corporation. [G. S. p. 3310 ¶ 144; '85 ch. 36 § 3]

The assessor, taxing officer or other taxing authority, to whom such statements and declarations shall be made, shall have power to examine under oath any person or officer of any corporation as to the truth of the matters contained in the statement or return made by such person or officer, and shall have authority to compel the attendance of such person or persons, and other witnesses, and the production of books and papers, at such time and place as they may designate, giving notice to such person or persons, or such additional witnesses, to attend at a time and place in said notice designated, and to produce such books and papers; which notice shall be served at least two days before the time therein designated by leaving it at the residence of such person or witness, or at the office of such corporation; and such assessor, or taxing officer, or any member of any taxing board is hereby authorized to administer oaths or affirmations to all persons examined before him or them as aforesaid. [G. S. p. 3310 ¶ 145; '85 ch. 36 § 4]

Mortgages. Hereafter no mortgage on real or personal property, or both, whether given by individuals or corporations, or the debt secured by such mortgage shall be assessed for taxation unless a deduction therefor shall have been claimed by the owner of such mortgaged property, and allowed by the assessor. [G. S. p. 3319 ¶ 198; '76 ch. 122 § 1; as amended by '93 ch. 283 § 1]

Hereafter such mortgages or debts secured thereby as shall be subject to taxation, shall be assessed for taxation by the assessor making the deduction on account thereof, and the tax thereon shall be collected by the collector of taxes in and for the township or city wherein the lands in the mortgage described are situate. [G. S. p. 3304 ¶ 113; '76 ch. 122 § 2]

Agreement not to apply for exemption. Hereafter it shall be lawful for the owners of lands situated in the counties of Hudson, Essex, Union, Bergen and Passaic, and in the cities of Trenton, New Brunswick and Camden, to agree for themselves and their heirs and assigns with the holder of any mortgage now in existence or hereafter to be made, which binds or may bind lands in said counties or cities, not to apply for any deduction, by reason of any mortgage, from the taxable value of such lands embraced in such mortgage. [G. S. p. 2109 ¶ 37; '76 ch. 121 § 1]

Franchise tax on public service and miscellaneous corporations
Laws of 1884, ch. 159

Certain public service and insurance companies to pay franchise tax. § 1 Every telegraph, telephone, cable or electric light company, every express company not owned by a railroad company and otherwise taxed, every gas company, palace or parlor or sleeping car company, every oil or pipe line company, every life insurance company incorporated under the laws of this state, and every fire, marine, live stock, casualty or accident insurance company, doing business in this state, except mutual fire insurance companies, which do not issue policies on the stock plan, shall pay an annual tax, for the use of the state, by way of a license for its corporate franchise as hereinafter mentioned; provided, however, that no company or society shall be construed to be a life insurance company doing business in this state within the purview of this act, which, by its act or certificate of incorporation, shall have for its object the assistance of sick, needy or disabled members, the defraying funeral expenses of deceased members, and to provide for the wants of the widows and families of members after death. [As amended by '92 ch. 76 § 1]

Annual report. § 2 On or before the first Tuesday of May next, and annually thereafter, it shall be the duty of the president, treasurer or other proper officer of every corporation of the character specified in the preceding section, to make report to the state board of assessors, appointed and to be appointed under the act entitled "An act for the taxation of railroad and canal property," stating specifically the following particulars, namely: each telegraph, telephone, cable and express company, not owned by a railroad company and otherwise taxed, shall state the gross amount of its receipts from business done in this state for the year preceding the first day of January prior to the making of such report; each gas company and electric light company shall state the amount of its receipts for light or power supplied within this state for the year preceding the first day of February prior to the making of such report, and the amount of dividends declared or paid during the same time; each parlor, palace or sleeping car company shall state the gross amount of its receipts for fare or tolls for transportation of passengers within this state during the same time; each oil or pipe line company engaged in the transportation of oil or crude petroleum shall state the gross amount of its receipts from the transportation of oil or petroleum through its pipes or in and by its tanks or cars in this state during the same time; each fire, marine, live stock, casualty or accident insurance company shall state the total amount of premiums received by it for insurance upon the lives of persons resident or property located within this state, during the same time. [As amended by '92 ch. 76 § 2]

Penalties. § 3 If any officer of any company required by this act to make a return, shall, in such return, make a false statement, he shall be deemed guilty of perjury; if any such company shall also certify to each of said companies the amount of such item as aforesaid, the state board of assessors shall ascertain and fix the amount of the annual license fee or franchise tax, and the basis upon which the same is determined, in such manner as may be deemed by them most practicable, and the amount fixed by them shall stand as such basis of taxation under this act. [As amended by '92 ch. 76 § 3]

Public service and miscellaneous corporations. Tax rate. § 4 Each telegraph, telephone, cable and express company shall pay to the state an annual license fee or franchise tax at the rate of 2% upon the gross amount of its receipts so returned or ascertained; that each gas company and electric light company shall pay to the state an annual license fee or franchise tax at the rate of one half of 1% upon the gross amount of its receipts so returned or ascertained, and 5% upon the dividends in excess of 4% so paid or declared by said company; that each oil or pipe line company shall pay to the state an annual license fee or franchise tax at the rate of eight tenths of 1% upon the gross amount of its receipts so returned or ascertained; that each insurance company other than life shall pay to the state an annual license fee or franchise tax at the rate of 1% upon the gross amount of its premiums so returned or ascertained; that each life insurance company incorporated under the laws of this state shall pay to the state an annual license fee or franchise tax of 1% upon the amount of its surplus on the 31st day of December next preceding the time of such payment, as fixed in § 5, and in addition thereto a further annual license fee or franchise tax of 35 one hundredths of 1% upon the total gross insurance premiums collected by such companies of this state during the year ending December 31 next preceding; provided, that any taxes, or charges in lieu of taxes, that may hereafter be collected by this state from life insurance companies of other states shall be credited in rebate of the taxes hereby imposed on companies of this state, in proportion to the several amounts payable by the several companies of this state under this act: the commissioner of banking and insurance shall ascertain and report to the state board of assessors all facts necessary to enable the said board to ascertain and fix the amount of taxation to be paid by life insurance companies under this act, and shall ascertain and report to said board the amount of rebate to be allowed to said companies as herein provided, and shall also certify to each of said companies the amount of such taxation and the rebate allowed under this act; that each parlor, palace or sleeping car company shall pay to the state an annual license fee or franchise tax at the rate of 2% upon the gross amount of its receipts so returned or ascertained; if any oil or pipe line company has part of its transportation line in this state and part thereof in another state or states, such company shall return a statement of its gross receipts for transportation of oil or petroleum over its whole line, together with a statement of the whole length of its line and the length of its line in this state; such company shall pay an annual license fee or franchise tax to the state at the aforesaid rate upon such proportion of its said gross receipts as the length of its line in this state bears to

The omitted portion of this section is superseded by the following:

Miscellaneous corporations. 1 All corporations incorporated under the laws of this state, other than those which are subject to the payment of a state franchise tax assessed upon the basis of gross receipts, shall make annual return to the state board of assessors on or before the first Tuesday of May in each year, and shall state therein the amount of the capital stock of such corporation issued and outstanding on the first day of January preceding the making of said return, together with such other information as may be required by said board to carry out the provisions of this act, and shall pay an annual license fee or franchise tax of one-tenth of 1% on all amounts of capital stock issued and outstanding up to and including the sum of $3,000,000; on all sums of capital stock issued and outstanding in excess of $3,000,000 and not exceeding $5,000,000, an annual license fee or franchise tax of one-twentieth of 1%, and the further sum of $50 per annum per $1,000,000, or any part thereof, on all amounts of capital stock issued and outstanding in excess of $5,000,000; provided, that this act shall not apply to railway, canal or banking corporations, or to savings banks, cemeteries or religious corporations, or purely charitable or purely educational associations not conducted for profit, or manufacturing or mining corporations at least 50% of whose capital stock issued and outstanding is invested in mining or manufacturing carried on within this state, and which mining or manufacturing corporations shall have stated in the annual return to the state board of assessors where the mine or manufacturing establishment of such corporation or corporations is or are located, the character of the ores mined or the goods manufactured, the total amount of its capital stock embarked in the business of mining or manufacturing and the amount of capital stock actually employed in New Jersey in carrying on such mining or manufacturing business; if any manufacturing or mining company, carrying on business in this state shall have less than 50% of its capital stock, issued and outstanding, invested in business carried on within this state, such company shall pay the annual license fee or franchise tax herein provided for companies not carrying on business in this state, but shall be entitled, in the computation of such tax, to a deduction from the amount of its capital stock issued and outstanding of the assessed value of its real and personal estate so used in manufacturing or mining.

2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately. ['01 ch.9]

Surety companies. Each surety company doing business within this state under the authority of an act entitled "An act relating to the formation of surety companies and regulating surety companies doing business in this state," approved Mar. 20, 1895, shall make return annually to the state board of assessors of the amount of its premiums received within this state for the year preceding the first day of February prior to the making of such report, and shall pay to this state a tax at the rate of 2% upon the gross amount of said premiums so returned or ascertained, which return shall be made and taxes assessed and collected under and in accordance with the provisions of the act to which this act is a supplement and the several supplements thereto and amendments thereof, and that such surety companies shall not be liable to taxation under the insurance acts of this state. [96 ch. 219]

This act applies to both foreign and domestic companies doing business under authority of '95 ch. 184.

Foreign insurance companies. Taxes and reciprocal provisions. Whereas, the revenue derived from the state under existing legislation is insufficient, the public interests demanding an increase of state taxes upon life insurance companies; and whereas, it is undesirable to impose any taxation for state purposes on life insurance companies not incorporated under the laws of this state but doing business therein, because by reason of the operation of reciprocal or retaliatory legislation of other states the companies of this state would be compelled to pay a much greater amount of taxation to other states than would be collected from such companies of other states by this state; and whereas, such companies of this state are willing to bear the entire burden of such taxation, provided such companies of other states be relieved therefrom; therefore,

All state taxes or charges in lieu of taxes, which are now imposed by any law of this state upon life insurance companies incorporated by other states of the United States, except such taxes and charges as may be imposed by the reciprocal or retaliatory laws of this state, are hereby abolished; and so much of any act or acts imposing any such taxes or charges is hereby repealed. [91 ch. 7 § 1]

Annually, on or before the first day of February in each year, every such fire, life, accident, marine or live stock insurance company, shall pay to the secretary of state the sum of $50, as license for transacting business in this state, and pay a tax of 2% on all premiums received by said companies in this state for the preceding year; provided, however, that life insurance companies of states which do not impose a greater assessment upon the agents of such companies incorporated by this state, shall pay annually on or before the first day of February to the secretary of state, in lieu of the tax of 2%, the sum of $20 for each and every agent appointed by and acting for them. [87 ch. 337 § 3; G. S. p. 1744 § 3]

When by the laws of any other state or nation any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions are imposed on life insurance companies of this state doing business in such other state or nation, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws continue in force, the same taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits, obligations and prohibitions, of whatever kind, shall be imposed upon all such insurance companies of such other state or nation doing business within this state and upon their agents here; provided, that nothing herein shall be held to repeal or reduce the license fee of $50 required of life insurance companies of other states doing business in this state, or the further payment of $20 for each and every agent appointed by and acting for them, when by the provisions of this act such 2% is not payable. ['67 ch. 337 § 10; G. S. p. 1744 ¶ 10]

When by the laws of any other state or nation, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions are imposed on insurance companies, other than life insurance, of this state doing business in such other state or nation, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws continue in force the same taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits, obligations and prohibitions of whatever kind shall be imposed upon all such insurance companies of such other state or nation doing business within this state and upon their agents here; provided that nothing herein shall be held to repeal or reduce the license fee of $50 required of fire insurance companies of other states doing business in this state, or the further payment of a tax of 2% on all premiums received by said companies in this state for the preceding year. ['67 ch. 337 § 11; G. S. p. 1744 ¶ 11]

Corporations exercising municipal franchise to use streets or public places. § 1 All the property, real and personal, and franchises of all persons, copartnership, associations or corporations other than municipal or corporations taxable under the act entitled "An act for the taxation of railroad and canal property," approved April 10, 1884, or any of the supplements or amendments thereto, which have acquired or may hereafter acquire authority or permission from the state or from any taxing district thereof, and have or may hereafter have the right to use or occupy and occupying the streets, highways, roads, lanes or public places in this state, shall hereafter be valued, assessed and taxed as hereinafter provided.

Property in public places. § 2 The respective assessors or officers, having like powers and duties to perform, in each taxing district in this state, shall each year ascertain the value of such property located in, upon or under any public street, highway, road, lane or other public place in each taxing district, and the value of the property not so located; when so ascertained, all such property shall be assessed and taxed at local rates, as now provided by law, and all proceedings for appeal, review and collection now available shall remain applicable.

Returns to state board. § 3 The officers, whose duty it is to make the assessment in each taxing district, shall annually make a return, certified in writing, on or before the third Tuesday of September, of the valuation of all property assessed under the provisions of this act which is located in, upon or under any street, highway, road, lane or other public place in such taxing district, together with the names of the owners and those operating the same, and file the same in the office of the state board of assessors.

Report of gross receipts. § 4 All such persons, copartnerships, associations or corporations, subject to taxation under the provisions of this act, shall, on or before the first Tuesday in May in each year, return to the state board of assessors a statement showing the gross receipts of their business in the state of New Jersey for the year ending December 31, next preceding; any oil or pipe-line company having part of its transportation line in this state and part thereof in another state or states shall make a report showing its gross receipts for transportation of oil or petroleum on its whole line, together with the statement of the length of its whole line and the length of its line in this state along any street, highway, road, lane or other public place, and the franchise tax of such oil or pipe-line company for business so done in this state shall be upon such proportion of its gross receipts as the length of its line in this state along any street, highway, road, lane or other public place, bears to the length of its whole line; all of such statements or reports shall be subscribed and sworn to by the person, copartners or the president or other chief officer of each association or corporation; any person, copartnership, association or corporation willfully neglecting or refusing to make such annual statement or report shall forfeit as a penalty for such neglect or refusal not more than $5,000, to be assessed by a jury, for each offense, to be recovered in any proper form of action in the supreme court of this state in the name of the state, and when collected shall be paid into the state treasury; it shall be the duty of the state board of assessors to certify any such default to the attorney-general of the state, who thereupon shall prosecute an action at law for such penalty; any person who shall falsely make any oath required to be made under this act shall be deemed guilty of perjury and, on conviction thereof, liable to all the penalties prescribed by law therefor.

Gross receipts tax. § 5 An annual franchise tax of 2% upon the annual gross receipts, as aforesaid, shall be assessed upon all persons, copartnerships, associations or corporations taxable under this act.

Apportionment of tax. § 6 The state board of assessors shall annually ascertain and apportion the franchise tax to the various taxing districts in proportion to the value of the property located in, upon or under any public street, road, highway, lane or other public place therein as shown by the statements so filed with said board; the amount of the franchise tax shall be certified in writing to the respective assessors of taxes or officers having like powers and duties to perform, on or before the third Tuesday of October in each year; provided, that no change in the apportionment of the franchise tax shall be made in case the valuation of any property is reduced after the return is filed as provided in section three; the assessors or officers shall, within five days after being so notified of such franchise tax, deliver or cause to be delivered to each person, copartnership, association or corporation taxable under the provisions of this act, and to the collector of taxes of such taxing district, a statement in writing showing the amount of such franchise tax so ascertained, which shall become due at the time and place when and where other taxes are due and payable in such taxing district, and the tax shall be and remain a first lien on the property and assets of such person, copartnership, association or corporation, until paid with interest and penalty thereon, and shall be collected in the same manner that other taxes are collected, and the same proceedings now available for the collection of other taxes shall remain applicable to the collection of the franchise tax.

Deduction of present payments. § 7 All money now payable by any person, copartnership, association or corporation to any taxing district for its exclusive use pursuant to any contract, agreement, resolution or ordinance (except money expended for paving or repairing any street, highway or other public place, or taxes upon property real and personal), shall be paid notwithstanding this act, and when paid shall be considered a payment on account of, or in full, as the case may be, for the franchise tax to be apportioned according to the provisions hereof; if the amount so payable is greater than the amount of the franchise tax to be so apportioned, such payment shall be in lieu thereof; and if less, the difference in amount shall be payable as herein provided.

Exemption from other franchise taxes. § 8 The franchise taxes imposed by this act shall be in lieu of all other franchise taxes now assessed against the persons, copartnership, associations or corporations, subject to the provisions of this act and their property; this act shall not be construed to apply to any corporation which has not hitherto or may not hereafter exercise any municipal franchise.

Construction of act. § 9 None of the provisions of this act shall be construed as in any wise to alter, impair or repeal any of the provisions of an act entitled "An act for the taxation of railroad and canal property," approved April 10, 1884, or any of the supplements or amendments thereto, nor shall any corporation taxable under said act and the supplements and amendments thereto be taxable under this act; if any provision of this act shall, for any reason, be held to be unconstitutional or invalid it shall not affect the other provisions of this act or any of them.

In effect, when. § 10 This act shall take effect on the first day of January, 1901. ['00 ch. 195]

Assessment and collection. § 5 The state board of assessors shall certify and report to the controller of the state, on or before the first Monday of June in each year, a statement of the basis of the annual license fee or franchise tax as returned by each company to, or ascertained by, the said board, and the amount of tax due thereon respectively, at the rates fixed by this act; such tax shall thereupon become due and payable, and it shall be the duty of the state treasurer to receive the same; if the tax of any company remains unpaid on the first day of July, after the same becomes due, the same shall thenceforth bear interest at the rate of 1% for each month until paid; the state board of assessors shall have power to require of any corporation subject to tax under this act such information or reports touching the affairs of such company as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act; and may require the production of the books of such company, and may swear and examine witnesses in relation thereto; the controller shall receive as compensation for his services under this act and under the act entitled "An act for the taxation of railroad and canal property," approved April 10, 1884, the sum of $500 annually. [As amended by '92 ch.76 §5]

§ 6 Such tax, when determined, shall be a debt due from such company to the state, for which an action at law may be maintained after the same shall have been in arrears for the period of one month; such tax shall also be a preferred debt in case of insolvency.

§ 7 In addition to other remedies for the collection of such tax, it shall be lawful for the attorney-general, either of his own motion, or upon request of the state controller, whenever any tax due under this act from any company shall have remained in arrears for a period of three months after the same shall have become payable, to apply to the court of chancery, by petition in the name of the state, on five days notice to such corporation, which notice may be served in such manner as the chancellor may direct, for an injunction to restrain such corporation from the exercise of any franchise, or the transaction of any business within this state until the payment of such tax and interest due thereon, and the costs of such application, to be fixed by the chancellor; the said court is hereby authorized to grant such injunction, if a proper case appears, and upon the granting and service of such injunction, it shall not be lawful for such company thereafter to exercise any franchise or transact any business in this state until such injunction be dissolved.

Failure for two years to pay tax. § 1 If any corporation heretofore or hereafter created shall for two consecutive years neglect or refuse to pay the state any tax which has been or shall be assessed against it under any law of this state and made payable into the state treasury, the charter of such corporation shall be void, and all powers conferred by law upon such corporation are hereby declared inoperative and void, unless the governor shall, for good cause shown to him, give further time for the payment of such taxes, in which case a certificate thereof shall be filed by the governor in the office of the controller, stating the reasons therefor. ['96 ch.187 § 1]

§ 2 On or before the first Monday in January in each year the controller shall report to the governor a list of all corporations which for two years next preceding such report have failed, neglected or refused to pay the taxes assessed against them under any law of this state as above, and the governor shall forthwith issue his proclamation, declaring under this act of the legislature that the charters of these corporations are repealed. [As amended by '00 ch.130]

§ 3 The proclamation of the governor shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and published in such newspapers and for such length of time as the governor shall designate.

§ 4 Any person or persons who shall exercise or attempt to exercise any powers under the charter of any such corporation after the issuing of such proclamation shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or a fine not exceeding $1000, or both, in the discretion of the court.

§ 5 After any corporation of this state has failed and neglected for the space of two consecutive years to pay the taxes imposed on it by law, and the controller of this state shall have reported such corporation to the governor of this state, as provided in said amendatory act, then it shall be lawful for the attorney-general of this state to proceed against said corporation in the court of chancery of this state for the appointment of a receiver, or otherwise, and the said court in such proceeding shall ascertain the amount of the taxes remaining due and unpaid by such corporation to the state of New Jersey, and shall enter a final decree for the amount so ascertained, and thereupon a feri facias or other process shall issue for the collection of the same as other debts are collected, and if no property which may be seized and sold on feri facias shall be found within the said state of New Jersey, sufficient to pay such decree, the said court shall further order and decree that the said corporation, within 10 days from and after the service of notice of such decree upon any officer of said corporation upon whom service of process may be lawfully made, or such notice as the court shall direct, shall assign and transfer to the trustees or receiver appointed by the court, any chose in action, or any patent or patents, or any assignment of, or license under any patented invention or inventions owned by, leased or licensed to or controlled in whole or in part by said corporation, to be sold by said receiver or trustee for the satisfaction of such decree, and no injunction theretofore issued nor any forfeiture of the charter of any such corporation shall be held to exempt such corporation from compliance with such order of the court; and if the said corporation shall neglect or refuse within 10 days from and after the service of such notice of such decree to assign and transfer the same to such receiver or trustee for sale as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of said court to appoint a trustee to make the assignment of the same, in the name and on behalf of such corporation, to the receiver or trustee appointed to make such sale, and the said receiver or trustee shall thereupon, after such notice and in such manner as required for the sale under fiert facias of personal property, sell the same to the highest bidder, and the said receiver or trustee, upon the payment of the purchase money, shall execute and deliver to such purchaser an assignment and transfer of all the patents and interests of the corporation so sold, which assignment or transfer shall vest in the purchaser a valid title to all the right, title and interest whatsoever of the said corporation therein, and the proceeds of such sale shall be applied to the payment of such unpaid taxes, together with the costs of said proceedings.

§ 6 Whenever it is established to the satisfaction of the governor that any corporation named in said proclamation has not neglected or refused to pay said tax within two consecutive years, or has been inadvertently reported to the governor by the controller as refusing or neglecting to pay the same as aforesaid, that the governor be and he is hereby authorized to correct such mistake, and to make the same known by filing his proclamation to that effect in the office of the secretary of state. [’96 ch. 187]

§ 1 If the charter of any corporation heretofore or hereafter created, shall become inoperative or void by proclamation of the governor, or by operation of law, for nonpayment of taxes, the governor, by and with the advice of the attorney-general, may, at any time within two years thereafter, or after the default in the payment of such taxes, upon payment by said corporation to the secretary of state of such sum in lieu of taxes and penalties as to them may seem reasonable, but in no case to be less than the fees required as upon the filing of the original certificate of incorporation, permit such corporation to be reinstated and entitled to all its franchises and privileges, and upon such payment as aforesaid the secretary of state shall issue his certificate entitling such corporation to continue its said business and its said franchises.

§ 2 Nothing herein contained shall relieve said corporation from penalty of forfeiture of franchises in case of failure to pay future taxes imposed as in said act provided. [’96 ch. 110]

Proceedings for readjustment of assessment. § 1 The officers of any corporation who shall consider the tax levied under the provisions of an act to which this act is a further supplement, excessive or otherwise unjust, may make application to the state board of assessors for a review of the assessment and a readjustment of the tax; provided, there be filed with the said board within three months from the date of assessment a petition of appeal, duly verified according to law, stating specifically the grounds upon which the appeal is taken and the reasons why the tax is considered excessive or unjust; the state board of assessors shall thereupon proceed to investigate the contentions raised by the said petition of appeal; and for the purpose of such hearing, the officers of said corporation may be summoned to appear before said board, either in person or by attorney, and questioned as to the statements set forth in the said petition of appeal; if, in the opinion of a majority of the board, it shall appear that the tax so levied as aforesaid is excessive or unjust, they shall thereupon require the officers of the corporation to file with the board a corrected return, and upon said corrected return the assessment shall be adjusted and the tax reduced or amended as in the opinion of the board shall seem proper.

§ 2 If the petition of appeal shall not be filed within three months from the date of assessment, as aforesaid, the right to appeal to the state board shall be considered and treated as having been waived and the amount of tax levied shall be payable and collected as other taxes levied by said board. ['97 ch. 89]

Taxes illegally assessed to be refunded. When any corporation upon which taxes have been or shall be levied under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement shall afterwards be found by the state board of assessors to be not liable under the said act for such tax, it shall be the duty of the said board to report and certify to the controller of the treasury the fact that such corporation has been found to be exempt from the tax imposed by the said act, and to cancel and declare null and void any taxes which may have been or shall be imposed upon such exempted corporation, and if any corporation has paid or shall pay the tax so improperly levied, the controller of the treasury shall be and is hereby authorized upon receipt of such certificate, to draw his warrant upon the state treasurer in favor of the proper officer of such corporation for any and all of such taxes which have been or shall be paid into the state treasury. ['88 ch. 86]

Foreign fire insurance companies excepted. § 8 This act shall not apply to or in any manner affect the tax upon the premiums obtained in this state by foreign fire insurance companies and their agents, which tax shall be in lieu of the tax herein provided and shall be collected and distributed as is specially provided by law in relation thereto.

Application of the act. The scheme of this particular taxing act seems to be to impose taxes on three classes of corporations—certain specified corporations doing business in the state wherever chartered, those not doing business in this state, but holding their charters under state authority, and a class of unspecified corporations, which must be few in number, holding charters under and performing their functions in the state.

In the former class different provisions for taxation as amongst themselves are adopted, and in the second and third classes named a franchise tax is imposed based upon the amount of their capital stock. [46 N. J. Eq. 270]

Laws of 1888 ch. 208

Property not used for railroad or canal purposes. Stocks and bonds. § 1 All of the property of any railroad or canal company not used for railroad or canal purposes shall be assessed and taxed by the same assessors and in the same manner and at the same rate as the taxable property of other owners in the same municipal division or taxing district; all other property of any railroad or canal company shall be assessed and taxed as hereinafter directed; the tax imposed by this act shall be in lieu of all other taxation upon the property subject to taxation under the provisions of this act; in all cases where the real estate, tangible personal property and franchise of any company are assessed and taxed under this act, the shares of stock and the bonds and certificates of indebtedness of such company shall not be taxed in the hands of the shareholders, bondholders or creditors, except as hereinafter provided.

State board of assessors. § 2 All property of any railroad and of any canal company used for railroad or canal purposes shall be assessed by a state board of assessors, which shall consist of four members and shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate; and no person shall be qualified or authorized to act as a member of said board unless his appointment shall have been confirmed by the senate; their term of office shall commence on the first Monday of May; the assessors first appointed shall be appointed to hold office respectively for one, two, three and four years, and until the appointment of a successor; all subsequent appointments shall be for a term of four years and until the appointment of a successor; vacancies shall be filled by the governor, subject to the approval of [the] senate; the said assessors shall be citizens of this state, and shall not, during their term of office, be interested in any railroad or canal company; each assessor shall, before entering on his duties, file with the secretary of state an oath taken before a justice of the supreme court that he will faithfully discharge the duties of his office, and that he is not interested in any railroad or canal company; they shall each receive an annual salary of twenty-five hundred dollars; three members shall constitute a quorum, and any official act shall be valid which has the sanction of three members; they may employ a secretary, who shall receive such yearly compensation as the board of assessors may determine, not to exceed $2500; they shall keep a record of their proceedings, and shall annually report to the legislature. [As amended by '91 ch. 98]

Bipartisan board. Hereafter all appointments to be made by the governor, of members of the state board of assessors, established under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement, whether by reason of the expiration of the term of office of any member of the said board, or to fill any vacancies in said board caused by death, resignation or otherwise, shall be so made that not more than two members of the said board at any time shall be members of the same political party. [G. S. p. 3335 ¶ 244; '94 ch. 185 § 1]

Valuation. § 3 It shall be the duty of the board of assessors to meet at Trenton on the first Tuesday of May in the present and each succeeding year, and as often during each year and at such places as their duties may require; they shall proceed to ascertain the true value of all property used for railroad or canal purposes of each railroad and of each canal company in this state, including its franchises, and they shall, in such ascertainment, ascertain:

1 The length and value of the main stem of each railroad, and of the waterway of each canal and the length of such main stem and waterway in each taxing district;

2 The value of the other real estate used for railroad or canal purposes in each taxing district in this state, including the road-bed (other than main stem), waterways, reservoirs, tracks, buildings, water tanks, waterworks, riparian rights, docks, wharves and piers, and all other real estate, except lands not used for railroad or canal purposes;

3 The value of all the tangible personal property of each railroad and of each canal company;

4 The value of the remaining property, including the franchise.

The term "main stem" of each railroad and of each canal company, as used in this act, shall be held to include the road-bed not exceeding 100 feet in width, with its rails and sleepers, depot buildings used for passengers connected therewith; the term "waterway" shall be held to include the towing-path and berme-bank; the term "taxing district" shall be held to designate any municipality, city, township, borough, incorporated town or village having power to assess and levy taxes, through which any road or canal may run; the term "tangible personal property" shall be held to include the rolling-stock, cars, locomotives, ferry boats, all machinery, tools, other tangible personal property of any railroad company, and the floating, movable and other tangible personal property of any canal company, and also the locomotives and cars not belonging to such railroad company but built for its use and actually used in this state, or run under its control in this state by a sleeping-car company or other company; but the rolling-stock of other persons or corporations temporarily used on any such road, and the floating or movable property temporarily used on such canal, but not forming part of the equipment of such road or canal, shall not be included in said term.

Local assessors. § 4 It shall be the duty of the assessors in all taxing districts where property of any railroad or canal company not used for railroad or canal purposes shall be assessed, if required so to do by the state board of assessors, to certify and send to the state board of assessors, on or before the second Monday of June in each year, a statement giving the description of such property and showing the assessed valuation thereof; the local assessors shall also, at the same time, certify and send to the state board of assessors a short description of all the real property in their respective taxing districts, used or owned for railroad or canal purposes, excepting the main stem or roadbed and track, not exceeding 100 feet in width of each railroad, and the waterway, towing-path and berme-bank, not exceeding 100 feet in width of each canal; the said assessors shall also certify to the said board the local rate of taxation for county and municipal purposes, as soon as the same shall be determined, and such other information obtained in the course of the performance of the duties of their office as the said board shall require of them, and for the service mentioned in this section the said local assessors shall receive $3 per day for each day actually engaged in such service, to be paid on the warrant of the controller, on an affidavit of such service being filed in the office of said controller.

Meetings of board. § 5 On the first Monday of July the board shall meet at the state house, in Trenton, and shall give a hearing to all companies interested, touching the valuation and assessment of their property; the board may adjourn from day to day, and may, if they see fit, require all arguments and communications to be presented in writing; when the first Monday of July shall fall on the fourth or fifth day of that month, the day of meeting shall be on the first Tuesday of July; all parties interested shall take notice of this hearing.

Property leased or operated by another corporation. Foreign equipment used in the state. § 6 If the property of any railroad or canal company be leased to or operated by any other corporation, foreign or domestic, the property of the lessor, or company whose property is operated, shall be subject to taxation in the manner hereinbefore directed, and if the lessee or operating company, being a foreign corporation, be the owner or possessor of any property in this state other than that which it derives from the lessor or company whose property is operated, it shall be assessed in respect of such property in like manner as any domestic railroad or canal company; any tangible personal property of such foreign company, if used or kept but a part of the time in this state, shall be assessed such proportionate part of its value as the time it is used or kept in this state during the calendar year preceding bears to the whole year.

Deduction for mortgages. § 7 In case any railroad or canal company shall claim any deduction on account of any mortgage or debt secured thereby, the said board are hereby required to allow the same in the cases in which and to the extent to which the assessor is authorized by law to allow a deduction in the case of any other owner of mortgaged lands, and thereupon the said mortgage and the estate of the mortgagee in the land mortgaged shall be subject to taxation in the same manner, as nearly as may be, and at the same rate or rates, as the estate of the mortgagor; the deduction shall be made pro rata from the valuation of each class of property covered by the mortgage, and the amount received from the taxation thereof shall be distributed as if the tax had been paid by the mortgagor without deduction.

Deduction of other debts. Assessment of debts to creditors. § 8 If any railroad or canal company shall claim a deduction in any case in which such deduction could be claimed under the general laws of the state by other taxpayers for debts other than the deduction last hereinbefore mentioned, the said board are hereby required to allow the same, and the said indebtedness so allowed shall be taxable as other debts owing to creditors residing in this state are taxable, and at the same rate; but the assessment thereof shall be made by said board and not by the local assessor, and the tax shall be paid to the treasurer of the state, to the credit of the fund derived from taxation under this act; the deduction shall be made pro rata from the valuation of each class of property of the debtor assessed, and shall be distributed as if the tax had been paid by the debtor without deduction; provided, that no deduction, either for mortgage or other indebtedness, shall be allowed unless the same shall be applied for in the report and statement required to be made pursuant to this act, and unless the nature of the indebtedness, and the name and residence of the creditor, and the different taxing districts in which the mortgaged land lies, shall be specified, and unless the other terms imposed by the general laws of the state upon other taxpayers claiming deductions shall be complied with.

State and local tax. § 9 The state board of assessors shall, upon the completion of their valuation and assessment, proceed to compute the tax upon the entire assessed valuation of each railroad company and of each canal company, as ascertained by them; upon such valuation, each company shall pay to the state, for general state purposes, a tax at the rate of one half of 1% annually upon each dollar of valuation, and the state board of assessors shall compute the same; each company shall also pay, in addition to said tax of one half of 1%, a tax at the local rate as fixed and assessed for county and municipal purposes upon other property in each taxing district, upon the valuation of its property in the several taxing districts, separately valued and assessed under the provisions of subdivision two of section three of this act, which tax shall also be computed by the state board of assessors; but the last mentioned rate shall in no case exceed 1% of the valuation of the property valued under the provisions of subdivision two of § 3 of this act; the sum of the estimates or computations for each company shall constitute the tax to be paid by each company, and shall be a lien paramount to all other liens upon all the lands and tangible property and franchise of such company in this state; such lien shall take effect on the first day of November; and a copy of the valuation in detail of the property of each corporation and of the tax assessed against the same under the provisions of this act, shall be served upon the treasurer of such corporation or left at his office within 10 days after the said first day of November; but the failure to serve any such notice shall not be held to invalidate any tax assessed or affect any lien created under this act; said tax shall be a debt due from such company to the state on that date, for which an action at law or in equity may be maintained and which shall be a preferred debt in case of insolvency; these remedies are in addition to the special proceedings provided for in this act.

Assessment and collection. § 10 The said board shall certify and report to the controller of the state, on or before the first day of December in each year, a statement of the assessed valuation of the property of each company in the state, and of the separate valuation of property in each taxing district, as made by them, the amount of tax payable by such company with respect to its property separately valued in each taxing district, and the aggregate assessed valuation, and the total tax levied upon each company; such statement shall be made separately for each company, and as to said property separately valued, shall be arranged by taxing districts in such manner as to be of easy reference, and shall be recorded in books in the office of the state controller, to be provided by him for that purpose, and shall be public records, subject to public inspection; and the amount of tax payable by each company, as shown by the said statements, shall be due and payable into the state treasury, on any day between the first day of November and the first day of February following; and the payment or collection thereof shall not be stayed by any writ or order of any court of law or equity; it shall be the duty of the state treasurer to receive payment of the said taxes from the said companies; if the taxes of any company, or any portion thereof, remain unpaid on the first day of February following the levying thereof, such company shall be considered in default, and such taxes, or such unpaid portion thereof, shall thenceforth bear interest at the rate of 1% for each month until paid, notwithstanding the prosecution of any writ of certiorari or other remedy; provided, that so much of the tax as is applicable to general state uses, as hereinafter provided, may be paid in four equal instalments on or before the first day of February, May and August and the 15th day of October in each year, and any unpaid portion or instalment shall bear interest only from the date limited for the payment thereof, at 1% for each month until paid, but this privilege of payment by instalment shall not be granted unless the portion of the tax which is applicable to county and local purposes shall be paid before the first day of February following the levying thereof.

Apportionment of tax. § 11 The money collected under this act for the one half of 1% tax shall be applied to the uses of the state, according to law; the amount received for tax upon property separately assessed in the different taxing districts is hereby appropriated, and shall be allotted to the various taxing districts, giving to each district the amount that was derived from the property of each railroad or canal company therein; the controller shall transmit to the collector of each county a certificate showing the amounts allotted to the taxing district therein, and shall draw his warrant upon the state treasury, in favor of the several county collectors, for the amounts allotted to their several counties, and the county collector shall forthwith pay to the collector, or other proper officer of each taxing district, the amount allotted thereto, deducting, however, the amount due for county taxes from such taxing district; the amount thus paid to the county and taxing district shall be at the disposal of the proper authorities for public purposes; provided, however, that whenever the local city rate as fixed and assessed in any city exceeds 1% of the ratables of such city, then in such case the controller shall transmit to the collector of taxes of said city a certificate showing the amount allotted to such city, and shall draw his warrant upon the state treasurer in favor of the treasurer of such city for said amount; such warrant to be at the disposal of the board of such city having control of its finances, to be used for the municipal purposes of such city, such amount to be first applied to the purchase of such outstanding bonds or obligations of the city as can be bought below the par value thereof, and if no bonds or obligations can be bought below par, then such amount, or the balance, if any, shall be applied to the payment of such part of the city debt and interest falling due thereon as the said board having control of the finances of the city may determine. [As amended by '88 ch. 259 § 1]

The taxes which shall be hereafter assessed upon the real estate used for railroad or canal purposes in each taxing district in this state separately valued and assessed under the provisions of subdivision two (2) of section three (3) of said act, when collected, shall be allotted to and paid over to the various taxing districts through which said railroads or canals run, giving to each such district the total amount of tax that may be so derived from the property of each railroad or canal company therein. ['97 ch. 69 § 1]

Assessment and collection. § 12 The said state board of assessors shall meet on the third Monday of November, at the state house, in Trenton, for the purpose of reviewing their assessment, and may adjourn from time to time till they shall have finished the hearing; upon the written complaint of any company or person considering itself or himself aggrieved, and specifying the grievance, or of the attorney-general or of any member of the board, on behalf of the state, that the property of any company is assessed too low, either in the whole or in any taxing district, or that property has been omitted, they shall review the said assessment, and correct the same as shall appear just; the attorney-general shall attend such meetings of said board in person or by deputy; no complaint that any company or person is assessed too low, or that any property has been omitted, shall be acted upon until the company or person so assessed shall be notified of such complaint by five days' notice, to be served on such company or person by leaving the same at the office of such company or at the usual place of abode of such person, if a resident of this state; the board shall have the power to issue subpoenas and examine witnesses and call for the production of books and papers, and they shall be entitled to use their personal knowledge and judgment as to the value of property; they shall certify to the controller of the state all corrections which they shall make in any assessment; the proceedings provided for by this section shall be completed before the 15th day of January following the making of said assessment, and all complaints must be presented on or before the third Monday of November, or shall be deemed to have been waived.

§ 13 If any company or person assessed, or if the attorney-general on behalf of the state, or if the authorities of any taxing district, shall desire to contest the validity or amount of any tax levied upon property under the provisions of this act, such contest shall be made by certiorari, which may be granted on notice to the attorney-general or to the company or person assessed, on a proper case made, on such terms as the justice or court granting the writ may impose; upon such writ, relief may be had as well in cases where it is claimed that the amount of tax is excessive or insufficient, as in cases where it is claimed that the principle upon which the assessment is made is erroneous; provided, that no writ of certiorari shall be granted unless the applicant has applied to said board of assessors to review the assessment, as provided for in this act, nor shall any writ of certiorari be granted after the expiration of three months from the final determination of said board; if such writ shall be allowed, and if it shall be made to appear that any assessment is unlawful, excessive or insufficient, the court shall correct the same by whomsoever such writ shall be prosecuted, and reduce or increase it, as may be just, or refer it back to the board of assessors, who shall correct or reassess the same, in accordance with the instructions of the court; in any suit or proceeding, except on such certiorari, the certificate and report of the state board of assessors shall be conclusive and shall have the force and effect of a judgment of a court of record having competent jurisdiction, and the proceedings whereon such certificate and report are founded, shall not be inquired into; no assessment or tax shall be set aside for misnomer of the owner of the property assessed; but the name may be corrected at any time by the board of assessors or court; the prosecutor of a writ of certiorari shall pay 8 cents per folio to the state board of assessors and controller for returns made by them of proceedings under this act.

§ 14 If any tax under the provisions of this act shall remain unpaid in whole or in part for 10 days after the expiration of the time limited for payment thereof, it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to apply forthwith to a justice of the supreme court for an order that said tax and the interest due thereon and a reasonable sum to be certified by said justice to be paid for the expense of said proceeding, shall be made a record of the supreme court, and judgment shall be entered therefor in the name of the state of New Jersey as plaintiff against said company, mortgagee or mortgagees, or other creditor, as defendant, which order shall be made upon the production of a certified copy from the controller of the certificate and report of the state board of assessors on file in his office, and of the certificate of the controller that said tax has not been paid; the attorney-general shall also apply for an order that execution forthwith issue on said judgment, directed to a master of the court of chancery, to be named by said justice in said order; the said orders shall be respectively applied for on five days' notice to the company or mortgagee or mortgagees or other creditor concerned, which notice, in case of any company, shall be served in the same manner as a summons is directed by law to be served upon a corporation, and in all cases the proceedings shall be summary; in case a certiorari shall have been granted, on application of the attorney-general the orders above provided for shall be made and enforced without prejudice to the right of the state to enforce the payment of any additional amount of tax which may be imposed and to apply for a second judgment therefor; in case a certiorari shall have been granted on application of any company or mortgagees or other creditor taxed, and the tax shall have been reduced after the payment thereof, then the excess shall be repaid by the state upon the order of the court, and the state controller shall, upon such order, issue his warrant for such payment accordingly.

§ 15 The master in chancery to whom the execution shall be directed shall sell all the franchise, real estate and rolling-stock and property of said company, and the estate and interest of any mortgagees, and the debt due to any creditor for which a deduction has been allowed, or so much thereof as may be necessary to make the amount due on said tax judgment and the usual execution fees; the execution shall describe the property or debt aforesaid whereon the tax was assessed, and shall direct the sale thereof, and, generally, the sale of all other property of said company or person; such sale shall pass the absolute title to the franchise and property and debt aforesaid so sold, whereon the said tax was assessed or became a lien, free and clear of all liens, incumbrances and trusts of every nature, except taxes subsequently levied; in cases of the sale of the estate and interest of any mortgagee it shall pass as well such estate as the interest of all bondholders and cestuis que trust for whose benefit said mortgage may have been given or may be held in trust or otherwise; as to any other property of said company or persons, the judgment and execution shall constitute or become liens in the same manner and to the same extent as other judgments and executions of the supreme court; the sale, advertisements and proceedings under such executions shall be the same as under other executions of the supreme court; provided, however, that the company whose franchise, real estate, rolling-stock and property, or any part thereof, has been so sold, and the mortgagee or mortgagees or any bondholder or other person having an interest in the estate and interest of the corporation or mortgagee which has been so sold, may, at any time within two years from and after any such sale, redeem the property so sold by tendering and paying to the purchaser or purchasers thereof the amount of the purchase money by him or them paid, together with interest thereon at the rate of ten per centum per annum.

§ 16 In order to ascertain the facts necessary for the discharge of their duties under this act, the said board shall use such lawful means as they may deem necessary; they may employ surveyors if they shall be dissatisfied with information otherwise attainable; they shall have the power of compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers; and they may delegate such power to any member of their board authorized by them to investigate and report; they shall also use the returns hereinafter provided for, but such returns shall not be conclusive, and if any of said returns shall not be made, the board shall ascertain the necessary facts from the best information they can obtain, in such mode as they may find convenient, using their personal knowledge and judgment; the said assessors, or any one of them, shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to any person to ascertain any facts which will enable them properly to perform the duties of their office, and they may reduce the statements of the person sworn to writing, and require him to swear and subscribe thereto, and may, ex parte, apply for and obtain from any justice of the supreme court an order to compel any person to submit to examination in reference to such matters, and such justice may punish any party as for a contempt who shall disobey any order made by such justice in the premises.

Returns. § 17 On or before the first Tuesday of May in each year, any person or company running, operating or constructing any railroad or canal in this state shall return to the state board of assessors statements or schedules, subscribed and sworn to by the president or other chief officer, before some officer of the state authorized to administer oaths, of the property of such railroad or canal as it existed on the first day of January preceding, which, for each railroad, shall be as follows:

1 of the real estate, specifying its extent and dimensions, which may be shown by a map or maps, setting out in detail the total length of the road, including branch and leased lines, the entire length in this state, and the length of double or side tracks; and the number, character and value of all buildings and structures in each county and in each taxing district through or in which it is located in this state, designating the main stem or road-bed and the width wherever it exceeds 100 feet, and designating particularly any portion in each taxing district which is not used for railroad purposes, and which is locally assessed and taxed, and the value thereof;

2 of the rolling-stock and tangible personal property, giving the number of freight engines, passenger engines, passenger and freight cars, ferry boats and other movable property of every description, owned, used or hired, and the value thereof;

3 a statement or schedule, showing:

a the amount of capital stock authorized and the number of shares into which such capital stock is divided;

b the amount of capital stock paid up;

c the market value, and if no market value, then the actual value of the shares of stock;

d the total amount and the details and particulars of all indebtedness.

Such statements and schedules for canals shall be as follows:

1 of all the real estate of said company, giving the depth of water and dimensions of such canal, the length of the canal and of its feeders in the state, and the number, character and value of all locks, and of all buildings and other structures in each county and taxing district, designating particularly the width where it exceeds 100 feet and designating any portion in each taxing district which is not used for canal purposes and which is locally assessed and taxed;

2 the floating and movable property;

3 a statement or schedule containing all the particulars above enumerated and to be returned by railroad companies in the third statement or schedule; such statements or schedules shall be made in conformity with such instructions and forms as may be prescribed by the said board, and such further statements shall be furnished as said board shall require; the said board shall prescribe the form of the oath to the statements and schedules required by this section, any person who shall make such oath falsely shall be guilty of perjury.

§ 18 Any railroad or canal company claiming exemption from taxation under this act, by reason of any alleged contract with the state, shall, together with and in addition to the return required by the last section, make a further return specifying the act or acts of the legislature by which such contract is claimed to have been created, and also specifying what portion of the property of said railroad or canal company is claimed to be exempt from taxation under this act and the particulars thereof, and the cost and value thereof, and such other particulars as the charter of said company and as the said board may require, and the particulars as to character, location and value of the property, if any, admitted to be liable under this act; such return shall be in no manner conclusive as to any of the facts therein stated, but said board shall investigate and determine whether any, and if any, what portion of the property of such company is by contract beyond the power of the state to tax under this act; and shall ascertain the cost and value thereof, and shall estimate the tax to be paid by such company; the residue of said property shall be assessed, apportioned, valued and taxed pursuant to the provisions of this act.

§ 19 It shall not be lawful for any railroad or canal company having any contract with the state whereby any of their property is exempted from the taxation imposed by this act, to acquire and hold, directly or indirectly, any property in this state (except such property as such company may be entitled to acquire and hold pursuant to their said contract with this state, if such company has any charter provisions on this subject which the legislature can not abrogate or repeal), unless such company shall, by a written instrument, executed under their common seal, approved by the attorney-general and filed with the secretary of state, first agree that any and all property acquired by such company after the passage of this act shall be subject to taxation under the provisions of this act, or any amendments thereto, or any further act of the legislature, in which case such property shall be so subject.

Neglect to make returns. § 20 If any person or corporation running, operating or constructing any railroad or canal shall wilfully neglect to make returns, as required by this act, such person or corporation shall forfeit as a penalty not more than $10,000, to be assessed by the jury, for each offense, to be recovered in any proper form of action in the supreme court, in the name of the state, and paid into the state treasury; it shall be the duty of said board to certify any such default to the attorney-general of the state, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to prosecute for such penalty; any person who shall make falsely any oath required to be made under this act, and any person who shall testify falsely when called to testify under this act, shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction thereof shall be liable to all the penalties prescribed by law therefor.

Collection. § 21 All railroad companies in this state, which shall hereafter pay any taxes imposed by this act on any cars, hired, leased, run or used on the roads of such companies in this state, shall have a right of action against the company or persons owning such cars, for the taxes so paid, with interest thereon from date of payment, and may sue for and recover the same in any court of competent jurisdiction; but nothing in this section shall be so construed as to avoid the obligation of any contract relating to the payment of taxes heretofore entered into or made between any such company, its agents, or persons owning such cars, and any such railroad company.

§ 22 If any company shall be in default under this act in payment of the state tax aforesaid, any person having any interest in a mortgage or other lien on its franchises or property, may pay the state treasurer the amount of such state tax, and the interest due thereon, and receive from said treasurer a certificate of such payment, and such person shall thereupon be entitled to be repaid the amount of said tax and interest thereon at the rate of 12% per annum out of the first proceeds of any sale of the franchises or property of said company, and such tax and interest thereon shall continue a lien on the franchise and property of the company for the benefit of the holder of or person interested in such mortgage or lien until paid by said company from the sale of its franchises or property; if any proceedings have been taken by the attorney-general to enforce the payment of said tax and interest thereon, then such holder of or person interested in a mortgage or lien paying such tax and interest shall pay such additional amount as a justice of the supreme court shall certify to be proper and reasonable for the expenses and services of the proceedings as far as they have progressed for the collection of said tax and interest thereon.

Property owned by individuals. § 23 If any railroad or canal shall be owned or operated under a franchise by any individual or association not incorporated, the term "company" used in this act shall apply to such owners or operators, and such property shall be assessed and taxed under the provisions of this act in the same manner as if operated by a company, and the persons operating or owning such railroad or canal shall make the returns required by this act to be made by companies.

Special counsel and assistants. § 24 The attorney-general shall, with the approval of the governor and controller, have power to employ such assistant attorneys or counsel as may be necessary to protect and properly defend the interest of the state, in carrying out the provisions of this act; and such assistants shall be paid such compensation by the state as may be approved by the attorney-general and the controller; the state board of assessors shall have power to employ such assistants in making their valuations as may be necessary to complete the same in due time, and such assistants shall be paid such reasonable compensation for their services as the board and the governor shall approve.

Corporations having contracts with state. § 25 Any corporation having or claiming to have any contract with the state whereby any of its property is claimed to be exempted from the taxation imposed by this act, may, at its discretion, voluntarily pay to the state from year to year such sums of money as, added to the tax now assessable against such corporation under such alleged contract, will be equal to the tax assessable against such corporation under this act in respect to the property so claimed to be exempted, and such voluntary payment shall not be construed in any proceeding or suit to be a waiver by such corporation of its said alleged contract; provided, however, that nothing in this section, or in this act contained, shall be construed or taken as an admission on the part of the state that any corporation is possessed of any contract or especial provision of the law on the subject of taxation which may not at any time be repealed or modified by the state.

Unconstitutionality of one section not to affect others. § 26 If any section of this act shall, for any reason, be held to be unconstitutional or invalid, it shall not affect the other provisions of this act or any of them.

Companies having contracts with state. § 27 Any corporation in this state having the right, by contract, to any different imposition of tax, either state or municipal, than that provided for in this act, are hereby authorized to execute and file in the office of the secretary of state an instrument, to be first approved by the attorney-general, waiving the benefit of any such contract, whereupon they shall be bound by the terms of this act, or any amendments hereto, or any further act of the legislature, and upon filing any such instrument the state agrees to surrender its right to take the property of any such corporation under any law now existing; provided, that any such corporation shall execute and file such instrument within six months from the time of the passage of this act.

Correction of assessment. § 28 In case any property of any railroad or canal company which has been or shall hereafter be in any year assessed by the local authorities of any taxing district has been or shall be also assessed by the state board of assessors as property used for railroad or canal purposes, the supreme court or any three justices thereof, to be assigned by the chief justice, shall determine, in a summary manner, the character of the property and whether used for railroad or canal purposes, and by which assessors the same has lawfully been assessed, which determination shall be made whether the taxes in question have been paid or not, and whether a certiorari to review either assessment has been granted or not; such determination shall be made under an order to show cause at a time and place to be therein designated, which order shall be granted by the chief justice of the supreme court upon application ex parte by any of the parties interested, namely, by the attorney-general on behalf of the state, or by the owner of the property assessed, or by the authorities of the taxing district; and said order shall be served not less than 10 days before the day fixed therein for the hearing, upon the said parties interested not making such application; depositions may be taken, on two days' notice by either party, to be used on such hearing; the justices before whom the matter shall be heard, may, if they see fit, view the property in dispute, to guide them in their decision; the judgment of the court shall direct the cancelation or reduction of either assessment, as the character of the property may require, and shall make such order as to the return to the taxpayer of any tax or any portion thereof, that may have been paid to the state, or to any taxing district not entitled thereto, as such court shall deem just; the payment of costs may be directed in such manner as the court may deem equitable; the said judgment shall be conclusive and final in all collateral proceedings, but may be reviewed on writ of error by the court of errors and appeals.

Payment of tax not to affect right to writ of certiorari. § 29 If any corporation whose property and franchises have been or shall be valued and assessed under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement, by the state board of assessors, shall pay or cause to be paid to the treasurer of the state the tax so assessed upon its property and its franchises at the times and in the manner provided by law, or within 15 days after the state board of assessors shall have made and declared their final revision of their valuations and assessments, neither such payment nor the lapse of time in making application for a writ of certiorari shall be considered by any court or judge thereof as a reason why such corporation should not be entitled to such writ of certiorari upon any question adjudicated in favor of any corporation that may refuse to pay the taxes assessed against it, and that shall bring its writ of certiorari, to review the valuations and assessments within the time limited by the act to which this is a supplement; provided, application for a writ of certiorari be made within six months after such question has been finally adjudicated, and no other questions shall be considered on said writ.

Act subject to amendment. Repealing clause. § 30 This act shall be subject to amendments, alterations or repeal at the will of the legislature; the "Act for the taxation of railroad and canal property," approved April 10, anno domini 1884, which is by this act revised and amended, and the supplements thereto approved February 5 and April 5, anno domini 1885, and all other acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed, except so far as herein reenacted, but nothing in this repealer shall affect or impair the lien of any taxes heretofore assessed or any remedies for the collection of the same, or to surrender any remedies, powers, rights or privileges acquired by the state under said act hereby revised, or to relieve any person or corporation from any penalty imposed by said act and supplements, nor shall anything in this act be held to repeal the supplement to the said act hereby revised, which supplement was approved June 10, anno domini 1886, nor shall this act affect the tenure of office of the present state board of assessors.

§ 31 This act shall take effect immediately. ['88 ch. 208]

Incorporation and license tax

Incorporation tax. On filing any certificate or other paper, relative to corporations, in the office of the secretary of state, the following fees and taxes shall be paid to the secretary of state, for the use of the state: for certificate of incorporation, 20 cents for each thousand dollars of the total amount of capital stock authorized, but in no case less than $25; increase of capital stock, 20 cents for each thousand dollars of the total increase authorized, but in no case less than 20 dollars; consolidation and merger of corporations, 20 cents for each thousand dollars of capital authorized, beyond the total authorized capital of the corporations merged or consolidated, but in no case less than 20 dollars; extension or renewal of corporate existence of any corporation, the same as required for the original certificate of organization by this act; dissolution of corporation, change of name, change of nature of business, amended certificates of organization (other than those authorizing increase of capital stock), decrease of capital stock, increase or decrease of par value of or number of shares, 20 dollars; for filing list of officers and directors, $1; filing copy of charter and statement of foreign corporation and issuing certificate of authority to transact business, $10, and for all certificates not hereby provided for, $5; provided, that no fees shall be required to be paid by any religious or charitable society or association, or educational association having no capital stock. ['96 ch. 185 § 114]

Foreign corporations. Reciprocal taxes. When, by the laws of any other state or nation, any other or greater taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees or other obligations or requirements are imposed upon corporations of this state, doing business in such other state or nation, or upon their agents therein, than the laws of this state impose upon their corporations or agents doing business in this state, so long as such laws continue in force in such foreign state or nation, the same taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, obligations and requirements of whatever kind shall be imposed upon all corporations of such other state or nation doing business within this state and upon their agents here; provided, that nothing herein shall be held to repeal any duty, condition or requirement now imposed by law upon such corporations of other states or nations transacting business in the state. Bulletins. No. 1-7, 9-11, 13, Summary and index of legislation by states. These are minutely classified annual summaries of new laws passed by all the states, followed by a full alphabetic index of specific topics, and have been published since 1890.

No. 8, State finance statistics. A bulletin giving a comparative summary of state finance statistics for 1890 and 1895 was published in March 1897. There will be a similar bulletin for 1900 and each succeeding fifth year.

No. 12, Trend of legislation in the United States.

No. 14, Taxation of corporations in New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Comparative summary and compilation of laws.

Consolidated summary and index of legislation by states 1890-1900. In preparation. The price will be $1. Orders should be sent early so that an approximate estimate of the demand may be made and an adequate edition printed. The bulletin will be sent postpaid with bill as soon as ready.

These bulletins may be had postpaid for $1 a volume consisting of five numbers or for 25c a copy, except no. 8 which is 10c, no. 11, 50c, no. 12, 5c, and the consolidated summary and index, $1. Volume 1 began in 1890, volume 2 in 1895, and volume 3 with number 11 in 1899. Subscriptions for future numbers or orders for back numbers should be addressed New York State Library Albany, and checks or money orders made payable to University of the State of New York.

Card indexes. A consolidated card index of state legislation, beginning with 1890, makes it easy to refer to laws on any subject in any state within the past 10 years. As fast as advance sheets of new laws are received they are summarized on cards and classified. A special library on comparative legislation is being collected, which is supplemented with catalogues and indexes. This makes it possible to furnish promptly summaries of recent legislation on any subject.

Research. The library with its 315,000 volumes affords unusual advantages for research. Its collections in law, public documents, statistics, political science, economics, administration and allied subjects are unusually valuable and are being rapidly increased. Students of public law or economics who are unable to come to the library may have bibliographies prepared and information gathered for them by trained assistants.

A charge is made for work of this kind covering the salary value of the time spent on it, usually ranging from 50c to $1 an hour; but such work is always assigned to the least expensive assistant competent to do it satisfactorily. Requests for research on these subjects should be addressed Sociology librarian, State Library.

LEGISLATION 15

Comparative Summary and Index

In this highly competitive age improved methods must be quickly adopted in government as well as in industry to keep in the lead. States which do not study their neighbors' methods of government are as sure to lag behind as is the manufacturer who does not study his competitors' methods of production. This bulletin prepared by Robert H. Whitten Ph. D. sociology librarian and J. B. Phillips Ph. D. is an attempt to digest and organize the enormous annual output of legislation so as to enable legislators with a minimum of labor to make use of the most recent experience of other states.

As fast as advance copies of the session laws of each state can be secured, the separate laws are summarized on cards and classified by subject. This enables the library to answer promptly frequent inquiries regarding legislation in other states. At the end of the year the summary thus prepared is printed as part of this bulletin. The aim is to summarize the laws sufficiently to give a concise comparative view of current state legislation. It is of course impracticable to give many details of long general laws, and private, local and temporary acts unless of great general interest are not included.

As a decision of the supreme court of a state or of the United States declaring a statute unconstitutional is in effect equivalent to its repeal by the legislature, a digest of such decisions is included with the laws. Constitutional amendments submitted to future action of the legislature or people, as well as those voted on since the last bulletin, are placed in the summary under their proper subject-heads, and on page 1178 there is a separate table arranged by states, showing the result of votes, and referring to the marginal numbers.

For three years we have included under the head Review of legislation brief notes on the most important and distinctive enactments. The Review will be issued this year as a separate bulletin and will consist of contributions by various specialists.

MELVIL DEWEY

Director

EXPLANATIONS

These must be carefully read to understand the bulletin.

The summary is classified under the general heads shown in the table of contents on the cover and in greater detail on page 818. More comprehensive headings are regularly put first, and in ascertaining what legislation has been passed concerning subordinate heads under the general subject, it is necessary to refer also to the more inclusive heads. Cross references must also be observed.

The index is an alphabetic list of all the specific topics contained in the summary, and refers to each entry by its marginal number. It is necessarily very condensed.

New legislation only is included and when this is in the form of amendments only those clauses which add to, or materially change old enactments are cited. In case some part of the former law, still retained, is necessary for clearness, it is printed in ordinary type with new matter in italics.

The citations at the end of each entry are, as a rule, made by state, number of law and date of approval. In Delaware, North Carolina, Ohio and Rhode Island, where the governor's approval is not necessary, the date of final passage by the legislature is given. In the case of bills which are passed over the governor's veto or become laws without his signature by expiration of time, the date of such passage or expiration is given. The laws of several states are without chapter numbers and references are to pages.

- 3284 When requirements of law have been fulfilled, supervisors shall [formerly may] declare village incorporated. Amending C.L.'97 §2692. Mich. 33, 29 Mr ¹The usage of terms designating local bodies varies widely in different states. The word municipality is here used throughout in its original and strictest meaning to designate any densely populated, incorporated community; thus including cities, villages, boroughs and "towns" (as a name for villages) but not including townships. Where the word town is used to designate in general the smallest division of the state regardless of dense population, it is grouped with township government, though in the case of the New England towns the nature of the government approaches more nearly that of a municipality than that of a western township.

In many states, municipalities, specially cities, are divided into classes according to population. As the classification varies widely, the limits of population designated thereby are in these references substituted for the number of the class.

^b Received majority vote November 1900, but not majority of total number of votes cast for governor. Declared not adopted by the supreme court, in re Denny, 59 N. E. 369.

^c Submitted as one amendment and adopted November 1900. Proposal declared unconstitutional because the amendment was not entered in full on the house journal, State v. Brookhart, 84 N. W. 1064.

^d Two amendments.

^e An amendment relating to taxation of mortgages was submitted by legislature of 1899 and adopted November 1900. This year the legislature passed an act for the submission of the question of its repeal in November 1902; later the supreme court in Russell v. Croy 68 S. W. 849, declared the amendment not adopted in 1900 because it did not receive a majority of all votes cast at the election.

^f Not repassed by legislature of 1901.

NEW CONSTITUTIONSConnecticut

At a special election held in October of the present year the proposition to hold a constitutional convention was carried ['01 ch. 43]. Delegates to this convention were elected at the November election, and the convention will convene on the first Wednesday in January 1902.

Iowa

At time of going to press last year the proposition to hold a constitutional convention in Iowa was reported carried, but the final count showed it defeated by a few votes.

New Hampshire

In New Hampshire delegates to a constitutional convention are to be elected in November 1902 and the convention will meet in December of that year. The act for the election of delegates provides that amendments determined on by the convention shall be submitted to the people separately, if practicable ['01 ch.85]. The people of the state voted to hold a convention in November 1900, the question being submitted by the legislature of 1899 ['99 ch.110]. The present constitution of New Hampshire was adopted in 1792, and has since been amended but three times (see Summary for 1900, p. 589).

Virginia

The legislature of 1900 submitted to the people the question of a constitutional convention ['00 ch.778]. At an election held in May 1900 the proposition to hold a convention carried, and an extra session of the legislature held in January 1901 provided for the election of delegates to the convention ['01 ch.243]. The election was held in May 1901 and the convention has not yet completed its labors. The legislature of 1902 will have to provide for the submission of the new constitution to the people. The present constitution of Virginia was adopted in 1869.

Alabama

At an election held in April 1901 the proposition to hold a constitutional convention was carried ['00 p.43]. A new constitution was submitted to the people and adopted at the November election. The following is a summary of its most important provisions:

Legislature. Date of general election first Tuesday after first Monday in November [formerly first Monday in August] every fourth [formerly second] year beginning with 1902 [§46]. Term of representatives extended from two to four years. Legislature to meet quadrennially [formerly biennially] on second Tuesday in January succeeding election [§48]. Senators to be 25 [formerly 27] years at time of election [§47]. Basis of representation and number of senators and representatives remain practically the same, but a proviso is added that each new county shall be entitled to one representative [§50].

No one to be admitted to floor of either house except members, officers and employees of legislature, governor and his secretaries, representatives of the press and persons admitted by unanimous consent [§57].

State and county officials not to accept any reward for lobbying for or against measures before the legislature or for giving or withholding influence to secure passage or defeat of measure [§101].

No bill to become law till referred to standing committee of each house, acted on by committee in session, and returned to house, "which facts shall affirmatively appear upon the journal of each house" [§62].

Appropriations. Governor, auditor and attorney general before each regular session to prepare general revenue bill, secretary of state to print same, and governor to transmit to house of representatives when organized [§70]. No revenue bills to be passed during last five days of the session. General appropriation bill not to increase any salary nor make appropriation for officer or employee unless his employment and salary has been fixed by law [§71].

Legislature, counties and municipalities not to grant extra compensation or allowance to public officer or employee after service rendered or contract made; nor increase or decrease fees or compensation during term of office [§68].

Special legislation. Special, private or local laws not to be passed in certain cases, specified in 31 subdivisions [§104]. These include incorporation, or amendment of charter of municipal or private corporation, exemption from general laws, regulating interest, granting divorce, validating legal instruments, permitting issue to bonds by municipalities without vote of electors, providing for conduct of elections, restoring right to vote to persons convicted of infamous crimes, etc.

Special act, except to fix time for holding court not to be passed in cases provided for by general law or when relief sought can be given by any court of the state, of which the courts shall be the judges [§105].

Special act not to be passed, repealed or amended, except to fix time of court, unless notice of application therefor, stating substance of proposed law, be published in counties where matter affected is situated, at least once a week for 4 weeks [§106, 107].

"A general law within the meaning of this article is a law which applies to the whole state; a local law is a law which applies to any political subdivision or subdivisions of the state less than the whole; a special or private law within the meaning of this article is one which applies to an individual, association or corporation" [§110].

Executive department. Two new executive offices are created: lieutenant-governor and commissioner of agriculture and industries [§112]. All the executive officers of the state to be elected at time of election of members of legislature and serve for four [formerly two] years [§114].

No executive officer is eligible to succeed himself and the governor is ineligible to election or appointment to any state office or to United States senate during his term and for one year thereafter [§116]. The lieutenant-governor to possess qualifications of governor; to be president of the senate, but to vote only in case of a tie; his compensation to be same as that of speaker [§117, 118].

Pardon board. A board of pardons is created consisting of the attorney general, secretary of state and state auditor [§124]. This board considers all applications for pardon, commutation or parole in cases of felony and reports to the governor, who may at his discretion grant or deny the application. "Pardons in cases of felony and other offenses involving moral turpitude shall not relieve from civil and political disabilities, unless approved by the board of pardons and specifically expressed in the pardon."

Veto power. The legislature retains the right to pass bills over the governor's veto; but, in addition, provision is made that, if the governor proposes an amendment that would remove his objections, the house to which it is sent may so amend the bill and send it with the governor's message to the other house which may adopt, but not amend, such amendment [§125]. As formerly, separate items of appropriation bills may be vetoed and items or bills may be passed over veto by majority vote [§126].

The time during which the governor may return a bill to the legislature is extended to six [formerly five] days, Sundays excepted. In case of recess of the legislature, vetoed bills must be returned within two days after reassembling. Bills presented to governor within five days of final adjournment of legislature may be approved within 10 days after adjournment.

Succession. Formerly the succession to the governorship devolved in turn on the president of the senate and the speaker of the house. The lieutenant-governor is now made first successor in case of death or disability of the governor [§127]. The line of succession is also much increased; after the lieutenant-governor come in turn the president pro tem. of the senate, speaker of the house of representatives, attorney general, state auditor, secretary of state, and state treasurer.

It is made the duty of the supreme court, on request in writing verified by their affidavits of any two of the preceding officers not next in succession, to ascertain the mental condition of the governor or acting governor and if of unsound mind to so adjudge, when officer in succession shall become governor [§128]. Power is also given by which the governor may be restored to office when again of sound mind. If any other of the executive officers become of unsound mind, such disability shall be ascertained by supreme court on suggestion of governor [§136].

Impeachments. Among the causes for removal from office of state officers and judges was "habitual drunkenness"; as this was rather vague, it has been changed to read "intemperance in the use of intoxicating liquors or narcotics to such an extent, in view of the dignity of the office and importance of its duties, as unfits the officer for the discharge of such duties" [§173]. On impeachment of governor or lieutenant-governor, the chief justice to preside over the senate sitting as court of impeachment. If when legislature is not in session a majority of the members elected to the house of representatives certify in writing to secretary of state their desire to meet to consider impeachment of governor or acting governor, secretary of state to notify speaker who shall within 10 days summon the house to assemble on named day.

The impeachment of sheriffs is removed from the jurisdiction of circuit courts to the supreme court and the legislature may provide for impeachment or removal by the supreme court of other officers than those named in constitution [§174]. To the officers removable by the circuit court and criminal court of county, are added the county superintendent of education and judges of inferior courts established under §168 with powers of justice of the peace [§175].

Sheriffs and lynching. "Whenever any prisoner is taken from jail, or from the custody of any sheriff or his deputy, and put to death, or suffers grievous bodily harm, owing to the neglect, connivance, cowardice or other grave fault of the sheriff, such sheriff may be impeached. . . If . . . convicted he shall not be eligible to hold any office in this state during the time for which he had been elected or appointed" [§138].

Judicial department. The new constitution makes many changes in the organization of the courts [§139-72]. Provision is made for the election of one-third of the members of the supreme court every second year. Solicitors for judicial circuits, formerly elected on joint ballot of the legislature, are to be elected by the qualified electors of each circuit. The legislature may abolish any court, except the state supreme court and probate courts, whose jurisdiction and functions have been conferred on some other court.

Suffrage and elections. Formerly every male citizen of the United States and every male person who had declared intention of becoming a citizen, 21 years of age, was entitled to vote after residence in state one year, in county three months, and in precinct or ward 30 days; the latter period might be extended to three months by the legislature. Under the new constitution suffrage is much restricted. Foreigners not becoming citizens when entitled thereto cease to have the right to vote till they become citizens [§177]. Period of residence in the state two years, in county one year, and in precinct or ward three months [§178]. Registration and payment of a poll tax required. These provisions become effective at the general election of 1902 and apply to all elections, state and local [§184].

Registration before Dec. 20, 1902 [§180]: Male citizens of the state and the United States and foreigners who, before ratification of this constitution, have declared intentions to become citizens and have not had opportunity to perfect citizenship by Dec. 20, 1902, 21 years of age, who have above described residence qualifications, not disqualified by crime or mental condition, may register, if coming under following classes:

- 1 Those who have honorably served in land or naval forces of United States in war, or of confederate states, or Alabama in civil war.

- 2 Lawful descendants of persons who served as above.

- 3 "All persons who are of good character and who understand the duties and obligations of citizenship under a republican form of government."

Between Dec. 20, 1902, and Jan. 1, 1903, to be no registration and after that date the following qualifications take the place of the above [§181].

1 Those who can read and write any article of the United States constitution in the English language and have worked at some lawful employment, business, occupation, trade or calling for greater part of year next preceding registration, if not physically unable to work.

2 Those unable to read and write if such inability is due solely to physical disability.

3 Resident owner, or husband of woman who is owner, of 40 acres of land.

4 Owner, or husband of woman who is owner, of real or personal property assessed at $300.

By both constitutions, idiots and insane are disqualified from voting, but the list of crimes disqualifying is much lengthened in the new; the main additions are vagrancy, selling or buying or offering to sell or buy votes, making or offering to make false return in election or primary, and subornation of witness or registrar to secure registration of any one as elector [§182]. Disqualification from voting also disqualifies from taking part in any party primary or convention [§183].

Registration of electors after Jan. 1, 1903 to be provided for by the legislature [§186]. Till then registration governed by regulations incorporated in the constitution.

Governor, auditor, and commissioner of agriculture and industries to be board of appointment and to name in each county within 60 days of ratification of constitution a board of registrars of three persons.

Unless disqualified under provisions previously given, any one registered before Jan. 1, 1903 remains an elector for life and need not register again except on change of residence, when he may register on production of certificate [§187].

After Jan. 1, 1903, applicant for registration may be required to state under oath his residence for preceding five years, name or names by which known during that period, and employer or employers during such period. Refusal to answer forfeits right to registration [§188].

Legislature to provide for purging the registration lists of those who die, become disqualified, or were fraudulently entered [§190]. Person whose name it is proposed to strike from the list may have trial by jury.

Poll tax, payment of which is required of each voter, $1.50 for each man over 25 and under 45; provided that the legislature may increase the maximum age to not more than 60 [§194]. Poll tax due October 1 and delinquent February 1 but no legal process, fee or commission to be allowed for its collection. Any one paying poll tax of another or advancing money for its payment to influence his vote guilty of bribery [§195].

In trial of contested election, investigations of elections and criminal prosecutions for election law violations, only defendant may withhold his testimony on ground of incriminating himself or subjecting himself to public infamy; but person testifying shall not be prosecuted for offense arising from transaction concerning which he testified [§189].

Legislature to provide for regulating primary elections and punishing fraud at same, but not to make primary elections compulsory [§190].

Finance. Taxation. Maximum state tax on property decreased from 75 cents to 65 cents on \$100 [§214]. Governor may be authorized to negotiate temporary loans to \$300,000 [formerly \$100,000] to meet emergencies [§213]. County may levy $\frac{1}{2}\%$ for general purposes, $\frac{1}{4}\%$ for payment of debts existing at adoption of constitution in 1875, and $\frac{1}{4}\%$ [formerly unlimited] for public buildings or bridges [§215]. Cities, towns and villages may levy $\frac{1}{2}\%$ with added 1% for debts of 1875 [§216].

Property of private corporations, associations and individuals to be taxed at same rate [§217]; legislature to levy franchise tax proportional to capital stock [§229, 232]; but religious, educational and charitable institutions and corporations may be exempted from both franchise and general taxes [§217, 229, 232]. Local assessments for sidewalks, street paving and sewers not to exceed benefit to property [§223]. Legislature not to enact law imposing state privilege tax relieving from payment of local privilege and license taxes [§221].

Inheritance tax. Tax of not more than $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ may be levied on real or personal property passing to other than father, mother, husband, wife, brothers, sisters or descendants [§219].

Local indebtedness. Legislature may pass general laws permitting counties, municipalities and subdivisions to issue bonds, but such bonds to be authorized by majority vote of qualified voters [§222]. Debt limit of county, $3\frac{1}{2}\%$ [§224]; of municipality under 6000, 5% with 3% additional for waterworks, gas or electric lighting plants, sewerage and improvement of streets, limitation not to affect temporary loans to be paid in one year and not exceeding one fourth annual revenues; of municipality over 6000, 7% exclusive of temporary loans, bonds for schoolhouses, waterworks, sewers, and street improvements assessed in whole or in part on abutting property [§225]. Municipality with present debt exceeding limit not to incur further debt till reduced to constitutional limit [§226].

Education. New constitution greatly increases the mandatory appropriations for schools. Preserving old sources, it appropriates nearly one half the annual state taxes on property. State to levy annual school tax of 30 cents on $100 [formerly not less than $100,000] provided total state tax shall not exceed 65 cents on $100 and bonded indebtedness with interest shall be first provided for [§260]. Fund to be apportioned to counties in proportion to school population; and in county to schools so as to provide terms of equal length as far as possible [§256]. Legislature to provide for school census not oftener than once in two years and state superintendent of education may order new census in division where he suspects fraud [§268]. Counties may levy school tax to 10 cents on $100 if approved by three fifths of the voters, provided state and county tax shall not exceed $1.25 per $100 in addition to special tax for public buildings, roads, bridges and debts at ratification of constitution in 1875 [§269]. This tax to be so apportioned through county as to extend school terms by same length of time as nearly as practicable.

Former constitution provided that there should be separate schools for white and colored races, and new adds "no child of either race shall be permitted to attend a school of the other race" [§256]. Both constitutions provide for the popular election of the state superintendent of education [§114].

Not less than $36,000 to be paid from state treasury annually to the state university as interest on the funds of the university; the legislature may abolish the military system of the university or reduce it to a department, but shall not therefor reduce the amount of interest payable [§265]. Trustees of university to hold office for 12 years, one third elected every four years; to be chosen by remaining members of board on secret ballot and confirmed by senate. In case of rejection, senate to elect trustee [formerly governor with senate appointed for six years] [§264]. Trustees of Alabama polytechnic institute [formerly agricultural and mechanical college] to hold office 12 [formerly six] years one third appointed by governor every four years [§266]. Legislature may not change location of state university, polytechnic institute, schools for deaf and blind or girls industrial school except by two-thirds vote by yeas and nays, entered on the journals [§267].

Public service corporations. No person or corporation to use streets or public places of municipality without consent of local authorities [§220]. No municipality over 6000 to grant franchise for use of streets and public places for longer period than 30 years, except to railroads other than street railroads [§228]. Person or corporation constructing or operating public utility along streets of municipality under privilege or franchise liable to abutting proprietors for actual damage [§227].

During appeal from assessment of damages in condemnation proceedings, those obtaining judgment to have right of entry by paying damages assessed into court in money and giving bond in double the amount [§235]. State lands not to be given to individuals, private corporations or railroad companies; nor sold to corporations for lesser price than to individuals; provided rights of way not exceeding 125 feet in width may be granted for railroad, telegraph or telephone lines as a mere easement [§99].

Railroads and canals. Issuing passes to legislators and officers exercising judicial functions prohibited [§244]. Legislature to pass laws with adequate penalties to regulate passenger and freight tariffs and locating and building of depots, to correct abuses and to prevent unjust discrimination and extortion [§243]. Railroads not to give rebate or bonus or deceive public as to rates [§245].

Banks and banking. Banks may be established with authority to issue bills, circulating as money, in amount equal to face value of bonds of United States or Alabama deposited with state treasurer or other legally designated depository [§248]. Legislature to provide for semiannual reports of resources and liabilities from banks, banking institutions and trust companies, except national banks, and for their inspection by some public officer [§254].

Trusts and combinations. "The legislature shall provide by law for the regulation, prohibition or reasonable restraint of common carriers, partnerships, associations, trusts, monopolies, and combinations of capital, so as to prevent them or any of them from making scarce articles of necessity, trade or commerce, or from increasing unreasonably the cost thereof to the consumer, or preventing reasonable competition in any calling, trade or business" [§103].

Amendments and constitutional convention. Amendments to constitution may be proposed to the people by three-fifths [formerly two-thirds] vote of members elected to each house [§284]; to be submitted to vote of electors either at the next general election [formerly for representatives] or at special election not less than three months after final adjournment. A majority of those voting on the amendments sufficient [formerly a majority of all votes cast at the election]. Constitutional conventions may be called by majority vote of each house of the legislature, but act must be submitted to the people and approved by a majority of those voting [§286].

New York State Library

SOCIOLOGY DIVISION

Bulletins. No. 1-7, 9-11, 13, 15, Summary and index of legislation. These are minutely classified annual summaries of new laws passed by all the states, followed by a full alphabetic index of specific topics, and have been published since 1890.

No. 8, State finance statistics. A bulletin giving a comparative summary of state finance statistics for 1890 and 1895 was published in March 1897. There will be a similar bulletin for 1900 and each succeeding fifth year.

No. 12, Trend of legislation in the United States.

Card indexes. A consolidated card index of state legislation, beginning with 1890, makes it easy to refer to laws on any subject in any state within the past 10 years. As fast as advance sheets of new laws are received they are summarized on cards and classified. A special library on comparative legislation is being collected, which is supplemented with catalogues and indexes. This makes it possible to furnish promptly summaries of recent legislation on any subject.

Research. The library with its 325,000 volumes affords unusual advantages for research. Its collections in law, public documents, statistics, political science, economics, administration and allied subjects are unusually valuable and are being rapidly increased. Students of public law or economics who are unable to come to the library may have bibliographies prepared and information gathered for them by trained assistants. A charge is made for work of this kind covering the salary value of the time spent on it, usually ranging from 50c to $1 an hour; but such work is always assigned to the least expensive assistant competent to do it satisfactorily. Requests for research on these subjects should be addressed Sociology Librarian, State Library.
